Legislature Refuses To Lift Dance Limitations

Couch 'Demands' Tar Heel Retraction

Close Vote Follows Long Debate On Spending Bill

Lengthy Discussion Preceeds Tabling Of Much-Disputed Election Measure

Mud-Slinging Sparks Heated Session

By Dave Koonce

Following accusations by Mr. W. T. Couch, director of the University Press, that the Tar Heel had printed false statements in the Friederich story carried in the last issue, a committee of students, faculty, members of the Tar Heel staff, and interested persons met in Horace Williams' lounge Thursday afternoon and cleared the Tar Heel of all accusations except the use of the word "subversive" in the headline. The question of the libelous character of this word is still under debate although the Tar Heel used the word without malicious intent.

Couch's first intention was to sue the Publications Union for libel, but later he said he would settle for a retraction. (See editorial page for the editor's interpretation of the word, "subversive"). Couch, who was described by one faculty member as being "surrounded by legal counsel," was represented at the meeting by Judge Aubrey Brooks from Greensboro, who complimented the editor and his staff for the way in which the situation was handled. Judge Brooks told the group that the University needed more coordination and urged teamwork in all departments of the University.

House Presides

The session, with Chancellor House presiding, soon developed into a meeting discussing the suitability and unsuitability of Dr. Friederich. Personalities involved in the anti-Friederich situation were attacked and equally defended.

The Press director, in making retraction demands upon the Tar Heel, met with sharp demands by Dr. E. E. Ericson, who was of the opinion that should the campus paper retract anything, Mr. Couch should retract the statement in Thursday's Durham Herald in which he (Couch) accused Ericson of "witch-hunting." At this point, Couch withdrew his retraction demands on the Tar Heel and apologized.

House Comments on TH

Chancellor House, in the course of the meeting, remarked, "The Tar Heel has certainly turned up a piece of news that I didn't know about. I acknowledge the force of the news story whether or not it is just."

Commenting on the letter protesting Friederich's appointment that was sent by a group of citizens and faculty members to the OWI, Dr. E. J. Woodhouse said, "I did not send a letter, but I intended to. I maintain the right to express my opinion as to the suitability or unsuitability of a man up for a government appointment. I think this is a fundamental right of an American citizen."

Couch's main contention was that See MUDSLINGING, page 4

Debate Council Elects Woman To Head Group

The University Debate Council elected Nina Guard president for the year 1945-46 at its regular meeting Tuesday night. Fred Chamberlain, an enrolled veteran, was elected vice president and Dave Pittman, sophomore from Rocky Mount was elected executive secretary.

The Council selected Rene Bernard and Bill Crisp to represent Carolina in a debate last night with William and Mary in Williamsburg, Va. Crisp and Bernard will defend the affirmative side of the national debate topic; Resolved that the Federal government should enact legislation requiring that all labor disputes not settled by voluntary means be submitted to compulsory arbitration, constitutionality conceded.

The Debate Council moved to delay action on a budget appropriation for the proposed reorganization of the Phi Assembly until Bob Morrison, sponsor of the program, submits a complete plan. It is presumed that a joint committee from the Dialectic Senate and the Debate Council will supervise the program.

Coed Orientation To Feature Full Week Of Entertainment

Plans have been completed for the 1946 fall orientation program, a full week of entertainment beginning September 3, designed to introduce Carolina to new women students. Co-chairmen of the Orientation committee in charge of the program are Ruth Duncan and Dot Phillips.

The committee has appointed Linda Cobb chairman of student advisers next year, succeeding Tommy Slayton. She will serve as head of a large group of selected coeds who will counsel new students.

Committee Named

The twelve members of the Orientation committee include Miss Duncan, president of WGA; Miss Phillips, vice-president of the YWCA; Miss Cobb; Betty Grimes, president of the Pan-Hellenic Council; Emily Tufts, president of Town Girls; Joyce Fowler, president of WAA; Thelma Jean Dailey, president of CICA; Lillian Leonard, president of Interdorm Council; Lib Schofield, speaker of the Senate; Mrs. Janet Hoover, personnel adviser; Mrs. Gwen Duffy, assistant personnel adviser, and Mrs. Kay Ferrell, YWCA secretary.

Next fall's program will begin with dormitory floor parties at 11 o'clock Monday night, September 3. Tuesday will be taken up with campus tours directed by student advisers and a mass meeting that night to introduce Women's Government and the honor code to the newcomers.

Entertainment Planned

Wednesday afternoon every dormitory will hold open house for Pre-Flight cadets, and that night the annual CICA-Pan-Hell party will be held in Graham Memorial. Thursday night the YWCA will have a dessert party, and Friday night there will be an informal reception at Graham Memorial for new coeds and all men on campus.

Club To Offer Usual Program With SF Show

Much Local Talent Slated For Affair

The 24-Below Club, in addition to the usual cokes and dancing, according to Committee chairman Helen Borstram and Rick Major, will present an floor show to-night. Located in the Grill on the ground floor of Graham Memorial, the Club, with its candlelight and checkered table-cloths, will be open from 8 o'clock until midnight. The show is slated to begin promptly at 10:15 o'clock and will consist of local talent affiliated with the Sound and Fury cast.

Fred Caligan, master of ceremonies, has announced that the program will include singing and dancing by the talented 12 year old star, Joan Billsley. Another interesting attraction of the evening is songs by McIver's Virginia Mason. The accomplished pianist, Jack Townsend will present piano varieties and Marion Gurney will offer several original songs. In addition to his duties as master of ceremonies, Fred Caligan, will give one of his well known tap dancing numbers.

Sickness and unavoidable absenteeism on the part of several of the performers necessitated a last minute cancellation of the floor show last Saturday, but according to the 24-Below Club the show will go on tonight.

Guy B. Phillips Announces Plans For Summer Session

By Pat Kelly

Guy B. Phillips, director of summer school, released complete plans for the University's coming summer session, including the schedule, admission rules, faculty, curriculum and special features.

Contrary to the past custom of having two six weeks' terms, this summer session will be based on two terms lasting eight weeks each. The first term will run from July till September and the second from September till November.

Applications Not Needed

It will not be necessary for students to make formal application for admission to the summer school unless the student is transferring to the University for degree credit. In the case of transfer students the usual procedure is to be followed.

The only preliminary step necessary for regular students is the early reservation of a room. Mr. Phillips stated that almost all the women's dormitory space has already been filled and that the men dormitories are rapidly being filled.

As in the past, women students will be admitted to the summer school classes on the same basis as men. All students, including freshmen, will be able to enroll for either or both terms.

About one-half the regular faculty will teach around 425 courses in this summer session.

The program will be designed to fit the needs of freshmen boys, who need an accelerated program, and transfer students, who attend another school where there is no summer work.

Because of the late opening of the summer session this year, the Department of Education has decided to offer a three weeks' intersession program beginning June 11 and ending June 30. This will give teachers and administrators an opportunity to do three weeks of graduate and certificate work before the summer school opens. This program's curriculum will be limited to the specific needs of those who register in advance, and those interested in enrolling should See PHILLIPS, page 4

Campus Singfest Set For Forest Theater Sunday

A competitive sing to be sponsored by the Valkyries will be held tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock in the Forest Theatre. In case of rain, the sing is to be held in Memorial Hall.

Ten organizations have entered the contest, but other groups wishing to compete may do so by seeing Nancy King at the Pi Beta Phi House. The entry fee is $1, and each group is asked to prepare two selections. No less than eight singers may represent an organization, but no maximum limit has been set.

Groups who have entered are Delta Delta Delta, Archer House, Alpha Tau Omega, Alpha Delta Pi, Pi Beta Phi, Chi Omega, Spencer dormitory, Phi Delta Theta, Chi Psi, and CICA.

In the past the Valkyries have sponsored several such sings. This is the first in the past several years, however. Any group receiving the cup for three successive years will be allowed to keep it permanently.

The public is invited to attend, and there is no admission charge.

Frosh To Hold Final Run-off

Committee Plans To Conduct Polls

The third and final Kelly-Potts battle for the Freshman class presidency will wind up the long-delayed Frosh elections, when polls open from 9 to 5 o'clock Tuesday in the YMCA.

The announcement of the election was made yesterday by Chairman Walt Brinkley of the Elections Committee of the Student Legislature, who defined a Freshman as a student who has been in school less than three quarters or two trimesters.

In the initial election, held March 29, Pat Kelly and Farrell Potts were left in the running for class president after Gene Franklin was eliminated, since neither had a majority vote. In that election, Bill Hight was elected class treasurer and Hoyle Schultz became secretary, while Jack Kirkland and Bill Lloyd tied for the vice presidency.

Enough illegal ballots were discovered in the second voting, which came in the middle of April, to void the race for top officer, as Kelly held a mere three-vote lead over Potts. The number of illegal votes cast did not affect Jack Kirkland's margin over Bill Lloyd, and he became vice president.

A list of eligible voters has been prepared by the Elections Committee for the Tuesday run-off, which largely accounts for the delay between the second election and this final one.

Art Display Pays Teachers Tribute

The Eighth Annual North Carolina School Art Exhibition which opened last Wednesday in Person Hall pays tribute to the industry and creative efforts of the school children and art teachers of North Carolina.

Over 300 works in water color, crayon, charcoal and pencil, sculpture, design, costume design, and block print textiles have been chosen for exhibition and certificates of merit. Pieces from Greensboro, High Point, Albemarle, Durham, Camp Lejeune, Salisbury, Greenville, and Bellhaven are included in the showing and represent a wide range of talents. Subjects include landscapes, circuses, portraits, football, airplanes, animals, and people at work and at play. Many of the exhibited works compare favorably with those reproduced in books and other publications on the subject of children's art.

The exhibition can be seen at Person Hall through Sunday, May 20th.

Legislator Clive Thompson's bill calling for a removal of restrictions on dance expenditures after going through considerable debate went down in defeat by a 17-16 vote in a popular meeting of the student legislative group Thursday.

Babs Saunders, who represents Kenan dorm in the legislature, voted "no" to the roll call. The clerk took the "no" to be a "yes" and in the tabulation there was a 17-16 vote for the bill. Speaker Hunt exercised his power to vote and the result was a tie. Upon recall of the members of the legislature it was made clear that Representative Saunders did not change her vote but had originally voted against the bill. In the recount of votes the result was a 17-16 margin against the bill.

McKenzie Speaks on Bill

Charlie Warren spoke at length against the bill after the floor was yielded to president of the student body, Bill McKenzie who emphasized the need for more recreational facilities via more dance expenditures. Allan Pannill, Charlie Frank Benbow, and Clive Thompson, writer of the bill locked horns against Charlie Warren and Speaker Hunt in the main part of the pro and con presentation.

The initial part of the proceedings at the meeting Thursday dealt with Charlie Warren's proposal to initiate into the constitution the plans of the legislature to codify and word bills of the group. There were no amendments suggested for this bill and it is expected that this piece of legislation will be voted upon at the next session. Election Bill Tabled

A three and one-half page elections bill which was introduced last week by the ways and means committee to the Student Legislature was tabled after the Legislature spent a great portion of this week's session in debate over three amendments proposed by Legislator Walt Brinkley.

Halfway through the proceedings when it seemed that the legislators were nearing a point of agreement as to the wording of the amendments, Allan Pannill moved for tabling of the bill.

Jimmy Wallace voiced hearty opposition to an amendment to the Article III section two which was devised by Brinkley. The original section stated in the last sentence that any violation of stipulated rules regarding campaign expenditures "shall disqualify the entire party slate." The amendment read "Any violation of the amount of expenditures as set forth in this section (2) shall be charged against one individual whom the party shall designate as being responsible for all expenditures. This person shall be tried by the appropriate Honor Council in case of violation of this section."

Wallace objected to the use of the word individual whereupon Clive Thompson proposed that Brinkley's amendment to the original bill be altered to read one individual "member of the party" shall be responsible and this person shall be designated "prior to the campaign." This was passed by the legislature.

Thompson's proposal seemed to appeal to Wallace and most of the opposition on this particular section. How- See VOTE, page 4

Other officers chosen included: Coline Smith and Margie Pullen, Co-business Managers, Gertrude Walton, Treasurer, and Marion Gurney, Bill Sasser and Jenny Mason on the executive committee.

Miss Mason, director of the new show which Sound and Fury plan to present sometime in June, announced that there will be tryouts for the show in Memorial Hall Tuesday afternoon from 2 to 5:30 o'clock. Anybody that has anything to offer in the way of an entertaining act is urged to come, she added.
