

VISITORS WILL TEACH LAWYERS

Unusual Advantages Offered in Coming Summer Session of Law School.

Interest seems to be spreading from year to year in the summer courses given in the school of Law. Among the distinctive features of the summer work are these: First, unusually eminent men are secured as teachers. This year Judges Connor and Brogden of the North Carolina Supreme Court both of whom are University of N. C. alumni, and have previously taught here in the summer, are among the faculty, one teaching Constitutional Law, the other North Carolina procedure. Another side of the legal training is contributed by the visitors from other law schools. Professor Thompson of Cornell, who teaches Carriers is an unusually well-known authority on that subject. His varied experience includes teaching at the Harvard Law School, and at a University in Cien-Tsin, China. He is one of the advisors of the American Law Institute. Professor Brogden teaches Trusts. He is on the faculty of the Chicago University Law School, and was formerly Dean of the Cornell Law School. He is the author of "Boquet on Trusts" the leading textbook on the subject. His wide interests are indicated by the facts that he was a Lieutenant-Colonel in the Army during the World War, and that he is now one of the foremost authorities on the law of aviatim. Professor Britton of the University of Illinois, who teaches Bankruptcy, is an author of one of the widely used case books on the subject, and is a member of the National Conference on Uniform Laws.

A second notable feature of the summer school is the opportunity which it offers to those who have never studied law to enter in the summer and thereby shorten their course. By beginning in the summer and continuing straight through, winters and summers, one may complete the course straight througheta plete the course in two, instead of three years and thus secure in three years an LLB degree here and a graduate year at some other law school.

Inquiries received about the Law School from a dozen different states indicate that students from widely scattered localities are likely to come together in Chapel Hill to study law this summer.

Blue Ridge Meeting Provides Y.M.C.A. Training for Boys

Large Number from Carolina to Attend Conference.

The Blue Ridge Conference promises to be the greatest success this year since its inauguration. Aside from providing an ideal vacation, it offers the best instruction of Y. M. C. A. work. Some of the most noted men in the country will be there to deliver lectures to the students. Much enthusiasm has been shown for the conference by the outstanding men here at the University. President H. W. Chase, Dean F. F. Bradshaw, Dr. English Bagby, and Mr. R. B. House will attend the conference and will make a series of lectures.

In speaking of the Conference, Dean Bradshaw says, "To the purposeful student who knows what he is about and where he is headed, the conference procedure offers a much needed 'thinking-things-over time'. To the student hesitating between alternate careers or ethical attitudes, the conference may furnish time for the consecutive reflection and discussion to a satisfying solution of his problem."

"To one who feels stir of interest or purpose, who is more or less bored or adrift, the conference activities and companionships may mean the contagion of vision and enthusiasm which will awaken the motives underlying satisfying achievement."

Mr. House also expressed himself as being highly in favor of the Conference. "I am grateful", he said, "for the fine human experience obtained while at the Conference. It seems to me that college students are getting finer all the time. Certainly there seems to be evidence of this as I remembered 1911 and observed and participated in 1928. And my chief suggestion to Carolina men is that the mountains and college men of the South are worth the time and money the conference will require."

Quite a number of students from the University of North Carolina are planning to attend the conference this summer, and Aubrey Perkins announces that anyone planning to go must complete his arrangements within the next few days. Anyone desiring to go must see Perkins or Mr. Leonard at the Y. M. C. A. as soon as possible.

Blue Ridge is open from June 4 to September 1st. The conferences do not fill all the space, so that any college man may invite his parents to be there during the conference period or later. For the first time this summer there will be a special dining room where meals will be served longer. The rates in Lee Hall and the cottages are the same for others as for the students in the conference.

Henderson Discusses Athletic Excellence

That excellence in scholarship has gone hand in hand with excellence in athletics at the University of North Carolina—was the observation of Dr. Archibald Henderson in an address here Monday night.

Dr. Henderson was the speaker on the Awards Night program, which was featured by the presentation of monograms, cups, charms, and keys to University students winning outstanding honors during the year.

"Athletics bulk large on tonight's program, and rightly so," Dr. Henderson declared. "But to balance athletics come awards for excellence in publications, in debating and in scholarship. It is noteworthy that Phi Beta Kappa appears on the program, since it shows that the collegiate body does not regard scholarship as unimportant."

"Scholarship," Dr. Henderson expressed the opinion, "if broadly interpreted, means the attainment of high excellence in athletics and in campus activities no less than in the laboratory and the class room."

"Coaches Bob Fetzler, Chuck Collins and Jim Ashmore are as much your instructors as Addison Hibbard, Frank Graham and Fred Koch," Dr. Henderson told students in emphasizing that the gulf between scholarship and athletics is but a narrow one, that both take hard work, that the two go hand in hand.

Dr. Henderson commended Awards Night as the "most significant meeting of the student body throughout the entire year."

Debaters May Take Trip to England

The Debate Council announces that efforts are being made to schedule a series of debates with several British Universities next year. If such arrangements are successful, a team of three men will be sent to England early in the Spring of 1930.

The issue has been before the Debate Council of the University for several months now, but as yet the matter has not been settled. Attempts to make satisfactory negotiations with one British Union has already failed.

The executive secretary of the Debate Council plans to write letters to several British, Irish, and Scottish universities immediately in an attempt to schedule a sufficiently large number of debates to warrant sending a team to the British Isles for debating purposes. Reactions to these letters will necessarily determine whether such a team will be sent, or not.

Although several universities have made a practice of sending debating teams abroad, the University of North Carolina has not as yet made such a venture.

Aycock Picks Eight For Soph Committee

Eight men comprise the Executive Committee of the rising Sophomore Class according to the committee announced by Ben Aycock, president. Besides the eight men selected by the President the five officers of the class will also serve as ex-officio members of the committee.

Those selected are Shuford Abernethy, chairman, Harry Finch, Edward Yarborough, Dick Burrell, F. M. James, Jack Farris, Larry Johnson, and Holmes Davis. The officers of the class besides President Aycock are George Buchan, Vice-President, J. E. Miller, Secretary, Johnnie Green, Treasurer, and Craig Wall, Student Council Representative.

This committee acts on all matters coming before the class and makes recommendations to the class as to policies. Since the commencement of Sophomore Dances and Hops the tasks of the Committee have been increased considerably, although the President usually appoints a sub-committee especially for the dances.

Pony Show Tonight

"Black Bear," the educated pony will perform tonight at 7:30 in Memorial Hall. The pony achieved nation-wide publicity recently when a national magazine carried a feature story on his uncanny intelligence. The pony is being brought here under the auspices of the local troop of Boy Scouts and the proceeds will go to the benefit of the Scouts and the Children's Library. The admission price will be thirty-five cents.

TAYLOR SOCIETY HEARS DR. PERSON ON INDUSTRIES

(Continued from first page) are in a region of young industry, and the only road to future development in the southwest lies in the development of the means of management."

After the address of the evening, the Society unanimously elected for officers next year the slate of nominees as drawn up by the committee appointed by the president at the last meeting. These are: W. C. Burnett, president; Bill Manbeck, vice-president; Beaumert Whitton, secretary; and Strudwick Nash, treasurer.

Professor G. T. Schwenning, advisor of the Society, congratulated the retiring officers for the splendid work they have done in carrying on the Society during the first few months of its existence. The value of this work can be appreciated when one considers that Dr. Person stated that the local chapter is drawing quite a bit of attention to itself from the officials of the national organization.

Student Undergoes Operation

F. C. Lockwood, a freshman from Asheville went to the Infirmary recently with a pain in his side. The nurse in charge immediately sent him to Watts Hospital in Durham, where Saturday morning he underwent an operation for appendicitis. Latest reports say that Lockwood is improving as rapidly as can be expected.

A new kind of amusement was introduced last week in Pittsburg, according to the Davidsonian. A man stole a street car from the local car barn and rode out to the end of the line alone for a Saturday night joy ride, merrily clanging the bell as he rode.

Army Man finds Tobacco "Like Old Friend"

U. S. Army Fort Robinson, Neb. May 29, 1928

Larus & Bro. Co. Richmond, Va. Gentlemen: Speaking of champion long-time members of the EDGEWORTH Club, say:—it isn't how long you have smoked Edgeworth, it's how well you have enjoyed the smoke.

Why, I have walked out of many a store, especially when traveling, to stop at some one-horse town and buy Edgeworth. A good pipe deserves Edgeworth, and Edgeworth mine gets. I would not insult it with any other. "The familiar blue cans are everywhere," and usually you find men of taste carrying them, which proves it is not the price that determines a good "smoky" tobacco, but the care and method that produce it.

I would rather go days without Edgeworth and at the end draw a deep inhale of that cool "smelly" aroma, satisfying to the last puff, than punish my throat and lungs and nostrils with inferior grades.

Edgeworth is "The Smoke With a Personality," like an old friend, you learn to know and understand, and when troubled or when you have a "thinky" problem—you seek its solace and companionship.

Very truly yours, (signed) E. H. Fulmer
