

ONLY FOUR MORE DAYS TILL VALENTINE'S DAY . . . DANZIGER'S

PIKA Social Highlights Week-end

Week-end fraternity highlight is the golden anniversary Pi Kappa Alpha "Dream Girl" dinner-dance to be held in the ball room of the Carolina Inn this evening.

The 38 members of the fraternity will act as host to dates coming from all over the South for the gala week-end. The festivities have a dual purpose—to celebrate the selection of the Pi Kappa Alpha Dream Girl for 1945 and to commemorate the founding of the Tau chapter of PiKa at Carolina.

Following the after-noon co-ed bridge-party there will be an informal banquet in honor of fraternity brothers who are leaving at the end of this semester: Mickie Faulkner, Billy Hudgens, Billy Kelly, Buck Tauscher, Bob Gee and Ben Cooper.

Major event of the week-end will be the Dream Girl Ball to begin at 8:30 in the ballroom of the Inn. At ten a figure will be led by seven couples: Miss Betsy Anderson of Sweet Briar College with Arthur Adams; Miss Marky Parsons of Carolina with Bill Kelly; Miss Emily Garrett of Duke University with Richard Adams; Miss Mary Lois Harwell of the University of Richmond with Randal Salmon; Miss Elizabeth Gudger of Salem College with Buck Tauscher; Miss Monty King of Carolina with Larry Herrera; and Miss Betty Gains of Sweet Briar College with Donald Igerford.

When the figure is formed, Mr. E. L. Miller, acting as Master of Ceremonies, will open a sealed envelope which will contain the name of the official Dream Girl for 1945. A "sweetheart" pin will be presented to the dream girl.

DKE Rebel Room

A formal dance at the DKE House tonight will set the stage for the opening of the newly-decorated Rebel Room. The event will take the form of a farewell party for two senior ROTCs, Frances Parker and Jim Fowler. Eight DKE's and invited guests will dance to the music of the Bull City Night Hawks.

clear when Mayor Sullivan of Greensboro, a graduate of State College, spoke for recommending the measure. Said Sullivan, "there has existed a need to give these men titles of dignity for a long time. We are in favor of having the Chancellor's office established in Raleigh along with the offices of other state agencies and have the Chancellor conduct the business of the University from there. You have heard of branch offices, and you have heard of home offices. We feel that each part of this great university should have its own home office." Another State College graduate jumped to his feet and said "since at least 50 per cent of the people of this state are farmers, I feel that State College is entitled to some of the honor of a University in order that students graduating from it may not only receive the emolument from their services but also receive some honor."

John Parks, editor of the Raleigh Times, threaded his way through the crowd, was recognized by the chairman, and said that State College had not been given the proper amount of prestige since the consolidation of the University in the early thirties, and stated in no uncertain terms that he had been against consolidation from the very beginning.

Mr. Daniels remarked, "you have let the cat out of the bag." Then the spokesman for the State College delegation asked for a show of hands on the question from his group. Every hand went up and stayed there for 15 seconds.

At the end of the hearing, Jimmy Wallace asked the chairman of the Judiciary committee this question: "If this bill is only going to change the titles of the University officers, the evening the dance will dissolve into a hot dog-marshmallow "open hearth" party.

and Mr. Caveness says that such is his only intention, then why doesn't the bill state it?" The chairman couldn't answer. Douglass Hunt asked the same question in the meeting. He got no answer. Even the author of the bill, Mr. Caveness, did not answer.

One legislator, in commenting upon the bill, said "there's something that smells about this." The bill doesn't state what the powers and duties of the Chancellor will be. It doesn't state that the men in office will assume the new titles, but states that the Trustees shall appoint a Chancellor and three Presidents. It seems to me that if this legislative backing is given, then the Trustees could do almost anything under the terms of this bill and get away with it. I don't say that they would want to get away with anything, but it seems to me that this bill is a direct blow at the consolidation which Frank Graham and others fought for. I don't see why we should repeat the fight, but that is what we are going to do if we lessen the power of the head of this University and have three policy makers instead of one."

First Aid Course

As a result of numerous requests by students, plans are being made to begin a course in standard first aid at the beginning of next semester. Dean J. G. Beard will teach the 20 hour course. All students interested in enrolling in the course are asked to notify Mildred Kresnik, Carr Dorm, phone 3001.

Coeds Will Hear Talk By Expert On Beauty Care

The Vocational Bureau, the Dean of Women's Office, and the Woman's Senate are sponsoring a make-up demonstration and lecture for women students on Tuesday, February 13, at 5:00 o'clock in Memorial Hall. This program, which will constitute the February Coed Hour, will have Mrs. Barton Myers of Norfolk, Va., as the main speaker.

Mrs. Myers' topic will be "Optical Illusions," which she will illustrate by means of large, hand-painted charts. She will also show that good grooming affects the personality and thus contributes toward more adequate business relationships.

Mrs. Myers is actively engaged in cultural and civic enterprises in Norfolk. She became interested in the subject of personal appearance over six years ago when she had occasion to observe a vocational agency which trained and placed handicapped people in selected professions. She learned that when women looked their best, it not only raised their own morale but that of every one around them. As a result, Mrs. Myers accepted a position with Beauty Counselors, a service which teaches women to make the most of their appearance. Now southern regional manager, she is training and directing the activities of 700 counselors.

Mrs. Myers will be assisted by Mrs. Holcombe Adams and Mrs. Elizabeth A. Hole. Mrs. Adams has served as adviser in this field to the women students in the University of Tennessee and in Sweet Briar and Randolph-Macon Colleges, while Mrs. Hole has helped in a similar capacity the students of Woman's College at Greensboro.

The play moved along at a good pace with continuity and the humor was a pleasant contrast (not by way of criticism) to the plays preceding it.
