

NEW STAFF WILL TAKE CHARGE OF DAILY TAR HEEL

All Selections Are Tentative, And Tryouts Will Be Held To Choose Men Best Fitted.

With this issue of the paper the tentative organization of the new staff becomes operative. Jack Dungan, who was selected managing editor by the Publications Union Board last night, assumes his official duties with the Tuesday's issue.

Three associates have been selected—B. C. Moore, J. C. Williams and K. C. Ramsay. Moore and Williams served during the past year as assistant editors while Ramsay served as city editor. Moore will head the editorial board. Instead of assistant editors, an editorial board will be selected. The members of this board will consist of J. Holmes Davis, Jr., editorial writer; Joe Jones, columnist; H. J. Galland, columnist; Frank J. Manheim, feature editor; Edna Morrisette, editorial writer; Moore Bryson, dramatic editor; Robert Hodges, editorial writer; and Henry Anderson, editorial writer.

Browning Roach is to head the sports staff and will be assisted by Jack Bessen.

The city editors will be E. C. Daniel, Jr., G. E. French, J. G. Hamilton, Jr., J. M. Little, W. A. Shulenberger, Sherman Shore and Elbert Denning.

In selecting the editorial board the editor stated that all selections were tentative, but that no new men would be added to the board until the results of tryouts now being held are announced.

Tryouts for places on the reporter staff will begin Sunday night and continue for a week.

John Bullock To Head German Club

John Bullock of Rocky Mount was elected president of the German Club for next year at a meeting of the club members held in Gerrard hall at 1:30 o'clock yesterday. W. B. Snow of Hendersonville was named vice-president and "Stick" Skinner of Greenville assistant secretary and treasurer. Will Yarborough of Louisburg continues in his capacity as secretary and treasurer.

As formerly, little interest was taken in the election, and there was no opposition to the nominations. The new president is also president of the interfraternity council, manager of baseball, monogram club, and is a member of the Sigma Chi fraternity. The retiring officers are George Race, president; Julian Palmore, vice-president; and Mayne Albright, assistant secretary and treasurer.

The final dances of the German Club will be held June 10, 11 and 12 in the Tin Can. The club now has a membership of about 300. Applications for membership are made preceding each set of dances, and are passed on by an executive committee before being accepted.

Legion Auxiliary Meeting

The Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion met at the home of Mrs. W. E. Thompson Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Stem, the district chairman and Miss Helen Clement of Oxford were there as guests.

New Student Officers

CLYDE DUNN, EDITOR, THE YACKETY YACK; J. C. WILLIAMS, EDITOR, THE CAROLINA MAGAZINE; WILL YARBOROUGH, EDITOR, THE TAR HEEL; ED HAMER, PRESIDENT, Y. M. C. A.

PAT PATTERSON, PRESIDENT, SENIOR CLASS; RALPH GREEN, PRESIDENT, STUDENT BODY; BURGESS WHITEHEAD, PRESIDENT, ATHLETIC ASS'N.; KERMIT WHEARY, EDITOR, THE BUCCANEER

Here are the student leaders at the University for the collegiate year 1930-31. They were recently elected to the major campus offices in one of the most interesting student campaigns in years. They are to be inducted into office this week. Dunn is from Kinston, Williams is from Linden, Yarborough is from Louisburg, Hamer is from McColl, S. C., Patterson is from High Point, Greene is from Marshville, Whitehead is from Woodville, and Wheary is from Crewe, Va.

STUDENTS MAKE BETTER GRADES ON FEWER CUTS

Dr. Dashiell Finds That Optional Attendance Tends To Lower Marks Made By Students.

Many have been the conjectures and opinions voiced recently in regard to the relative advantages and defects of the system of optional attendance until recently in force on the campus. Dr. Dashiell of the psychology department, becoming interested in the question, has tabulated results based on a study of the records of individuals taking Psychology I and II. He declares, however, that observation of attendance results had no subjective influence upon him in the giving of grades. The table is as follows:

Term grade:	A	B	C	D	F
Absent (I)	.8	1.3	2.3	5.1	6.5
Absent (II)	.3	1.8	2.2	4.5	4.2

There are two interpretations to be placed upon these results. The many absences may have caused the low grades, or the low-grade students are perhaps the ones prone to take too many absences.

A further interesting fact brought out by Dr. Dashiell is that, although the lecturer in the courses referred to above was lecturing definitely and exactly from a text book written by himself, the better students seem to have profited from the muchly maligned lecture system.

It is hoped that similar results may be obtained from other classes to confirm the evidence.

Engineers Visit Dam

Last Monday, under the direction of Thorndike Saville, professor of hydraulic and sanitary engineering the graduate class in waterpower engineering visited the largest earth fill dam in the world.

This dam, which is near Columbia, S. C., is over 200 feet high and more than a mile and a half long. When completed it will develop 200,000 horsepower.

Census Enumerator Wants Information

J. L. Cheek, census enumerator for Chapel Hill, wishes all students residing in Chapel Hill and not maintaining a residence elsewhere to notify him where he may see them or to call him any evening at phone 4561.

Dr. Henry Announces Fraternity Averages

Dr. G. K. G. Henry, assistant registrar, announced yesterday the fraternity and academic averages for the winter quarter of this year.

The fraternity average was 3.24 as compared to the average of the fall quarter, 3.32. The academic average was 3.33 as compared to 3.48 for the fall quarter. More than half of the fraternities achieved a higher than academic average for last quarter.

The ten highest fraternities are, in order: Acacia, Sigma Delta, Pi Beta Phi, Zeta Psi, Beta Theta Pi, Delta Sigma Phi, Chi Omega, Phi Kappa Delta, Sigma Nu and Pi Kappa Alpha.

The grades of professional students were not taken into account in the reckoning for the quarter's work.

Williams Addresses Mathematics Group

At a meeting of the mathematics seminar Wednesday afternoon, Professor Horace Williams, head of the department of philosophy, spoke on the relation of mathematics to philosophical and other theories.

In his talk, Professor Williams presented an analogy between three branches of mathematics and the three systems of philosophy which he has been working on for a period of ten years.

Comparing the three systems of philosophy to three branches of mathematics Mr. Williams drew an analogy between arithmetic and the philosophy of authority, geometry and the scientific system of philosophy, and algebra and the philosophical system of philosophy.

STUDENT SECTION IS ORGANIZED OF SOCIAL SERVICE

Plan Is To Establish Council In Each College and University In State.

At the North Carolina Conference for Social Service, which closed its annual meeting April 15, in Charlotte, a special student section of the conference was organized. This student section at its first meeting had a total of 54 delegates present, 14 boys and 40 girls.

Besides attending all of the meetings of the conference, the newly organized student section held sessions of its own each day. At the last meeting of the section, the group was formally organized and adopted as its name, the North Carolina Student Council for Social Progress.

The plan is that there be a council in each university and college in the state, which councils are to be composed of all students who show interest in social affairs on the campuses as well as in the state. These councils will not only be expected to promote the social welfare on the different campuses, but also to keep posted on all social matters in the state. These groups will conduct their own programs on their separate campuses and will meet annually with the larger state group.

At the last meeting of the student group the following officers were chosen: Eloise Banning, N.C.C.W., state chairman; Beverly Moore, U.N.C., vice-chairman; Christine Rosebro, Queens College, secretary; H. F. Comer, Chapel Hill, advisor.

Those delegates going from the University were: Prof. H. D. Meyer, H. F. Comer, Veverly Moore, and T. R. Karriker.

Engineering Class Visits Saluda Dam

Last Monday, under the direction of Thorndike Saville, professor of hydraulic and sanitary engineering, the graduate class in waterpower engineering visited the Saluda Dam near Columbia, S. C.

Mangum Medal Notice

All seniors who are interested in competing for the Mangum orator's medal at commencement should see Professor George McKie at 201 Murphey or J. C. Williams at 105 "T" as soon as possible.

All seniors in the college of liberal arts, the school of commerce, the school of applied science are eligible.

DUNGAN TAR HEEL MANAGING EDITOR

Pat Patterson Will Be Business Manager of Daily; J. C. Harris To Manage Buccaneer; Travis Brown Chosen Business Manager Yackety Yack.

Jack Dungan was elected to the managing-editorship of the Daily Tar Heel, the second highest editorial position on the paper, at the meeting of the Publications Union Board last night. Dungan has been city editor and assistant editor of the paper for the past two years. As a freshman he was the leading reporter on the staff. He has had extensive professional journalistic experience, as well as campus experience, being editor of the Carolina Handbook for two years and a member of the Buccaneer and Magazine staffs. He is president of the sophomore Y. M. C. A. cabinet and served as secretary of the Publications Union Board this year up to the time he became a candidate for the managing-editorship. He will take over his duties for Tuesday's issue.

Pat Patterson was chosen business manager of the Daily Tar Heel. Patterson is the present business manager of the Buccaneer, and was collection manager of the Tar Heel last year. He was elected president of the senior class during the recent elections.

J. C. Harris will manage the business of the Buccaneer next year. He has been active in his work on the Tar Heel and Buccaneer staffs during the past two years. He is a varsity debater and member of the debate council.

Travis Brown will be business-manager of the Yackety Yack next year. Brown is editor of the 1930 year book and was connected with the business staff of the publication during his sophomore year. He is member of Phi Beta Kappa, Grail and Golden Fleece.

"Red" Greene, president of the student body, appointed K. C. Ramsay to fill the vacancy on the P. U. Board occasioned by Jack Dungan's resignation.

Glee Club Finishes Spring Tour Plans

Details for the spring tour of the University Glee Club have recently been worked out.

The club under the direction of H. S. Dyer will begin its tour April 17, on which night it will appear in Blair high school at Norfolk, Virginia. On the second night it is scheduled to give a concert at Chowan College, Murfreesboro; the third, at Griffin high school, New Bern; and the last night at the Academy of Music in Wilmington. The group will return to the University Sunday, April 27, but will again depart on April 30, this time to give an evening concert in the Mayflower Hotel.

MUCH INTEREST TAKEN IN HIGH SCHOOL DEBATE

Second Preliminaries Will Be Held This Morning At 9 O'clock; Finals Tonight.

Preliminaries in the 18th annual debate contest sponsored by the Di and Phi literary societies and the University extension division were held last night at 7 o'clock before large and enthusiastic audiences in 14 auditoriums on the campus. The query for the debates is, "Resolved, That North Carolina should adopt the proposed constitutional amendment, authorizing the classification of property for taxation."

At the time of going to press last night the following teams had been victorious: Section 1—Weaverville, affirmative, and Lumberton, negative; Section 2—Curry, affirmative, and Hendersonville, negative; Section 3—Wilkesboro, affirmative, and Goldsboro, negative; Section 4—Tarboro, affirmative and negative; Section 5—Salisbury, affirmative, and Aurelian Springs, negative; Section 6—Black Creek, affirmative, and Randleman, negative; Section 7—Marven, affirmative, and Rockingham, negative; Section 8—Hollis, affirmative, and Emma, negative; Section 9—Gastonia, affirmative, and Woodland-Olney, negative; Section 10—Scotland Neck, affirmative, and Granite Falls, negative; Section 11—Candler, affirmative, and Curry, negative; Section 12—Goldsboro, affirmative, and Troy, negative; Section 13—Marshville, affirmative, and Glen Alpine, negative; Section 14—Rutherfordton-Spindale, affirmative, and Weaverville, negative.

The second preliminaries in the contest debate will be held (Continued on last page)

TROUPE STARTS ON TOUR TODAY

Playmakers Will Present Three One-Act Plays On Western Trip.

The Carolina Playmakers leave today for a tour of cities and towns in the western part of the state. Carrying with them the same casts that made the recent southern tour, they will produce the same plays presented on that trip. These plays are: "The No 'Count Boy" by Paul Green, "Job's Kinfolks" by Loretto Carroll Bailey, and "Magnolia's Man" by Gertrude Wilson Coffin.

"The No 'Count Boy" is a fantastic negro comedy dealing with the attempts of a colored minstrel to win a dusky maiden by his fabrications about distant and enchanting lands.

The stern struggle of a family of mill workers forms the basis of Loretto Bailey's play. Here the younger generation is fighting for release, the mother fighting a crushing system. "Truly these are Job's kinfolks."

Of a much lighter vein, "Magnolia's Man" centers about the attempts of a spinster to get a husband. The scene is laid in the early days of the twentieth century. The plot provides a good deal of comedy.

The casts are as follow: "The No 'Count Boy": (Continued on last page)