

University Quint Faces A 24 Game Schedule; First Game Played Here

Tar Heel Coaches Have Strong Nucleus to Build on; Defensive End Weak; 40 Men Taking Daily Workouts.

The University's basketball team, thrice Southern Champions in the last five years, faces this season one of the hardest schedules of recent years.

The schedule, released yesterday by Graduate Manager Charles T. Woolen, shows a total of 24 games against 18 strong opponents. The season will begin unusually early, the Tar Heels meeting Hampden-Sidney College here December 15 in their first engagement. It will run through February 23, with the Tar Heels to enter the Southern Conference Tournament carded for March 1 at Atlanta.

Ten of the games will be against eight strong Southern Conference opponents—the state universities of Kentucky, Tennessee, South Carolina, Georgia, Virginia, and Maryland, and V. M. I. and V. P. I., two games to be played each with South Carolina and Virginia.

Four of the games will be against as many strong Northern opponents—Butler College, Ohio State, University of Louisville, and Princeton; and eight will be against members of the North Carolina "Big Five," two games with Duke, State, Wake Forest and Davidson.

The annual Christmas tour will be delayed this year to begin just after the holidays. Beginning January 1 the Tar Heels will stage a five-day campaign on which they will meet on successive nights Butler College, Ohio State, University of Louisville, University of Kentucky, and University of Tennessee.

To meet this ambitious schedule Coach Jim Ashmore has a squad of some 40 men working out daily in the Tin Can here, and more candidates will probably be out as soon as the football season is gone. The Tar Heel coach has a strong offensive nucleus around which to build in Satterfield and Hackney, monogram forwards of last year, and Cathey, reserve center. "Red" Price, utility man, and "Tiny" Harper, center are also back from last year's squad, and two guards, Brown and Smith, who may be called on to fill the defensive posts left vacant by Carolina's two All-Southern guards, "Pinky" Morris and Bill Dodderer.

Strength of the team will depend largely on the developing of two guards, as the offensive strength is back in force.

The schedule follows:
Dec. 15 Hampden-Sidney College at Chapel Hill.

Jan. 1 Butler College at Indianapolis.

Jan. 2 Ohio State at Columbus.

Jan. 3 University of Louisville, at Louisville, Ky.

Jan. 4 University of Kentucky at Lexington.

Jan. 5 University of Tennessee at Knoxville.

Jan. 12 Davidson College at Charlotte.

Jan. 17 University of South Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Jan. 19 Wake Forest College at Raleigh.

Jan. 24 University of Georgia at Athens.

Jan. 25 Atlanta Athletic Club at Atlanta.

Jan. 26 University of South Carolina at Columbia.

Jan. 29 University of Virginia at Chapel Hill.

Jan. 31 V. P. I. at Chapel Hill (Varsity and Freshmen).

Feb. 2 Duke University at Durham.

Feb. 7 University of Virginia at Charlottesville.

Feb. 8 University of Maryland at College Park.

Feb. 9 Princeton University at Princeton.

Feb. 11 Wake Forest College at Chapel Hill.

Feb. 13 N. C. State College at Raleigh.

Feb. 16 Duke University at Chapel Hill.

Feb. 22 Davidson College at Chapel Hill.

Feb. 23 V. M. I. at Chapel Hill.

TAR HEELS HAVE EDGE ON DUKE IN CLASH SATURDAY

Carolina Has Not Lost Game to Blue Devils Since Relations Were Resumed in 1922.

Old man psychology will be on the side of the Tar Heels when North Carolina and Duke meet here in Kenan Memorial Stadium next Saturday to put up their fight for the state football championship.

The Tar Heels have lost to the Methodists only three times in the history of football relations between the two institutions.

The first defeat of the Heels was in 1889 when Trinity (now Duke) won 25 to 17. The next Trinity victory was in 1891, by the score of 4 to 6, and the third was in 1893 when the score was again 4 to 6.

There was a 26-year period, from 1895 to 1922, during which Carolina and Trinity did not meet on the gridiron.

Altogether only eleven games have been played. The Tar Heels have won all but three.

Since gridiron relations were resumed in 1922 the Tar Heels have not lost to Duke, although three games have been won by margins of only one touchdown. The score last year was 18 to 0.

The Carolina-Duke series to date stands as follows:

1889 (Spring) Carolina 17 Duke 25

1889 (Fall) Game forfeited to Carolina.

1891 Carolina 4 Duke 6

1892 Carolina 24 Duke 0

1893 Carolina 4 Duke 6

1894 Carolina 28 Duke 0

1895 to 1922 (No Games)

1922 Carolina 20 Duke 0

1923 Carolina 14 Duke 6

1924 Carolina 6 Duke 0

1925 Carolina 41 Duke 0

1926 Carolina 6 Duke 0

1927 Carolina 18 Duke 0

TAR HEELS PRESENT TWO CANDIDATES FOR FIRST ALL-SOUTHERN GRID TEAM IN CAPTAIN SCHWARTZ AND FARRIS

The University football team presents as candidates for first place on this year's All-Southern football team two players who have been outstanding performers in the Tar Heel line all season: Captain Schwartz, center, and Ray Farris, guard. Both are also regarded as among outstanding candidates for All-American honors.

Both are native Tar Heels and both come from Charlotte, N. C.

Through three full seasons Harry Schwartz has never been outplayed at center. Southern sports writers are authorities for that fact. Ray Farris, equally as brilliant in line play, has been the sensation of every game on North Carolina's schedule for two years.

Schwartz began his stellar career at Charlotte, N. C., High School, where he was All-Southern High School center for four years. He continued his fine work and rated All-Southern as a freshman center, and this season he is regarded as unquestionably the first pivot man in the South. Peter Pund, probably the next candidate in line, failed to impress when he played opposite the Tar Heel captain in the North Carolina-Tech game this year.

Ray Farris has developed into one of the best guards ever seen in the South. He and Captain Schwartz form a combination which makes that portion of the North Carolina line a veritable stone wall.

And Farris is equally great on offense. He is the sort who gets in on almost every play and he frequently grabs the ball carrier before the latter reaches the line of scrimmage.

Prosperity apparently is something that business men create so politicians may take credit for it.—Detroit News.

Norman Thomas, socialist candidate, early conceded his defeat. That young man has prophetic vision.—Toledo Blade.

Both teams are in the pink of condition as a whole but each has one or two men on the injured list. Carolina may be without Captain Harry Schwartz. Schwartz's ankle is improving rapidly but there is still doubt about his playing Saturday.

Pete Wyrick, quarterback, is in the infirmary from an injury received in a scrimmage recently. He was getting along fairly well yesterday and there is a chance of his getting in the game. Duke will be without the services of Godfrey, fullback. He was in an automobile accident last week and it is not believed that he will be in shape by Saturday.

In Utopia the shovels are 12 inches wide and the furnace doors are 16 inches wide, instead of vice versa.—Detroit News.

President-elect Hoover has been invited to spend the winter in Florida. There was a string to that Republican majority, after all.—Wichita Eagle.

Carolina Places Five Men on Coach Cofall's All-State Grid Team

Five Carolina, three State, and one each of Davidson, Duke and Wake Forest players were named on the All-North Carolina football mythical team announced by Coach Stanley Cofall, Wake Forest coach.

In the only comment on his selection, Cofall said "while Weir of Wake Forest played tackle, I believe he would have been the outstanding guard on any team in the State this year."

The selection follows:

Sapp, Carolina, and Jordan, State, ends; Howard, Carolina, and Lepo, State, tackles; Farris, Carolina, and Weir, Wake Forest, guards; Schwartz, Carolina, center; Buie, Duke, quarterback; Warren, State, and Kell, Davidson, halfbacks, and Magner, Carolina, fullback.

Spanish Club Will Hold Meeting Tonight

There will be a meeting of the Spanish Club tonight at 7:30 in the Episcopal Parish House. Dr. Leavitt will speak about his trip to Spain last summer. All members and those eligible for membership are urged to be present. Visitors are always welcome.

Copy Deadline

The deadline for the Christmas number of The Buccaneer will come at midnight tonight. All copy for the December issue must be in the hands of Bill Perry, editor of the periodical, by that time.

Another opportunity is being given to all men that care to contribute to do so.

CO-ED LOOPERS TO PLAY FIRST GAME

Will Be First Game of Basketball Ever Played by Women at the University.

At 7:30 o'clock Friday night in the Bynum gymnasium, will occur the first basketball game played by women in the history of the University. The charge is a modest "two bits" and the purpose of charging for the game is to start a fund for the purchase of uniforms for the team.

Captain Myla Royall, who was elected to that office Tuesday night, announces that the two teams have not been picked, as there is a possibility that a visiting high school team may be played by the University women.

At the Carolina

The greatest compliment ever given to a motion picture company by the war department has been bestowed upon Paramount for its war epic of the air, "Wings," which is to have its premiere at the Carolina theatre on Thursday and Friday.

A memorial to cost $100,000 and duplicate of a sector of St. Mihiel in vision will be erected in Washington. Because of their accuracy, still pictures from the photoplay are to be used as models in constructing the huge memorial.

Paramount constructed an exact duplicate of a sector of St. Mihiel in order to obtain the spectacular battle shots which climax "Wings" and these so impressed war department officials that they asked permission of Jesse L. Lasky to model from the stills.

"Wings" was directed by William Wellman, who was a flyer in the famous Lafayette Escadrille. John Monk Saunders, an instructor in aviation during the war, wrote the story. The cast includes Clara Bow, Charles (Buddy) Rogers, Richard Arlen, Jobyna Ralston, Gary Cooper, Arlette Marchal, H. B. Walthall, Hedda Hopper, Claire McDowell, El Brendel and Gunboat Smith.

Dialectic Senate Will Hold Dance

At some time during the Winter quarter the Di Senate will hold a dance, which will be exclusively an affair for members of the senate and those particular ladies whom they invite. At the next regular meeting of the senate President Fox will appoint a committee of three, whose duty it will be to set a date for the event and to make all arrangements for making the aforementioned dance a brilliant success.
