WGA Program Gets Underway

New Board Acts As Coed Liaison

Woman's Government activities for the coming year got underway this week with the first meeting of the new Coed Senate Tuesday night and the announcement Wednesday of the formation of a WGA executive cabinet by President Ruth Duncan.

The cabinet, first of its kind at Carolina, will consist of President Duncan, WGA Vice-President Frances Bleight, Secretary Twig Branch, and Treasurer Travis Hunt, in addition to Lib Schofield, speaker of the Senate, and Lillian Leonhard, president of the Inter-Dormitory Council.

Meeting every Monday night, the cabinet is to act as an intermediary body between the administration and the coed student body. It will provide a means whereby the three branches of Woman's Government can meet and discuss together their common problems before action is taken on them.

Speaker Lib Schofield, who took over the gavel at WGA installation ceremonies last week, wielded it for the first time Tuesday night. Following her welcome to the incoming senators, Meadie Montgomery was elected speaker pro-tem and Lib Henderson, secretary of the body. The rest of the session was taken up with explanation of the work of the Senate and description of various committees.

Di Views Problems Of 'Frisco Parley

The San Francisco Conference and outgrowing problems which must be faced by the Conference delegates, were discussed last night on the Dialectic Senate floor.

Senator Buddy Glenn introduced the bill and gave a brief summary of the aims of the Conference and a few of the complications which are expected to develop.

Following Senator Glenn's report the floor was thrown open to discussion from the floor. Several senators and visitors debated various points which soon centered around disagreements over voting procedures and the maintenance of large military units to preserve peace.

At present there are vacancies in the membership in the Di which will be filled before the end of this term. Students who are interested in applying for membership should attend the next meeting of the Di on the third floor of New West next Wednesday night at 9 o'clock. Membership applications may be obtained from Senator Gloria Chapman, chairman of the membership committee.

Bill Stubbs Loves Carolina, Tennis, UNC, Sleep, Chapel Hill And A Girl

By Dave Lilienthal

Declaring firmly that it would take centuries to tell of his real appreciation of Carolina, Head Cheerleader Bill Stubbs still admits that he is a South Carolinian born and a Georgian bred.

Ever since arriving at Chapel Hill in September, '43, he has shown plenty of interest in proving his devotion to UNC, for he has taken part in many campus organizations. His recent election as Head Cheerleader is just a slightly larger feather in his over-crowded cap.

In his campus career, Bill has been a member of the Di Senate, the Tar Heel, the Men's Glee Club, and Sound and Fury, while he's currently in the Order of the Gimghoul, treasurer of the University Club and in the Monogram Club. He joined Phi Delta Theta fraternity in October, 1943, after a brief sojourn in Steele and Carr dormitories.

Articles From Three Nations To Go On Sale

Low Retail Prices To Feature Event

By Mary Hill Gaston

United Nations Fund Week will formally begin here at 9 o'clock Monday morning, when articles from our three big allies—Russia, Britain, and China—go on sale in the Y.

From 9 until 5 o'clock every day through Saturday next week, volunteer workers will sell articles sent to Carolina from national United Nations Fund headquarters in New York.

Sponsored by the War Coordination Board, the week-long program will feature an address by Dr. Eugene E. Pfaff, head of the Southern Council on International Relations, at 8 o'clock Wednesday night, May 2, in Gerrard Hall.

Purpose of Event

Primary purpose of the event is to develop interest in the entire UNF program. Since articles in the bazaar will be sold at nominal prices, it is not expected that their sale will net any sizeable amount to be sent to national headquarters.

On sale at the Y will be a variety of things. From Russia there will be cigarette boxes, match cartons, lipstick, compacts, kerchiefs and pencils. British items include all sorts of leather goods, greeting cards, correspondence cards, ladies' lapel pins, calendars, telephone and address books and diaries. From China will come pencils, greeting cards, postcards and key cases, all to be sold at prices no higher than those found in retail stores.

Play Tryouts Planned

Preliminary tryouts for two parts, Katherina and Petruchio, in "The Taming of the Shrew," which is to be presented in the Forest Theatre, will be held at 4:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in the Playmaker Theatre.

Due to the short period of time available for preparation of the annual Forest Theatre production after presentation of the original full-length play, Virginia Page Spencer's "Calliope" on May 10-12, it is necessary to begin work on "The Taming of the Shrew" now.

Vigorous students with strong voices for outdoor acting are particularly urged to try out for parts in this extremely lively production.

BILL STUBBS

siders Atlanta his home as well as his birthplace, for his pre-Carolina days were spent about equally between the two. Atlanta holds greater charm for him, however, because of his circle of friends, including a certain young lady for whom Bill has the highest regard.

Anxious to leave no doubts in anyone's mind that Carolina is tops with him 24 hours a day, Bill confesses that Georgia Tech was his second choice. Here he is a junior majoring in law, and despite his great interest and success in campus politics, Bill announces that post-college politicking is definitely out.

Standing at medium height, his pleasant features topped by curling carrot hair, Bill Stubbs presents a vital and energetic picture. He speaks quickly and easily, with an ever-present spark of humor. With cheerleading responsibilities before him, he is already planning new yells and a new set of uniforms for the cheerleaders. If the rest of the squad follows their active leader, you can be sure of a snappy group of cheerleaders to spur Carolina on to new victories in the coming year. See STUBBS, page 4.
