

CHEERIO REHEARSAL
3:30 P. M.
KENAN STADIUM

The Daily Tar Heel

DODD ADDRESS TONIGHT
8:00 O'CLOCK
GERRARD HALL

VOLUME XXXIX

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1931

NUMBER 37

GERMAN CLUB HAS ANNUAL ELECTION

Dance Leaders, Commencement Marshals and Ball Managers Are Chosen for Year.

At the annual fall meeting of the German Club of the University yesterday in Gerrard hall plans for the dances of the current school year were discussed, and dance leaders, ball managers and marshals were elected. As usual there was little interest shown, and the nominees were elected with no opposition.

Clyde Dunn was elected to lead the fall dances, with Ed Wood and Henry Anderson as assistants. The mid-winter dances will be led by Bill Dunn, assisted by Lynn Wilder and George Bagby. For the commencement ball Holmes Davis will be chief marshal. Other marshals will be Tom Alexander, Bill Draper, Ed Yarborough, Harry Finch, Tom Shelton, Pat Tillery, and Branch Carr. The commencement ball managers will be Cooper Person, chief, George Moody, Art Sickles, George Thompson, Willis Henderson, Joe Eagles, Alston Watkins, and Beekman Huger.

Immediately following the general meeting, the sophomores and juniors members met separately to formulate plans for their class dances. Bobby Carmichael was elected to lead the sophomore dance, and Arlindo Cate and Herb Newcombe were named as assistants. The juniors elected Bill Bridgers to lead their dance with Walter Crouch and Steve Lynch to assist him. The sophomore and junior dances will be held during the fall and mid-winter sets respectively.

Country Club Gives Hallowe'en Dance

The annual Hallowe'en dance of the local country club was held Wednesday night in the club house from nine to twelve. Music for the occasion was furnished by the Stringfellow orchestra. The affair was attended by approximately seventy-five members, one of the largest crowds in the past few years.

The hall was decorated with corn shocks to give the appearance of harvest-time. A scheme was arranged so that the light in the hall would blink at regular intervals.

Immediately following the intermission a grand-march was held with all couples taking part.

Refreshments consisted of apple cider and doughnuts. Mrs. Harold S. Dyer was in charge of the entertainment, assisted by Mrs. Ernest Mackie and Mrs. J. Fred Dashiell.

Professor Studies Foreign Protozoa

Word has been received from Dr. C. Dale Beers, A. B. 1921, A. M. 1922, associate professor of zoology, who is spending the year at the Kaiser Wilhelm Institute for Research in Biology at Berlin.

Dr. Beers is studying the life cycles of certain protozoa. He carried with him certain uncommon, and predatory American protozoa which he reports are as easily fed with the smaller German forms at home with American animalcules.

Carroll To Meet Freshmen

Dean Carroll will meet the freshmen of the school of commerce in 103 Bingham hall this morning.

Cheerio Rehearsal

The students who have tickets in Section 19, rows A through N will report to Kenan stadium today at 3:30. If those students wish to retain their seats, they will have to report at the stadium. There will be a short workout with the cheerleaders.

VANDALS INJURE LIBRARY OBJECTS

Books and Magazines Are Marked, Deleted, and Stolen.

There seems to have been a good deal of misuse of books in the main library of the University. C. J. McHail, a member of the library staff, has some interesting example of mistreatment of books in the library. A book of English Drama, written by Nathaniel Lee and published in 1733, had a complete play torn out of it. This book was valuable, but now the value is somewhat lessened. It is evident that there are some people who don't like either detective stories or the University library. Here is a quotation which had been typewritten on the title-page, "This is a hell of a detective story book. It is a mystery to me how anyone could go wild over it. The University library is not worth a tinker's dam though."

Some of the folks who don't like books have a sense of humor, however, according to C. J. McHail of the library. Some students borrowed a book entitled Traveling Through Asia. When the book was returned, this addition had been inked after the title, "on a Mule." Rafael Sabatini's Carolinian had so many pages torn from it that it had to be discarded. Then there are the persons who like to underscore and underline statements in books. Such people will sometimes ruin a book by making marks on practically every page.

The books which contain handsome plates and engravings are often minus the plates or engravings on being returned to the library. Then there is the problem of those books which are considered "hot" or "darling." These books are usually stolen, if they are not closely watched. Even reference books are not immune from mutilation. Certain volumes of encyclopedias have been badly marked.

Magazines are taken from the reading room and articles are clipped from them. According to several people in the student body it is quite correct to form a personal library from the books which can be stolen from the University.

BYRD FILM FEATURES BENEFIT PERFORMANCE

Under the auspices of the Leonidas Pope chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy a return showing of the Admiral Byrd film taken in the antarctic regions, "With Byrd At The South Pole," will be featured at the Carolina theatre on Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock. The admission is free, but a collection will be taken up to aid in forming a scholarship for some worthy high school graduate of 1931.

The members of the local chapter are also giving a Hallowe'en festival at the Tin Can tonight, to aid them in raising funds for this purpose.

PLAYMAKER CASTING ANTICS ARE SOURCE OF AMUSEMENT FOR ALL

Prof's Puns, Selden's Golden Voice, Prospective Algernons and Jacks, Peculiar English Accents, Together With Nervous Freshmen Awed by Sacred Playmakers Considered Great Fun by Spectators.

By F. Otto James

With all due respect to, and reverence for the fine work that Prof. Koch and his associates, Mr. Selden and Mr. Westerman are doing at the Playmaker theatre, students who wish to see an as-yet-unexploited, entertaining, extra-curricula activity are urged to be present hereafter at the try-outs for the plays.

Last Wednesday night, all the aspiring dramatic renderers into North Carolinian of fine old British dramas were on hand—most of them with that sinking feeling at the pit of the stomach, which comes to each and every one of us, while a few were wrapped in the beautiful sheath of self-confidence and knowledge that comes only with experience as a former Playmaker, or a graduate student in English. Many of them there were too, who patiently waiting their turn, tried to appear unconcerned and used to it all, as they nervously fingered the pledge pins on their coat lapels, and dreamt longingly of those first nights when the Tobacco-ville High School Dramatic Association's presentation of "Come out of the Kitchen" was applauded as the finest ever seen in Pristine county.

After a delightful reading of part of the first scene by "Prof", the real business of finding players for the roles of Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest" began. Although many had come there, not more than half present arose when Mr. Selden in a golden voice requested all those who were embryonic Algernons or Jacks (leading male characters), to please form a line against the wall. Perhaps it was Mr. Koch's interpretation of the last word in the decadent drama of the "fin de siecle" that caused a sort of withdrawal, or thinning of the ranks, for while only one young hopeful inquired of the Tar Heel's learned reporter just what this play was about, there were probably others who could not but feel great consternation when they heard a reading of a very, sophisticated, witty, "ultra-ultra" play, of the most affected and pseudo-aesthetic high society in England during the last years of what Leon Daudet called "that terrible 19th century." After all, the Carolina Playmakers are famed

(Continued on page two)

Program Of Education Conference

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 31

Nine-thirty a. m.—Gerrard Hall

Presiding: Professor E. C. Branson, of the University of North Carolina.

"Aspects of Regional Economic and Social Change," members of the staff of the institute for research in social science.

"Human Aspects of the Geography of the American South," by Dr. Rupert Vance, research associate. "Income and Wages in the South," by Dr. Clarence Heer, research professor.

"Problems for Southern Co-operatives," by Dr. T. J. Wooster, Jr., research professor.

Twelve-thirty p. m.—Carolina Inn

Presiding: Mr. Frank Page, vice-president of the Wachovia Bank and Trust Company.

Luncheon discussion on "The College Graduate and Southern Industry."

"The Georgia College Placement Bureau and Its Value to Industry," by Mr. W. Henry Smith, junior vice-president of the Retail Credit Company, Atlanta.

"The College Graduate's Value to Industry," General Robert I. Rees, American Telephone and Telegraph Company, New York City

Two-thirty p. m.—Gerrard Hall

Presiding: Professor Benjamin B. Kendrick, of the North Carolina College for Women.

"Problems of Industrial Adjustment," by Miss Harriet Herring, research associate.

"Aspects of Crime and Prison Administration," by Dr. Roy Brown, research associate.

"Changing Problems in Race Adjustment," by Dr. Guy B. Johnson, research associate.

"The South's Changing Attitude Toward Women," by Mrs. Julia Spruill, research assistant.

Eight p. m.—Gerrard Hall

Presiding: President M. L. Brittain, the Georgia School of Technology, Atlanta.

Address: "The University and the Public," by Professor William E. Dodd, the University of Chicago.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 1

Nine-thirty a. m.—Gerrard Hall

Presiding: President F. P. Gaines, Washington and Lee University.

Symposium on "Education in a Changing Economic Order."

Address: Dr. John W. Abercrombie, vice-president of the National Education Association, and assistant state superintendent of Alabama.

Address: President N. R. Crosier, department of superintendence, National Education Association, and superintendent of schools, Dallas, Texas.

Address: Professor Edward H. Reiser, Teachers College, Columbia University.

Two-thirty p. m.—The Kenan Memorial Stadium

Carolina-Georgia Tech football game.

Eight-thirty p. m.—The Playmaker Theatre

Carolina Folk-Plays, the Carolina Playmakers, Professor Frederick H. Koch, director.

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 2

Eleven a. m.—Chapel Hill Methodist Church

Sermon: "Social Intelligence and Spiritual Dynamic." Dr. Reinhold Neibuhr, the Union Theological Seminary, New York City.

Society To Meet

General R. I. Rees, assistant vice-president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company of New York will speak before the Taylor Society tonight in Bingham hall at 7 o'clock.

General Rees will discuss in general modern management and outstanding phases of big concerns.

General Rees comes here as the first speaker of the year for the Taylor Society which was organized three years ago.

The meeting will be open to all who wish to hear him.

EHRINGHAUS TO ADDRESS RALLY

Orange County Democrats Meet In Pickwick Theatre Saturday Night.

Preparations for the monster Democratic rally to be held here at eight o'clock Saturday night, November 1, in the old Pickwick theatre building are about complete, Ray Farris, field secretary of the Young People's Democratic League of North Carolina, said yesterday. Mr. J. C. B. Ehringhaus, prominent Democratic leader and an alumnus of the University, will deliver the principal address.

Ehringhaus is an able and eloquent speaker, and Farris is planning to have as many students as possible who are eligible to vote attend the meeting. The speaker has been active in support of Josiah W. Bailey, Democratic senatorial candidate, during this campaign and has drawn large audiences wherever he has spoken. Farris states that Ehringhaus will not speak at length but will make his talk brief and direct. The topic of his speech has not been announced but he is expected to discuss the record of the present Republican administration and of the Republican party in general. Farris is endeavoring to awaken on the campus a sense of political consciousness which, according to the former student body president, is sadly lacking. He urgently requests that all interested students attend the rally, for an interesting program has been arranged.

High Point College To Have New Head

Dr. G. I. Humphreys will be inaugurated as president of High Point College on November 15. Frank Porter Graham, president-elect of the University of North Carolina, has been chosen to represent all the state supported institutions, and Dr. Walter L. Lingle, president of Davidson college, will attend the inauguration as representative of the denominational schools in the state.

Following the inaugural ceremony the High Point College football team will meet the Appalachian State Teachers College at Willis park. Luncheon will be served the guests at the school dining room, for which a large number of reservations have been mailed in.

H. V. Wilson Honored

Professor H. V. Wilson, member of the National Academy of Sciences and of the National Research Council, has recently been placed on the executive committee of the Biology and Agriculture division of the Council.

PLAYMAKER CAST IS SELECTED FOR NEW PRODUCTION

Guest Performance of Two Plays Will Be Given Saturday Night.

The cast for the Carolina Playmakers' second production of the year, which is to be Oscar Wilde's highly amusing comedy of London society, "The Importance of Being Earnest," was selected last night following try-outs for the parts.

The play will be produced in the theatre on the evenings of December 11, 12, and 13.

The cast selected is strictly tentative and subject to changes within the period of the first few rehearsals: Algernon, Mr. Barnes and Mr. Figgat; Jack, Mr. Wood; Gwendolyn, Miss Stewart; Cecily, Miss Daniel; Miss Prism, Miss Hudson; Rev. Canon Chasuble, Mr. Herman and Mr. Loy; Lady Bracknell, Miss Crook and Miss Jones; Lane, Mr. Oettinger; Merriman, Mr. Grotyohann.

The first rehearsal of the play will be called at 7:30 Monday evening in the Playmakers Theatre.

A guest performance will be given the members of the Educational Association Saturday evening. Two plays, "Git Up and Bar The Door," and "Cloy," which comprise part of the first bill of the Playmakers' 1930-31 schedule, will be presented. They will be officially presented next week on the evenings of November 6, 7, and 8.

Glee Club To Sing At Education Meet

Dr. H. S. Dyer of the music department announces that the university Glee Club will sing for the Southern Conference on Education at the Methodist Church on Sunday. Professor Kennedy will be the accompanist and Dr. Dyer will direct.

Dr. Dyer states that there are less than one hundred seats left for the organ performance on Saturday, November 15. Seats for the performance on the fourteenth have been given away for ten days. If people were unable to make applications, in spite of the announcement that the house is full, Dr. Dyer says that Mr. Eigenschenk, who will play the organ on Friday and Saturday, will give a third performance on Sunday afternoon, in the event that there shall be applications to the excess of the capacity for the first two days.

Tickets will continue to be given out in the order of application. Students who made applications can get their tickets at the Music Department, room 1.

CAIN SOCIETY MEETS

The William Cain society had its regular meeting last night at 7:30 in Phillips hall. The presentation of moving pictures on the subject of "Blasting the Water Highways of America" was the central theme of the program.

F. C. Cain, a sophomore in the school of civil engineering, was elected secretary of the society for the coming year.

No Chapel

There will be no chapel today due to the fact that the Southern Educational Conference is meeting in Gerrard hall at chapel period.