

- 1946 Yack Plans
- Baer to U. N. C.
- Band Concert

The Tar Heel

- Special Elections
- New Grill Manager
- Friday Dance

VOLUME LIII—SW

Business and Circulation: 8641

Serving Civilian and Military Students at UNC
CHAPEL HILL, N. C., TUESDAY, JULY 10, 1945

Editorial: F-3141, News: F-3146, F-3147

NUMBER SW—67

Special Student Election Slated For July 24

University Owned Cafes Consolidated Under One Manager

By Betty Anne Ragland

As a partial result of the food situation campaign which has recently been carried on in the Tar Heel, Mr. J. A. Williams, assistant to the business manager, has announced a consolidation of all University-owned cafeterias with the exception of Carolina Inn, including Swain Hall, Lenoir Hall, Graham Memorial Grill, and Spencer Dining Hall. Replacing Mrs. Jennie Thurston, Mr. L. H. Gooch, assisted by Mrs. J. E. Monroe, will be in supervisory charge of Graham Memorial Cafeteria.

Mr. Gooch has formerly been in charge of Swain hall since his brother, Mr. C. E. Gooch, resigned from the position.

Centralized Control

According to the announcement from Mr. Williams, "the University administration believes that this centralized organization will enable each dining unit to secure the advantages of volume purchasing, high grade supervision and inspection, and better service through the transfer of personnel from one unit to another when the need arises. Any saving in the cost of operation will be reflected in lower food cost to students. It will continue to be the policy of the University to operate the Graham Memorial Cafeteria on a non-profit basis.

Cafeteria Large Enough

"This cafeteria is large enough and has the necessary equipment to feed 600 students three meals a day, provided all of these students do not attempt to eat at the same time, and provided they finish their meals and relinquish their seats within a reasonable period of time. Students who can do so are urged to eat early, particularly at dinner time. This will help eliminate the long lines that tend to form at 1 p.m.

He added further that "Graham Memorial coupled with the Inn cafeteria, Spencer hall, and the several fraternity and sorority dining rooms, will provide ample space for all civilian students now registered and those expected for the coming year.

Mr. Williams went on to say that the week day meal hours will remain the same as they have been: breakfast, 7-9 a.m.; dinner 11:45-1:45 p.m.; supper, 5:30-7:15 p.m.; and Sunday, breakfast, 8:30-10 a.m.; dinner, 12 noon-1:30 p.m.; and supper, 5:30-7 p.m.

In conclusion, Mr. Williams emphasized the point that suggestions from students as to the continued betterment of this establishment will be welcomed.

Flagler Calls Meeting Of All Interested In Yackety-Yack

Fred Flagler, editor of the 1946 Yackety Yack, said Sunday that work on next year's yearbook would begin as soon as possible and requests that all students interested in joining the staff attend a meeting in the Roland Parker Lounge, Graham Memorial, on Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock.

"We hope," Flagler said, "that we don't encounter the same difficulties this year's Yack has faced. But to be on the safe side we want to get started as soon as possible. We need artists, photographers, writers and members of the business staff. Anyone who has worked on an annual in another college or in high school is especially urged to attend the meeting."

Meeting Of Sound And Fury Members Scheduled Tonight

Tonight at 8 p. m. in Gerrard hall an important meeting of all members of Sound and Fury will take place. This meeting will be for the purpose of organizing for the summer and the election of several proxies to the executive council to fill the places of members not here for this term.

Any person who did any work on "Now and Then" or "Package Show No. 1" is considered a member of Sound and Fury.

IRC Sponsored Hunt Talks On Frisco Charter

Douglass Hunt, speaker of the Student Legislature, will address the student body on the topic "The United Nations Charter" Tuesday at 8 p. m. in Gerrard Hall, under the sponsorship of the International Relations club.

Hunt, who was elected delegate to the San Francisco Conference from the Conference of Southern Students, was accredited to the American delegation as a consultant upon his arrival, and in this capacity attended the most important meetings of the conference.

Representing the Conference of Southern Students, he sent back reports on the international conference to college campuses throughout the South, which were printed in college newspapers and periodicals.

His discussion on the Charter will

(Continued on last page)

Re-Education Plan For Speech, Hearing Defects Opens Here

The re-education program for speech and hearing defects began here yesterday to continue through August 18 as a special feature of the University summer session, and will also serve as a laboratory for teacher training classes in this field.

The re-education and the teacher training programs are both to be conducted by Miss Pauline Winkler, head of the Conservation of Hearing department of the Albany, N. Y. public schools, and a staff member of lip reading, Rensselaer, N. Y., public schools.

Flagler Calls Meeting Of All Interested In Yackety-Yack

FLAGLER

• The Sigma Chi's are scouting around for their "Sweetheart," so gals, put on another face (for gosh sakes) and straighten your stocking seam . . . the judges are coming.

Demonstration By Air Forces Slated Monday

Army Personnel Plans Educational Display

An educational demonstration of the utilization of aircraft equipment for teaching purposes will be given by the Army Air Forces personnel in Memorial Hall at the University from 9:30 to 12:30 Monday, July 16, Prof. Guy B. Phillips, director of the summer session, announced.

The program here was arranged by the Chief Training Liaison Officer of the AAF in Atlanta and will be shown in the key cities in this state and at non-profit educational institutions. Similar demonstrations are being given throughout the country.

The demonstration, Professor Phillips said, was to prepare for the utilization of aircraft equipment and material which is now being made available to such institutions, and will be presented by instructors in the AAF Training Command who have had educational experience in civilian life. They will be prepared to discuss training aids and teaching technique that will be of interest to secondary school and college teachers. Photographs, constructional diagrams, tool and parts lists and method of construction of more than 100 different demonstrational units that have been constructed in the AAF training program from aircraft equipment will be shown.

Professor Phillips said that the demonstration will be of special interest to superintendents of schools, high school principals, teachers of science and mathematics, college administrators, college instructors, visual aid directors, and vocational education directors and teachers.

Herbert R. Baer To Join Law Faculty In September

Herbert R. Baer, who for the last year has been acting dean and professor of law of the Wake Forest Law school in association with the Duke University Law school, will join the law faculty here in September, according to an announcement made today by Dean Robert H. Wettach.

Mr. Baer has been a member of the law faculty at Wake Forest since 1940. In 1942 he served on the legal staff of the OPA in Washington, D. C., and for two years, 1942-44, was District Price Attorney with headquarters in Raleigh.

A graduate of Cornell University and the Harvard Law school, he is a member of the New York and New Jersey bars and, for 11 years, 1927-38, served as trial counsel with the firm of McCarter and English, of Newark, N. J. He was teaching fellow at the Cornell Law School in 1939-40.

His teaching has covered a wide range of subjects and, in the opinion of Dean Wettach, his addition to the Law school will greatly strengthen its program.

Mr. Baer fills the vacancy caused by the recent resignation of Prof. Benjamin F. Small, who, after one

Speakers Discuss English Instruction For Returning Vets

Addressing the first general conference of the North Carolina English Institute, three speakers discussed English instruction for returning veterans here last night.

Lieutenant B. L. Bonniwell, of the Counseling and Classification branch of the U. S. Convalescent hospital at Camp Butner, described the educational interests of returning servicemen.

Other speakers were Lieutenant George F. Horner, USNR, of the University's Navy Pre-Flight School and Dr. William D. Perry, vocational appraiser of the Veterans Advisement Center in Chapel Hill.

Someday the Editor isn't going to be able to think of a filler and there will be a hole in the paper.

All-State Band Gives Fourth Music Concert

Event Part Of High School Course Here

By Jessie Gregory

As a part of the All-State High School Music Course, the All-State High School Band presented its fourth concert Sunday afternoon, July 8, in the Forest Theater.

The band of 90 pieces was directed by Dr. Earl A. Slocum, director of the music course, by Herbert Hazelman, director of instrumental music in the Greensboro, N. C., Public Schools, by W. T. Hearne of the Henderson, N. C., Public Schools, and by Donald Smith of the New Bern, N. C., Public Schools.

Highlight of the program was the "Symphony in B" by Fauchet. "Come, Sweet Death" by Bach, "Deep Blues" by Lou Singers, several Sousa marches, and a movement from the "Hiawatha Suite" by Coleridge-Taylor were also a part of the program.

Sunday evening, July 8, the All-State High School Orchestra presented a concert under the direction of Dr. Earl Slocum and Frances Simmons, director of instrumental music in Elizabeth City Public Schools. The orchestra, which consists of 35 pieces, played the "Processional" from the "Meistersingers" by Wagner, the "Young Prince and Princess" from the "Scheherazade Suite" by Rimsky-Korsakow, and the "Hungarian Overture" by Keler-Bela.

The band and the orchestra concerts were presented as part of the six-week All-State High School Music Course which is being held at U.N.C. from June 10 to July 21. The band of 90 and the orchestra of 35 are

(Continued on last page)

Six Offices Vacant As Brinkley Calls Special Election

By James Sanford

Special elections will be held on Tuesday, July 24, to fill six student government offices vacated at the end of the spring term. Walt Brinkley, member of the Legislature and chairman of the board of elections, announced Sunday.

French House Gives Course In Speech

A number of French students and teachers have enrolled in the six-week conversation course being offered by the French House of the University. Mrs. H. R. Huse and Mrs. Odette Lallanne, both native French women, are in charge of the courses, which are directed by Professor Hugo Giduz.

The Cercle Francaise of the University will have the first of its series of summer meetings at the new Maison Francaise, 216 East Rosemary street Saturday, July 7.

The French Circle was launched last semester and regular meetings were held in Graham Memorial.

(Continued on last page)

Sons Of Revolution Sponsor Marker To John Bowling Grave

The Carolina and Duke chapters of the Sons of the American Revolution sponsored a marker to the grave of John Bowling, a Revolutionary soldier, on the Federal-owned cemetery near Stem and Camp Butner Sunday.

Speakers were President Frank P. Graham of the University system, whose topic was "How May We Preserve Ideals of Our Revolutionary Fathers in Present War Conditions?" and Dr. Hugh Lefler of the University History department, who spoke on the "Causes of the Revolution."

Miss Ann Bowling, a descendant of the soldier, unveiled the marker, and Dr. Ed Bowling of Durham, great grandson of John Bowling, made a brief talk. Major Samuel Overstreet, chaplain of Camp Butner, was in charge of devotionals.

Dr. Archibald Henderson of Chapel Hill is general chairman of the SAR committee on patriotic days, and Collier Cobb, Jr., also of Chapel Hill, is chairman of the committee for arranging markers.

New Freshmen To See First Big Dance Here Friday Night

First big dance for members of the new freshman class on the campus, "Friday Night Frolics," will take place Friday from 8:30 until 10:45 p. m. in the main lounge room of Graham Memorial, according to an announcement from Harvey White, manager of Graham Memorial.

Music for the informal event will be provided by Jimmy Fuller and his band, from Durham, the first band to appear at Carolina in a considerable time.

Mr. White further announced that the Memorial building will be "as air-conditioned as possible" for the dance, and that there will be no intermission.

Other special summer entertainments to be provided by Graham Memorial will include a weekly bridge tournament each Thursday night. The total amount of the 25 cent admission fees collected will be awarded to the winner.

Westinghouse employees submitted nearly 15,000 winning suggestions for saving time and material in war production last year. Their victory-speeding ideas netted them $187,000 in awards.

Special elections will be held on Tuesday, July 24, to fill six student government offices vacated at the end of the spring term, Walt Brinkley, member of the legislature and chairman of the board of elections, announced Sunday.

Members of the October graduating class will also elect officers on that day.

The elections are the first to take place as provided for under a bill passed in the spring which made necessary special elections whenever student government offices became vacant.

Most important office to be filled is that of president of the Carolina Athletic Association whose former president, Bill Ward, recently transferred from the V-12 unit to the Carolina Pre-Flight School.

Other vacant posts are one in the Debate council, one in the Student council, and three in the Legislature. According to eligibility rules given the Tar Heel by Brinkley, anyone living on the campus or in town, male or female, may run for president of the Carolina Athletic Association or the Debate council.

The member of the Student council must be a male civilian, either living on the campus or in town.

Of the three to be elected to the Legislature, one must be a coed, living in town or a sorority house, a male town civilian and the third a Marine.

As in all student government elections there is a limit of five dollars which a candidate may spend to conduct his or her campaign.

Senior Class Officers
Officers to be elected for the senior class on July 24 are president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer. Chairman Brinkley announced that any civilian student receiving a diploma or any Navy, Marine or ROTC student receiving a certificate, will be eligible for the offices.

All political parties and independents must turn in the names of their candidates to Brinkley or Charles Fulton, member of the board of elections, by five o'clock Sunday, July 16.

"There will be over two weeks for parties to choose their men and conduct their campaigns."

White

WHITE

A postwar market for 60 million home radio sets is foreseen by Westinghouse, judging by a recent extensive survey. A demand of such proportions will keep the industry at peak production for six years.