Shepherd, Alpha Gamma Delta; Margaret Carmichael and Mrs. John Wright, Tri-Delta; Snookie Phipps and Mrs. J. M. Saunders, Pi Phi. Mrs. Stacy, Dean of Women, and a representative from the business office will work with this group.

UCP COMMITTEE

The Executive Committee states that immediate action is needed to alleviate the discomforts caused by the living conditions. Since dorm study rules are neither adequately known or enforced and dorm rooms are so crowded, the committee advocates fewer people in one room and space in dormitories for relaxation. The following courses of action are proposed:

1. The Interdormitory Council should publicize and immediately begin to enforce the study rules.

2. The Student Legislature should petition the Student Welfare Board to investigate and recommend means of establishing dormitory social and study rooms.

3. The University administration and the Interdormitory Council should then, acting on the recommendations of the Student Welfare Board, devise suitable means of relieving the crowded rooming situation as far as possible and establish dormitory social and study rooms as soon as possible.

Concerning the coverage of coed news and women's affairs, the party proposes a coed editor to be appointed to supervise this department of Tar Heel activity. The party will recommend to the Tar Heel editor that such a person be added to the staff.

The committee states: "This is a program for student government, derived from the principles in which we believe, on which we propose to concentrate our best efforts during the coming weeks. We shall report our success or failure to the campus. When we've done these things, we'll propose more ideas and do our best to put them into effect."

dancing and games. Hatch stated that he hopes to open the club by November or earlier.

The space formerly occupied by Graham Memorial Cafeteria is now vacant, and the University has moved some of the equipment to Lenoir Hall. Formerly, the University leased the cafeteria from the Board. No definite arrangements have been made for the space occupied by the cafeteria, but several students on the Board suggested that it be made into a game room with a fountain and light lunch facilities. A committee consisting of K. S. Cate, Harvey White, and Berlette Capt was appointed by President Lib Schofield to study the possibility of using the space for these purposes.

It is expected that the Board will defer action for a month until the plans of the University administration are complete in regard to Lenoir Hall and the equipment remaining in Graham Memorial.

Those who attended the meeting are Ernest Mackie, Dean of Men; R. B. House, Chancellor of the University; Mrs. M. H. Stacey, Dean of Women; K. S. Cate, Trust Fund Accountant; E. J. Woodhouse, Professor of Political Science; H. F. Comer, General Secretary of the YMCA; Pat Kelley, President of the YMCA; Berlette Capt, President of the YWCA; Robert Morrison, Editor of the Tar Heel; Betty Grimes, President of the Pan-Hellenic Council; Walt Brinkley, President of the Interfraternity Council; Douglass Hunt, Speaker of the Student Legislature; Lib Schofield, Speaker of the Coed Senate; Joyce Fowler, President of the Women's Athletic Association; Ruth Duncan, President of WGA; Lillian Leonhard, President of the Women's Interdormitory Council; and Harvey White, manager of Graham Memorial.

against 21, and the Chi Omegas, Pi Phi and ADPIs all drew byes.

Coming into round No. 2 with a burst of energy were the Spencer gals to down the town lassies with plenty of points to spare. Kenan also was in good form and had little to worry about after the first few minutes from Alderman. The most exciting game of the contest was the tussle between the Tri Deltas and the Chi Omegas. The score 34-35 caused some controversy and indecision as to whether overtime should be played, but it was decided the extra Delta point held good.

Johnson Chosen Typical Vet Studying At Typical College For National Army Publicity

By Dick Koral

The University of North Carolina was chosen as the typical American University as representatives of the Fort Bragg Public Relations Office photographed the "typical" Carolina veteran today as he entered and went through the daily routine of a typical Carolina day.

L. B. Johnson, the typical veteran, was chosen because he took basic training at Fort Bragg. He was photographed in eight poses to constitute a picture story of the GI's return to the campus, to be distributed to all Army camps in the United States. Copies will also be sent to Army Ground Forces Headquarters in Washington, D. C.

Picture number one shows Johnson talking to Mr. Ben Husbands, Carolina Veterans Administration Representative, inquiring about the benefits to which he is entitled under the GI Bill and Public Law 16. He is convinced that a Carolina education is what he wants, so Picture number two takes us to the office of the Registrar, where Mr. Plemmons duly registers him. Losing no time, our exGI in Picture number three is seen with two pretty coeds working industriously on a calculator in the Statistics lab in Bingham Hall. Craving refreshment, we find him in Picture number four, with Capt. and Mrs. Charles Murray, (Capt. Murray is a Congressional Medal of Honor holder who will return to the Carolina Campus this November), with another two pretty coeds, drinking coca-cola at the Y bar. (It's a secret, but the two pretty "coeds" were Barbara Jones and Winnie Cheek, Y secretaries.) Striking an academic pose, we find our veteran at the Old Well, with a textbook. Johnson is the manager of his fraternity's (Kappa Sigma) dining hall, and in Picture number six he confers on the next day's menu with the chef.

Picture number seven and eight portrays Mr. Johnson's typical delight: drinking beer with his girl and his fellow veterans. Our story ends on a solemn note as we find our veteran in Picture number nine at night with his sweetheart in the Arboretum!

"MISS"

Schuster, Isabelle Noblitt, Vincent Cassidy, Christine Rosemond, Jane Gunter and Don Shropshire were all fine, the latter four especially giving performances worthy of human standards. To mint an unoriginal phrase, "Orchids, Miss Featherstone."

And so the cogs turn on in endless precipitations of hate, love, fear, and triumph (or am I perhaps, in the wrong column).

Stacy Rules No Coeds May Board At Frats After November 1st

Dean Stacy announced at a meeting of the Board of Residents Thursday afternoon that all coeds who board at fraternity houses cannot board there after November 1.

The Board of Residents consists of house mothers, presidents of dormitories, and sorority house managers. Lillian Leonard, chairman of the Interdorm Council, presided over the meeting which passed the following rules:

No girl can have a party in her room after 11 p. m. unless the room remains quiet. She will be permitted to have a party in the parlor of her dormitory after 11 o'clock.

Two o'clock permissions will not be given for dances which are being held in the near future. This applies to the Triad Ball, the Interfraternity dance, and the ROTC Ball.

Honor Council and House Council offenses will be posted on the bulletin boards of all the coed dormitories.

IVY-VEILED

University closed because of the Civil War. During the war 7,000 volumes from the library were stored in a room in Old East for safe-keeping.

During this time the bronze cornerstone plaque was lost. It was not until 1916 that it was recovered. An alumnus discovered it in a pile of junk prepared for the foundry in Clarksville, Tennessee, and immediately returned it to the University.

It may be found on display in the North Carolina room of the library. East was in a deplorable condition. Only the outside walls remained whole. The floors were covered with plaster, the mantels had fallen and doors were broken down. Old West was in a worse condition, for it had been used for stabling horses and cattle.

In 1924 the danger of collapsing walls and foundation forced authorities to have the old building remodeled. Only the interior was changed; the original line remained as it is today.
