WELCOME PARTY BEGINS 8:30 P. M.

Volume 2

1.94

Thursday, June 10, 1954

Number 1

Folk Festival Opens Tonight

Affair Will Draw Hundreds of Clog Dancers, Singers

Seven hundred or more participants will gather in Kenan Stadium tonight | Guy B. Phillips said today. for the seventh annual Carolina Folk Festival.

The three-day affair will end Saturday night.

Under the direction of Bascom Lamar Lansford of Leicester, the Festival seeks to recapture the cultural values in traditional American pleasure in noting the many students music, dancing, and balladry.

Featured on the program will be hundreds of addlers, string bands, them," he said. balled singers, square and dog dancers. The performances will begin and faculty members participating in each night at "early candlelight" and the professional type of experience last "until they get through."

a plan to get audience participation variety of courses, special conforin the singing of some of the best and onces and institutes. most genuine North Carolina folk student at UNC from Greensboro, tinguished in their fields of law, poauthority on the old spirituals, will and the classics. lead the singing of "Palms of Victory."

John Allcott, head of the University's Art Department, has made numerous colored slides illustrating this and other songs. There will be thrown on a screen along with the words. Other favorites will include "Lazy John" and "Old Veen," a funny song about a dog. Dr. I. G. Greer, Chapel Hill, well known folklorist, will probably lead one of these "sings."

(Continued on page 4)

Increase in Enrollment Seen As Registration Opens Today

As registration got under way here from various parts of the state and today in Woollen Gymnasium, indiother groups from Kentucky, Vir- cations pointed to a slight increase ginia, Tennessee, and South Carolina in enrollment over last year, Dean

> The director of the summer school forecasted that some 2,500 students will sign up, an increase over the 2,400 who attended the University last summer.

> Dean Phillips also expressed his coming here from out of state. "It is a decided pleasure to welcome

The dean pointed out that students representative of the summer session A special feature this year will be will have access to a rich and wide

He added that the summer program will bring to the campus some Dan Patterson, English graduate 17 visiting professors, all of them diswho has become something of an litical science, sociology, education

> Registration, which began this (Continued on page 3)

TEXTBOOKS

New and used textbooks can be purchased at the University Book Exchange in the basement of Steele Dormitory, southeast of South Building. Complete lists of texts necessary for summer courses are posted in the book stacks. The "Bookteria" will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily and 8.30 a.m. to I p.m. on Saturday.

DEAN GUY B. PHILLIPS

Choral Group Sets Concert

The Music Department has issued a call for participants in the Summer Session Chorus which will present a choral and instrumental concert in Hill Hall on July 13.

Director Robert Weaver has announced that the program will include modern madrigals by Martinu, Peter Mennin, Paul Hindemith, and Vaughn-Williams.

With membership open to all students, faculty members, and resideals of Chapel Hill, the chorus will hold its first rehearsals in the choral rum of Hill Hall from 5 to 6:15 p.m on Mondays and Thursdays, be- English Department ginning next Monday.

to be sulling the Music Depart ment, phone 3226, or Director Weaver at 5376 (after 5 p.m.) Auditions will be held tomorrow and Saturday in Studio 3, Hill X.

(Continued on page 8)

Planetarium Offers Nature's Blackouts

The new show just opened at the Morehead Planetarium is "The Earth and Moon Shadows."

The performance deals chiefly with nature's blackouts or eclipses and particularly with the total eclipse of the sun on June 30 and the moon on July 15.

Special programs have been arranged for children at 11 a.m. on Saturdays.

South Building's Bell to Announce Tonight's Affair

The South Building's bell at 8:39 o'clock tonight will open the second annual Welcome Party for students and faculty at the 1954 Summer School.

The affair, designed to give memhers of the campus community a chance to get acquainted, will be held in the court south of South Building where music and refreshments will he in abundance.

Following a brief program on the steps of South Building where deans of the various colleges of the University and visiting profesiors will be introduced. Bob Cole and His Country Boys will present music for square dancing.

Tables will be set up to serve students hailing from various sections of the state and country as follows:

Western, Central, and Eastern North Carolina, all states south of North Carolina and east of the Mississippi, and all states west of the Mississippi. Students from these areas are asked to go to their tables where hostesses will provide name tags and serve refreshments.

Tonight's Welcome Party comes at the end of the UNC orientation program for new students and is the first in a series of summer events being planned by the Summer Activities Council, headed by Kirsten Milbrath of the YWCA.

The orientation program this year for the first time is giving full attention to transfer women students under the direction of Luanne Thorton, chairman of the Women's Orientation for 1954.

Advisers for the program are Kay Finch, Ellyn Gardner, Pal Langston, Neanne Ellis, Ann Peoples, Lyn Thorpe and Georgia Hartley.

Counselors for men students are Wayne Brown, Syd Shuford, Gaither Walser, and Jerry Vayda.

Appointments for auditions can be Will Present Movie

The English Department will present "The Unholy Three," the first in a series of three films, at 8:30 p.m. Thursday, June 17, in Carroll Hall.

The second movie will be "The Barber of Seville" (French) on July 1. The final program in the series will include aix American shorts and comedies to be presented on July 8. Among the movies included will be Harold Lloyd's 'The Freshman." Robert Benchley's "The Sex Life of the Polp" and Walt Disney's "The Silly Symphony."

Tickets for the entire series will cost 75 cents.

Activities Council Holds First Meet Tomorrow; Help Sought

The Summer Activities Council issued an urgent appeal today for "depends upon your interest and acstudent workers to attend the first tive participation. We have need of organizational meeting scheduled to- your experiences and skills on one or morrow at 4 p.m. in the Y Cabinet room.

The activities council is composed of representatives from all dormitories, sorority, and fraternity houses and all other organizations on Watermelon Festival on June 25, the who issued the appeal for support, grams. said that the council represents the united efforts of all under the leadership of the YMCA, YWCA, and ganizational meeting are requested to Graham Memorial.

"The council's success," she said, more of the committees being organized."

The committees, she added, will include the annual and popular Saturday dances, the film series, and Kirsten Milbrath of the YWCA, the music, band, and choral pro-

> Persons unable to attend the orcontact the Y offices immediately.