

Social Events To Be Listed

Groups Requested To Notify Office

A joint letter has been sent to all organizations by Charlie Vance and Ruth Duncan announcing the establishment of a social calendar. All organizations have been asked to register every planned function on the social calendar in the office of the Dean of Women. Desired information concerning activities taking place on a certain date may be learned by contacting the Dean of Women's office.

This plan was designed to facilitate matters for the organizations and individual students. Conflicts arise when many organizations are planning social functions, athletic contests, lectures and other entertainments. Visitors to the campus can also learn about functions which will be held at certain time.

Every organization on the campus has been asked to register planned events as far in advance as possible. Frances Bleight (telephone 4061) or Charlie Warren (7021 or 5061) may be contacted when questions concerning this calendar and the registration of functions arise.

"May we urge you again to start registering immediately any planned function of your group," said Miss Duncan and Vance in their letter to the organizations.

The spirit of Mr. Markham's article is excellent and the criticisms are valid to a degree. If he could, however, formulate a rushing plan which would eliminate the undesirable features he mentioned without creating any new ones, his plan would find great acceptance with the fraternities.

All students who will write for page 2 of the Daily Tar Heel must meet Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the editorial offices.

Students desiring to prepare features, columns, reviews, fiction, editorials, cartoons, art work, news analysis, or any opinionated material should attend this meeting.

BOXERS

Heavyweight: Ed McGee.

Left on the regular slate after tonight are only seven games, one of which is to be played here Tuesday night with Greensboro ORD, who turned the tables on the Tar Heels, 64-63, in the third game of the season. Friday of next week will find the White and black shirted UNC hardwood crew at Maryland, and Saturday they will meet Navy at Annapolis. (Maryland and Navy knocked off Duke's high-flying Blue Devils in that order last weekend.)

Alfred Drake, Janet Blair and Marc Platt, stars of Columbia Pictures' "Tars and Spars" at the Carolina Theatre Tuesday, get on the merry-go-round for fun, dance and song.

R. L. Kemp, S. W. Milligan, G. Mitchell, Hugh Mitchell, W. D. Riddle, F. Simmons, D. Taylor, George Trotter.

Shot-put: Ted Eazerwood, Hugh Mitchell, W. D. Riddle.

High hurdles: Don Clayton, B. K. Grow, H. D. Heggie, J. E. Jones, Don Mitchell, F. Simmons, D. Taylor.

WOMEN'S SENATE

fore they get to Carolina.

The $150 May Day appropriation was made jointly to the Carolina Independent Coed Association and the Pan-Hellenic Council, organizations sponsoring revival of May Day exercises here.

A W.G.A. constitutional amendment passed Tuesday night increases sorority house representation in the Senate from one to two members. This action was based on the idea that since each dormitory housing more than 50 women is entitled to two representatives, girls living in the five sorority houses should also have two senators. The two sorority representatives are to be elected each spring by the Pan-Hellenic Council.

Taking her seat in the Senate for the first time this week was Anne Trimble, newly-elected representative from W.A.A. She replaces Viola Hoyle, who has served in the coed legislative body since November, 1944.
