PENN NOTES FROM SCRATCH PAD: It was just a case of too much Penn Power and too many fumbles and not enough pass defense on the part of the Tar Heels that spelled the 49-0 licking the Carolina gridders caught Saturday. Add the failure of the Tar Heel offense to get going and you have the whole story.

The Quakers sport a strong eleven, and to put it in the words of Coach Carl Snively, "Pennsylvania has the best college team that I have seen during the period of wartime football, that is not counting Army and Navy." The Penn aggregation could run, pass, kick and the blocking on offense and defense was nothing short of terrific.

It was the worst defeat Carolina has suffered in more than a decade, but what happened in the first quarter had a lot to do with the showing the Tar Heels made. That third play from scrimmage when Bobby Deuber raced 60 yards to the Carolina six was a big enough blow, when when the UNC forward wall had pushed the big Penns back seven yards in three plays only to have them pass complete in the end zone on the fourth down, it was a killing blow.

Ed Golding, Carolina guard, recovered a Penn fumble on the Carolina 39 still in the first period. A combination pass and run on the part of Tom Colfer and Bill Voris gave one first down, and an end run by Colfer gave another on the Penn 29. But on the fourth down and only one yard shy of another first down, Colfer's pass was intercepted and run back to the 23.

From there the Penn crew began to move again, but Bill Walker snagged a Penn pass on his own 48 and ran it back 20 yards on two plunges, Colfer got one on an end sweep, and Colfer's pass was no good on the fourth down, Carolina losing possession of the ball within Penn's 25-yard line for the second time in a space of minutes.

After these bids for a tally, the Tar Heels never mustered enough driving power to give the Quakers a scare again. It was from there that the Pennsylvania boys went to town, scoring twice in each of the remaining periods in the game that saw them score almost effortlessly. It was after this first quarter stand of the Tar Heels that the fumbles and lack of pass defense got the best of them.

On four occasions the Carolina eleven had fumbles recovered and a drive started from that point for a touchdown. Once it was an intercepted pass. Three times a pass netted a Penn touchdown, and one other time it was a pass to a man on the five and a short run the rest of the way that gave up a TD. But the good running of the Penn backs and the hard charging of the line cannot be left out of this panorama of defeat. The Quaker backs piled up 273 yards rushing.

"We were just off in everything we tried to do," Coach Snively concluded. "Penn just moved so fast and so quick we were never in the game with them."

IN THE STANDS: A goodly number of Tar Heel rooters were present at the skirmish in the Friendly City. It's a shame we didn't have some cheerleaders there to help out. We ran into Joe Murnick, boxing mentor at Carolina last year who is now an athletic specialist at the Norfolk Air Station . . . Captain E. E. Hazlett, local Navy commandant, Lt. Ben Carnevale, basketball coach, Dr. Cromwell and Grady Pritchard, all ardent Carolina followers, were also present . . . Too, Stuart McIver, Carolina alumnus and a writer for a Baltimore paper was on hand, as were countless other alumni of the Tar Heel university.

It was a good sunny brisk afternoon for football, but it just wasn't Carolina's day. The record to date, Penn four games, Carolina two.

WIDESPREAD OPINION: It was one of the best games seen in these parts in some time in which Wake Forest almost beat Duke's vaunted Blue Devils

Ransonmen Triumph
By Score Of 18-41

Winning their second meet of the season, Carolina's cross country trackmen trampled Georgia Tech, 18-41, in Atlanta, Saturday afternoon. The Tar Heels have previously beaten Duke and lost to the Naval Academy.

Doug Erath and Whitey Holden, two NROTC cadets who were running next to the last meet for Coach Dale Ranson, finished one and two in the contest, with Bobby Dodson and Frank Hatch coming through in the third and fourth spots.

Erath, in winning his first meet for Carolina, covered the two and eight-tenths miles distance in 14:34, and Holden came in just seven seconds back. Dodson ran the course in 14:50 and Hatch recorded a time of 14:52.

Tech had three men in following the first four Carolina runners, Walker, Bailey and Uptugrove. Art Lamb, Oliver Lamb and John Strait finished in the eight, nine and 10 positions, Lamb and Allen finishing in a dead heat at 15:21 and Strait running 15:35.

During the early part of the race, Carolina had all seven of its men in the lead, but toward the last Tech put on a rally and got three of its men in ahead of three Tar Heels.

Carolina's hill-and-dale runners will have a complete week of rest before meeting the Cherry Point Marines here in Chapel Hill next week-end. The meet may be run between the half of the UNC-Cherry Point football game, but plans are not settled yet. Tech is slated to come to Chapel Hill for a return meet next term, as will Duke.

"Erath and Holden looked strong throughout," Coach Ranson said yesterday, "and all the boys did a very good job." Both Erath and Holden, who have been active in Carolina track for over a year, will be missing when the Tar Heels clash with Tech and Duke next time. The meet with Cherry Point will probably be the last for these lads.

This triumph gives Carolina a record of two wins as against the lone defeat, and the team is showing improvement with each running. Nearly all of the boys turned in their best performances, Hatch finishing well up front in about his best job of the season. Dodson, always a strong runner and one who finishes up front consistently, came in third, just ahead of Hatch.

The summary:
Erath (C), 14:34; Holden (C), 14:41; Dodson (C), 14:50; Hatch (C), 14:52; Walker (T), 15:05; Bailey (T), 15:07; Uptugrove (T), 15:09; Lamb (C) and Allen (C), 15:21; Strait (C), 15:35; Davis (T), 15:40; Cussack (T), 15:50; McPherson (T), 16:57; Gross (T), 17:03.

Sports Staff Will Meet Tomorrow At 4

All members of the Tar Heel sports staff are asked to meet with the editors in Graham Memorial on Wednesday at 4 o'clock.

It is necessary that the present staff members be there and all other prospective sports writers are encouraged to attend.

Softball Finals To Be Held Today On
Alexander At 4:30

The intramural softball finals will be staged on Alexander Field No. 1 this afternoon at 4:30 on the completion of the semi-final games which were played yesterday.

The two teams that will lock horns today will be the winners of the Phi Kappa Sigma-Phi Gam game and the Ringers-Smith duel. The results were not available at press time.

If weather conditions prohibit the teams from playing this afternoon, the finals will be run-off Wednesday.

Ringers Are Favorites
The Ringers, strong favorites to cop the crown, advanced to the semi-finals with a bye, as did the Phi Kaps. The Phi Kaps reached the play-offs by whipping Zeta Psi and Smith in turn eked out the 3rd Company.

Ping-Pong Tourney
All entries in the ping-pong tournament must be at the intramural office, 307 Woolen Gym, by 3 o'clock this afternoon. The tourney will start on Thursday.

A large crowd is expected to witness the finals this afternoon, since a lot of interest has been shown in the two months of diamond action. Approximately 20 teams competed in the tournament, but several teams were forced to drop out midway of the event.

The second half champs which will be crowned today, will have to face Smith, winners of the first half, on Thursday afternoon at 4:30 to decide the campus champions. If Smith pulls through the second half, the V-12ers will clinch the title without any further games.

Cage Practice
In Full Swing

Coach Ben Carnevale welcomed a slew of basketball candidates at the first called practice yesterday afternoon and started preparations to retain the Southern Conference crown as well as bidding for national honors.

Coach Carnevale, who is beginning his second year at the reins of Carolina's cage team and with the capable assistance of Pete Mullis, plan to divide the squad in suitable working groups and run the cagers through daily workouts starting at 4:30.

Well Pleased
The two coaches, who took over as basketball mentors after Coach Bill Lange moved to a college in Ohio, seemed well pleased with yesterday's turnout and wore a smile after reviewing the list of veterans back from last season's top-notch court crew.

Out of the large number that reported yesterday, 30 men will be chosen after two weeks of practice to compose the varsity and jayvee squads. In all probability the squad will be cut almost daily, but definitely by November 1.

The leading candidates back from last year include Jim Jordan, second stringer on the Esquire All-American team; John Dillon, hook shot artist; Don Anderson, smooth working guard; Bob Paxton, rangy forward; and Ira Norfolk, forward. Coming up from the Jayvee squad will be John Gregory, Gene Thomas and Red Hughes.

Fumbles Set Stage For Five
Quaker Touchdowns At Philly

Penn Eleven Triumphs, 49-0; Carolina Will Clash With Cherry Point Here This Week-End

By Irwin Smallwood

Philadelphia, Pa.—A powerful University of Pennsylvania grid machine passed and ran to seven touchdowns here Saturday afternoon to hand Carolina's Tar Heels their worst licking in over a decade, 49-0, before a cheering crowd of some 55,000 fans.

The Tar Heels face Cherry Point's Marine eleven here in Kenan stadium Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Carolina beat Cherry Point last season for its only triumph, but this year Cherry Point is reported to have an improved squad and one capable of staying with the best of them.

It took Coach George Mungler's Penn aggregation only seven plays to cross into the Carolina end zone. On the first run from scrimmage, the Quakers racked up a first down, and on the third little Bobby Deuber scampered for 60 yards to the Carolina six yard line. The Tar Heel forward wall held there for three plays, but on the fourth down, Captain Carmen Falcone dropped back and fired an aerial to Jenkins in the end zone for the score.

Threaten

Carolina came back after that first score, driving to the Penn 20 only to have a pass intercepted on the nine to end the threat. A few plays later, Co-Captain Bill Walker caught a Penn pass on the 48 and ran it back 20 yards. Three line plays netted six yards, but on the last down Tom Colfer's pass was incomplete, thus ending another Tar Heel bid for a score, their last serious one. Leading men in the Carolina try for a tally early there in the first quarter were Tom Colfer, co-captain Bill Voris and Walker.

The first Penn score came after only three minutes and 25 seconds of the first period, and although the Quakers were held intact the rest of the way through that quarter, it took only a little more than three minutes of the second period to score again. From there on out it was all Penn, offensively and defensively.

During the one-sided encounter, Carolina fumbled a total of seven times, and five of these times Penn recovered. On four occasions, the fumbles were the start of a touchdown drive.

Colfer was the leading ground gainer for the Tar Heels, although Don Clayton did a lot of ball carrying. Bob Kennedy, third string back, broke loose for a 20-yard run at one time, but it went for naught as the Tar Heels had to punt.

For Penn it was Bob Evans, Captain Falcone, a frosh, and Schneider who led the way. Evans passed for three touchdowns, Falcone threw for one and ran another, and Schneider ran around end for one. Schneider was the leading Penn ground gainer, getting 81 yards in eight tries.

The blocking of the Penn line was terrific and the stalwart forward wall cleared the way time and again for the fleet Quaker backs. Bob Deuber, freshman star, got off to a beautiful 60-yard run in the first period, but broke his nose on the play and was removed.

The game was Penn's from the beginning, when on the third play from scrimmage, little Bob Deuber took the ball from Carmen Falcone on a lateral and scrambled through most of the Tar Heel team only to be brought down on the Carolina six by Bill Voris. In three plays Penn had been driven back to the Tar Heel 13, but on the fourth down, Falcone dropped back and rifled a pass to Frank Jenkins, who caught the ball just one step in the end zone for the first tally. Bob Evans converted from placement with only three minutes and 25 seconds gone in the ball game.

Joe Dickson recovered Bill Walker's fumble on the Carolina 32 shortly after the second period got under way, and on the first play Evans shot a pass down the center to Bob Sponaugle, who caught it on the five and ran over unmolested. Evans try for point was good and it was 14-0 Penn.

Penn got another Carolina fumble on the Tar Heel 41 about midway in the second quarter. Evans passed to Martin incomplete on the Carolina 20, but interference was called against Bob Oliphant and that gave Penn a first down there. Evans drove his way to the five, and Falcone went over on a quarterback sneak for the score. Evans kicked good, making it 21-0. The UNC eleven kept the ball till half time but the Carolina attack wouldn't click.

Big George Savitsky threw Tom Colfer for a loss on the first play of the second half and recovered as the Tar Heel fumbled, giving Penn the ball on Carolina's 25. Two plays later Evans threw to John Martin in the end zone to make it 27-0. Evans booted perfect, 28-0, one minute and 41 seconds in the second half.

An intercepted pass gave the Quakers the ball on the UNC 41 late in the same period, and after a first down in the air and on the ground, Evans passed three yards to Sponaugle good for a tally.
