

Only Week Remaining In Softball Tournament

Pre-Flight Football Drills Open Monday

Emphasis To Be On Fundamentals During First Week; Opening Game September 23

A group of some 50 cadets is expected to be on hand tomorrow when the 1945 edition of the Navy Pre-Flight Cloudbusters begins fall football practice under Head Coach Paul Bryant, in preparation for the opening tilt against the Georgia Pre-Flight Sky-crackers at Athens, Ga., on September 23.

During the first week emphasis will be on fundamentals, with work, work, and more work on the elements that go to make good football—blocking, tackling, passing, running and kicking.

Alabama "Offense"

The Cloudbuster eleven will operate this year from the Alabama type offense, using a balanced line and box, Coach Bryant stated today. Variations will be used, he said, to adapt the attack to the player material on hand, something he'll know more about next week.

Lt. Comdr. Bryant is well prepared to institute the Alabama style of play at Carolina Pre-Flight, having himself been a star end on the Crimson Tide's Rose Bowl team of 1934 and having served later as assistant coach at his alma mater.

Most of the half hundred or so candidates who will begin drills next week are players selected from those who have showed most promise in class instructional football, which is a regular part of the Pre-Flight physical conditioning program.

Experience Lacking

From the information available at this time, the squad will be short of experience, with only a handful of players with any college. This is a natural result of the fact that for the past three years youths have been entering the naval aviation training program right from high school, and the supply of college trained youths available has been greatly reduced.

Carolina Intramural Tennis Meet Swings Into High Gear

The intramural tennis tournament was swinging into high gear at the week-end as the men's singles advanced well into the second round. Walt James, intramural head, asked that all contestants report the results of their matches to him in room 307, Woollen Gym, and as yet there are no results reported on any of the women's singles matches.

Pairings for those two divisions in which competition has not yet begun, the men's doubles and the mixed doubles, have been announced by the intramural department. These matches must be arranged, played and reported in a manner similar to the men's and women's singles rules as previously announced.

In the only first round match in the men's doubles, Cowden and Jordan will meet Gregory and Wren. All other contestants will receive first round byes.

In second round matches, the following pairings have been announced:

Ahrendts and Stockwell vs. Bauder and Brinkley.

Townsend and Savich vs. Owens and Lepper.

Thompson and Johnson vs. Mullis and Hudson.

James and Wilder vs. Lowenstein and Richardson.

Begnaud and Heath vs. Council and Dicus.

Orr and Asbury vs. Andrews and Heyward.

Dodson and Milligan vs. McAlister and Russell.

All matches in the men's doubles, both first and second round pairings, must be completed and the results reported by Wednesday, August 15.

Pairings for the fourth division of the tournament, the mixed doubles, have been announced as follows:

Tuttle and Pope vs. Smith and Andrews.

Cowden and Spears vs. Mullis and Pafe.

James and Christian vs. Johnson and Lowery.

Begnaud and Evatt vs. Thompson and Lewis.

All matches in the mixed doubles must be completed and reported by the end of next week.

Carl Snavely To Conduct Coaching Clinic Program

Affair Is Sponsored By Charlotte Quarterback Club; To Be Aug. 20-21

The program has just been announced for the Carolinas Coaching Clinic, which will be held by the Quarterback Club in Charlotte, August 20-21, and which will be in charge of Carl Snavely, head coach at the University of

The completed schedule is carried in a handsome four-page brochure, which has just been mailed out from Charlotte to high school coaches throughout the two Carolinas and which has just been received here.

"We are fortunate to secure the services of Carl Snavely," the opening statement reads, "who after nine years as head football coach at Cornell University, has returned to the University of North Carolina.

Snavely's Method

"Everyone knows the thoroughness of Mr. Snavely's coaching methods. This is his first public appearance in the interest of the game since returning to North Carolina. We are also fortunate in that he will bring with him his complete staff of five well known authorities, who will serve as his aides during the school."

The assistants referred to are Line Coach Max Reed, who has been Mr. Snavely's right hand man since 1929; Backfield Coach Russ Murphy, who joined the gray fox's staff in 1939; and End Coach Charlie Jamerson, who is on leave from his duties as head coach at Memphis Teachers College; Irvin Howell, Navy Chief Specialist Athletic here; and Coach Chuck Quinlan, who has been head trainer here since 1926.

The sessions, which will be held at Central high school gymnasium in Charlotte, opening at 10 o'clock Monday, August 20, and closing at 5 o'clock Tuesday, will be open to any interested coach or fan. A nominal fee will be charged to cover expenses, and registrations should be mailed to Bill Brannan at 1141 Elizabeth Ave., See COACHING CLINIC, page 4

Gridders Ironing Out Many Kinks

Coach Carl Snavely and his newly-acquired North Carolina Tar Heels, heading into the last lap of the 1945 summer grid practices, are showing full speed ahead each afternoon before they take a week off prior to the heavy fall drills.

Dummy scrimmages are at present dominating the Blue and White work with Snavely and staff putting special emphasis on new plays and ironing out kinks made in last Saturday's battle with the Pre-Flight.

The Carolina mentor seems to be faced with the big problem of inexperience more than anything else, as the green Tar Heel group is greatly lacking in coordination and team play. With only five returning lettermen, Coach Snavely is hit hard by the lack of vets and there is still much work to be done before the lads will be in top shape for their initial encounter on September 29. In the Carolina-Pre-Flight scrimmage, the Blue and White aggregation showed their inexperience to a large degree and there were many mistakes to be corrected.

Ed Golding, one of the few left-overs of last year, hailing from Pelham, N. Y., is showing up very well at his whipping guard post, and may prove a spearhead in the Carolina forward wall this season. Golding held a first-string berth on the '44 eleven and proved plenty tough, as Army lauded him high enough to be placed on their all-opponent team.

Frank Gallagher Pitches No-Hit Tilt Against KA's

Phi Gams Continue Winning Ways With 12-1 Win Over Staff; Haigler Hurls

By Dick Seaver

With scarcely a week remaining in the regular softball tournament play, the respective teams of all leagues dug in for the home stretch games which would make or break their pennant chances last week. The final games of the League Round Robin will be completed on Monday, August 20, and play for the first half championship will begin on Tuesday, August 21 and continue through Thursday, August 23.

In the first no hit ball game of the entire tournament, Co. I NROTC's fast stepping crew scored an 8-0 victory over Kappa Alpha, in a one sided contest. The winners had a field day at bat, scoring 13 hits against Mack Hobkirk, the losing twirler, but the big news of the contest was the neat hurling job turned in by Frank Gallagher, who carved himself a niche in the tournament hall of fame by pitching a sweet no hit game which was marred by only five walks.

Phi Gams Roll On

Phi Gamma Delta kept right on rolling during the past week as they racked up win number six by scoring a one sided 12-1 win over the Staff. In winning their sixth game in six starts, the league leaders ran their total number of runs scored up to 69 as compared to a minute total of two runs scored against them. Ted Haigler once again pitched beautiful ball in allowing only three hits while his teammates were banging out nine. Webb, Phi Gam center fielder, had a perfect day at bat to lead the offense for the winners, while Paty, the loser's left fielder, had a double and single in three trips to lead the Staff in that department.

In one of Monday's tilts, the Staff handed KA its second defeat of the week when they scored five times in the first inning to coast to an 8-1 victory. Durin pitched good steady ball for the winners, and he received good support afied from his teammates. Qwens, with 3 for 4, and Tabbutt, with 3 for 3, led in the hitting department for the Staff, as Hagy and Carnavale aided the cause by blasting out round trippers for the winners.

In League A's only remaining game, Sigma Chi scored a decisive 12-0 win over BVP as Bowden limited the losers to five scattered hits while striking out a similar number. Alden, Sigma Chi backstop, led the offensive with 3 hits in 4 trips.

In one of the week's most important contests, Smith downed the Phi Delt's by a 6-1 count to slip into top position in League B. The winners scored four runs in the fourth inning to ice the contest, after taking a 2-1 lead in the previous frame by scoring a single tally. Fahey, winning chunker, struck out nine while spacing three Phi Delt hits.

Co. 2 Wins

In one of the week's closest contests, Co. 2 downed the Delta Sig's by a 4-3 count. Staging a Frank Merrifield finish, the winners scored two big runs in the last half of the final frame after the losers had gone out in front, 3-2 in the first half of the same inning. Both teams were evenly matched, with good pitching and steady fielding being the order of the day.

Cross Country Ahead Of 1944

Candidates Run Initial Trials

"We are a good six weeks ahead of last year," Coach Dale Ranson said Thursday afternoon as he viewed his potential Carolina cross country team in the first preliminary time trials of the season over the three and five-eighths mile course.

Sixteen candidates for the 1945 squad participated in the first real workout of the season, and although the times turned in were not by any means exceptional "they did very good for early running," according to Coach Ranson.

The first meet of the season is tentatively slated for September 15 here, but the opponent has not been named as yet. Something like six or seven meets are already on deck, including races with Georgia Tech, Duke, Virginia and Navy. Others with service teams from this vicinity are expected to be added at any time, however.

Real surprise of the day came when Red Forrest, former top-notch hurler for the Tar Heel baseball team and a Med student, finished second in the field of 16. Forrest is without any previous track experience, but the fleet red-headed youngster showed that he was really game in coming in close on the heels of the leader.

Bob Dodson, one of the top men on the local spring track team, came in first, some 11 seconds ahead of Forrest, and this first pair was followed by Art Lamb in third rung. The trials are held in an effort to let Coach Ranson keep tab on the progress of his lads, and to give boys who are working out but not members of the squad a chance to gain berths on the roster. And the trials did just that as Mack Hobkirk and Hank Spurlock came in well to make the team.

"From the looks of things now," Coach Ranson said, "we should have a relatively strong team by mid-season, that is in relation to the team of last year." Coach Ranson was quick to point out that this did not mean the team would be too sensational, though, and he added that another of these trials will be held in two weeks.

Those running, in the order in which they finished are as follows: Dodson, Forrest, Lamb, Holden and Straight (tie), Erath, Allen, Hobkirk, Hatch, Spurlock, Bolch, Hester, Eagle, Crane and Hughes (tie), and Harding.

feat at the hands of the Smith, the Phi Delt's scored a 5-1 win over the Beta ten to stay in the thick of the pennant fight. Neither team could do much with the opposing pitching, with the Phi Delt's outshitting the Beta crew by a 3-2 count. The winners were aided in their victory march, however, by five Annie Oakley's issued to Tootman the losing hurler.

In League C, Med School continued their winning ways by scoring a decisive 18-5 victory over DKE in one of Tuesday's contests. Forrest, with two homers and a single in five trips, led the Med School in the slugging department, as the entire winning team found their batting eyes and rattled the boards with 22 bingles, six of which were for extra bases.

Following up this slugging victory, the Med School showed they could come through in a pitcher's battle by nosing out Co. 3 by a 3-2 count. The winners scored once in the third and twice in the fifth, while the losers scored single tallies in the fourth and seventh innings.

Co. 3, previous to this heart breaking decision, had given away Tuesday's contest by a 10-0 count via the forfeit route to the Steele crew.

The Ringer's also continued their winning ways in League D during the past week as they showed under a determined SAE ten by a 15-3 score. Stewart, winning twirler, spaced five SAE hits to picket the win, as the booming bats of the league leaders ac-

Lot Of Work Required To Run Big WooHen Gym

In the physical training program, the student is given a chance at football, basketball, baseball, track, boxing, wrestling, cross country, tennis, swimming and golf. There are also facilities for handball, water polo, volleyball, table tennis, foul shooting, softball and horseshoes. No matter where a student comes from or what his interest may be, you can be sure he'll find some sport at Carolina to interest him.

Of course today, during wartime, things aren't just exactly as they were planned but with the cooperation of the Navy, the department is functioning just as well, or better, than it did in years of peace. Not only is the department blessed by having a reputation as one of the best physical programs in the South but also it has for its heads leaders in the country in each of their particular field.

Oliver Cornwell is the wise and able head of the physical education program and Robert A. Fetzer serves as head of the Athletic Department. Carolina is fortunate indeed to have such a staff of well-trained and hard-working men for its physical program—men who have carried on through war and peace to maintain a high calibre of attainment.

When the student reports for physical ed he must have a privilege card which is issued to him at the infirmary upon registering. He is then handed a basket with a lock and clothes in it, supplies amounting to a sum of $8.65. The "tote" basket system is used and each student must take a shower before leaving the building.

So, from the time a student enters WooHen gym until he leaves, the wonderful and rather complicated physical ed program is so directed to meet his every need. From the well-trained instructors down to the soap which he uses for showers, the student is given all possible aid so that he may attain the highest type of physical fitness, which is an essential part of any man's education.
