An otherwise dull week on the Carolina sporting front has been livened up a bit by the week-long University coaching school in Woollen Gymnasium. The 24th annual affair of this sort, with coaches on the receiving end of lectures and demonstrations by Carolina's efficient coaching and training staff, looks to be as successful as the other 23 have been. Close to 100 coaches are attending the school.

While amateur Harvie Ward and pro Skip Alexander continue to represent the Old North State with their winning ways, Tar Heel golfers have been busy on the local links. In the recent Herald-Sun golf tournament in Durham, a large number of local golfers made their bid for fame. Among the winners from the Chapel Hill area were Rawleigh Taylor, Dick Moore, R. L. McDonald, and Dr. Warfield Garson. Another product of the "Justice Era" in Tar Heel football, rugged Kenny Powell, has joined the ranks of the play-for-pay grid-ironers. Ken, a standout end who was named to several All-America teams while at Carolina, will play with the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Other football notes: The Carolina-William and Mary game, to be played here October 28, will be the Tar Heels' homecoming tilt. Dan Steigman, center and co-captain of the 1948 UNC eleven, is now a naval air officer.

Merle Norcross, halfback on the varsity team for the past three years, has been named assistant to Coach Bill Grice at Chapel Hill High School.

Jess Greenbaum, Cecil Milton, Paul Godfrey, Sara Wakefield, and other Tar Heels turned in fine performances in the Carolinas AAU swim meet in Wilson last weekend. Miss Wakefield and Susan Fink are competing in the Women's National AAU's in High Point this weekend.

Tar Heel Swimming Team Cards Ambitious Schedule

An ambitious, 10-meet schedule for Carolina's defending Southern Conference champion swimming team has been released by the local athletic department.

The schedule, although not definite yet, will include a meet with Princeton's Tigers, not previously scheduled by the Tar Heels, and a tussle with the University of Virginia after a break of three years. Although the N. C. State and Duke teams are on the Tar Heel agenda, the dates for those meets have not yet been set.

In addition to the regular meets, the Tar Heel mermen plan to defend their title in the annual Southern Conference Indoor Championships.

Winning Again

Harvie Ward, Jr., former National Intercollegiate Golf Champion who wound up a brilliant, four-year career at Carolina this spring, is threatening this week to add another star to his crown of championships.

The young Tarboro amateur Monday grabbed an early lead after the first 18 holes of the 36-hole medal play in the Men's Invitation Golf Tournament on Asheville's Biltmore Forest Country Club Course with a three-under-par 68.

Last weekend, Ward came battling from behind in the finals to defeat Gay Brewer, 1-up, and win the Tennessee Valley Golf Tournament in Chattanooga, Tenn.

Mural Softball Begins; Intramural Softball Play Bait Casting Tonight,

By Walt Dear

Fourteen teams, divided into two leagues, began play this week in the second session Intramural softball competition for the campus championship.

An added feature of this session's softball play will be a trophy awarded to the player with the highest batting average for the season. The leading batters will be announced weekly by the mural department and published in The Tar Heel.

The bait casting tournament, originally slated for Wednesday night of this week, will be held tonight (Thursday) instead, with everyone invited to enter. Action will get under way at Woollen Gym at 7:45 this evening.

Teams entering the softball tournament are: League I—Old East Dorm, Sigma Chi, Hoop-de-Doos, Lambda Chi, Steele Dorm, Phi Gamma, Bowman's, and Kappa Sigma; League II—Unknowns (Runner-up for first session campus title), Jokers, PiKA, Old West Dorm, Chi Psi, and Sigma Nu.
