STUDENT MEETING TO BE CONDUCTED HERE THIS WEEK

Complete Program for Fourth Annual Congress of Student Federation Announced.

The complete program for the fourth annual congress of the North Carolina Federation of Students, which is to convene at the University Friday and Saturday of this week, was announced here yesterday.

Activities of the session will begin Friday morning with the registration of delegates in the lobby of Graham Memorial at 10:00 o'clock, and will be continued with a meeting of the executive committee 11:00 o'clock in the student government office on the second floor of the building.

Formal Opening

The formal opening of the congress will take place at a luncheon in the banquet hall of the union building, when President Frank P. Graham delivers the welcoming address.

Features of the plenary session to be conducted in room 211 at 2:00 o'clock Friday afternoon include a talk by Haywood Weeks, president of the group, on the history of the federation; the report of the treasurer, Mary Catherine Siewers; and circulation of a questionnaire.

The presentation of the Institute of Government at 3:00 o'clock by Professor Albert Coates will follow, and the delegates will be entertained at the Carolina-Virginia baseball game at 4:00 o'clock on Emerson field. Friday evening's program begins with a dinner in Graham

POLLS OPEN FOR CITY ELECTIONS

Votes for Municipal Officials to Be Cast in High School Tin Can Today.

Polls for municipal elections in Chapel Hill will be open today at the high school Tin Can between the hours of 8:00 and 6:53 o'clock, and there local voters will go to elect officials for the next term—mayor, judge of recorder's court, and three aldermen.

The mayoralty candidates who have already signified intention to run are: Zeb Council, incumbent; John Foushee, former city manager; and B. J. Howard.

Two men have entered the race for the judgeship of the local court, Odell Sapp and L. J. Phipps. C. P. Hinshaw, present recorder, has declared that he will not be in the contest today.

Aldermen Unopposed

No opposition has been forthcoming to the re-election of the three aldermen who are serving on the city council at present. The present officeholders are M. E. Hogan, Clyde Eubanks, and J. T. Dobbins.

Last week the board of aldermen reduced the mayor's salary from $270 to $100 yearly, passing the ordinance before the election, so that the candidates might decide whether the reward was enough to warrant contesting for the position. In making the salary reduction, the board took the position that the duties of mayor have largely been taken over by the city manager, judge of recorder's court, and city accountant.

Kay Kyser Believes Cheerleaders Should Be Given Added Rewards

JESSE GRIER TO START DEVOTIONS

Continuing optional devotions given at 10:30 o'clock Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays in Memorial hall, Jesse Grier, president-elect of the sophomore cabinet, will lead this morning. Walter Patterson, University organist, will play.

Butler French will lead the program Wednesday and Jesse Parker, Thursday. For next week the leaders will be Pardner James, Charles Bond, and Sherwood Barefoot. For the following week John Acee, Bill Minor, and Jack Poole.

Some added progress in the devotion effort by the Y. M. C. A. was shown in the programs last week, according to leaders in the movement. Promising indications, according to the leaders, is the fact that those attending have been varying in attendance, the movement touching many students despite small daily numbers.

The programs continue to consume only ten minutes at the beginning of assembly period.

FESTIVAL EVENT WINNERS CHOSEN

Dogwood Furnished Motif for Most of 1,500 Articles Entered in Display.

Winners of prizes in some twenty-five arts and crafts exhibits of the Dogwood Festival were announced Sunday night. Dogwood was the motif used in most of the designs on more than 1500 articles which composed the exhibit.

The winners in each division of the exhibit, which offered specimens of native North Carolina creative arts, were the following: In pewter, Ralph Morgan of Penland and J. E. Lear of Chapel Hill; hammered silver, H. C. Ford of Penland; wrought iron, Daniel Boone V of Burnsville; hammered brass, N. C. Ford of Penland; leather tooling, John Morgan of Penland; articles made of corn shuck, an Allanstand Industries student; baskets, Joe Mason of Chapel Hill; wood printing, Jack Dendy of Chapel Hill and Boone Saunders of Durham.

Further Winnings

Louise Bernhardt Sings Here May 10

Louise Bernhardt, nationally known contralto, will sing here May 10 in Memorial hall, presented on the student entertainment program for the spring quarter.

Miss Bernhardt, originally of Connecticut, was winner last year of the Federation of Music Clubs' national contest at San Francisco, and has since appeared in concert tours. She was for three seasons connected with the Chicago Civic Opera company.

Declares Lack of Higher Reward For Cheerleading Keeps Best Men From Going Out.

"I don't think the compensation for cheerleading is great enough to get the right caliber of man for the job," says Kay Kyser, remembered as the greatest cheerleader Carolina has had in recent years. Kay, with the band which he organized here, played here last week-end for the May Frolic and presented a concert for the benefit of the student loan fund Sunday afternoon.

"The problem of getting increased interest in cheering is one that I don't know exactly how to solve," Kay said Saturday. "The same situation exists in every school that I have visited. The day of the 'good old school spirit' is past. The success of cheering depends upon the personality of the cheerleader. He must be able to demand the respect of the students and be capable of putting on an exhibition that they will enjoy and not ridicule, even they do not participate enthusiastically.

"The type of man who could make a success as a cheerleader won't go out because the reward is not as great as he would get in some other activity. Take my case. The job was thrust on me. I ran for president of the senior class and was beaten. Then they made me cheerleader," Kyser continued.

Would Increase Rewards

Since the average student body's attitude towards cheering has a slight touch of ridicule, Kay's suggestion for the improvement of cheering at the University is to increase the rewards for cheering. If cheerleaders are given a varsity monogram and properly recognized, a higher type of campus leader

Three Point Two Arrives At Hill Students Keep Dispensers Busy

Beer came to Chapel Hill early yesterday morning. Promptly at the stroke of midnight, bells tolled forth, marking the end of exactly a quarter century of prohibition in the state. At 12:01 Chapel Hill was initiated in drinking its first glass of legal beer in more than a century.

In expectation of the much-ballyhooed event, crowds had congregated on Franklin street before those places displaying the notice "3.2 sold here." Good-naturedly the would-be tipplers discussed such abstract topics as the quality of the foaming liquid, the possibilities of the installing of free lunch counters, and the inebriating qualities of "4 percent by volume."

Vendors Busy

The ringing of the bells was the signal for rushes, rushes reminiscent of One-eyed Connellys at football games. In no time at all Gooch's biergarten, the Smoke Shop bar, and Harry's hofbrau were filled to overflowing. Strong arms at the door were required to hold the latecomers from over-crowding these places. Whenever one person left, another was let in.

Tables formerly accommodating four were made to hold six. The supplies of pretzels, given free with every drink, soon were

REPORT RELEASED ON FROSH SURVEY

Statistics Show Time, Collier's, Buccaneer, Tar Heel and Dailies Read Regularly.

Harry F. Comer, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., yesterday spoke to the freshmen at assembly period on "What the Freshman Reads." Into his talk he incorporated the statistics taken each year by a committee composed of three freshmen and three faculty members, which lists the reading matter of three types of freshmen.

Comer stated that Time, Collier's, and the Buccaneer are the only three magazines that freshmen of all types of readers read regularly. The American magazine and Judge are read regularly by the highest and average freshman readers, but not by the lowest type. Magazines read only by the highest type reader, according to the survey are: the Literary Digest, Atlantic, Harper's, Scribner's, Forum, Vanity Fair, and College Humor.

All Read Daily Papers

Among newspapers, according to the survey, the DAILY TAR HEEL tops the list of regularly read newspapers by all classes of readers. A daily paper is also read by all classes, but there is no one set paper. The New York Times is read regularly by only the two highest types of readers.

Only the highest type of readers, states the survey, reads any type of novel regularly, and among them modern novels, biography, and books on social and economic problems are read most often. The Bible is listed as occasional reading for all classes of readers. Sex literature and mystery stories are supposedly not read at all by any type of reader. This survey was made on the members of the class of 1935, the present sophomore class.

Juniors Vote To Break Bert Lown's Contract

The members of the band will meet in the auditorium of Hill Music hall tonight at 7:00 o'clock to have a picture of the group taken for the Yackety Yack. It is absolutely imperative that all members of the organization attend and that they come attired in tuxedos.

This is a last minute picture and unless it is taken tonight it will be impossible for the staff of the publication to run the picture in this year's annual. Editor Nutt Parsley is particularly anxious that the group have its page in the book this year and it will be impossible unless the picture is taken tonight.

Other dates have been set for the picture to be taken, but a representative group has not turned out and it has been necessary to set this last deadline for the picture. Claude Sawyer requests that every member of the band be present in order to assure a representative picture of the group.

FIVE GROUPS TO SPONSOR DANCES

Phi Kappa Sigma, Kappa Alpha, Tau Epsilon Phi, Co-eds, and Grail Schedule Affairs.

Continuing the full social schedule of the spring quarter where the May Frolics left off, five campus organizations will give dances Friday and Saturday of this week. Seven dances in all will take place on the campus during the week-end.

Phi Kappa Sigma and Kappa Alpha fraternities will entertain jointly with two dances in connection with house parties which they are planning. The co-eds' quarterly dance will come Friday night, and the Grail dance honoring new members Saturday, preceded by the annual dances of the Di and Phi. Tau Epsilon Phi fraternity will also give two dances.

The dances given jointly by Phi Kappa Sigma and Kappa Alpha will take place in the Carolina Inn Friday night and Saturday afternoon. Jelly Leitch and his orchestra will play for these dances. These fraternities will also give house parties during the week-end to which a great many attractive young ladies have been invited.

The annual co-ed dance will take place Friday night in Bynum gymnasium with Archie Davis' orchestra furnishing the

Phi Discusses Dance Preparations Tonight

The Phi Assembly will meet tonight at 7:15 in New East to discuss the following bills: Resolved: That the junior-senior dance committee's action in providing for expensive entertainments be condemned; Resolved: That Louisiana citizens' petition to oust Senator Huey Long be condemned; and Resolved: That optional subscription to the Buccaneer or its abolishment be favored.

Announcement of plans for the joint Phi and Di dance will be made by J. P. Temple, treasurer of the society.

Action Comes as Result of Proposal by Committees for Extra Levy on Dance Bids.

DECLARE CHARGE UNFAIR

Boyles Appoints Committee to Investigate Legality of Action of Class on Matter.

One hundred juniors in loud and angry protest at a class meeting last night in Gerrard hall voted almost unanimously to break the contract between the junior and senior classes and Bert Lown, dance orchestra leader, in connection with Lown's furnishing the music for the annual Junior-Senior dance set May 12 and 13.

The action of the third-year class came as a result of an additional levy of 50 cents which was proposed to be placed on all dance bids last week by the executive committees of the two classes. The juniors resented the charge as being unfair in that it was proposed not because of a financial deficiency of their own, but of the senior class.

Action Unexpected

The meeting was called by President Clyde Boyles of the juniors last Saturday to hear the class opinion on the levy matter. The breaking of the Lown contract was unexpected, though thoroughly convincing.

The class also voted that it will not pay more than $300 as their share in any orchestral negotiations and unanimously passed another motion to the effect that no contract can be made with any bands without the official sanction of the class.

STAFF DIVISIONS CONVENE TODAY

Candidates for Reportorial Positions to Meet With Editor At 2:30 O'clock.

The weekly meetings of the various departments of the staff of the DAILY TAR HEEL will be conducted this afternoon at the office of the publication in Graham Memorial.

Reporters will meet with the editor and managing editor at 2:30 o'clock. At that time, new beats, which are effective today, will be announced. During the past week, several vacancies have developed on the reportorial staff, and candidates for positions are asked to attend today's meeting.

The feature board will meet with the chairman at 2:30 also. All candidates as well as members are requested to be present at the gathering.

At 3:00 o'clock, all city editors and desk men will meet. Announcements concerning desk work and progress in the competition for places on the city desk will be made at that time.

Members of the editorial board will gather for a conference with the editor at 3:30 o'clock.

Crane to Speak

Dr. Harry W. Crane of the University psychology department is holding a clinic sponsored by the Junior Women's Club in Winston-Salem today and tomorrow. Tomorrow he will speak before the four child's study groups on "Factors Influencing Personality Development."
