Legislature Begins To Show Signs Of Vitality

Service Units Merge To Stage Gala Dance February 16th

CLYDE LUCAS

Clyde Lucas' Name Band To Play

Will Be First National Group Here Since Spring

By Marjorie Jordan

A Tri-Service dance, subsidized by the Navy Welfare Fund, will be staged in Woolen Gym February 16 from 8:30 to 12:30 with Clyde Lucas and his new nationally recognized band featuring the gala event with musical refrains.

Scheduled as a farewell affair for all servicemen leaving at the end of the present term, the service dance to which everyone is invited promises to be a topflight highlight in Carolina dances.

The signing of Lucas to play here is the first step toward hiring a name band for a dance. The last name band to visit the campus was Don Redmond who played for the German Club's spring formal.

The dance will be paid for by the Navy welfare fund and there will be no admission charge. Faculty members and all students, both civilian and military, are invited.

Major J. W. Marshall, Lieut. W. E. Durin and Lieut. J. D. Hill are assisting with the arrangements. Chaperones will be military officers of the Navy and Marine units.

Clyde Lucas, six foot bandleader who brings his orchestra to the campus this month, served his apprenticeship in some of the finest bands in the country. He began playing at the age of nine in a "kid" band in Emporia, Kansas. His first real job was playing a baritone horn in Ottawa, Kansas, for which he received two dollars a day, and the opportunity to wear his first pair of long pants.

At fifteen he began studying piano, but discovered that there was a "bigger percentage" in brass, as the high school band played for all the football games. He bought a trombone, and soon had a seat on the fifty yard line.

When Lucas entered the University of Kansas, he planned to become an electrical engineer, but soon became convinced that music was his proper field. During the remainder of his college days he studied piano, harmony, instrumentation and arranging. Meanwhile he gained practical experience by playing weekends in a small dance orchestra which he organized.

After leaving college, he struck out in the dance music world with a trombone under one arm, and a bundle of arrangements under the other.

Clyde and his brother Lyn decided to organize their own band. The result was the "California Dons," which was nationally recognized within a year. Following the trend of the times, the title was changed to the "Clyde Lucas Orchestra."

The band was featured on the first movie-radio program to hit the airwaves, "Hollywood on the Air." This program later became "Hollywood Hotel." Since then the orchestra has played on other national network programs, as well as in prominent theaters and hotels throughout the country. Over 100 transcriptions and six movie shorts have been made by the band, to say nothing of over the counter records.

The committee on arrangements consists of Larry H. Herrera, USMC, A. S. Cretini, USMC, A. J. Elger, USMC, Lote Kinney, USNR, Maurice E. Brooks, USNR, Howard M. Dietz, USNR, Wally Barrett, NROTC, Collins Brown, NROTC and Tom Campbell, NROTC.

Professor Kuhn

Professor Helmut Kuhn of the University Philosophy Department has been appointed a Sprunt Lecturer for 1945 at Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Virginia.

During the week starting tomorrow he will deliver a series of lectures dealing with the relationship between faith and reason. These lectures are to appear soon as a book under the title "That I May Know."

Solons Pass Physical Education Proposal In Original Form Amid Heated Floor Debate

By Gertrude Walton

The Student Legislature seemed to have taken on a new form . . . at least the appearance of being alive in its Thursday night session . . . when the bill which proposed a cut in the physical education program for veterans and 4-Fs was passed amid a turmoil of legislative dribble which, also saw considerable bouncing around of a bill appropriating funds for the Legislature and the Student Council.

The session adjourned without action on the budget bill.

Main criticism was directed against the entertainment fund, provided for in the budget for the

Gaston Retains Bond Rally Lead As Margin Tightens Up

With a little less than two weeks of the campus-wide war bond drive to go, $17,201.30 of the $25,000 needed for the Navy plane "Foolish Nobody's James" has been raised.

Mary Hill Gaston, Kappa Alpha's entry in the War Coordination Board's contest, is still in the lead with a total of 27,734 votes. Moving up from third to second place since Saturday, Nancy Kennickell, sponsored by CICA, added 11,000 votes in three days to make her bid for top honors in the race with a total of 22,167.

In third place with a total of 19,977 votes is Mochie Morton, sponsored by Delta Kappa Epsilon. Also among the leaders are Lou Hull, fourth place, Alderman Dormitory's entry, with 18,100 votes; Markie Parsons, sponsored by Pi Kappa Alpha, in fifth place with 15,277 votes; and Sigma Nu's entry, Twig Branch, in sixth place with 13,766 votes.

Members of the War Coordination Board, remembering the avalanche of last-minute bond sales in the drive last year, predict a similar conclusion for this year's contest. However, prospective bond buyers are advised not to wait too long since the race closes at midnight Wednesday, February 14.

The successful completion of the drive will be celebrated at a Victory Dance in Woolen Gymnasium Saturday night, February 17. Harvey White will be the master of ceremonies. Freddie Johnson's music and a figure with all coeds in the contest will be featured. Merchandise contributed by Chapel Hill merchants will be raffled off to the highest bidders in bonds. The dance will be climaxed by the crowning of "Miss Victory."

Tickets to the dance will be on sale in the Y next week until the end of the contest. Votes in the drive will be allowed on all ticket purchases.

Seniors Meet Monday

There will be an important meeting of the senior class next Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock in Gerard Hall. Senior Class President Charles Hackney emphasized the fact that the senior class is composed not only of those students who expect to receive their diplomas in February, but in addition includes all Navy V-12, Marine V-12 and NROTC students who expect to receive certificates at the end of the present term. All of these students are urged to be present for the meeting.

Grail Members Stage Dance In Hinton James Day Climax

Topping off a mass convocation of faculty and students to be held in commemoration of Hinton James Day will be a dance sponsored by the Grail, proceeds of which will go to the Hinton James endowment fund which is to be used in financing the completion of Graham Memorial.

Captain E. E. Hazlett, Jr., has made arrangements to make it possible for all Navy men who are interested in attending the affair to be excused from night restrictions as the dance is slated for Monday night, February 12.

The admission charge will be seventy-five cents per couple and all contributions above that amount will be accepted as gifts to the endowment fund. Freddie Johnson and his orchestra will play for the function.

According to an architect's plan the completion of Graham Memorial calls for the addition of two wings, one at each end of the building. Under the leadership of Dr. L. R. Wilson and Albert Coates, who are mainly responsible for the construction of the building, it took ten years to get the present structure built. The need for additional funds was emphasized by Doug Hunt who is chairman of the student committee for the Sesquicentennial celebrations. He pointed out that there would be an increased student body and a need for expansion of recreational facilities after the war.

The convocation is to start at 11:15 February 12 in Memorial Hall. At 11 o'clock classes will be discontinued for the event with the regular academic schedule continuing at 2 o'clock.

A faculty academic procession from the Old Well to Memorial Hall led by the University band will start the affair. Dean R. B. House will preside over the program which will include talks by Dr. Frank Graham, University president; Doug Hunt and main speaker, William B. Umstead of Durham who is president of the Alumni Association.

Workshop Plans Annual Festival

The Carolina Workshop festival, an annual spring feature for the past three years, will again be a highlight of the Workshop's activities, it was decided at a council meeting Wednesday.

Tentative plans provide for a Festival of four or five days with one day devoted to each art field. Noted speakers are slated to attend and several joint exhibitions by the various departments are scheduled. Composing the committee to complete Festival plans are Emily Porter, chairman, Martha Gillespie, Byrd Green, Betty Hurwitz and Elaine Pearlstone.

A board of critics was appointed by president Bob Kohl to see that future art programs are adequately criticized and publicized. Serving on See WORKSHOP, page 4.

Dr. Louise Danner will be guest speaker at the Bull's Head Bookshop tea next Wednesday at 4. See UP AND COMING, page 4.

Student council. Bill Crisp, member of the Student council, assumed the rostrum to explain that the entertainment fund was not used for "entertainment" but for the benefit of the student body. Crisp emphasized the necessity of a faculty-student get-together, and that a two and a half hour business session was no "entertainment."

Speaker Hunt pointed out that the bill did not intend to impugn the honor of the Student council, and that although both the present council and legislature were opposed to the spending of student funds for the supper meetings, it had already been charged to the budget and was therefore included in expenses.

An additional section was added to the appropriations bill whereby the Student council and legislature in the future should submit to the Legislature finance committee, a written report of all expenditures minus miscellaneous expenses.

Disapproved were appropriations of $30 for the Yackety Yack picture of the campus cabinet and $16.34 for depreciation of office equipment.

Bob Lipton, succeeding Bruce Winslow, ROTC, who resigned last week, was elected chairman of the finance committee to make a report at next week's meeting concerning the proposed appropriations bill.

Phys Ed Bill

Following a heated discussion of over an hour during which one amendment to the physical education bill was proposed and in turn rejected, the Legislature finally passed the bill in its original form.

The bill is actually a request that the Student Welfare board study the present physical education program of the University which requires all male students to have at least five hours of physical training a week, in order to recommend revisions to the University administration.

Those supporting the bill maintain that if the five hours were reduced to two hours it would enable the student to take an extra course, thus accelerating his work.

During the discussion the fact was brought out that when the University went on a wartime basis, the Board of Trustees gave President Graham the choice of either four hours compulsory physical education or compulsory ROTC training for every male student. It was stated that the extra hour was added by the Physical Education department for the convenience of combining military and civilian personnel when the University went on the current semester basis.

According to the arguments, the bill was passed in its original form which provides that all veteran and students classified in 4-F would be required to take not more than two hours of physical education a week.

A bill to appropriate funds to help construct a campus bulletin board was carried. Libba Wiggins, Chairman of the Ways and Means committee, presented a bill to provide for the organization of the June, 1945, graduating class which will be introduced and discussed at the next meeting.

Constitution Group To Meet Next Week

The Student Legislature committee governing the reorganization of a campus constitution will conduct sessions through next week for students wishing to make recommendations.

The group will hold hearings on various matters. The time and place of such sessions will be posted daily on the Y bulletin board, according to Doug Hunt.
