AROUND CAMPUS

By MARY NELL BODDIE

"Same old people, but a brand new party . . ." and this time to celebrate the completion of the first round of quizzes this session.

Plans for just such a social were under way at the Phi Delt house when one of the brothers received an unexpected invitation from his uncle. The victim, Ted McLaughlin of Anniston, Ala., left immediately for a short stay in the Marine Corps.

"Faux pas" department—Members of the Order of the Golden Bear gathered at the Rathskeller on Monday night to pay final tribute to Bartender Jim Mills, who leaves today for the Air Force. Everyone was in gay spirits and a lovely time was had by all—all, that is, except Mills, who failed to show up for the gala affair.

Going beachward this weekend are the Delta Psi's and the Pi Lams. The St. Anthony's Hall boys will head for Long Beach, and the Pi Lams will visit Bill Kingoff at Wrightsville.

Familiar Footprints . . . Visiting at the Tri Delt house last weekend were Jo Ann Culler, Helen Hamilton, and Tink Gobel. ADPi visitors included President Jacque Quesenbery, en route to the ADPi Centennial at Macon, Ga., and LeNeve Hodges. KA Guy Kirby, now in the Air Force, paid respects to the brothers last weekend, while on his way to Monterey, Calif. Recently wed Sigma Chi Ted Leonard and wife Sue returned to Chapel Hill last week. Ted is attending Law School, and Sue plans to enroll as a junior in the University next fall. Weekend visitors at the Sigma Chi house was Ben McLendon of Rockingham, graduate of Fall quarter. Starring as the lone pin-up of the week is Sally Matz, summer coed of Beckley, W. Va., who now wears the Pi Lam pin of Alan Sufman of Bluefield, W. Va. Sally is an AEPi at Ohio State.

Married in Durham on June 16 were Lou Carmichael, Chi O, and Tom Eschelmann of North Wilkesboro.

Wedding invitations received by the Chi Phis numbered two for June 15. Miami, Fla., was the scene of Dale Morrison's marriage to Jean Mason. Hamp Davis married Pi Phi Scotty Everett in Richmond, Va. Both are '51 grads of UNC.

Residents of Spencer dorm and dates took to the lawn for a watermelon party last night. Chairman for the social was Jane Parker.

lina men attired themselves. "I did have to send one man back to his dorm for his pants," one said with a short smile. "He came in to call on one of my girls dressed in a most abbreviated pair of shorts. Also, he had his shirt unbuttoned all the way. But this sort of thing is the exception rather than the rule."

Housemothers questioned reside in Alderman, Kenan, McIver, and Smith dormitories.

All but one of the twelve or so men questioned saw this matter in the same light. They felt that coeds should be free to dress themselves at their own discretion—and 'the freer the better.'

obtain a degree. It is only in the upper university levels that boys and girls are allowed to attend school together. According to Zinat, the most noticeable difference is the existence of fraternities and sororities. She had no knowledge of them.

Zinat's family is very close. She has two brothers, aged 15 and 18, and an older sister who graduated from the University of Wisconsin this year. Both she and her sister came to America on scholarships.

Zinat likes Carolina very much. The students' friendliness continues to amaze her. She sums us up by saying, "I can sit in a chair and perfect strangers come up and talk to me as if they had always known me."
