WELCOME

(Continued from first page) will be breaking faith with the gang only if they do not cooperate with us. Now that the war is over, and Carolina is in the midst of campus reconversion, all of us must be aware of the responsibility we assume in shaping the University's future campus life. The best way for us to begin this New Year and this new quarter is for all new students to join the old in supporting our Honor System and our Campus Code. Under these principles, we are striving for a decent life and a free mind. Help us promote for Carolina an even better way of living.
