

GERMAN POLITICS TO BE DISCUSSED BY BONN TONIGHT

Well Known Economist To Speak In Gerrard Hall at 8 O'clock.

Dr. M. J. Bonn, professor of economics and director of the Institute of Finance at Handelshochschule in Berlin, will lecture at 8 o'clock tonight in Gerrard Hall on the present state of affairs in German politics. The subject of the address will be "Economics and Politics in Modern Germany."

Since 1914, Dr. Bonn has been in the United States, lecturing at many of the larger universities and cities of this country. Recently he lectured in the Universities of Wisconsin, Leland Stanford, Cornell and California. At present he is the leader of the Round Table at Williamston Institute of Politics.

In 1919 he served as economic expert at Versailles, and in 1920-21 he was in Genoa and Brussels in the same capacity. A member of the International Gold Commission of the League of Nations, he is also a member of the advisory board of the Commissions of American Academy of Political and Social Science.

Dr. E. W. Zimmerman, who is a former pupil of Dr. Bonn, characterized him as being "a very interesting and authoritative speaker on any subject he discusses." A story is told of Dr. Bonn that in the early days of the late war, he was addressing a naturally hostile audience, but through human discussion of his topics, the speaker won the respect and friendliness of his audience before his speech was completed.

Dr. Bonn is also said to have a perfect command of the English language and a broad view

PHI BETA KAPPA WON BY ELEVEN MORE STUDENTS

Additions Made to Carolina Chapter Since Last Year.

Each year in the middle of the spring quarter those members of the then present junior class who have Phi Beta Kappa grades are pledged to that organization. An average, on twenty-four courses, of ninety-two and a half points or above constitutes Phi Beta Kappa standing. If, at any time after the spring quarter of the junior year, a student's grades are raised to an average of ninety-two and a half, he is immediately pledged. As coeds are at the university for two years only, they are obliged to average a higher grade.

A list of those students making Phi Beta Kappa last April was published at that time, so the list that follows contains the names only of those students pledged since the middle of last spring quarter:

MILLS DISCUSSES HISTORY STUDIES

Dr. Mills, visiting Carnegie Foundation professor from Sidney, Australia, addressed the faculty of the University history department Tuesday night at 313 Saunders. His subject was "The Research in History and Government in the Australian Universities."

Dr. Mills divided the historical writings of Australia into three periods. The first period was called Impirist. In this class came the writers who tried to influence the minds of the people. These writers were mainly journalists and politicians.

The second period of writings dealt chiefly with the specialization of certain phases of Australian history. Dr. Mills is considered one of the leaders of this period.

The third period is just beginning. It deals with the analytical theories of the political government of Australia. This class of writers are also trying to generalize the present history of Australia.

HAMILTON GOES TO N. Y. MEETING

History Professor Will Also Attend Anniversary at Columbia University.

Dr. J. G. de Roulhac Hamilton, of the department of history and government, has gone to New York where he will address the Southern Society in New York City Thursday evening. Dr. Hamilton has been asked to discuss his plans and work for the Southern Collection, which is growing rapidly.

During the past two years more than half a million pieces of manuscript have been added to the collection, which has already become the most valuable accumulation of material on southern history in existence. The most recent accession is the Hubard Papers, acquired by the University at the sale of the Saratoga plantation in Buckingham county, Virginia. This collection contains a large number of plantation records of the Hubard and Wilcox families, who were long prominent in the political, agricultural, and social life of Virginia. The Hubards are descendants of Thomas Jefferson and Willie Jones.

While in New York Dr. Hamilton will attend a celebration of the Fiftieth Anniversary of the establishment of the faculty of Political Science at Columbia University.

PIERSON CHOSEN TO READ PAPER AT CONVENTION

Dr. W. W. Pierson, of the department of history and government, and dean of the Graduate School, will leave this week to attend the annual meeting of the Association of American Universities. The Association of American Universities. The Association meets this year at Palo Alto and Berkeley, California, as the guest of Stanford University and the University of California. Pierson will read a paper entitled "Graduate Work and the Summer Session."

While at the meeting he will represent the University of North Carolina at the inauguration of President-elect Sproul of the University of California.

Professor Worked in Factory All Summer; Will Launch New Course

G. T. Schwenning of the University's school of commerce faculty spent his summer in a way unusual for a professor. He worked in the factory of the Western Electric Company at Kearny, N. J., the largest production unit of the Bell telephone system.

Out of the information he obtained he has assembled the material for a course, called Time and Motion Study, which will be on the commerce schedule in the winter quarter. This will be something quite new in the way of instruction for college students.

The vice-president of the Western Electric who is in command at Kearny was here at Chapel Hill a year or so ago as a guest of the school of commerce, and one day he said to Mr. Schwenning:

"We talk about management problems, and I do the best I can to tell you about them, but what you really ought to do is to come up to our plant and see the actual work."

The professor took him up on the proposal. Correspondence ensued after the visitor went back to New Jersey, and a definite appointment was made. And so, when examinations were over in June, Mr. Schwenning set out for Kearny.

"I knew it was a big plant," he says, "but I was hardly prepared for the vastness of it. There are about 30,000 employees altogether. Here are manufactured switchboards, receiving and transmitting instruments, and all other sorts of telephone equipment.

"My work was to observe and study the various manufacturing processes. I was given the freedom of the plant, and I became acquainted not only with superintendents and foremen but with a great many of the men who operated the machinery. For example, I spent several days with a man known as a driller. We talked about his work while he was doing it, and we would time his motions with a stop watch.

"The purpose back of all this is to find out the simplest and best way to get a job done, and to adjust compensation to performance as fairly as possible. We try to work out standard processes, in the several manufacturing departments, that will prevent waste in effort and time."

First Mr. Schwenning went through the Kearny plant in a general survey, and then he went through the departments one by one for deliberate study. He turned up for duty early in the morning, when the army of workers came trooping in from their homes, and stayed through until the regular closing hour in the late afternoon.

ASSEMBLY BOOKS LIVE BILLS FOR NEXT DISCUSSION

Passes Motion to Cooperate With Di in Sponsoring Dr. Murrow's Address.

The regular meeting of the Phi Assembly was held Tuesday night at the assembly hall in New East. The meeting was called to order by speaker Mayne Albright. After the roll call by representative McDuffie, Speaker Albright read from the Constitution articles dealing with rules of procedure in the assembly. Treasurer James gave a report of the treasury.

John Lang spoke to the assembly for a few minutes about Dr. Murrow, well known educator who is to speak to the student body next Tuesday night in Gerrard Hall. At the conclusion of Lang's talk the motion was made and passed that the Phi Assembly co-operate with the Di Senate in sponsoring Dr. Murrow's address.

The resolutions adopted were as follows:

Resolved: That the Phi Assembly go on record as favoring the resolution that only athletes be allowed to have self help jobs at athletic contests. The first speaker for the affirmative was representative Grier and he, together with representative Uzzell, upheld the measure against representatives Baldwin and Campen. When the vote was taken the resolution was defeated.

Resolved: That the Honor System in North Carolina colleges is not functioning successfully. Representative James, Baldwin, and McDuffie upheld the measure against representatives Speight, Uzzell, and Campen. Because of the length of time used in the discussion of the bill the motion was passed

BURDEN BEARERS ELECT OFFICERS

At the meeting of the Burden Bearer's circle of the United Daughters of the Confederacy Tuesday afternoon in the Methodist Church, officers for the year were elected. Mrs. J. E. Lear was chosen president; Mrs. J. A. Page, vice-president; Mrs. Henry Whitfield, secretary and Mrs. Dewitt Herndon, treasurer.

The group discussed the state convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy which is to be held at Rockingham this month and to which the circle plans to send a delegation.

Further plans were made for the campaign which they intend to launch this week. A house to house canvass will be made to collect funds to help the needy people of the community.

The next meeting of the circle will be on the second Tuesday in November at the home of Mrs. Shelton Henninger.

PAGE WILL HEAD INDUSTRY MEET

To Preside at Departmental Discussion of Southern Conference on Education.

Frank Page, who was recently chosen chairman of the Southeastern Council, an organization formed to promote the economic advancement of the southeastern states, will preside over a discussion of "Southern Industry and the College Graduate" at a luncheon meeting of the Southern Conference on Education to meet here at the Carolina Inn at 12:30 o'clock Friday, October 31.

The discussion will be led by General R. I. Rees of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and Cator Woolford of Atlanta. Mr. Woolford will discuss the value to Georgia industries of the Georgia College Placement Bureau which he helped to found. General Rees will summarize briefly the experience of his own and other large corporations in selecting and assimilating college trained workers. These talks will be followed by general discussion.

Colleges and industries of the south have been slow to fall in line with the progress which is being made by other sections of the country in this general field. It is hoped that this meeting will give impetus to the formation of some permanent organization composed of those in this region most interested in the college man and in training him for effective work in business and industry.

Due to the fact that a large number is expected to attend this meeting, those desiring accommodations are requested to communicate with R. M. Gruman, director of the University extension division.

Co-eds Entertain At Tea Yesterday

Yesterday afternoon from four to six o'clock Victoria Geiger and Alice Freeman Jones were hostesses at the Spencer hall house tea which is given once a week. The tea table and the living room were lighted by soft lights and candles. A delightful program came in over the radio during the afternoon to heighten the enjoyment of the tea. Quite a few girls came in to rest and enjoy the tea and music.

DEDICATION NOT AROUSING VERY MUCH INTEREST

Dyer Urges That Students Desiring to Attend Organ Program File Applications.

Professor H. S. Dyer, head of the music department, wishes to urge all students interested in attending the dedication exercises of the new organ to file applications at once, before the end of the present week. It is absolutely necessary to file applications in advance, as all seats will be reserved each night, and no tickets will be obtainable at the door. These blanks for application may be found at the Book Exchange, the Students' Supply Store, the Music building and other places down town and on the campus. All that is necessary is the filling out of a blank for each ticket desired, for the purpose of classification only.

Professor Dyer reports that so far there have been very few requests for tickets for students, most of the blanks coming from faculty members and citizens of Chapel Hill, with quite a number of out-of-town applications, representing over thirty cities throughout North Carolina and Virginia. As the exercises are being held primarily for students, the music department hopes that there will be more interest shown in obtaining tickets than there has been heretofore. The hall will be filled at every performance, and there will be no extra seats at any one ceremony. It is for the purpose of determining the precise number of the audience at each program that these blanks must be turned in this week, and also to avoid too large a crowd at any one performance.

LOCAL DEBATERS NOW PREPARING FOR CAMBRIDGE

British Students Will Divide Interests on Subject of Women in the Home.

Actual preparation for a debate with Cambridge University will be commenced tonight when the debate squad hears L. M. Brooks, assistant professor of sociology, discuss the emergence of woman from the home. The squad will meet in 201 Murphey at 7:30.

In the debate with the British students each side of the question—Resolved, That the emergence of woman from the home is a regrettable feature of modern life—will be upheld by one debater from each school. In his talk tonight, Brooks will bring out the advantages and disadvantages to both women and the home which are the result of woman's advance into the business world. He will trace the movement for the emancipation of women and discuss the attendant changes, such as woman suffrage, that have accompanied woman's emergence.

The debating council has called attention to the fact that women, as well as men, will be eligible to try out for this debate, provided only that they attend the lectures on the subject.

There will be a meeting of the woman's athletic association today, Thursday, October 16, in Spencer hall at 5:00 o'clock.
