

ALLEN DEFEATS SPEIGHT IN LAW SCHOOL BALLOT

Ward, Dunn, and Graham Win Other Three Offices Voted Upon.

By Everard B. Shemwell

In the first elections of the year, Archie Allen was elected to the presidency of the first year law class over W. W. Speight by an overwhelming majority. Jack Ward defeated Charles Whedbee in the race for vice-president, while Bill Dunn was victorious over his opponent, J. A. Bailey, for secretary. John Graham was elected treasurer over Fred Bunch in a tight race in which the victor was but one vote ahead of the vanquished.

Allen, captain of the Tar Heel boxers in 1930, had little opposition in Speight, snowing him under an avalanche of votes, and winning by a 3-1 majority.

The election was rather impromptu, having been held with but ten minutes warning by J. A. Williams, president of the Law School Association. Campaign speeches were in order, and Speight was given a large amount of verbal support by supporters, but Allen proved to be the preferred man when the votes were counted.

ORCHESTRA ADDS NEW PIECES TO YEAR'S ENSEMBLE

T. Smith McCorkle Discovers New Talent on Campus.

Last year the University Orchestra was composed of about forty-five pieces, a membership that represented a growth of over thirty in the last five years. This year, T. Smith McCorkle, director, hopes to increase the membership to sixty.

The new additions that Mr. McCorkle plans include several experienced violin players, cellos, a bassoon, two french horns, two violin players, two oboes, and a string bass. With the exception of the oboes all of these pieces have been in the orchestra.

Only a small portion of the first program has been decided. It will probably include Schubert's Unfinished Symphony, Number 8 in B minor, the Sicilian Vespers Overture, by Verdi, and the Prelude to Wagner's opera, Lohengrin.

In addition to the regular symphonic work, there will be several instrumental soloists with the orchestra this year. Mr. McCorkle will play a violin concert, and Mr. Kennedy will play one at the organ. Also, outside artists may be invited.

The first practise is to be held at Person hall on Tuesday September 23 at 7 o'clock and all old members are asked to attend.

Assembly To Meet

The Phi Assembly will hold its initial meeting of the year tonight at 7:15 in the regular session hall in New East building. Speaker Albright requests that all old men be present at the meeting to help get the assembly off to a good year.

Announcements will be made later concerning the initiation of the new men.

Presbyterian Classes

The Presbyterian Sunday school announces that this year it will hold two student classes, instead of one as was done last year. The new students will be taught by Professor I. C. Griffin of the school of education. The upperclassmen will be taught by Professor E. L. Mackie of the mathematics department. The classes meet with the rest of the Sunday school at 9:45 for the opening exercises of the school, and the class discussion begins at 10.

DYER SPONSORS INSTALLATION OF THE NEW ORGAN

Head of Music Department Supervises Activities From Factory to Campus.

Dr. Harold S. Dyer, director of music at the University, has been quite busy this summer with the installation of the new organ which was the gift of some unknown person, evidently interested in the department of music to the extent of several thousands of dollars. At the close of the first session of summer school, Dr. Dyer made a trip to the factory in Kansas at which the organ was built, and made a thorough inspection of the assembled instrument, which is now the center of attraction in the department. After his return, he became the official guide for visitors, pointing out the intricacies and explaining the work which it will do in the education of musicians. It is a very valuable addition in this respect. Since the beginning of the assembling at Chapel Hill, Professor Dyer has shown more than 300 visitors through the construction room, among which was a Kiwanis convention, of which Dr. Dyer and three of the craftsmen were guests at dinner before the demonstration.

It is hoped that the dedication of the organ will take place soon after the first of November. Before the instrument can be definitely put into use, however, the final voicing must be done by an expert from the factory, and it is impossible to complete this adjustment until the final furnishings and seats have been installed in the music auditorium. As soon as the final adjustments have been made, the dedication will take place. At this ceremony there will be a concert by one of America's masters. Several are under careful consideration, among whom are Palmer Christian, of Michigan, Edward Eigenschenk, of Chicago, E. Harold Geer, organist at Vassar College, Henry F. Seibert, Town Hall organist at New York City, and others of equal note.

After the dedication ceremony, there will be two series of organ recitals, the first of which will be a vesper series at 4:45 on Sunday afternoons, the dates of which are to be announced later. The second series will be a guest series, and will feature six or more of the leading church and auditorium organists of North Carolina.

The music auditorium promises to be of great value to the University, and the entertainment committee will probably hold the first few of their programs there, as the new University auditorium will not be finished before the first of February.

FRESHMAN BIDS ARE READY NOW

Rushing Season Opens Officially Friday Afternoon at 2 O'clock.

"Fraternity representatives may secure freshman invitations from me at the Sigma Chi House this afternoon between two and four and tonight between seven and nine," Tom Hunter, Secretary of the Interfraternity Council, said last night. "No invitations will be given fraternities which have not posted the one hundred dollar bond required by the Council's rules and which have not paid their regular assessment of five dollars."

According to the Interfraternity Council rushing rules these invitations must be filled in by the fraternities and returned to the Secretary by noon Wednesday. He delivers them to the Dean of students and they in turn are delivered to the freshmen through the Dean's office.

Rushing season opens officially Friday afternoon at two o'clock when the new men begin visiting the fraternity houses. This continues through Saturday night. After that time freshmen are permitted to make their own dates, but no new man may make more than two dates with any one fraternity during first two days of rushing, the rules state.

Will Scour Woods For Moorer's Body

In a final effort to clear up the mystery surrounding the disappearance of Morgan P. Moorer last spring, Boy Scouts and University students under the direction of L. B. Lloyd, hunter and woodsman, and George Henry, assistant scoutmaster, are scouring the territory around Chapel Hill in search of the boy's body.

Moorer, a member of the freshman class, disappeared during the spring quarter of last year. For days fraternity brothers and friends searched the neighboring territory, fearing that the boy had committed suicide, but hoping that he was still alive. The possibility that he was a victim of amnesia was the most probable explanation advanced for his disappearance by those who believed him to be alive.

During the summer the search continued. His mother, who still believes that he is alive, secured the services of private detectives to push the investigation.

And now, his mother, after appealing to the Governor and to President Frank Graham, has started this last search, fearing that if the boy is dead his body may be in some out-of-the-way place where it would have been overlooked by earlier searches.

Dr. G. N. Couch, botany instructor, is expected to return to the University today, where he will resume his work. Dr. Couch has traveled in Europe during the past summer vacation. Dr. Couch spent considerable time in Cambridge, England.

Coupons

Student coupons will be exchanged for student tickets to the Wake Forest game on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons in the lobby of the Y. M. C. A. from 3 to 6 o'clock.

COUNCIL HOLDS FIRST MEETING

New Office Hours Announced by President Greene.

The student council held its first meeting last night in its new office in 204 South building for the purpose of discussing plans for the coming year. According to plans, the student government will hold regular office hours in their new office. The office will be open from 10:30 to 12:00 on Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday, and from 10:30 to 11:00 on Wednesday and Friday.

It is the plan of the council that all reports be made at the office, which is next to that of Dean Bradshaw, during these hours.

This is the first time in the history of the University that the student government has had an office of its own.

The plan of giving the government of the student body an office, although new on this campus, is in line with all of the other large universities in the country.

Having received praise from sources all over the United States, the student government on this campus is brought still another step forward in its efficiency and superiority by this new office plan.

Those men who are to serve on

(Continued on page two)

Subscription Price Of Daily Tar Heel Raised Two Dollars

Meeting Sunday afternoon, the University Publications Union board elected officers for the ensuing year and raised the price of subscriptions to the Daily Tar Heel. K. C. Ramsay, senior member of the board, was elected president and E. C. Daniel, sophomore, was chosen secretary.

As the student publications fee was raised last year, in order to take care of the extra expense of publishing a daily paper, the portion of the fee allotted to the Daily Tar Heel was increased to four dollars. This means, really, that each student pays that amount for his paper.

Up until this time the subscription price for outsiders has been only two dollars a year or one dollar per quarter. If this rate were continued, it would mean that Chapel Hill people and others would get the paper for less than the students—to whom the paper belongs.

Accordingly, the board decided to increase the subscription fee for outsiders to four dollars for the entire school year or one dollar and a half per quarter.

Law Association To Meet On Wednesday

The Law School Association will hold its first meeting of the year Wednesday night at 7:15 in the session room of the association. President Frank Graham, and Dean C. T. McCormick will be the principal speakers.

J. A. Williams, president of the association, states that refreshments will be served, and the meeting will be of a general get-together nature. Following the meeting, which President Williams says will be short, the Carolina Theatre will entertain the members of the association at a free show, "Common Clay."

Graham To Speak

Beginning Friday morning President Graham will address the students of the freshman and sophomore classes in chapel once a week. This will give the first-year men an opportunity of hearing Mr. Graham once per week, and will give the sophomores a chance to hear him once every two weeks.

When the new auditorium is completed the two classes will meet together for chapel. This building is expected to be ready by the middle of the winter quarter.

NOTED COMPOSER BECOMES MEMBER OF LOCAL COLONY

Lamar Stringfield, Pulitzer Prize Winner, Comes to Chapel Hill From New York.

By J. P. Huskins

The Chapel Hill are colony, already an institution of many parts, has added a composer to its list of distinguished citizens.

Lamar Stringfield winner of the Pulitzer prize for the outstanding musical composition in 1928 and a nationally known flutist and interpreter of folk music, has left the whirl of New York life for the quiet beauty of Chapel Hill.

This picturesque little village seems to have a strong appeal for scientists and artists. One of every forty-eight of its citizens is listed in "Who's Who," and one of every fifteen of its male adults is a recognized scientist.

Friends of Stringfield recently induced him to come back to his native state and to make his home in Chapel Hill. Here at the University they saw an opening for a new department that would make use of the folk music already collected by the Institute for Research in Social Science. It is Stringfield's idea to develop this folk music for use in the University music department and by the Carolina Playmakers thus establishing here at the University a distinctly American music and drama based on American subjects. Efforts are now being made to get the proposed department financed.

Won Pulitzer Award

Mr. Stringfield is a native of Wake County, although as many as half a dozen other counties of the state are loud in claiming him.

His Pulitzer award number, a composition for full orchestra, "From the Southern Mountains," was based on the folk melodies from the Carolina hills. "Cripple Creek," the last movement of the suite, was chosen last year as a national high school contest number and was recorded by the Victor company.

Believing that only a native may translate musical subjects into a form that will be interesting to the people who sing them, Mr. Stringfield made a compila-

(Continued on last page)

Cross Country Call

Coach Dale Ranson has issued a call for freshmen to try out for the freshman cross country team. All who intend to go out for this sport should report at Emerson field this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Coach Ranson stated that previous experience in cross country is not necessary.

NORTHWESTERN U. CALLS HEFFNER TO NEW POSITION

Was One of Prof. Koch's Original Students Here; Westerman to Fill Vacancy.

Another wound was inflicted in the university's faculty staff yesterday when it was officially announced that Hubert C. Heffner, business manager of the Carolina Playmakers and of the Carolina Playbook, associate director of the Carolina Playmakers, and Assistant Professor of English, had resigned to take charge of the dramatic department of Northwestern university.

Despite the fact that the loss of Mr. Heffner is a decided blow to the University, it remains that a compliment has been bestowed upon Carolina. The department which he will head is one of the largest of its kind in the country. His task there will be a stupendous one as he will supervise all dramatic work and act as business manager of the dramatic organization.

"It grieves me," said Mr. Heffner, "to leave Carolina. This is my home. I loved my work here and I feel that I am leaving a momentous task. I

(Continued on last page)

Y. M. MEETS FOR FIRST TIME THIS UNIVERSITY YEAR

Plans Laid for Active Session On Part of Group.

At a joint meeting of the sophomore and the junior-senior Y cabinets last night, President Ed Hamer outlined the program of his group for the fall quarter. In his address he said, "I am anxious to carry out every feature of the program we have on hand."

This program includes the Freshman Friendship banquet to be held this week, the meeting of the state student cabinet to be held at Greensboro October 25 and organization meetings of the upperclass cabinets to be held next Monday night. The University Y will be represented at the national council meeting in Chicago next month.

Hamer has appointed Beverly Moore, Ellis Crew, F. M. James and J. E. Miller as a program committee to plan the activities of the organization for the year.

The program committee of the separate class cabinets will prepare mimeographed reports to be submitted to the cabinets at their regular meetings. Mr. Lanier, self-help secretary, and B. M. Ferguson, of the sophomore cabinet, were appointed a committee in charge of the freshman banquet which will probably be given at the Methodist church Friday of this week.

One of the most ambitious plans discussed at last night's meeting is one by which the Y. M.-Y. W.'s will meet at a banquet following the state student cabinet meeting in Greensboro. The speaker for the banquet will be Kirby Page, who, with Sherwood Eddy, has recently completed a tour of India. While there he visited for several days at the home of Ghandi, the leader of the peaceful revolution. If plans materialize, Page will present Ghandi's official message at the banquet.