

Alive & Kicking

Contrary to rumor, Dr. J. P. Harland of archaeology fame has not been involved in a serious auto wreck in Pennsylvania.

The editor saw him yesterday alive and kicking, in front of the post office.

LETTERMEN LINEMAN

The University will have seven lettermen guard and the same number of tackles on its 1953 football squad.

Carolina Caravan

Jake Wade

A day was spoiled by the discovery that Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page was born in East Orange, N. J., instead of right in Chapel Hill, where she has lived all her life . . . Why? . . . Because Helms Athletic Foundation in Los Angeles, picking the "Greatest Woman Athlete" of each state, was about to designate Estelle for that honor from North Carolina when the technically bobbed up . . . It's a technicality because Estelle's parents were living and paying taxes here at the time of her birth and her mother merely went back to her own home "To have the baby", promptly returning and rearing the national golf champion-to-be in Chapel Hill, North Carolina . . . Not sure what Helm's ruling will be, under these not unusual circumstances, but wouldn't it be ironical if Tar Heel Estelle is named "Greatest Woman Athlete" of New Jersey? . . . incidentally, New Jersey's famed Maureen Orcutt actually was born in New York.

ALWAYS WON . . . Bill Lange, the former colorful Carolina football-Basketball coach who last week died in Columbus, Ohio, had the unique distinction of never playing on a football team that lost a game . . . As a high school player for four seasons his team was undefeated and then he went on to Wittenberg College and played there on a team which had a similar run of undefeated seasons. . . Bill's death was especially saddening to O. K. (Ollie) Cornwell, Carolina's chairman of physical education and athletics, because the two had been intimate friends for many years, dating from their own college days.

HOSPITAL VIGNETTE . When Harvie Ward, the former Tar Heel golf captain, was recently hospitalized in Durham, he had lots of company, including his charming mother and wife . . . The latter two were constantly with him, but one night after dinner they mysteriously disappeared . . . It was late, with visiting hours closed and other guest departed, when Harvie, somewhat concerned, sent nurses out to try to locate them . . . finally they appeared, said that they had made a tour of the hospital and, while circulating about the premises, passed the blood-bank room. Harvie's bride decided to donate a pint of blood, and did . . . Harvie came through his mastoid operation with flying colors, expects to be in the best of shape for the Walker cup matches .

COMINGS AND GOINGS Ralph Casey, Carolina's swimming coach is a Yalman. This summer . . . Ralph was awarded a scholarship to the Ivy league school by the State . . . Carolina trainer Fitz Lutz is back from vacation and taking bows for being named chairman of The College Trainers Association . . . Incidentally, in listing recently some of Carolina's athletic men who had headed their national associations in recent years, we neglected to mention that Dick Jamerson was president of the College Swimming Coaches Association in 1949-50.

THIS AND THAT If Francis Frederere doesn't make his senior year the big one a Carolina lina tackle, it won't be because he hasn't worked hard to get ready . . . The big Wilmington boy so doubtfully endowed with nature's qualifications for playing football, has been contesting Coach Marvin Bass on the handball courts for conditioning and recreation . . . Tar Heel opponents can take notice: Frederere's interest in football apparently has been completely revitalized . . . There's a justice around in summer transferred from Tampa to Clearwater.

CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
