PRESIDENT GIVES COMPLETE PLANS FOR FINAL WEEK

Cate Outlines Program of Commencement to Seniors at Meeting Last Night.

The complete program for the 1933 commencement was announced last night by President Arlindo Cate at a meeting of the senior class in Gerrard hall which officially inaugurated senior week.

The combined exercises as announced will last only three days this year. They covered four last year.

Meeting Follows Vespers

Cate stated before giving the commencement details that immediately following the senior vespers service tonight at 7:00 o'clock in Gerrard hall a meeting of the fourth-year group will take place. More information regarding the dance bids will be forthcoming at that time.

The vespers will be conducted by Professor Horace H. Williams of the philosophy department. Dr. Williams' service is an annual feature of senior week.

Cate also announced that the diploma fee has been reduced to five dollars. The regular charge in the Association of American Universities is twenty-five dollars.

The seniors will be guests at a free show tonight of E. Carraway Smith, manager of the Carolina theatre, at 11:00 o'clock. Only seniors in class sweaters will be admitted.

Commencement Program

On Sunday, June 4, the commencement exercises will begin with the Baccalaureate sermon in Memorial hall at 11:00 (Continued on last page)

LAST RITES HELD FOR BILL ROBERTS

Fraternity Brothers Attend Services at Home of Student in Marshall.

Funeral services for Bill Roberts, popular University student who was killed in an automobile accident Saturday night, were conducted yesterday at Marshall, his home. A group of members of Beta Theta Pi, Roberts' fraternity, attended the rites.

The car in which Roberts was riding struck a car near Hope Valley, and he was thrown from the machine. The other members of the party were not seriously hurt.

Roberts' remains were sent home Sunday accompanied by Henry Anderson, his fraternity brother, who awaited the group that attended his funeral.

Roberts was well-known about the campus, having participated actively during his college career in extra-curricular organizations. As a freshman and sophomore he was a prominent member of the Y. M. C. A. cabinets and of the TAR HEEL staff, and his scholarship ranking was well above average.

Ralph Myers, driver of the automobile, and Miss Verdine Lavesque of Durham, were discharged from Duke hospital yesterday afternoon. Attaches at the institution reported that John Boynton, who was also in the car, spent a comfortable day.

Students In Accident Reported Improving

Miss Dorothy Norman and D. Allen Green, University students injured Friday night when the car in which they were riding skidded into a ditch on the Raleigh road, were reported as showing considerable improvement yesterday at Watts hospital in Durham.

Miss Norman's back was injured, painfully but not seriously, and she suffered minor cuts and bruises. Green was badly shaken up in the accident.

Officer John N. Blake, University policeman, also in Watts hospital, was said to be getting along nicely.

SCIENCE ACADEMY TO CONVENE HERE

1934 Meeting of North Carolina Scientists Will Meet in Chapel Hill.

The North Carolina Academy of Science will meet in Chapel Hill next year, it was decided at the meeting at Davidson Saturday.

The officers for the year 1934 were elected at the closing session. B. W. Wells, professor of botany at State College, was elected president of the academy, and Miss Helen Barton, professor of mathematics at the Woman's College of the University, was elected vice-president. H. L. Bloomquist, professor of botany at Duke University, was elected secretary-treasurer. The executive committee for the coming year, in addition to the officers mentioned above, is composed of F. W. Sherwood of the state experiment station, E. T. Browne, professor of mathematics in the University, and Charles Heck, professor of physics at State College.

The officers of the chemistry section are H. D. Crookford of the University, chairman, J. E. Saylor of Duke, vice-chairman, R. W. Bost of the University, secretary and treasurer, and N. Isbell of Wake Forest, councillor.

The officers for the mathematics section are E. L. Mackie, chairman, and E. R. C. Miles, secretary; for the physics section, E. K. Plyler of the University, chairman, and C. C. Warfield, secretary.

C. F. Korstion, professor of forestry at Duke University, was selected as representative to the American Association of the Academies of Science.

The silver loving cup, the high school prize given by the academy, was won by Lane Barksdale of the Greensboro high school. His essay was entitled "Orchid Hunting in Guilford County."

In addition to the election of officers, 31 new members were elected to the academy.

DANCE LEADERS TO MEET IN GERRARD

A meeting of the eighteen men who have been selected to lead the Junior-Senior dances this week-end has been called by Lindy Cate, president of the senior class, at chapel period this morning in Gerrard hall. Some time ago the class of '33 and '34 each chose nine representatives to serve as dance leaders and all these students are urged to attend this short but important meeting.

FAMOUS SINGER TO APPEAR HERE

Louise Bernhardt, Operatic Star, Sings in Last Student Entertainment Program.

Louise Bernhardt, celebrated American contralto and former Chicago Civic Opera star, will sing here at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow night in Memorial hall, as a feature on the student entertainment program.

Tickets for the program, other than student entertainment tickets, have been reduced from $1.00 to $.50 and will be on sale in the office of Dean A. W. Hobbs today and tomorrow. Prize Winner

Miss Bernhardt, of Connecticut, has been winner in the National Federation of Music Clubs contest in 1931 and of the Walter W. Naumberg musical foundation prize the previous year. She was a member of the Chicago Civic Opera company for a season and of the American Opera for three seasons.

During the past two years Miss Bernhardt has made three coast-to-coast tours, appearing in some eighty concerts. Throughout the tours she has received generous praise from an enthusiastic press.

Miss Bernhardt has been repeatedly praised for her dramatic ability, acquired during operatic experience, with which she enlivens her concerts. Audiences are delighted by her charming stage presence as well as by the rich tonal quality and control of her voice.

"The youthful, slender, blond singer presents a figure of more than usual dignity and poise," the Herald Tribune wrote after a recital in New York. "Miss Bernhardt's voice is one of considerable volume and flexibility. It is warm in timbre and of good range. Her phrasing is always intelligent and in good taste."

PARKER INDUCTED INTO MEMBERSHIP OF LEGAL GROUP

Four Former Members Assist in Initiation of Circuit Court Judge.

The Honorable John J. Parker, judge of the fourth circuit of the United States circuit court of appeals, was initiated last night into honorary membership in Vance Inn chapter of Phi Delta Phi, international legal fraternity.

Four former members of the organization aided in conducting Judge Parker's initiation. They were: Associate Justice George Connor of the North Carolina supreme court; Henry M. London, secretary of the North Carolina Bar association; J. Will Pless, member of the national council of Phi Delta Phi; and Dr. A. C. McIntosh of the University law faculty.

A banquet at the Carolina Inn for visiting members of Hughes Inn of Phi Delta Phi from Duke followed the initiation. At that time, Judge Parker was welcomed by Pless. The new member of the group delivered the principal address.

Spann To Speak

The Chapel Hill branch of the American Association of University Women meets as usual tonight at 8:00 at the parish house of the Episcopal church. Dr. Meno Spann will speak on "The Present Situation in Germany."

DANCE BIDS MAY BE BOUGHT TODAY

Sale of Invitations to Students Other Than Juniors and Seniors on at Y.

Students of the University other than juniors and seniors may purchase bids to the annual Junior-Senior dance set for $1.50. The sale of these bids will be conducted in the lobby of the Y. M. C. A. today and tomorrow.

The time for the sale of the bids will be during chapel period today and tomorrow, and from 2:00 to 5:00 o'clock on both of these days. The money obtained from the sale of these bids will be used to help defray the senior's share of the expenses of the dances according to a plan adopted by the classes.

Seniors Pay 50 Cents

Juniors and seniors will obtain their bids in the Y lobby tomorrow, Thursday, and Friday. Invitations will be given out to the members of these classes at chapel period on these two days and also from 1:30 to 5:30 o'clock Thursday and from 2:00 to 4:00 Friday. Seniors will be required to pay a fee of 50 cents in order to receive their bids.

This annual series of dances will take place Friday and Saturday of this week and will include three dances. The junior prom opens the set Friday night, 9:00 to 1:00 o'clock, in the Tin Can. Saturday, there will be a tea dance 4:00 to 7:00 o'clock and the senior ball comes that night, 9:00 to 12:00 o'clock.

Bert Lown and his nationally known orchestra will furnish the music for all the dances. His orchestra is now playing an engagement at the Park Central hotel in New York and is generally considered one of the finest dance bands in the country.

THOR JOHNSON TO DIRECT CONCERT OF SALON GROUP

Presentation Will Be Made Tonight at Prospect Hill High School.

The Carolina Salon Ensemble, under the direction of Thor Johnson, will appear in a concert in the Prospect Hill high school auditorium tonight at 7:30 o'clock. The recital is sponsored by the Parent-Teacher association there and was arranged by the school principal, H. McSwain, an alumnus of the University.

The appearance will be in the form of a lecture concert in which Johnson will point out the uses of each instrument in the orchestra. Burke Smith, flutist, Harry Lee Knox, pianist, and Raymond Brietz, baritone, will perform as soloists. Knox will play the solo part of Hazelman's Grainger in the Mountains.

The complete program is as follows: Fandole, from the Arlesienne Suite No. 2 by Bizet; Mountain Song by Stringfield; Ungarische Melodie by Keller Bella; Aubade, from Le Cid by Massenet; and Prelude du Deluge by Saint-Saens.

HALL PRESENTS NEGRO MORALITY DRAMA TONIGHT

Trained Cast of Thirty Students Will Be Assisted by Local Chorus.

The production, Pearly Gates, will be presented tonight in Memorial hall at 8:30 o'clock by students from Clark University and the Gammon Theological seminary in Atlanta, Georgia. Aside from the cast of thirty students, there will be a negro chorus selected from Chapel Hill and Durham.

Pearly Gates is based on the negro spiritual and is written and directed by Professor Frederick Hall of Clark University. Professor Hall is widely known among negro musical teachers and is head of the departments of music in Clark University and Gammon Theological seminary.

The musical morality play strives to intensify the meaning of the spiritual through songs and pantomime, and to outline more clearly the religious beliefs and the simple philosophies of those who originated them.

The play is divided into three scenes: the first shows a street near the meeting ground of a revival; the second is at the revival ground where the negro chorus gets into full swing; and the last portrays the Celestial City as the darkies see it. The negro chorus is on the stage throughout the play, as spirituals are sung at frequent intervals.

The drama is being presented by the University Y. M. C. A. as the year's feature program under the committee on race study and inter-racial cooperation.

LITERARY CRITIC SPEAKS TONIGHT

Mrs. May Lamberton Becker, Well Known Author, to Give Lecture.

Under the auspices of the school of library science Mrs. May Lamberton Becker, authoress, critic and lecturer, will speak tonight at 7:30 o'clock in Gerrard hall on "The Important New Books."

Mrs. Becker is the authoress of Adventures in Reading and other standard guides in reading, editor of a collection of stories, which includes Golden Tales from the Old South, and conductor of a column in the Saturday Review of Literature.

At a meeting this afternoon, Mrs. Becker will speak on "Literature for Young People."

Tomorrow at the meeting of the North Carolina Library association convening at the Women's College in Greensboro, her talk at a dinner meeting will be upon "Books and Plays for a Changing World."

DAILY TAR HEEL STAFF WILL CONVENE TODAY

Regular meetings of two divisions of the DAILY TAR HEEL staff will be conducted this afternoon at the office in Graham Memorial.

Members of the reportorial staff will gather at 3:00 o'clock, and city editors and desk men will meet at 3:30 o'clock. Attendance at these meetings will be required.
