Carolina Goes After Second Loop Win Over State College

Coach Hearn May Send Forrest To The Mound Against Terrors
Ration League Tilt Starts At 3 O'clock

By Irwin Smallwood

The second Ration league game of the season for the Tar Heels will be reeled off here on Emerson field this afternoon at 3 o'clock as the Carolina baseballers clash with State's Red Terrors.

This will be the third game on the regular slate between the two clubs, but the second was cancelled in honor of the death of the late President Roosevelt last Saturday. The cancelled game may be played at a later date, but as yet no definite plans have been made.

Coach Bunn Hearn is expected to send veteran Red Forrest against the Terrors, who lost to the locals in the first meeting of the two clubs two weeks ago. Forrest was the victim of a hard-hitting Cherry Point team last Monday, 4-2, but he pitched a good game in scattering 10 base knocks and fanning 10 batsmen.

The infield will remain intact for the tilt this afternoon at 3 o'clock with State, and the outfield will be the same that started against the Naval Academy. Gregory, Thompson, Zientek and Colones will be in the infield, with Elger, Fahey and Mullen rounding out the outfield. Frazier will be behind the plate, catching Forrest.

Carolina was first to score in the non-loop encounter on the local diamond, pushing across a lone tally in the last of the third inning on a single by second baseman Thompson and another one-base blow by Bob Fahey. The Marines from the air base at Cherry Point came back quickly in the first half of the fourth with a single tally to tie the score, and then the veteran Cherry Pointers added another in the top of the fifth by virtue of a hit and an error.

In the last part of the fifth frame Red Forrest came through with a mighty triple to right field and scored a moment later on an outfield fly by Thompson to again send the game into a deadlock.

Both teams were scoreless in the sixth and seventh innings, but the Marines broke loose in the final pair to score two more runs to ice the game. Four of Cherry Point's 10 hits came in these last two innings.

Colones singled and Fahey walked to put two men on base for Coach Hearn's lads in the eighth stanza, but the two runners died on the bases. Also in the sixth Allen Elger put on a fine performance for Carolina and offered a good chance to score. The hard-hitting left fielder doubled and stole third with none out, but his efforts went for naught as the next two men fanned and the third grounded out.

Again in the final part of the ninth the Tar Heels missed another good chance to score and possibly win the game. With none out, Leo Mullen, playing in right field since the second inning when Chappell was injured, slammed a hard drive past the center fielder for a home run, only to be called out for failing to touch first base. This took the life out of the local crew, although the next man up walked, and a fielder's choice and an outfield fly ended the fray.

Hits stood 10 to five in favor of the Cherry Point club, but neither the score nor the hits truly told the story of the game. It was a nip-and-tuck battle all the way, and it was the superior hitting power of the Marines that finally told the story.

The Naval Academy handed the locals their second loss in a week, Wednesday afternoon in Annapolis, trouncing the Tar Heels, 13-2, behind two-hit hurling. The two teams fought on even terms for the first seven innings, but a nine-run spurge in the eighth for Navy decided the game.

Four errors were committed by Carolina in that fatal eighth inning, and that, along with five hits, netted the Middies nine runs. The Navy banged out 11 hits all told and made three miscues.

CPU To View Truman At Roundtable Talk

Lassies Meet Netters From Williamsburg

Coach Blanchette Has Strong Squad

The co-ed tennis team will open its season with a match against the Williams and Mary co-eds on the local courts today at 2:00 p. m. The Carolina girls have been conducting a preliminary tournament to determine who will play the top positions of the U. N. C. Varsity. The talent looks very good and is plentiful.

The surprise star of the tournament is Jane Wideman who has steadily climbed up the ladder to the number one spot on the team. Jane first attracted attention by defeating Joyce Fowler and winning a place for herself in the semi-finals. There she defeated Shirley Dickinson to enter the finals with Emma Lee Rhyne.

A big disappointment to the team this afternoon will be the absence of Emma Lee Rhyne. She will be greatly missed from one of the top two positions. Emma Lee sprained her ankle just before the finals of the preliminary tournament were to be played.

The line-up for today's game will include Jane Wideman in the top position, Anne Christian at the number two that order. Jane Wideman and Joyce Fowler, and Dot Rhyne following in that order. Jane Wideban and Joyce Fowler will team together for one doubles team while Ann Christian and Shirley Dickinson will unite to play the other doubles.

Holding down the first four positions on the Williams and Mary team will be Joanne Dunn, Elaine Passow, Betty Coumbe, and Barbara Davis.

Coach Blanchette says the positions for today's match are not permanent and she will give her girls the chance to challenge any member of the team not more than three notches above herself at any time, the winner taking over that respective spot on the varsity team.

Tennis Sextet Faces Indians At 2 O'clock

William And Mary Invades Courtmen

After their opening match with William and Mary was cancelled last week-end, the Tar Heel netters will play host to the Indians' sextet from Williamsburg this afternoon at 2 o'clock on the varsity tennis courts.

Today's encounter will be the initial test for Coach Kenfield's untried racketmen.

Coach Kenfield's tennis teams usually hold the reputation of being the finest in the country, but this year's edition will undoubtedly be a different story. Having only one player with previous college experience, the veteran court mentor has worked from scratch in building his 1945 net squad.

This will be the first tennis engagement between these arch-rivals in the history of the game at Carolina. William and Mary sports a well-rounded net outfit, despite the three losses already suffered at the expense of Army, Navy and N.Y.U.

Cliff Tuttle, the Tar Heels lone veteran racket handler is counted on to come through in the number one position. Tuttle performed on the 1942 tennis team before he went into the service and is back at tennis after being discharged. Tuttle will face Tut Bartzten, star netter for the visiting team. Bartzten holds a win over Army's Frank Mehener.

Duke Wilder, NROTC trainee, is a sure bet for the second berth on the net team and is slated to match up with Bren Macken this afternoon. Wilder played freshman tennis at Tulane University last season and has developed into a capable courtman in his pre-season workouts.

Coach Kenfield had not decided on his line-up at the time the Tar Heel went to press, but he will choose from the following: Cliff Tuttle, Duke Wilder, Roy Rowe, Mac Davis, Ed Baitly, Billy Weathers, Larry Probst, Johnny May, Vernon Cartner and Buddy Sandlin.

Trackmen Prepping Hard For Event With Marines

Carolina's men of the cinder trail will be host to Cherry Point in their first home meet of the 1945 season next Saturday, April 28. The event with the Marines marks the first of four scheduled clashes on successive week-ends for Coach Dale Ranson's lads.

Following the run with Cherry Point, which will be staged here in Fetzer stadium, the Tar Heels will begin hard work immediately for a meet with the Naval Academy in Annapolis May 5. On May 12, UNC entertains the Duke Blue Devils in another traditional battle between the arch rival schools.

After the home meet with Duke,

Carolina will travel to the University of Virginia to run against the Cavaliers, May 19. The next week will be a free date for the Tar Heel trackmen, but on June 2 the annual AAU open track meet will be staged here again, throwing open its entry doors to any amateur athletes of this region.

For the past week, Coach Ranson has been sending his potential runners through hard conditioning drills, after losing the initial battle with Georgia Tech last week. The Tar Heel squad contains no really outstanding performers, but many have shown much good improvement and are likely to round into winners before the season is gone.
