

SOUTHERN TRACKMEN GATHER AT BIRMINGHAM TOMORROW

HEELS ENTER AS CONTENDERS FOR SOUTHERN CROWN

L. S. U. Champs of South, Along with Auburn, M. A. M. and Florida Offer Keenest Competition.

The University of North Carolina cinder team, seventeen strong, departed from Chapel Hill last night to attend the seventh annual Southern Conference track and field meet to be held Friday and Saturday on Legion Field in Birmingham. Taking with them the crown of state trackdom and a record of victories unparalleled in the South Atlantic, they go as the hope and final stronghold of North Carolina. It is expected that N. C. State and Duke will send their bright lights to the meet; however neither will venture to place a complete team in competition.

Heel Trackmen To Go To S. I. C. Meet

The following men will make the trip to Birmingham to attend the Southern Conference track and field meet to be held tomorrow and Saturday: Adkins, Barkley, Baucum, Bagby, Dameron, Gay, Harrison, Cowper, Garrett, Harper, Henderson, Lowry, Nims, Neiman, Perry, Smith, and Stafford. Bowman Gray will go as manager.

The team will put up at the Bankhead Hotel in Birmingham, Alabama.

The Heels will probably meet their keenest competition from L. S. U., Mississippi A. and M., Auburn and Alabama. L. S. U. as present holders of the championship possibly now occupy the inside track of future speculation. Brown, George, Neson, Lafleur and Millet will be the defending lights of the Conference champs. Miss. A. and M. in potency follows closely upon the heels of her neighboring university having been defeated by the margin of only one point in a recent dual meet with L. S. U. She will offer as probable point winners the following men: Alby in the sprints, Gilmore the 440, Byers in the mile and two mile, Alley in the hurdles, and Kyser and Dawes in the jumps.

In the 100 yard dash Brown of L. S. U. and Grant of W. and L. and Bradley of Alabama have handed in some of the best times in the South so far this season. Each has a time of 9.8 seconds to his credit. The same trio along with Gay of Carolina and Whitley of Tulane and McCrary of L. S. U. rate among the highest in the 220 and are the favorites of the meet this week end. George and Lefleur both of L. S. U. along with Gilmore of Miss. A. and M., Nowclawtz and Upson of V. M. I. and Patterson of Alabama are expected to provide the point winners in the 440.

McGin of State, George of L. S. U., Backus of W. and L. and Nims of Carolina are among the highest rating prospects in the 880 run. In the mile Duke will have two strong men in Doney, and Woodard; Young of Georgia, Penn of V. P. I. Barkley and Lowery of Carolina. In competition with Baucum and Henderson of Carolina the following men will take the field: Penn of V. P. I., Symon of Duke, Ryker and McReynolds of Miss. A. and M., Underwood of Tennessee, and Pickett of Alabama.

Beard and Virgin of Auburn, Ford of Tulane, Blakney of Clemson, Alley of Miss. A. and M., Walker of V. M. I. and Stafford and Perry of Carolina will be likely prospects in the hurdles.

The competition will be unusually keen in the field events. Competing in the shotput will be Neson of L. S. U., Oykens of Tulane, Hasse of V. M. I. and Adkins of Carolina. The following men will hurl the discus: Neson of L. S. U., Oykens of Tulane, Carter of Auburn and Harper of

CONFERENCE LEAD DEPENDS ON GAME HERE TOMORROW

Duke Heads List at Present But a Win for the Heels Will Cinch Title for Carolina.

The baseball leadership of the Southern Conference will hinge on the second Carolina-Duke game, scheduled for Emerson Field here tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The Tar Heels already have won the Southern Conference Tri-State League championship, taking nine straight games without a defeat from the league teams of North Carolina, Virginia and Maryland.

Records in Southern Conference competition show Duke in front to date, with four victories and no defeats, but the Tar Heels are pushing close with ten wins and one defeat. A victory over Duke Friday would give Coach Jim Ashmore's outfit a clean-cut lead over all other Conference competition.

If the Tar Heels win, they will then lead the Blue Devils by a margin of eleven victories against four, with each club showing one defeat. A win for the Duke outfit will result in an unblemished slate for Jack Coomb's boys against two losses for the Tar Heels. With so much at stake, the engagement Friday is arousing wide interest.

The first Carolina-Duke game this season was a battle of south-paws, with "Lefty" Jenkins winning a 9 to 6 decision for Duke over Jim Ball, veteran of the Tar Heel mound staff. Jenkins is likely to face the Tar Heels again, but Coach Ashmore may send Auburn Wright or Frank Fleming, both right-handers, to the mound for Carolina. Fleming relieved Ball in the first Duke game and held the opponents well for the last half of that game.

Both the Carolina and Duke nines have exceptionally strong hitters. Kistler, giant first baseman has an average of around .450 while Deane and Werber are close to the four hundred mark. Bob Jessup and Henry House, for the Heels, have been hitting exceptionally well. House has an even .400 percentage while Jessup falls short of it by very few points. House was the outstanding batter of the previous game with the Devils securing two circuit clouts in his first two trips to the plate, while Jessup began the rally that won the Carolina-Virginia game in Greensboro by knocking one over the fence.

Tar Babies Boast Fine Record For Season and Have Best Claim for State Title.

The Tar Baby of 1929 can proudly boast that it has one of the strongest track teams that has ever been put out by a Freshman Class of the University of North Carolina. With four victories and no defeats they are easily entitled to the state honors in Freshman track having defeated every team of any consequence in Freshman circles in North Carolina.

Next year the real speed of the Tar Baby track men will be proven. Many outstanding Freshmen stars are almost certain to win a berth in Varsity track and some will certainly lead many of the present Varsity men. Charlie Farmer has already proven his ability by coming within one-fifth of a second of the S. I. C. record in the 220 yard dash and by running the 100 yard dash in 10 flat.

Duke Students Put On Musical Comedy

The last entertainment of the academic year at Duke University was presented Monday evening at 8:15 o'clock when the musical clubs of that institution offered "The Belle of Marcelona," a spectacular and colorful musical comedy with all scenes laid in picturesque Spain.

More than one hundred selected students participated. Three Durham students were among the leading characters: Miss Helen Eubanks, Miss Elizabeth Stallings, and C. S. Hooper.

While the musical clubs emphasized the musical numbers in the play, this feature was well balanced by clever spoken lines and a comedy theme which was carried through for the most part by W. M. Upchurch, of Raleigh, who has been cited as the best student comedian ever to appear on a Duke stage.

A second performance was given on Wednesday evening for the benefit of those who were unable to attend Monday evening's performance. It was held in the city auditorium under the auspices of the Durham Y. M. C. A.
