

WARREN TO BOX MIDDLEKAUF AT DURHAM FRIDAY

Both Men Are Former College Stars; Middlekauf Under Management of Johnston.

Ad Warren, graduate of the class of 1927 at the University and a former captain of wrestling and star boxer here, will try to go up another step on the ladder to the "big money" when he fights Bill Middlekauf in the Durham Bulls' El Toro Park Friday night. Middlekauf is well known to southern sport fans, having been an all-southern fullback in 1927 and 1928 while a student at the University of Florida.

Middlekauf also received much mention for all-American honors during these years, because he was not only a skilled player along ordinary lines of play, but was equally proficient at kicking with left or right foot and at passing with left or right hand. After being graduated from college, Bill went into the ring game, in which he had gained some experience as a heavyweight on the Florida team. He put himself under the management of Jimmy Johnston of New York, one of the best in the game, and thus became a stablemate of Mike McTigue, former 175-pound champ; Pete Latzo, former welter champ, Yale Okun and Phil Scott, who were also under the management of Johnston. The former Florida gridiron hero soon became one of the best of the newest crop of pugs, having fought such good men as Lou Scozza of Buffalo, a prominent New York headliner, and Les Marriner, former University of Illinois football star. He is also said to hold a decision over Sully Montgomery, one time Centre College grid star who holds a decision over Jimmy Maloney, who, in turn, holds a decision over Jack Sharkey.

Recently, he acted as Phil Scott's sparring partner during the lanky Briton's training session prior to his fight with Jack Sharkey in Miami. At that time he boxed a four-round exhibition bout with Tommy Loughran, former 175-pound champion who fought in the semi-final to the Sharkey Scott fiasco.

At present Warren, Marriner, Knute Hansen and Middlekauf are the leading ex-collegian heavyweights in the ring game, with Marriner receiving first recognition now in place of Hansen, who has been knocked out frequently of late after having made a place for himself as one of the leading contenders for the heavyweight championship. All of these men are former football players—Warren at Carolina, Marriner at Illinois, Hansen at Nebraska and Middlekauf at Florida.

This fight with Middlekauf means much to Warren, for if he should eliminate the Floridian he will be able to get a bout with Marriner for the mythical collegiate pro championship, and should give him the opportunity to make a lot more money than he is at present.

Ox Shuford, another ex-Carolinian, and captain of the Tar Heel boxing team in 1929, is listed to fight Bill Suggs, Chapel Hill boy and a U. N. C. student during part of this year.

Decathlon Notice

INTRAMURALS END WITH GREAT YEAR

Increase In Interest and Participation Marks Close Of Campus Athletics.

With the final championship definitely settled last week, intramural athletics closed its most successful year in the history of dormitory and fraternity competition. The past year witnessed a large increase in interest and participation, both by teams and individuals. More than fifty teams were entered in the various sports and the number of contestants in each event broke all previous records.

The teams have cooperated very well with the intramural officials and have shown a fine spirit of sportsmanship. Every championship has been closely contested. The introduction of coaches in boxing, wrestling, fencing, and track, and competent officials in all sports has considerably raised the standards of play, and it is expected that next year a larger number of athletes will be graduated to the varsity squads.

The intramural department under the direction of "Bo" Shepherd, with Wallace Shelton and Mac Gray as his assistants, has functioned very well; and these supervisors deserve special praise for their whole-hearted efforts and fine administration in making the past year the best one since the inauguration of intramural sports.

Shepherd is the director and general manager for this department. Shelton is the assistant director and is in charge of making up the schedule, looking after the equipment and compiling statistics. Gray is field supervisor and is at the head of several sports.

The Beta Theta Pi fraternity led the Greek lodges during the past year and took four championships to head the all campus list. New Dorms won four pennants in the dormitory conference to lead their league and took one all-campus award.

New Dorms and Beta Theta Pi met for the campus football championship, with the Betas winning in a spectacular game. Aycock met the Dekes in basketball with the former taking campus honors. In baseball Lambda Chi Alpha met New Dorms for the second successive year and avenged their loss of last year by taking the title in a fast game.

Tom Watkins won first place in the Cake race held last fall, and was closely followed by Joe Pratt. Ninety-eight finished this race out of a field of 106.

The Betas won from New Dorms in a close match for the tennis championship, and in addition won the titles in track and fencing. New Dorms won the wrestling cup, and the Dekes presented a fine array of amateurs to take the boxing trophy.

Don Waugh was presented with the Grail award for the individual high point scorer during the year. He is a mem-

SYRACUSE RACER SETS OUTBOARD RECORD FOR CUP

Stewart Nunneley Wins Skaneateles, New York, Races To Average 41.76 Miles Per Hour.

The performance of Stewart Nunneley, one of the Syracuse entries in the Eastern Intercollegiate Outboard races at Skaneateles, New York, recently, has eclipsed the success of scores of other student drivers who have competed in the five speed boat regattas already sponsored this spring. Nunneley, pressed by the most expert young pilots in the east, drove his "Deke" to a new American record in the class D event, division I.

The Syracuse boy sped over the five-mile course in the remarkable time of 7.11 minutes, for an average of 41.76 miles per hour. His Brobel boat was equipped with a Johnson 32 motor. Nunneley was also winner in the class C race, division I. Bill Crawford, captain of the Colgate University outboard team, was the high individual scorer. He was awarded two gold cups for first in class B, division II and class C, division II. Crawford was also second in two other events.

Twenty-three students from 13 different colleges and universities motored to Lake Skaneateles for the regatta. The schools represented were Colgate, Syracuse, Brown, Cornell, Princeton, Dartmouth, St. Johns, Rensselaer, New York University, St. Lawrence, Toledo, Hobart and Cortland. Colgate, Syracuse, Dartmouth and St. Lawrence finished in order in the team standings. The relay race, the first event of its kind ever staged, was also won by Colgate.

Seven colleges entered the Southern California Intercollegiate Gold Cup races at Los Angeles: Occidental, Southern California, U. C. L. A., California Tech, Glendale, Ventura and Long Beach. Joe Carver of U. C. L. A. and Art Kussman of Southern California were the most successful of the young coast drivers. The former was first in class B and Kussman won the gold trophy in class C, but trailed Herb Stovall across the finish line in the class D race. Seventeen students took part in the meet. Kussman and Stovall drove Evinrude motors and Carver's craft was powered with a Johnson.

Eight boats from Purdue, Northwestern and Butler were driven over a five-mile course on the Wabash River at Lafayette, Indiana, in the Purdue regatta. Homer Van Meter, one of the Boilermakers' entries, defeated "Red" Woodworth of Northwestern in the free-for-all, and Art Reinking of Butler won the class C race.

Harold Bloomfield of Illinois, and Vern Wagner and Jesse Shufeldt of the University of the City of Toledo took firsts in the three races held on the Maumee River at Toledo. The Gold Cup race at University, Alabama, was over a ten mile course. Five students from the University of Alabama started, and the winner was A. E. Byerlein, who used a five-cylinder Cross radial motor.

Member of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity and took part in nearly every sport. He was high point scorer in the track meet by a large margin.

The intramural program this year has furthered the purpose of the department by giving every student an opportunity to take part in some competitive sport. Indications point to an even more successful season next year with another record-breaking number of participants.

GOLF TEAM ENDS TOUGH SCHEDULE

Tar Heels Finish Season With Eight Wins and Only Two Losses.

Carolina's golfers have made an auspicious beginning in their first year of official competition. The Tar Heel's advent into the realm of golf appears to be one of future leadership.

Carolina has gone through a rather difficult schedule turning out eight wins and only two losses in the dual matches. One of these losses was to Duke, who had been vanquished by Carolina earlier in the season by the overwhelming score of fourteen and one-half to three and one-half, while Duke beat Carolina by the very close score of nine and one-half to eight and one-half later.

Incidentally in the last Duke match, June Adams was substituting for stocky Benny Goodes, who had previously defeated the Duke man, Taggart, winning three points from him while Adams lost three points to Taggart in the final match with Duke. Carolina won the State Intercollegiate Championship and came in fourth in the team championship at Birmingham, Alabama, in the Southern Conference Intercollegiate Tournament.

The low scores for the year were 147 for Meade Willis against Duke at the Hope Valley course, and 150 for Benny Goodes against Davidson at Sedgfield.

The men who played on this year's team were: Charlie Chatham, Meade Willis, Luther Steward, Benny Goodes, and June Adams who participated in the last two matches.

A brief of this season's dual matches is:

Carolina 14; Virginia 4
Carolina 12; William and Mary 6
Carolina 18; Wake Forest 0
Carolina 14 1-2; Duke 3 1-2
Carolina 8 1-2; Ga. Tech 9 1-2
Carolina 10 1-2; Vanderbilt 7 1-2
Carolina 15; Davidson 3
Carolina 15; State 3
Carolina 8 1-2; Duke 9 1-2
Carolina 10 1-2; Virginia 7 1-2

COFFIN WINS IN SECOND FLIGHT AT HOPE VALLEY

O. J. Coffin, head of the University department of journalism, came through the second flight finals in the annual Hope Valley Country Club tournament Monday afternoon with a four and three win over C. F. Williams of Raleigh.

Bill O'Connor won the spring golf championship in a closely contested one-up victory over George Lyon. Other winners were: Donald MacKay who defeated James DeHart three and two in the third flight, and N. B. Lockwood, who defeated H. G. Hedrick by the same score in the fourth.

Weather Forecast

Chapel Hill and vicinity: Cloudy and possibly showers. Little change in temperature.

Election Of Track Captain Postponed

Due to the inability of the track squad to reach an agreement, the election for captain was postponed indefinitely. It is possible that there will not be a regular captain next season, but one chosen by the coaches before each meet and an honorary captain elected at the close of the season.

Y. M. C. A. BUILDING TO BE RENOVATED

(Continued from first page) much trouble to you, and think how much it will mean to the appearance of the Y building to have fine rugs to go with the repairs.

The University funds have made it impossible to get the long expected Y building and the present building will not last for long without some repair. Along with the rugs and repair the repair committee have drafted into service some old furniture that has been stowed away in the store room. In addition to these things the Y members are going to persuade a certain radio company to install a radio in the building.

With the improvements mentioned above accomplished the Y.M.C.A. building will present a better atmosphere and will furnish a place for the students to gather. The Y members sincerely hope that all the students will give their hearty cooperation and help them succeed by giving what clothes you can to the boys that will be appointed to go to the various rooms to collect them. Cooperate and make it a success.

EIGHT CASES IN RECORDERS COURT

Frank Smith, a colored laborer, was found guilty of public drunkenness and sentenced to one month on the roads. On another case which was brought up against Smith and his friend, James Godwin, the two were found guilty of selling and transporting liquor. Each was sentenced to eight months. The men had a very fantastic story of how they started out fishing with a car and a sawed-off shot gun. It was night and before going far they had tire trouble. Just at the spot that they stopped, the headlights of their car showed several gallons of liquor hidden in the woods. This sight diverted them from their fishing intent and they decided to load the liquor on the car and take it with them. Soon two drunken negroes with a sawed-off shot gun had been arrested driving a car.

Roosevelt Guthrie, colored laborer, was found in a drunken condition and was fined $5 and the costs.

FINAL ISSUE SATURDAY

The final issue of the Tar Heel for the year will be distributed Saturday of this week. Announcements or news others than assigned stories by reporters must be in Friday at 4 o'clock.

D. K. E. FRATERNITY ANNOUNCES NEW HELLENIC AWARD

Cup Will Be On Display At Pritchard-Lloyd; Winner To Be Made Public Soon.

The D.K.E. fraternity announces the donation of an annual cup to be given to the fraternity most outstanding in scholastics and athletics on the campus. The qualifications upon which the award is given include the general average of the fraternity, and its athletic activities, with intramural competition and the number of members holding positions on major teams taken into consideration.

The fraternity to receive the cup this year has not yet been selected, but the cup will soon be on display in Pritchard and Lloyd's drug store. An announcement of the winner of the cup will be made in the near future.

The fraternity winning the award two years in succession will be entitled to permanent possession of the cup. Also, the D.K.E. lodge will not be eligible for consideration in selecting the winner of the trophy.

This award, being the first of its kind on the campus, is intended to promote better feeling between the campus fraternities and to provide for them an incentive for better scholarship and increased interest in athletics.

Wins Theatre Prize

Marjorie Bartholomew Paradis, mother of two children and author of two recent novels, won the $1,000 prize offered by Samuel French & Co. and the Theatre Arts Monthly Cup in the first annual National Long Play Tournament held last week at the Waldorf Theatre, New York, with her three-act comedy, "The New Freedom," presented by the Morningside Players of Columbia University. Mrs. Paradis' two novels, "The Cadis" and "A Dinner of Herbs," both deal with aspects of woman's freedom in modern family life.
