

Larry Parker Defeated In Golf Tourney

Football Star Loses First Round

Larry Parker, the outstanding high school football player from Charlotte's Central High, was eliminated from the Carolinas Junior golf tournament in the first round at the Greensboro Country Club, Tuesday.

Parker entered the tournament as defending champion. He won last year, and if he had successfully defended his title, he would have become the fourth man in history to win the crown twice. Harvie Ward did it last, in 1941 and 1942.

Parker was eliminated by Bill Perry of Greenville, S. C., who also won over his second round opponent to become the tournament favorite.

The 6'1", 184 lb. Parker enrolled at Carolina for the summer session in anticipation of a football career. At Charlotte Central last year Larry was the No. 1 high school griddier in the state and received scholarship offers from practically every school in the country. Great things are expected from him as a Tar Heel footballer.

When asked which he preferred—football or golf, Larry said hesitantly, "That's a hard question. Just the one that's in season, I guess, but I'm ready for football right now."

He was chaffered to the tourney by another guy who is quite well known for his football exploits at Carolina. Carolina fans hope that Parker will help them forget the loss of the Choo Choo.

Injury Clinic In 2nd Day; Talks Slated

By Buddy Northart

The third annual Athletic Clinic, sponsored by the Southern Conference, moves into its second day here today with scheduled talks by outstanding conference specialist.

Dr. Weston Cook of Cook's Clinic, Columbia, S. C., Jess Alderman of the University of South Carolina, Bill Bostick of the Citadel, Jon Trubaeck, VPI, Ernie McKenzie, Wake Forest, and John Monchlovick, George Washington University are scheduled to speak today on various types of injuries.

The clinic got underway, yesterday, with talks by Dr. E. M. Hedgpeth, University physician and Jim Gill, University coaching staff, on relationships, respectively, of medical and coaching staffs with trainers. Later in the day, Dr. G. S. Taylor of Carolina gave a talk on "orthopedics in athletics."

After a dinner last night, Southern Conference Commissioner Wallace Wade and Smith Barrier, sports editor of the Greensboro Daily News, gave informal talks.

Several question and answer forums are scheduled on the program of the conclave, which closes Saturday morning.

Duke Wyre of the University of Maryland is president of the Southern Conference Trainers Association and Carolina's Fitz Lutz is director of this year's clinic.

Markham Gets Award For Top Liar In Gym

Arthur Markham, Carolina's veteran rubdown artist, finally achieved proper recognition last week when he was presented the Woollen Gymnasium Champion Liar's Trophy for 1951 in a special ceremony.

Markham, who has been with the Tar Heels for 20 years and is a native of Chapel Hill, was presented the award—duly engraved—by Fitz Lutz, Tar Heel trainer and John J. Keller, Jr., equipment manager.

Lutz, Keller and the "advisory board" were unable to single out any one story that earned the award, but special favor was given for his story of Red Johnson, a Tar Heel back on the 1922 team. When telling of the Johnson incident, "Fish" compares him to "Choo Choo" Justice, Carolina's All-America. "Mr. Justice was a great runner," "Fish" says, "but he never did what Mr. Red Johnson did up on Emerson Field one Saturday afternoon."

"Fish" goes on to tell how Johnson took the ball on an end-around and ran 465 yards without scoring a touchdown. According to "Fish," Johnson started on his own 15, ran to the six, got hemmed in, reversed his field and got trapped again. He kept this up for 465 yards according to the papers. But the remarkable thing as far as "Fish" is concerned, is that "he never did get that ball across the goal."

Markham has quite a number of stories to lay claim to his title. He likes to tell about the time Justice stood behind one goal on Navy Field and kicked the ball clear through the uprights at the opposite end of the field, "110 yards on the fly," according to "Fish."

"Fish" takes particular pride in his story about the time Bill Albans, Carolina's track star of a year ago, did a 8.5 hundred. No one was around at the time, so Albans asked "Fish" to clock him. "He was faster than most folks gave him credit for," "Fish" adds. There was also the time, according to "Fish," that Jimmy Davis ran a four minute mile, when Johnny Humphries threw a baseball a measured mile, and Charlie Farmer ran a nine second hundred.

"Fish" Markham has quite a few stories kicking around, and although recognition was late in coming, there is no doubt in the minds of those who know him that he deserves the honor.

TICKETS

Ticket books for student's wives, who will be in residence in Chapel Hill next fall, are now on sale at the ticket office in Woollen Gym. These books, which entitle the wives to sit in the student section at all home events of Carolina athletics, may be purchased for $10. The ticket office has cautioned that only

Swimming Instruction Offered

Swimming instruction for beginners and those who wish to improve their form will be offered free of charge during the summer in Kessing Pool. Instruction for men will be offered from 4-5 p.m. Monday through Friday. Enrollment in the classes may be made by contacting Mike Ronman in Woollen Gym. Girls may enroll in classes, which will be scheduled at a later date, by contacting the Women's Department of Woollen Gym.

Ronman is anxious to have a large turnout for the classes, which have been a success in the number of years they have been offered. Ronman said that there are frequently those people who know how to swim, but want to improve, or learn new strokes. "The class is for these people as well as beginners," he said.
