

SENATE INITIATES LARGEST NUMBER IN SEVEN YEARS

Twenty-nine Men Present Themselves for Membership Tuesday.

Twenty-nine men were initiated into the Dialectic Senate Tuesday night, to make the largest number ever to be taken into this literary society at one time during the past seven years.

Meeting for the second time this year, the society held the informal initiation in the Senate hall. After discussing some of the most important business on the calendar, the program was turned over to the committee in charge of initiating the new men.

For the past few years the interest in the Di Senate has been lacking, but with the initiation of these twenty-nine senators, the officials of the senate are looking forward to a successful year.

The initiation fee this year, Treasurer Dungan states, will be two dollars less than it has been in the past. Although the senate has a full year's program, the cut of two dollars in each member's fee will not affect the program that has been planned, states the treasurer of the senate.

The men who were taken in at the Tuesday's meeting are:

N. A. Townsend, Jr., Charlotte, N. C.; T. S. Royster, Beasem City, N. C.; G. W. Chandler, Winston-Salem; R. S. Crum, Jr., Gatum; C. Z. Panama; R. P. Howell, Jr., Wilmington; J. O. Griffin, Reidsville; G. D. Liveley, Reidsville; S. O. Mageure, Jr., Elkin; Clyde Deitz, Belmont; D. J. Olive, Chapel Hill; J. D. Durand, Asheville; T. S. Whitaker, Black Mountain; Wm. Eddleman, Gastonia; U. Daughtridge, Rocky Mount; Walter Zerest, Jackson Heights, N. Y.; T. B. Johnson, Vale; C. B. Lowder, Winston-Salem; Howard Lyon, Glade Valley; Robert Durand, Asheville; Fred M. Harris, Elkin; S. M. Carpenter, Durham; John Entwistle, Rockingham; C. A. Pratt, Greensboro; E. C. Johnson, Hickory; P. R. Hayes, Greensboro; J. C. McNeill, Charlotte; J. C. Kitchen, Jr., Asheville; W. L. Higdon, Jr., Franklin; E. M. Pickard, Burlington.

CIVIL ENGINEERS HOLD FIRST MEET

The University branch of the American Society of Civil Engineers will hold its first meeting of the year in Room 319 of Phillips Hall at 7:30 tonight. Professor T. F. Hickerson, sponsor of the branch society, will address the group.

Old members of the society are urged to be present, and members of the freshman class in civil engineering, who automatically become members when they register, will also attend.

The subject of Professor Hickerson's address will probably be on the work of the society.

Graduate Convocation

The first convocation of the graduate school will be held at eight o'clock Friday night, October 3, in Smith Building.

President Graham and Dr. W. W. Pierson will be the speakers. This meeting is open to all graduate students and the faculty of the University.

Cheerios

All students interested in organized cheering either turn in name and address to Billy Arthur at Theta Kappa Nu house or sign with address on Y. M. C. A. bulletin board.

DEAN OUTLINES CHAPEL EVENTS

Program for Year Details Appearance of Many Campus Notables.

F. F. Bradshaw, dean of students and chairman of the chapel meetings committee, has announced the chapel program for the ensuing quarter.

These programs are conducted mainly for the introduction of prominent figures about the campus to the freshmen and sophomores. Those attending chapel this quarter will hear many interesting speakers.

Tomorrow and Monday the cheerleaders and candidates for this office will hold sway in order that the new men will have chance to decide for whom they will cast their votes. There will probably be cheer drills at each of these meetings. Within a short time, Coach Bob Fetzer will appear, followed by the Playmakers, and the Glee Club. A morning will be devoted to each of the publications, and the Y. M. C. A. will frequently have charge of a program.

Members of the faculty who have become traditional figures at the University will be present. President Graham will frequently be present.

Since October 12 is the birthday of the University, the celebration will probably take place in chapel on Monday the 13th.

KIWANIS DISCUSS COUNTY LIBRARIES

The Kiwanis club held its regular weekly meeting in the Hut of the United Church Tuesday evening at 7:00 o'clock. The club observed library night and discussed the library of Orange county. The Kiwanians had as their guest Miss Mary Hyman, supervisor of schools in Orange county, who gave the history of the county library movement. She told also how the Parent Teachers' Association became interested in the movement and something of what they have done. It is interesting to note that President Frank Graham suggested the idea of organizing the county library in his talks before P. T. A. meetings and has been instrumental in the development.

Dr. L. R. Wilson talked on the progress of the county library movement throughout the state. Dr. Wilson spoke favorably of the prospects for the Orange county library.

The members of the club brought to the meeting books and magazines which they contributed to the collection, and they will contribute further from time to time.

To Advertisers!

In an advertisement appearing in the Wednesday issue of the Tar Heel, the Y. M. C. A.'s name was used without permission. Before the Y's name is used in future advertisements, the approval of H. F. Comer, secretary of the Y, or of Mr. Lanier, self-help secretary, must be obtained.

NEW BOOK CLUB LOOKS TOWARD CLOSER RELATIONS WITH ALUMNI

Unique Lending Library Is Made Possible Through The Cooperation of Three University Agencies.

A new venture in the field of adult education, designed to continue intellectual relations of the alumni with the University after graduation, was inaugurated in the October issue of The Alumni Review, which came off the press yesterday.

Known as the Alumni Book Club, the new service is a unique lending library, circulating at a nominal cost a list of new books selected and recommended by the university faculty. Three university agencies, the Alumni office, the Extension Library Service, and the university library join with the university faculty in creating this new service.

A list of five new books which may now be borrowed through the Library Extension Service is furnished the alumni. Each book will be mailed to the borrower, accompanied by a critical commentary written by a member of the university faculty who has a special interest in the subject of the book.

Not an ordinary book review, this commentary is designed to evaluate the book, to show its relation to other books on the subject, or to furnish interesting information about the author and his work—in short, to chart the position of the book in the sea of literature.

Books now available include A History of Modern Culture, Vol. 1, The Great Renewal, 1543-1687, by Preserved Smith, reviewed by Louis B. Wright of the department of English; Man And His Universe, by John Langdon-Davies, with a commentary by J. J. Slade, Jr., of the school of Engineering faculty; Crucibles, by Bernard Jaffe, reviewed by F. H. Edmister, of the department of Chemistry; Shepherds in Sackcloth, by Shelia Kaye-Smith, with a commentary by Richmond P. Bond, of the department of English; and Desert Islands, by Walter de la Mare, reviewed by Donald Conroy, of the university library staff. More books with commentaries will be added to the circulating library during October.

Efforts to provide post-diploma education by institutions of higher learning have attracted considerable attention in this country during the past few years. An interesting experiment is underway at Lafayette College and the University of Michigan, where numbers of alumni attend classes held every year for their benefit during the week following the commencement exercises. Seminars for alumni and other methods of continuing intellectual relations have been utilized recently at Amherst, Dartmouth, Vassar, Mount Holyoke, Smith, North Carolina College for Women and other institutions.

BAD CHECK RULE TO BE ENFORCED

Ruling Worked Out by Student Council and Changes for This Year Explained.

The procedure involved in the handling of returned checks, worked out by the Student Council and J. A. Williams last year, will be carried on this year under the same direction in 204 South building. The procedure is as follows:

1. When a student gives a check that is returned for any reason, his name is given by the local bank to the Dean of Student's office. A notice is delivered to the student, requiring his personal signature for the receipt thereof, together with the time of the delivery. The giver of the check is allowed 48 hours from the receipt of the notice to make the check good and bring the cancelled check or a receipt of payment therefor to J. A. Williams during his office hours. If the check is not made good and the receipt produced within the specified time, the giver is placed on check probation, no matter what the cause of the return of the check. This penalty is given for lack of attention to the 48 hour limit.

2. When the giver carries the cancelled check or a receipt to J. A. Williams, the reason for the return of the check is explained. If it is found that the check was returned due to circumstances within the control of the giver, he is placed on check probation. If the check was returned thru error or other circumstances not within the control of the student giving it, the student is excused.

3. If a student does not report within 48 hours after the receipt of the notice, the extreme

PLAY COMMITTEE PICKS FIRST BILL

Select "Get Up and Bar the Door," "Cleo," and "Pop, The Fireman"

Following the reading of five one-act plays by their authors in the Carolina Playmakers' theatre Tuesday night, the play committee consisting of Professors A. C. Howell, English Bagby, W. E. Caldwell, George McKie, M. T. Van Hecke, and Dr. A. S. Lawrence, elected "Get Up and Bar the Door," "Cleo," and "Pop, the Fireman" for the first bill of the year. These plays will be presented in Chapel Hill on November 6, 7, 8 and carried on the Northern tour soon afterwards.

"Get Up and Bar the Door" is a comedy based on the life of the hill folk of Mississippi and written by A. P. Hudson last spring in Professor Koch's playwriting course. "Cleo" is another of Loretto Carroll Bailey's contributions. But Loretto has made her characters satisfied with life this time. In fact she has made 'Katherine' a man-tamer. "Pop, the Fireman," or "Samuel Hinkle, Fireman," by Joseph Fox may be a good comedy of New England life. It has possibilities. "Desert Shadow," a unique and striking play by Laurabelle Dietrich, and "One Fine Day" by Louise Perry have been reserved for revision and try-out performances in the playwriting and producing classes.

Typescript copies of the plays selected for production will be available in the library later in the week for the use of students and others who wish to try out for any of these parts. Try-outs will be held on Monday, October 6 at 4:30 and 7:30 P. M.

A dress rehearsal will be given on November 1 for the benefit of the Southern Educational Association.

First Senior Smoker To Be Held Tuesday

The senior class will inaugurate the series of class smokers by holding their initial meeting Tuesday night at 9 o'clock in Swain hall, according to a decision reached at the meeting of the executive committee last night.

There will be several good speakers and the "Carolina Buccaneers" will furnish music for the occasion. All seniors are especially urged to be present as an outline of the year's program for the class will be given at this time.

Infirmiry List

Those who were confined to the infirmiry on Wednesday are: Herb Nelson, Worth Baldwin, and Allen Robert.

Geometry Coaching

All persons desiring to take plane geometry with a tutor are asked to meet in room 203 South building Thursday evening at 7:30.

U. N. C. PRESS HAS PUBLISHED OVER A HUNDRED BOOKS

University Publications Deal With Great Variety of Subject Matter; Dr. L. R. Wilson Heads Directors.

By Virginia Douglas

It seems well now and then to outline for the benefit of the students the history and nature of various university organizations. The University of North Carolina Press, well-known enough to the learned world, may need some explanations to the students on the campus.

The press was formed in 1922 for the purpose of publishing scholarly works. Dr. Louis R. Wilson was then and is now director, but W. T. Couch has been acting head since 1925. As to the rest of the organization, there are a board of governors of ten faculty members and three alumni, a manuscript committee and a finance committee. The board of governors is the final authority.

The press has published in all over 100 volumes, and averages now from 15 to 20 works a year. It is the University of North Carolina Press, but it is not avidly and rabidly North Carolinian. It is not a narrow publishing house for the benefit of faculty members alone. Indeed, over half the volumes are work of outsiders. Nine of the 16 books on the fall list are by outlanders.

If a book can be correctly made in North Carolina, very well, it is. But if for any reason Belgium or Wisconsin can print a particular manuscript more satisfactorily, Belgium or Wisconsin does it. Or if New York should handle the printing, New York does. However, most of the work is divided between Durham and Raleigh.

The press publishes a good many books having to do with social subjects, but it does not restrict itself. It has published everything from text books for adult illiterates to works on Egyptian art. And its markets are as far apart as the North Carolina mountaineers are from the dead Pharaohs.

MEETING TONIGHT OF DEBATE SQUAD

The first regular meeting of the debate squad will be held tonight at 7:30 in Murphey 201. All undergraduates, both men and women, are invited to come out. Attendance at squad meetings counts a half-course credit.

The meeting tonight will be devoted to organization of the squad, and to an address by Dr. Horace Williams, founder of debating at Carolina. Dr. Williams will tell something of the history of debating and the value to be derived from forensics.

Teachers' Jobs For One Hundred Ten

According to data compiled by L. C. Griffin, of the school of education, of 110 graduates and undergraduates who applied for positions, 86 have been placed by the University. Aside from these, 42 former graduates of the University succeeded in getting jobs through the teachers' bureau during the summer. From the 83 graduates of the school of education in the class of 1930, all except three report that they have secured satisfactory positions.
