

University To Run CAA Flight School In Winter Quarter

A course in primary flight instruction, which would make students eligible to take CAA examinations for a private pilot's license, is being planned by the University. Under the plan student pilots may rent University owned planes for accumulating flying time.

Those interested in either learning to fly or in renting planes from the University, must leave their names with Mrs. Harter at the Information Desk in the lobby of South Building before 5 p.m. Thursday.

The course to be given during the winter quarter would consist of 36 hours flight training, half dual and half solo, and would cost approximately $250. Students under 21 years of age must have the written permission of their parents before enrolling.

unofficially for Carolina, all finished between the ninth and thirteenth place men.

The meet was a return engagement with the Techmen and the final score showed an improvement over the 18-41 total which marked their first meeting last month. The fact that only thirty seconds separated the first and fifth Carolina man shows that Coach Ranson has built up a strong first team.

More Meets

Three more dual meets remain on the schedule, all of which will be held at Fetzer Field. After the Duke meet Wednesday afternoon, State and Virginia will round out the season on November 17 and December 1, respectively. The latter meet will be held in conjunction with the Virginia-Carolina football game which will be a featured part of Homecoming Day.

ment 145 yards to 94 yards. Carolina completed four aeriels out of 12 attempts good for 53 yards, while the Indians completed five in 23 tries for 45 yards.

William and Mary made two scoring bids in the third period when Tom Korczowski, the Indians' running star, broke loose for a 31-yard jaunt being hauled down by Voris. But the drive was halted when Dan Stiegman intercepted Blanc's pass. Again in the latter part of the same quarter the Indians had another scoring opportunity when Knox Ramsey blocked Walker's kick and Wright bounced on the rolling pigskin on Carolina's 10-yard line. Pritchard spilled Blanc for a two-yard loss and Machiewicz was stopped by Sid Varney for no gain. Coach Rube McCray sent in Stan Magdziak to attempt a field goal, but the try was short.

The Tar Heels made a serious threat midway the fourth quarter as Norcross intercepted Korczowski's aerial on Carolina's 45 and trucked to the Indians' 27 before he was pulled down. Bob Oliphant drove off tackle for seven yards, but on three plays the Tar Heels failed to make a first down and the ball went over to William and Mary.

time for action. The UCP will do its best to help in the rejuvenation of the University Club to the end that it may carry out its pre-war functions of developing "Carolina Spirit" and aiding in new orientation.

8. Now that civilian students are returning to the campus and the precedents under which the peacetime University will operate are being met, we should like to see established in each dormitory a permanent, University-financed social room. Dorm stores should be installed for the convenience of the residents and the benefit of the self-help students who would operate them as soon as adequate merchandise is available. The UCP reiterates its belief that the University should immediately declare its permanent policy to be to put no more than two persons in dormitory rooms.

9. With the return to a peacetime University peacetime entertainment standards should return. The United Carolina Party commends the new Graham Memorial Manager for the program she is initiating and pledges its members who may serve by virtue of their offices as members of the Board of Directors of Graham Memorial to an expanded student activity and entertainment program. In addition, we favor and will support and encourage the growth of new organizations on campus designed to stimulate student recreational activity.

10. The United Carolina Party endorses the proposed campus constitution as outlined in the Tar Heel and strongly favors the adoption of the constitution at the earliest possible moment.

There's only one other thing we wish to add to this platform: we mean every word of it, and, given the opportunity, we will do our best to achieve the goals set forth herein.

Chemistry Department Smoker

The annual Chemistry Department smoker will be held Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. All men taking chemistry are invited to assemble in the chemistry library for the program sponsored by Alpha Chi Sigma, national chemical fraternity.

ANOTHER OPINION

The freshmen were organized once. Nothing has been done about the sophomores, juniors and seniors except when it's time for a senior to graduate . . . They promised to organize class honor councils. Long time no see . . . They also promised us a more adequate entertainment program for the campus with an early return to Sunday night sessions and one major, worth-while entertainment every semester. This past term we had a man who for some reason has learned to play a piano with gloves on . . . They promised a reduction in the fee that students pay the Debate Council. The fee in April was fifty cents; in November, fifty cents . . . Plank number eight was a promise of a joint student-faculty committee to discuss faculty rulings that might affect the entire student body. This committee would have been of great value on Dean

Graham To Feature Opening Of Vocational Meet Monday

Interviews to Be Offered Students With Experienced Men in All Fields

President Frank P. Graham will open a three-day vocational conference scheduled for November 19-21 with an address on vocational opportunities for women at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon, Nov. 19, at Hill Hall.

The coming conference is sponsored by the Office of the Women's Vocational Adviser, and interviews with experienced men and women in many fields will be offered to all students.

Old West Officers

University Club

The University Club will meet tonight at 7 p. m. in Horace Williams Lounge to elect officers.

Stacy's ruling about coeds in frat dining rooms. We didn't have it . . . They promised us a modified physical education program. It has been modified. Jack Lackey spoke on the subject in the Di Senate and went to see some people in South Building . . . They promised the reorganization of the Monogram Club, and they do it . . . They promised a general improvement in the appearance of the campus. Haven't seen a great deal of change.

That's the story. That's the past record. The platform this time is just about the same old thing. They evidently think that it is a good one. It is. They won with it in April, and it hasn't been used very much during the time since the last election.

Group conferences have been scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons, Nov. 20 and 21, when students can get information about opportunities in particular fields, as well as about courses needed for the various professions. These conferences have been set for 2, 3 and 4 p.m. on these two days, meetings to be held in the Sunday School rooms of the Methodist Church.

Cards have been sent out to coeds so that they might schedule interviews. Out-of-town authorities to be here for the conference include Miss Alice M. Eckhoff, of New York City, a member of the personnel department of Eastern Airlines, and Miss Charlotte Lawrence, Duke University, YWCA director in Durham.

Interviewers in practically all vocational fields will be on hand to talk to any interested students, men or women. Most of these are authorities on the University faculty.

The committee in charge of the coming conference includes Miss Kathryn Cook, vocational adviser to women, and Harriet Clark, Sally Robertson, Emma Lee Rhyne and Linda Cobb.
