Mathias Beats Albans Tar Heel Is Second

By Art Greenbaum

Bill Albans, the track sensation of North Carolina arrived back in Chapel Hill this week after competing in one of the most grueling events in the sport of track and field.

Albans placed second to Bob Mathias in the National Decathlon held at Tulare, California, last weekend. Although improving greatly over his 1949 performance, the fleet-footed sophomore from New Jersey was overtaken on the second day by Mathias who later went on to break the record of total points held by Glenn Morris of Colorado.

After the first day's points were tabulated, Albans led Mathias by 93 points. Albans was hotter than the climate, which rose to 114 degrees during the two day meet, as he ran up 4,323 points on the first night.

His performance in the 100-meter run and the 400-meter run coupled with another first in the broad jump were enough to give him the lead for the first day. On the second day, Albans widened the gap with a brilliant performance in the 110 meter high hurdles. But the strength and endurance of Mathias overtook the Tar Heel favorite in the field events.

Albans scored 6,715 points last year compared to his 7,361 total of this year.

Ward And Palmer Lose NCAA Golf

Defending Champion Harvie Ward Jr. of North Carolina and Arnold Palmer of Wake Forest were victims of resounding upsets in the National Collegiate Athletic Association golf tournament at Albuquerque, New Mexico, last Friday.

Both of these outstanding golfers were defeated in the second round of the tournament. Ward was handed a 6 and 5 trouncing by Dick Yost of Oregon State while Palmer, two-time medalist of the NCAA's, was handled roughly by Ben Alyes from the University of California.

The only North Carolinian to reach the semi-finals was Sonny Harris of Wake Forest. Yost's putting was excellent and this was the main factor in Ward's downfall. Roy McKenzie, also from Carolina, was eliminated by Jim Frost of New Mexico in the second round.

Ward and Palmer were favored to fight it out in the final round while Wake Forest was practically conceded the team championship.

Sports Shorts

By Art Greenbaum

'Tis rumored that All-America end Art Weiner will play in the All-Star game in Chicago on August 11. Earlier reports stated that both Weiner and Charlie Justice would not play in the All-Star game and that neither would accept pro contracts. Has Weiner changed his mind about the pro contract also? We wouldn't be surprised to see him in uniform with a New York team next fall.

Word comes from Woolen Gym that Bill Meade will coach the newly-formed Gymnastic team this year. At present, Bill is working on his Master's degree. Sources also state that Penn State, the best squad in the country, may come to Chapel Hill for a meet. In fact, the Southern Championships may be held at North Carolina.

Taking time out on weekends to swim in a few meets with some competitors, Jim Thomas, record-busting swimmer, garnered two firsts at Raleigh last weekend. Earlier last week, he set a new American AAU record for the 300 yard individual medley. Swimming long course in the outdoor pool, Thomas took about five seconds off the existing mark which stood since 1939. An ear infection will keep him from trying for any more marks this week.

Seixas Wins Four Matches -Wimbledon

Vic Seixas, former captain and star of the 1949 Carolina tennis aggregation, is the talk of the All-England Lawn Tennis Championships at the present. The 12th seeded tennisman, who was counted out much earlier by the tennis experts, has blasted his way to the front by winning four successive matches in brilliant fashion to enter the semi-finals.

His latest and greatest achievement was the defeat of Eric Sturgess of South Africa, the favorite in the quarterfinal round. But Seixas, with the aid of his lightning serve, outlasted fourth-seeded Sturgess in five spine-tingling sets, 9-7, 6-8, 3-6, 6-2, 7-5.

Two days ago, he pulled his first upset by defeating one of the ranking net stars of Australia, Jack Bromwich. In his first two matches, Seixas whizzed by Sven Davidson of Sweden and J. P. Lynch of Holland.

Approximately 30,000 fans thrilled while the fair-haired Philadelphian conquered two of the tourney's best. Budge Patty of California and France was slated to face Seixas yesterday.

Tankmen Lose By 14 Points

Carolina's four-man swimming team, composed of Jim Thomas, Cecil Milton, Ray Edmundson, and Bruce Fountain, took second place on Saturday evening at the Raleigh Invitational Meet. The four man aggregation garnered 46 points while State College won with 60 markers.

Thomas took a first in the 150 individual medley and was on the winning 150 medley relay team with Fountain and Edmundson. Milton scored a first in the 220 and was closely followed by Edmundson. Both men came back in the 100 freestyle to take fourth and second respectively.

JIM THOMAS . . . still going strong

It seems that whenever the Tar Heels leave home, they always get a rough reception. It happened in New York with the sports writers stating that Carolina was not good enough to play Notre Dame and it happened again at Baton Rouge, Louisiana, when coach Gaynell Tinsley of LSU dampened the gridiron with water. But now word comes that the people in California play tricks too.

Bill Albans, who participated in the National Decathlon Championships at Tulare, didn't come back to Chapel Hill with a good impression of the Bear State. Bill probably got the hottest reception ever given and it even beat the boiling heat which soared to 114 degrees. He had an excellent chance of breaking the scoring record himself and after the totals were tabulated it looked like this was very possible. The sordid behavior by some of the crowd started the first night when Albans was high jumping, an event in which he has done 6' 4". We'll omit the remarks from both sides but even Governor Earl Warren, who was also a "spectator" that night, ought to feel ashamed.

CAROLINA SCENE

By Andy Taylor

Folks on campus are reacting fairly normally to the Korean crisis. A few more portable radios can be seen and the Vets are having a heyday patting the fair haired youngsters and telling them the virtues of being a GI Joe.

But there's the report of one coed who really took the war scare to heart. When the South Building bell rang at 9:30 one morning last week, she turned to her classmate, exclaiming, "is it war?"

And through it all we trudge to classes.

We think the people of Tulare, Calif., could stand to learn a little more about good sportmanship. Reports say that not only did the home town folks holler for "Our Bob" Mathias, but managed to heckle Bill Albans in no small way.

But the people of Tulare weren't the only guilty ones. Many of the newspapers in the area played up the Decathlon as a duel between the Hero of the sunshine state and a villain from Tar Heelia.

But we still love ya, Bill.

Billy Carmichael III, ex-sports editor of the Tar Heel and campus wheel extraordinary, seems to have the right solution. He sees a fortune in the writing of war songs.

Suggested titles: Body and Soul; Suwoni River; Home on the Han; Oh, Bury Me Not On the 38th Parallel; I Came Here to Talk for Joe.

There are some of our numbers here at the University we can be proud of.

Two of these are Duncan Brackin and Katie Relahan who went as a delegation to Governor Scott in Raleigh last week to present their case against capital punishment in the state.

There are a lot of problems facing any such change in the North Carolina penal system but we think it's a step in the right direction.

But there's another student that doesn't cast any glory on the University.

He's Bill Robertson and he's reported to be spending his vacation peddling a petition to outlaw the Atomic bomb on the streets of Durham. That doesn't make the world a better place for anybody to live in—except possibly Joe Stalin.
