

TAR HEELS HAVE EDGE ON WOLVES IN GAME TODAY

State Team Without the Valuable Services of Jack McDowell, 1927 Pack Star.

When Carolina meets State this afternoon it will mark a clashing of the two leading scorers among the Big Five. To date the Tar Heels have amassed a total of one hundred and fifteen points to seventy-two for their opponents. State is only about ten points behind and holds second place in the standing. From these figures it can be seen that the winner will probably clinch the lead position for the present at any rate. Since Duke, Davidson and Wake Forest all have tough games scheduled for this week end they will probably not threaten to tape the lead for quite some time.

Warren High Scorer
In Captain Bob Warren and Sparky Adams, State presents the leading point scorer and the runner up. Carolina has no outstanding scorer to show but the fact that ten different men have made touchdowns for the Heels this season clearly shows that they have a varied attack and a world of reserve backfield material.

So far this season State has played five games and won only two of them. Their chief scoring was done against the relatively weak teams, presented by Elon and Wake Forest. Carolina likewise has played five games and won two of them. However, the Tar Heels have had only one really easy encounter, their opening game with Wake Forest in which they scored sixty-five points. The only team that has faced both State and Carolina this fall is the Demon Deacons. On the basis of comparative scores which each team ran up in its encounter, Carolina seems to have a decided edge, since the Heels won by thirty points more than the Technicians.

Game Today Important
At the beginning of the season sports writers of the state papers conceded that the race for the state championship this fall would lie between the teams representing Carolina, State, and Duke. So far their dope seems to be correct. Since neither of these three teams has met any other of the three, there is no real basis of comparison between them. Therefore the game this afternoon will have a twofold importance attached to it. Besides having a bearing on the standings of the two teams in the southern conference race it will also eliminate one of them from the race for state honors if matters continue to go as they have in the past.

Since the two institutions have been meeting each other on the gridiron, Carolina has emerged victorious in fourteen of the twenty games. After losing to the Heels for four successive seasons without scoring, the Wolfpack came back last year and ran over the Heels to score a nineteen to six win. Carolina played a fighting game as usual but was unable to cope with the wonderful playing of Jack McDowell. This year however things are different and the Tar Heels are not doped as the weaker team on the field. When the whistle blows this afternoon, Carolina will have a much better team on the field than last year and State will present one not quite so strong as its state championship eleven of last fall. The Heels are determined to fight to the last and win a decisive victory over their old rivals from the state capital in the twenty-first encounter between them.

Atlanta Writers Praise Schwartz

The performance of Captain Harry Schwartz at center in the North Carolina-Georgia Tech game here Saturday is given unstinted praise by the sports editors of the Atlanta papers in review of the big game.

Morgan Blake, sports editor of the Atlanta Journal; Ed Danford, sports editor of the Georgian, and Dick Hawkins, sports editor of the Constitution, were all here for the game. And despite the fact that their Captain Peter Pund of Georgia Tech is one of the out-standing candidates for All-Southern selection, these writers have been singing Captain Schwartz's praises ever since they left these environs last Saturday.

Morgan Blake said of him: "In individual defensive work he was the most outstanding man on the field Saturday. He played the entire game. Tech used three centers against him, and he outplayed both Pund and Law decisively. Pund's passing from center was very bad and it was probably due largely to the ferocious charging of Mr. Schwartz. Rusk made the best showing against Schwartz. The latter, however, got a bad blow in the face and had to retire.

Ray! Rah! Rah! Farris

Ray Farris, guard and tackle, will be one of Coach Collin's threats in the State game this afternoon.

SIX SOPHOMORES MAY START GAME AT STATE TODAY

Wyrick, Nash, Magner, Maus, House and Erickson Scheduled for Game This Afternoon.

The younger members of the Tar Heel backfield forces may bear the brunt of the attack when the University of North Carolina football squad clashes with N. C. State on Riddick Field in Raleigh Saturday afternoon.

There are six sophomores that rate on par with the best backs on the Tar Heel roster, and three of the first year players are likely to start against the Techmen. Wyrick is due the quarterback call, and he is almost certain to find Nash and Magner as his running mates at the opening whistle.

Maus at Half
Other sophomore backs who will likely see service against State in the annual classic are Jimmie Maus, Henry House, and Chuck Erickson. Maus is a halfback, House plays fullback, and Erickson is racing Wyrick and Whisnant for quarterback honors. Phillip Jackson, halfback, and Harden and Spaulding, fullbacks, have never won their letters and may be classed near-roskies this season.

The quartet that really did the damage against Georgia Tech included Pete Wyrick, who learned his football in high school at Mount Airy and Greensboro; Phil Jackson, ace of Gastonia's 1925 state championship eleven; Strudwick Nash, former Woodberry Forest star; and Pap Harden, who came to the University from Graham High School. All are youngsters battling for their first varsity monograms.

Foard May Not Play
Wyrick has been fighting an uphill battle all season against the veteran Whisnant, but he started against Georgia Tech and proved himself varsity calibre. Magner started the Tech game and played fine ball until relieved by Jackson, and he is likely to pair with Nash at halfback Saturday. Either Spaulding or Harden, juniors without letters, will play fullback in case Edison Foard's injury keeps him on the bench.

State Strong Against Florida

The unexpectedly strong showing made by N. C. State in its game with Florida is far from encouraging to the Tar Heels as they go against the Wolfpack this afternoon. The Wolfpack stopped Cannonball Clyde Crabtree, Florida backfield ace, almost in his tracks, and Coach Chuck Collins has been grooming his Tar Heels this past week to face a strong Tech line.

HIGHS BATTLE IN STATE TOURNEY

Thirty-eight Teams Competing In Annual State Championship Struggle.

The schedule of the annual football contest of the High School Athletic Association of North Carolina was announced here yesterday through its secretary, E. R. Rankin. Thirty-eight teams are entering the competition this year, eighteen in the west and twenty in the east.

Games played yesterday were Mebane at Greensboro, Candor at High Point, Reidsville at Mount Airy, Salisbury at Lexington, Lincolnton at Statesville, Bethel Hill at Durham, Apex at Oxford, Ayden at Wilmington, Rockingham at Raeford, Hamlet at Fayetteville, and Nashville at Dunn.

Only One Game Today
Spencer at Concord is the only game scheduled for today. Other games which will be played next week are Leaksville at Winston-Salem, Waynesville at Hickory, Lagrange at Whiteville, and Smithfield at Raleigh. Alexander Wilson, Monroe, Roxboro, New Bern, Sanford and Henderson teams will compete within the next two weeks, as they drew byes.

The schedule was arranged by conferences of high school faculty managers meeting at Salisbury and Raleigh, for the western and eastern halves of the state respectively.

DEGREE IS CONFERRED UPON FAMOUS WOMAN

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., Nov. 1.—Lady Nancy Astor, member of the English parliament and a Virginian by birth was given the honor of having the degree of Doctor of Laws conferred upon her by William and Mary college. In the long history of the institution only eighty-nine honorary degrees have been given and only once before has a woman ever had the honor to have such a distinction made by the school.

Thieves at William and Mary

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., Nov. 2.—The college paper of William and Mary College has voiced a complaint against the negligence of college police. During a recent football game with Wake Forest the students of the school lost hundreds of dollars worth of property, which was stolen.

Maryland Offers Co-Eds Sports

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Nov. 3.—Intramural sports for the women of the University of Maryland are being offered the co-eds here. In addition to the usual basketball and volleyball matches the school will foster matches within the school in such things as bowling and rifle sharpshooting for the women students.

Game Will Decide Conference Places

First Berth Lies Between Carolina State and Duke.

The battle with N. C. State on Riddick Field in Raleigh this afternoon assumes double importance on the Carolina schedule, since its outcome will figure in the Tar Heel's standing in the North Carolina Big Five and Southern Conference race.

Coach Gus Tebell has a strong outfit over at the West Raleigh institution, a team that held Florida's high-scoring 'Gators to a 14 to 7 score last weekend, and the State players came through that battle almost unscathed. Facing them, the Tar Heels may lose the services of one or more of the men who were outstanding in the bruising fracas with Georgia Tech.

In scoring records there is almost nothing to choose, for the Tar Heels show 112 points to 75 for all opponents. State has counted 108 points against the 58 of the enemy. The edge, if any, comes in that the Tar Heels have faced stronger offensive teams than has the Wolfpack.

Statistics of the past games show, however, that the comparative records mean nothing to the Techmen and Tar Heels when they mix on the gridiron. Since the historic rivalry was renewed in 1919, they have met eight times. Of those eight games the Tar Heels have won five and lost three, and in just one of the contests has the margin of victory been more than two touchdowns. The 17 to 0 victory of Carolina in 1927 is the largest score. Both teams have scored in four of the recent games.

State Wants Honor System Abolished

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 2.—The Golden Chain, highest honorary organization at State College, advocated today the abolishment of the honor system which has been in vogue the past several years. An appeal to the faculty and the students has been made and a campaign will be waged for the return to an older system of government.

Duke Frats Have Students

DURHAM, N. C., Nov. 3.—The Beta Omega Sigma, sophomore honorary fraternity of Duke University will conduct an inter-fraternity stunt night. A silver loving cup will be awarded the organization giving the most interesting performance.

TANTRUM

When people annoy me
By giving advice
And planning my future,
I'm not very nice.
My brow wears a wrinkle,
My heart has a chill,
I swear I'll be naughty
And some day I will!
I want to be managed,
I want a strong man
To love me and boss me—
For no one else can.
So make up your mind
If you want me to stay,
Or I'll go to the devil
By running away.

Saunders Supports Democratic Ticket

Simmons, Ku Klux Klan, and Evangelists Stoutly Flayed.

Beginning with a heated attack on Methodist bishops and Senator Simmons, W. O. Saunders, Elizabeth City editor, vigorously flayed opposition to Al Smith and the Democratic ticket in his address to the students and townspeople in Gerrard Hall Thursday night. The hall was well filled to hear a forceful plea for full support of the ticket.

Mr. Saunders was here under the auspices of the Student Democratic club and was introduced by Phillip Whitley, president of the club. He received much applause time and time again as he flayed Simmons, the Ku Klux Klan and such evangelists as Billy Sunday, "Cyclone Mack," and Mordecai Ham. "If we lose this fight on November 6," Saunders said, "we must gird our loins and begin preparing immediately for the same thing four years hence, for we are engaged in a holy war and there never will be peace again until we put down bigotry and intolerance.

THE SKY IS THE LIMIT!

BEFORE the elevator removed this limitation, five stories was the height limit of buildings. Upper floors were undesirable—people didn't enjoy the long, hard climb to roof-tree quarters. Today there is no restriction. Upper floors are preferred for their light, ventilation and splendid view. Elevators have made buildings of any height practicable. The only limit is in the construction of the building itself. For more than 75 years Otis has led the way in Vertical Transportation—changing the skylines of the nation.
