

Phantoms Beat Bragg In Court Event, 44-20; Play Butner Foe Tonight

Norfolk, Jordan and King Spark Attack

By Irwin Smallwood

With a 44-20 triumph over Fort Bragg already to their credit, Carolina's White Phantoms of the hardwood travel to Camp Butner tonight to engage the strong soldier quint from Durham. Game time is 8:15.

Lt. Ben Carnevale plans to start the same team that opened and turned back the potent Ft. Bragg Reception Center team here in Woolen gym last Wednesday night. The Ft. Bragg club was undefeated, but a potentially toy-flight Tar Heel outfit proved too much.

"We expect the game tonight to probably be much tougher," Coach Carnevale said yesterday, "for the Butner five beat a good State College crew, 63-30, recently."

Carolina showed up well in defensive play, and with experience gathered from playing together, the Tar Heels should round into a squad that will go as far or further than the runner-up Phantom squad in the Southern conference last season. Coach Carnevale pointed out that the mistakes made in the initial encounter with Ft. Bragg Wednesday weren't too serious, and they were the kind that would be ironed out with added practice and play. The shooting was a little off in the first game, which could be expected, and it will probably be ragged until the boys can put in more drills. However, the Carolina quint hit the hoop for 10 out of 19 foul shots, which isn't too bad for the first tilt.

Jim Jordan, a forward of high calibre, and Ira Norfolk, were leaders in the victory over Ft. Bragg, and Clyde King also put in a big plug from his guard position, dropping in eight points to tie Jordan for second high scoring honors. Norfolk, who incidentally transferred from Duke on November 1, was high man with 11 markers.

The White Phantoms jumped into a quick lead against the soldiers, leading by a 10-2 margin after 12 minutes, and held a 16-8 margin at half-time.

The game was a rough and tumble affair from the beginning, with both teams struggling for the advantage. Bones McKilney, former Durham high school star stand-out man for State College—to the extent of All-Southern honors—led the Ft. Bragg five in its futile attack with eight points.

When the second half began, Carolina surged ahead with a sudden burst of scoring, and midway in the period held a 34-10 advantage. Coach Carnevale began substituting freely, trying out others on his totally green team. This group kept up the scoring pace for the Tar Heels, but the defense slackened slightly and Ft. Bragg fought hard to match the Phantom shooting. The soldiers made 10 points as did Carolina in the final 10 minutes and the final score was 44-20.

The game was well attended for the first game of the season, but the V-12 students were unable to attend because of their 8:30 study hour. It is expected, however, that some arrangement will be made to relieve this situation by the next home game in order that the V-12's, a large number of whom hold season activity tickets, will be permitted to attend.

After the tussle with Camp Butner tonight, Carolina will prepare to play host to High Point College here in Woolen gym December 13. The game next Wednesday will be the last home game for the Carnevalemen, only two other tilts being slated before the Christmas leaves. Catawba will be met the 15th and South Carolina the 16th. Both encounters will be on foreign soil.

The finest CHRISTMAS present you can give is one of Uncle Sam's WAR BONDS. Keep on BACKING THE ATTACK.

Boxers Face Tough Slate This Season

Squad Will Engage
In 4 Home Cards

With a squad of thirty men, Coach Joe Murnick is molding the 1944-45 Tar Heel boxing team to meet a tough six-meet schedule. The proposed card has the Carolina ringmen facing such stalwart Eastern teams as Maryland, Virginia, and Army, with Emory and Henry College also definitely on the schedule, and plans for meets with South Carolina and The Citadel progressing.

The boxing season will start on January 6, with four home engagements and six away. The pugilists will face the Old Liners at Maryland, Virginia at home, and Army at West Point on successive Saturdays.

After losing five undefeated men from last year's squad, captained by Charlie Kimsey. Coach Murnick was forced to build his team around the only returning letterman, Captain-Elect Walter Krauss, who starred last year in finishing off four opponents in a total of four minutes. The remainder of the team, however, is very inexperienced for a college team, but should round into shape before the first match.

Coed Hockey Will Open With Tourney

The annual winter coed hockey tournament will get underway next week when dormitory and sorority teams meet in Kenan stadium. Teams have been holding regular practices this week to get in shape.

The Tri Deltas will open the tournament Wednesday at 4 p. m. when they meet the ADPi team, and McIver will oppose Carr Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The winner of the first sorority tilt will meet the winner of the Pi Phi Chi-Omega battle, which is to be played off at 4:30 Wednesday afternoon, and the winner of the dormitory quarter-finals will meet the victor of the Kenan-Archer House fight, which is scheduled for Thursday at 4:30, in the semi-finals at 4 Friday afternoon. The finals will be played off on Tuesday, December 19, at 4 o'clock.

Snavelly Might Visit Carolina To Confer With Athletic Heads

Athletic officials were still silent on the recent press release stating that Carl Snavelly would stop by Chapel Hill en route to Birmingham, Ala.

At this visit, the Cornell mentor is expected to confer with the University heads about the coaching deal that has been brewing since the board of trustees upped the coach's salary to $12,000.

Coach Bob Fetzer, director of athletics, had no official comment when called just before the Tar Heel went to press.

Coach Ranson Issues Call For More Track Participants

Shultz and Hunter Are Only Vets Back

By Bill Buffalo

With 40 boys out for track and Coach Dale Ranson issuing a call for more boys to participate, the 1944-45 indoor and outdoor track season opened this week.

Ted Shultz and Bynum Hunter are the only experienced talent left over from last year's varsity team. The other boys are inexperienced for the most part. Coach Ranson is still looking for and expecting more boys to come out for the squad for, as Coach Ranson puts it: "It takes a lot of men to make a track team."

Shultz, a 10 flat sprinter, ran in the low hurdles last season and captured second place for Carolina in the Philadelphia meet.

Coach Ranson stated that most of the work at the present was conditioning. Later the boys will be divided up into groups, the track mentor asserted.

The indoor track schedule has not yet been completed for the season, but the first meet will take place around January 14.

Any men who are interested in track or have had any experience in track meets, are asked to attend a discussion on track and the events in which they feel qualified to participate. The discussion will be held in room 304 Woolen Gym at 5 o'clock.

The following boys have already applied for track and are working on the squad:

Catholic Club To Hold Dance

The Catholic club will hold its first dance at the Chapel Hill country club tonight, from 8:30 until 12 o'clock. The dance is informal.

At a recent meeting the club decided to have a communion breakfast on December 17th. The breakfast will be held at 9 o'clock at the Carolina Inn following the 8:15 mass. Lieutenant Gorman will be guest speaker.

Pre-Flight Meets Cherry Point Five Cadets Face Test In Clash Tonight

With Otto Graham, the All-American football and basketball star from Northwestern, slated to start at one of the forward positions, the North Carolina Pre-Flight Cloudbusters will meet the Cherry Point Marines here Saturday night at 7:30 in Woolen gymnasium.

Graham, who has recently been on leave was expected back today in time for a workout, and Lieut. R. A. (Dyke) Raese, the Cloudbusters' head coach, plans to use him against the Marines, which, incidentally, were one of the three clubs to defeat the local Pre-Flighters last year.

Others who will be in the starting lineup include either Bob Mehl or W. D. Meador at the other forward position, Donald Gleasner at center, and Ed Leakey and the veteran Tippy Dye at the guard spots.

Gleasner, like Graham, was a member of the varsity football team during the past fall. He played college basketball at Morris Harvey, stands two inches over six feet and weighs 200 pounds.

In their season opener, played here last Saturday night, the Cloudbusters defeated the Greenville Air Base, 59 to 31. It was Meador and Mehl who led the scoring with 12 and 13 points respectively to their credit.

Dye, Graham and Gleasner are the only members of the squad with college playing to their credit. The others saw action in high school competition.

Intramural Football In Last Week Of Play Sees Tight Race For Winner

Teams Fight It Out for First Division

By Johnny May

The regular intramural football season was drawn to a successful close yesterday afternoon, but the remaining teams in the race will battle it out for the crown beginning Monday.

"B" Cagemen Win 33-31 Over Bragg Quint

Nathan, Bowman
Are High Scorers

Although behind 18-15 at half-time, Carolina's "B" team came back in the second half, led by Dewey Bowman, to edge out a stubborn Ft. Bragg reserve quint, 33-31, in a preliminary to the Ft. Bragg-White Phantom clash in Woolen gym last Wednesday night.

Carolina's squad, which is coached by Al Mathis, got off to an early lead, but the soldiers surged ahead shortly before the first half ended. Then in the second portion of the game, the Junior Phantoms found the mark and passed the Ft. Bragg crew.

Marx Nathan, a native Chapel Hillian, also showed up well for the Carolina B's along with Bowman, who tallied ten points.

The Jayvee quint will meet a strong Camp Butner aggregation tonight in a preliminary game to the varsity tussle.

LETTERS

tal audience at Camp Butner. Also to service men on furlough at Unity House in Forest Port, Pennsylvania. Each audience reaction was so entirely individual that there was absolutely no comparing one with the other. This is true of all audiences. You must deal with each one as you meet it and expect no blanket audience response. Naturally the enthusiasm of the cadets Sunday was, to be truthful, a little surprising, but at the same time it was good experience for the students who were in the show. Wallace was not at the performance and in no way does his editorial reflect the opinion of any of us involved in the production of "The Skin of Our Teeth."

Basketball Schedule

12-9-44—Camp Butner
12-13-44—High Point College*
12-15-44—Catawba
12-16-44—South Carolina

The playoffs will be between the top two teams of each league, except in the case of a tie for second place, in which case all three teams will advance into the playoffs.

The intramural program has been running for the past four weeks and quite a lot of interest has been shown in the grid sport. Some 18 teams have participated in the play.

As the races shape up now, the "A" league has three teams battling it out for the title. Phi Delta Theta leads the loop with three wins and no losses. The Admirals and Kappa Sigma are tied for the all-important second position with a 3-1 record. Behind them come Med. School No. 1 with one victory, and Battle and Jones Halls in last place.

The Med. School No. 2 team leads the "B" loop with a three and zero record. Also with a perfect slate comes the strong A. T. O. squad, having won two games. S. A. E. also has won two as has PiKA, but they have lost one and two games respectively. Beta and Eaton Hall follow in that order.

In the "C" league, the three leaders all have perfect slates. Phi Gamma Delta and Med. School No. 3 each have won two contests, and Sigma Nu has won two. Zeta Psi, Sigma Chi, Owen Hall, King Hall, and Whitehead No. 3 all seem pretty well out of the tight struggle for the playoff berths.

With each team playing a total of five games in the season, the standings (up to December 7) are as follows:

"A" League
Team	Won	Lost
Phi Delta Theta	3	0
Admirals	3	1
Kappa Sigma	3	1
Med. School No. 1	1	3
Battle Hall	0	3
Jones Hall	0	3

"B" League
Team	Won	Lost
Med. School No. 2	3	0
A. T. O.	2	0
S. A. E.	2	1
PiKA	2	2
Beta	1	2
Eaton	1	3

"C" League
Team	Won	Lost
Med. School No. 3	3	0
Phi Gamma Delta	3	0
Sigma Nu	2	0
Zeta Psi	2	3
Sigma Chi	1	2
Owen Hall	0	2
King Hall	0	2
Whitehead No. 3	0	2
