The Tar Heel grapplers will receive their initial test of the season when they clash with Appalachian here Friday night. Although the list of starters has not been ascertained, it is likely that such wrestling veterans as Frank Mordecai, Art Bluethenthal, Al Crawford, and Tommy Hearn will have positions in the lineup.

Coach Chuck Quinlan has a potential championship team on hand this season. Frank Mordecai was undefeated Southern conference chamujon 165 pound-class and co-captain of the team in 1943. Tommy Hearn and Art Bluethenthal were also lettermen in 1943. In addition Irwin Smalwood, D. F. Ryder, and Bill Crutchfield have returned from last year's team. Al Crawford was national heavyweight champion at Applachain last year.

Intensive Drills

This week the team is taking intensive calisthenics in an effort to eliminate the great amount of excess weight hanging around the wrestling room. A great deal of work is ahead if the squad is to in the best possible condition when it meets Appalachian.

Members of the varsity who will wrestle Friday will be decided upon when trial matches are held in all weights this week. There are quite a few boys out for posts and there will be some hotly contested battles before the starting brackets are decided. The only position that will be undisputed is the unlimited division which Al Crawford will occupy. Coach Quinlan remarked at practice last week that Crawford is one of the best wrestlers he has ever coached. Coach Quinlan has turned out four Big Five championship teams and one runner-up in the last seven years at Carolina. Much of the credit should go to him for he has developed many Southern conference champion wrestlers from boys who never saw a mat before they came under his guiding hand. The freshmen on the squad show great possibilities. "The length of the practice period will depend upon the weather and developments," Snavely said. "We want at least four weeks of good work." According to the Tar Heel grid mentor, it will take something like two weeks to get the boys in shape for scrimmage, and at that time, the group will be split into four eqqual parts.

Aldermen Consider Governors On Taxis

A proposal to install governors of all Chapel Hlil taxicabs was presented to the Board of Aldermen last night at its weekly meeting. The decision will be announced later.

Interest in the issue has been heightened by the recent death of Mary Sue Caldwell, graduate student. C. S. Barlett, president of the Caro-Warrenton; Alice Roberson, Washing- lina Cab Company, has said that the eight contests were unavailable at Tar Heel press time.

Teams have been split into two eagues, dormitory and fraternity. Each squad will play at least eight games during the season, after which the winners of the respective circuits will clash for the campus championship.

Army Ring Champs Coached by Max Novich

He's a doctor and a captain in Germany now, but Max Novich, the University of North Carolina ring star of 1935-37 still finds time for his first love.

Captain Novich served as coach of the 29th Division boxing team, according to word just received here, which defeated all comers, American, English, and Canadian, for an undefeated championship season.

"Maxie's" Blue and Gray boxers competed in Germany, England, and the Riviera among other places, and their reward for winning two consecutive crowns was "a compensation vacation in Denmark".

Captain Novich, who is expected home soon, was twice Southern Conference champion and national runnerup. He completed work for his M.D. at Louisville in 1941 and, before entering the service, engaged in important national defense research on the treatment of battle shock.
