

TAR HEELS PLACE THREE MEN ON ALL-CONFERENCE ELEV EN; STATE GETS ONE

Nineteen Southern Conference institutions will furnish players on the two football teams which will play an all-conference charity game in Atlanta on New Year's Day. The selection made by coaches from conference school were announced today by Dr. W. D. Funkhouser, secretary of the conference.

One eleven will be made up of players from schools in what coaches have designated as the Southern division and another from those in the northern section of the body.

Georgia Tech, Georgia, Alabama, Tulane, and Louisiana State will be represented on the Southern team, while North Carolina, Clemson, Vanderbilt, Tennessee, South Carolina, Virginia Polytechnic, Maryland, Washington and Lee, Virginia Military Institute, Kentucky, and University of Virginia will supply the northern warriors.

The selections follow:

Southern Division team—Pund, Drennon, Speer, Waddy, Mizell, and Thomason, Georgia Tech; Boland, Jackson, Lautenheizer, and McCrary, Georgia; Banker, Tulane; Hagler, Sington, Smith, Hicks, and Holm, Alabama; Wilson and Tinsley, Louisiana State; Van Sickle and Crabtree, Florida; Pappenheimer, Mississippi A. and M.; Gerald Walker, University of Mississippi.

Northern Division team—Farris, Schwartz, and Sapp University of North Carolina; Vaughan, North Carolina State; Pressley, Clemson; McEver and Hackman, Tennessee; Wolf and Zobel, University of South Carolina; Lusk, Abernethy, Armistead and Brown, Vanderbilt; Bailey, and Peake, Virginia Polytechnic; Snyder, Dodson and Crowthers, Maryland; White, Washington and Lee; Barnes, Virginia Military Institute; Drury and Dees, Kentucky; Sloan, Virginia.

GRID COACHES TO CONVENE TODAY

Southern Football Leaders Meet In Nashville on Eve of S. I. C. Session.

According to an announcement made by Coach Bob Fetzer, who is secretary of the Southern Football Coaches' Association, the Association will meet today in Nashville, Tennessee. The meeting will be attended by coaches and assistant coaches from institutes all over the South in the territory embraced by the Southern Conference. Membership in the body is not limited. Around one hundred coaches are expected to attend this one-day session at which such widely known coaches as Dan McGugin of Vanderbilt, Curley Byrd of Maryland, H. J. Stegman of the University of Georgia, and President Hutchins of the Southern Football Officials Association, will deliver addresses on subjects of varied interest to football mentors.

Vanderbilt University will entertain the delegates at a supper this afternoon. Officials of the Association are: W. A. Alexander, Georgia Tech, president; S. A. Boles, University of Kentucky, vice-president; and R. A. Fetzer, University of North Carolina, secretary.

Tomorrow the annual meeting of the members of the Southern Conference will be held. At this time it is expected that some definite action will be taken about the membership application which Duke University has filed.

Interesting Papers Feature Meeting of Psychology Fraternity

Alpha Psi Delta, honorary fraternity for Psychologists, held its regular monthly meeting last night in New West building. The general purpose of the fraternity is to promote the study of the favorite science of its members, and it is the custom to have at least two members to present papers on some phase of psychology at each meeting.

The two papers on the December program were "A Demonstration of the Formation of a Conditioned Reflex" by Kay Lee Barkley, and "MacDougall's Experiments Testing the Theory of Transference of Acquired Traits" by A. L. Stevenson. In his discussion, Mr. Barkley used an apparatus of his own construction which is especially convenient for the demonstration of this fundamental process in habit formation. Mr. Stevenson is a former pupil of Dr. McDougall, and has had first hand information of the experiments conducted by him. Both of these papers were highly interesting, and showed great insight on their subjects.

After the program was concluded, the following were elected to the fraternity, Mrs. L. L. Bernard, Mrs. G. B. Johnson, and Dr. Zinner of Duke University.

Alpha Kappa Psi Takes Thirteen Men

At a meeting of the local Alpha Tau chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi, national honorary commerce fraternity, held last night in Saunders Hall, thirteen men were pledged. These include: Clifton E. Pleasants, Charles C. Skinner, George F. Newman, J., Henry N. Patterson, Alston S. Watkins, C. B. McKeithan, William L. Carlisle, Edmund L. Waddill, Eugene G. Hines, D. C. McCotter, Van E. Staton, Jr., and Joseph C. Cox. Officers of the local chapter are Hugh Merriitt, president, and C. M. Burns, secretary.

The interdenominational union will give a social at the Presbyterian church Friday night at eight o'clock. All of the young people of the town and the University are cordially invited to attend.

FROSH FURNISH GOOD MATERIAL FOR NEXT YEAR

Tar Babies Tackled Some of the Strongest Teams in the Country This Year and Came Out Undefeated.

While quite a few men who starred on this season's varsity will be missing when Coach Collins calls the football candidates out next fall, there will be a wealth of new material on hand from this year's Tar Baby outfit. If the past season is any indication of what sophomore football players can do, the next season ought to be a great one for the second year men. The 1927 Tar Babies were undefeated, although a tie game with the Duke freshmen marred their record. Their schedule wasn't as hard as the one which this year's freshmen tackled and yet they furnished Coach Collins with some of his best material this year. Therefore on a basis of comparison by records and their comparative strength shown by the games they won, this fall's freshmen had an even stronger team than the one which represented the class of '31.

This fall Coach Belding's men tackled some of the strongest teams in the East and showed a powerful offense in winning all of their games while holding their opponents to very low scores. Now that the teams have completed two seasons without a defeat, it is only fitting that quite a bit of praise should be given to the freshmen coaches for their fine work in starting the first year men off in such fine style and developing such football players as Wyrick, House, Erickson and the other sophomores who played on the varsity this fall.

Now that Sapp, Presson, Howard, Shuler, Gresham, and Schwartz have finished their careers at Carolina, quite a few positions will be open at the beginning of the season next September. This year's reserves will doubtless fill some of the open positions but Coach Belding is sending up some good men who will give them a hard fight for the berths, Reid, Runnels, and Morris were the outstanding ends on the freshman team this year and they will doubtless make strong bids next fall for the position which was left by Sapp after he completed his third year of varsity play in the Duke game. Alexander and Buchan will be the chief sophomore candidates for the tackle positions. While this year's sophomores showed up well at guard and there is a quantity of guard material left on the squad, Dunovant, McIver, and Hutchinson will probably be strong candidates for this position. Gilbreath, is the best bet of this year's freshmen for the center berth vacated by Captain Schwartz. A wealth of good backfield material will go up to compete with the star sophomore backs who were so outstanding this fall. Estes and Suggs at fullback, Houston, Slusser, Yost, Chetty and Frazier, halfbacks and Branch and Moore, quarterbacks will be the strongest backfield candidates that Belding will turn over to Coach Collins.

At approximately the same date Carolina will debate Marquette University at Chapel Hill on the same question, but will argue the negative side of the query. Marquette is the Catholic University of Wisconsin. The fact that the two debates are to come at approximately the same time will make it necessary to choose both teams at the same time.

December Issue of High School Journal Makes Its Appearance

The December issue of the "High School Journal" recently came out and has been sent to its subscribers over the state. This magazine is published eight times a year from October to May by the School of Education, and is edited by Dean N. W. Walker.

The new number of the magazine contains a number of editorials on current topics by Dean Walker. There are several articles by members of the faculty of the University, among these being "The Junior College Movement in North Carolina" by E. R. Mosher, and "Gaining Public School Support" by E. W. Knight. C. M. Purin, of the Extension Division of the University of Wisconsin, edits an extract on "The Training of Modern Foreign Language Teachers." The issue also contains a report on the recent meeting of the North Carolina College Conference, and a number of book notes and reviews.

Patronize TAR HEEL Advertisers

Did you ever stop to think that the firm that advertises intelligently can sell you more cheaply than the firm that does not advertise?

No, we'll say that thought never entered your head. But nevertheless, it's a fact. By intelligent advertising the dealer can so increase his volume of sales with a constant overhead expense that he can sell his goods at a smaller profit than the non-advertiser and make the same annual income.

That means that it is to your profit to patronize those stores which advertise through the columns of
