IT HAPPENED AGAIN: The opponent was outplayed, the Tar Heels lost, this time to the Demon Deacons from Wake Forest. But one point was made clear in the bitter struggle on the turf of Kenan stadium Saturday, that Coach Carl Snavely's eleven will be no pushover for Duke this week-end.

On the contrary, judging from the performance Saturday, Carolina should provide a constant threat to the highly-touted Dukesters—and the chances for beating the arch rivals from Durham way looked better than they have in some time. Wake Forest was almost an equal match for Coach Eddie Cameron's (or should we say Col. Wallace Wade's) charges when they had George Clark, Bear Knotts and Jim Larue. These three spark plugs of the Duke eleven are gone, though, and that puts Wake Forest on a higher level than the Blue Devils as far as most observers are concerned.

However, the game will by no means be under Tar Heel control. In fact, on paper Carolina will be the decided underdog. Carolina out-fought the Deacons, and in view of that should be almost an even match for the Blue Devils. The only thing left to do is to wait, but one thing is assured already, the Tar Heels will be in there fighting, as they have shown they could against Tennessee, Georgia Tech and now Wake Forest, and the Dukesters are far from having the annual classic in the bag. And Snavely will be there with all his tricks, with his footballers keyed high.

There is one more thing that will figure in the tussle with Duke Saturday, and that is this point of school spirit, and as Athletic Director "Coach Bob" Fetzer brought out at the pep meeting Friday, many times "this thing called spirit can tell the tale. I remember one time back when the old professor Kay Kyser was here," Coach Bob continued. "There was one game that it looked impossible for us to win, for the spirit was at a low level. But old Kay got out and got the students aroused, and that as much as anything was responsible for our victory." With that in mind, we should begin now to start things rolling. Let the boys know you are behind them, and with your confidence, they will go a lot further toward beating the Blue Devil into defeat come Saturday afternoon.

SIDELINE NOTES: This boy Chunk Simmons, who played his high school ball for Central in 1941-42, is going to be a "great back as soon as he is able to work into our system," King Carl Snavely opined after the Deacon tilt Saturday. . . . Another relatively new man in the lineup, Bob Kennedy, made quite an impression on the fans, as did little Merl Norcross, who played well till he was injured. Paul Rizzo, No. 1 blocking back, had a tough break too, getting his bad ankle hit while going for a pass early in the game. His loss was felt before the day was over. . . . Peahead Walker, Wake Forest mentor, was none too pleased with the Snavely punt formation shift. "This shift is illegal," he said, "it hurt us four times today. It is against both the rules and the spirit of the game." . . . It was a good catch Max Cook made of Warren's pass for a touchdown. Two Deacs touched it before it settled in Cook's arms. . . . Jim Lalanne, lieutenant in the Navy, was around for the game Saturday. . . . Billy Kelly, who coaches the Camp Lejeune swimmers, was here too, as was Joe Murnick, former boxing coach, who is now an athletic specialist at Norfolk. . . . Chuck Erickson, who was backfield coach under Jim Tatum, and who coached for several years before that, is back around the Hill.

Blue Dolphins Face Tough Slate Of Foes This Season

Army, Navy, Ohio State on Schedule

Coach Willis Casey's Blue Dolphins will launch their 1945-46 season on December 7 against the Camp Lejeune mermen in the Bowman Gray Memorial Pool.

The Leathernecks are coached by Billy Kelly, stalwart swimmer for Carolina last season and from reports the Marines have a host of outstanding swimmers. Kelly, who has recently been commissioned a lieutenant, held about every American record in the breaststroke while at Carolina.

Hampered by the recent fire that damaged the swimming pool, Coach Casey's tankmen have resumed workouts after being idle a week.

Strong Opposition
The Blue Dolphins, who were ranked the number one team in the country last year will face a tough slate of meets this season which includes engagements with Army, Navy, Ohio State, Cornell, Georgia Tech, Duke and N. C. State.

With one of the hardest schedules in recent years, Coach Casey is pushing drills in order to get his veteran tanksters in good condition and the squad is shaping up to suit the youthful mentor.

Several Vets Back
Strengthened with the returning of several of last year's swimmers, the Blue Dolphins will be gunning for their third consecutive season without a defeat.

Pacing the pre-season workouts are

Dick Twining, sensational sprinter on the 1945 squad; Co-Captain Ben Ward, star freestyler; Ed Shumate, member of the 1942 tank squad and ex-Air Corps officer, has been looking good in all three departments, freestyle, breaststroke and backstroke; Co-Captain Sneaky Proctor, middle distance and backstroke; Bo Jenkins, one of the leaders of this summer's Blue Dolphin outfit in the backstroke and middle distance events; Mike Morrow, back from last year's team and will aid the tankmen in the distance race; Dick Swager, is the leading candidate for the diving post. Swager was here in the Pre-Flight School; Bob Dungey is also diving.

Tar Heels Point For Duke Engagement

Snavelymen Hope To Upset Duke Devils

Carolina Due To Win This Week-End

By Eddie Allen

As one Carolinian said to another, "It's a long way between victories," and when North Carolina's strong young Tar Heels take on Duke at Durham Saturday they will be seeking their first win over Duke since Badin's Joe Austin gathered in the pass which spelled a 6-3 triumph in 1940.

Since then evil days have befallen the Tar Heels in their annual season's highlight battle. In 1941 it was the Rose Bowl Dukes and Steve Lach sweeping to a 20-0 margin. A year later there came a 13-13 tie, but still no victory rather than that of a moral nature. In 1943, horrible year, the mighty Devils racked up two wins, 14 to 7 and 27-6, and last season they ran away with their most one-sided triumph of all, 33-0.

The form books this time give Carl Snavely's youngsters no chance of victory, but this is one game that is definitely played on a football field and not paper. Indeed, if fate is to take a hand in the proceedings, it would have seemed to have cast already a fore-shadowing omen.

Beginning with their season's opener against Camp Lee, the Tar Heels have alternately won and lost every game, thus bringing their record to date even at four and four. It is significant that last week they lost a 14-13 heartbreaker to Wake Forest, thus making this a winning week if the unusual pattern of their records holds true.

Coach Snavely reports that his youngsters should be in good shape for their climactic tussle, and the work shown by a quartet of tailback performers—Tom Gorman, Bob Warren, Merl Norcross, and Chunk Simmons—against Wake Forest, they can be expected to show a little more potent offensive punch, to date a bit too absent. The line, too, should be in top shape for battle against Duke's well-oiled attack, which previously has gone down only to unbeaten Army and Navy.

Cagemen Working Hard In Practice

With a little over two weeks before the opening basketball game on December 5 with Camp Lee, Coach Ben Carnevale has been running his squad through rigid daily practice sessions in preparation for the initial contest.

Buster Stevenson, regular on the 1943 cage outfit, reported to practice yesterday afternoon. Stevenson has been discharged from the Navy.

Coach Carnevale has been scrimmaging his cagemen and has found a good working team in Jim Jordan, Bob Paxton, John Dillon, Red Hughes and Don Anderson, while Jim Hayworth, Jim White, Taylor Thorne, Vinney Delorenzo and Roger Sholbe compose the opposing team. Carnevale has been switching various players on different teams in practice.

Monogram Club Meets Tonight In Navy Hall

There will be an important meeting of the Monogram Club in Navy Hall tonight at 7:30.

It is requested by President Jack Davies, that all members be present for the meeting since some important business will be taken up.

Pictured above are the two gridders that scored the Carolina touchdowns against Wake Forest last Saturday, as the Deacons emerged with a 14-13 victory. Bob Warren, left, triple-threat on the '44 team, sparked the stubborn Tar Heel attack and personally accounted for one score and passed to Max Cooke, right, for the other tally.

Tar Heels Outplay Deacons But Lose

By Irwin Smallwood

Before a crowd of 20,000 cheering fans the Carolina Tar Heels dropped a heartbreaker to a smart, but outplayed, Wake Forest eleven in Kenan stadium Saturday by the one-point margin of 13-14.

Coach Peahead Walker's Demon Deacons from the Baptist institution down the road a piece, fought with a slight upper hand in the opening quarter, and their offensiveness paid off with 12 minutes and 40 seconds gone, when Nick Sacrinty plunged over from the one-foot line after a sustained drive of 42 yards.

Deacons Score

The Deacs got the ball on the Carolina 42 when a bad punt went out of bounds. The touchdown drive was almost solely a Sacrinty job, Nick passing to Bo for 12 yards and a first down to get things started. After another aerial failed, Nick raced 11 yards on foot for another first down, following this by a pass to Ognovich for a first down on the Tar Heel one-foot line. Nick Sacrinty went over from there for the score, and Bo Sacrinty booted the all-important extra point.

Just before the first half ended Tom Gorman, big offensive punch on two threatening but unsuccessful drives, fell on a fumble by Wake Forest's Rock Brinkley on the Deacon 30. A short pass to Bob Cox and a run by Bill Kennedy netted a first down, and Kennedy personally made another in two line plays, giving the Tar Heels the ball on the Wake Forest nine, first and goal.

A time out pushed the Carolina lads back five yards, and three pass attempts and a running play failed to gain an inch and the Deacons got possession of the ball in time to run three plays before the halftime intermission. On the third play, big Tar Heel tackle Stan Marczyk recovered a Deacon fumble, but there was no time left for Carolina to do any good.

Tar Heels Roll

Immediately after the second half got underway, the Tar Heel offensive machine began to roll, and before three minutes had passed, the Carolina lads were on the Wake Forest six with a first down. The drive started on the Carolina 49, with a 13-yard pass from Gorman to Meade, runs by Voris and Gorman, and a final 16-yard aerial from Gorman to Cox netting the yardage.

Gorman tried a fake pass play and gained a yard, but three successive pass attempts failed and Wake Forest took over on its own six, putting up a successful goal line stand for the second time within 10 minutes of playing time.

Runners Win Conference Crown By Beating State

By Bob Friedlander

The Tar Heel cross-country team clinched the Southern Conference title last Saturday afternoon by triumphing over State College by a 23 to 34 score. It was the thirteenth Conference championship for the Carolina runners in the last nineteen years since competition was started in 1927.

The race, starting from Kenan Stadium during the Wake Forest football game, ran true to form with Bob Dodson leading the pack home over the three and five-eighths mile course, a full thirty yards ahead of the number two man, D'Arcy Quinn of State. Dodson was clocked in 19:30 while Quinn's time was 19:58.

George Harris, who has shown a steady improvement since moving up from the second squad, was third. Frank Hatch was fifth, Art Lamb sixth, Jack Strait, eighth, Jack Hester ninth, and Bob Eagle finished twelfth.

Two regulars, Bill Chafin and O. A. Allen were unable to run, both still being bothered by bad ankles suffered in the Duke meet. A two-week layoff faces the squad now before the final meet against Virginia on December 1, and it should give the trackmen ample time to throw off their injuries.

Coach Ranson ran the first of his intra-squad track meets Friday afternoon seeking to find out the capabilities of his team. Time trials were held in the short and middle distances as well as in the hurdles, broad jump, and shot-put. The long distance events were not held as many of the candidates are on the cross-country squad. Transfers from the grid squad should add some promising material to the team. There are still openings in every event and all talented boys are urged to attend one of the daily practice sessions held at 4 o'clock at Fetzer Field. Coach Ranson emphasizes the fact that previous track work is not essential.

Summaries:

Dodson (C) 19:30; Quinn (S) 19:58; Harris (C) 20:05; Adam (S) 20:06; Hatch (C) 20:07; Lamb (C) 20:08; Nichols (S) 20:09; Strait (C) 20:20; Hester (C) 20:29; Mattox (S) 20:30; Duncan (S) 20:50; Eagle (C) 20:52; Jenkins (S) 21:15; Hobkirk (C) 21:58; unofficial Hobkirk (C) 23:00; Thompson (S) 23:30.

W.A.A. Discusses Plans For A Cabin

"Wouldn't you like to go camping in the woods near a rippling stream, far from the hub-bub and roar of the 'city'?" "Course you would, but don't say it's impossible, for at their bi-monthly meeting, the W.A.A. Council seriously discussed plans for a cabin to be situated up in the woods off the Raleigh Road.

A huge fireplace, lots of bunks, plenty of room for a picnic ground, and space to pitch tents, and even—yes, a stream. If the gremlins and finellas are good to us all, we may have a pool!

This project can't be done by the council alone; they need lots of backing and plenty of interest, so let's give it to them!
