

PLAN CONSIDERED FOR WOMEN'S USE OF GRAHAM DORM

University Officials Working on Idea Following Suggestions By Departmental Heads.

The possibility of allowing women teachers and welfare workers to room in Graham dormitory is being considered by the University administration according to reports by University officials yesterday.

The idea follows suggestions from the school of education and the department of public administration that some forty women students in the two schools are in need of cheaper rooms.

A number of women teachers who have come to Chapel Hill to study under the recently adopted plan for unemployed teachers of the state or women who are studying relief welfare work in the school of public administration are in need of cheaper rooms than can be secured elsewhere in Chapel Hill. Since Graham dormitory is at present vacant, it has been suggested that the women may use rooms on the second floor of that dormitory in the eastern end of the building, where they would be sufficiently secluded from the two men's dormitories at the western end of the new quadrangle.

In discussing the possibility of the plan yesterday, Dean F. F. Bradshaw remarked that the dormitory has been occupied before by women during the high school debating contests conducted here last year.

NO SMUT OR FILTH WILL BE PRINTED IN NEW BUCCANEER

Pete Ivey Says, "Anyone Can Make a Dirty Joke," But It Takes Wit to Be Clever.

Pete Ivey, editor of the Carolina Buccaneer for 1933, yesterday in a special TAR HEEL interview expressed his plans and aims for the year. The first issue of the magazine will appear October 15.

"The first aim of the Buccaneer," began Ivey, "will be to print material as funny as possible instead of having its aim the printing of material having filth as its chief attraction. In my opinion, a joke can be funny without being dirty. Anyone can make a dirty joke, but it takes real wit and concentration to create something clever. No material will be accepted that has smut as its chief appeal."

"Freshmen will have just as much chance on the Buccaneer staff as upperclassmen. The quality of the contributions is the only consideration. The positions of Associate and Assistant Editor are tentative, and the jobs are likely to be filled by more industrious members of the staff if their work merits it."

"It is the object of the Buccaneer to represent the whole of the student body. The women of the campus will be represented by a special Co-ed Number. The faculty will be recognized in a Faculty Number. Athletics, fraternities, professional and graduate students, the general student body, and the publications will all be mentioned throughout the year."

865 BAD CHECKS GIVEN LAST YEAR

Herbert Taylor, Bad Check Man, Issues Report of Committee On Student Violations.

A report yesterday by Herbert Taylor, chairman of the bad check committee, revealed that a total of 865 checks were returned on students last year. The total amount involved was $6,422.29.

The number of checks and the amount are about one-half of the totals for the preceding year.

During the year, one student was suspended for a violation of the check regulations, four were given suspended sentences, and twenty-two were put on probation by the chairman of the committee.

Holiday Interrupts

Normal functions were interrupted by the banking holiday but the situation here did not assume a dangerous aspect due to the cooperation of students and townspeople. To date all but three of the checks issued during the holiday have been taken up.

According to Taylor, many of the check misdemeanors are caused by the ignorance of students in the matter. The rules this year remain unchanged.

Causes Given

On a careful check-up, the following causes were given by Taylor for the return of student checks: the banking holiday, which was responsible for approximately one-third of the total, mistakes about deposits and checks from home, which accounted for another fifth of the amount, failure to keep accurate records, make out checks properly, or keep dates straight, intentional offenses, fault of the payee, forgeries, ignorance of bank regulations, and fault of the bank.

BULL'S HEAD HAS VARIED PROGRAM

Book Auctions and Lectures Will Be High Spots on the Season's Schedule.

The Bull's Head Bookshop, situated in the Y. M. C. A. building, has received several new books and expects another shipment soon to complete the quota for the fall quarter.

The Bull's Head is both a bookshop and rental library, sponsored by the English department. Mr. Coffman, head of that department, and Miss Mary Dirnberger, manager of the shop, are anxious to have the students know that the Bull's Head is a place to which all students may feel welcome to come, not only to buy books, but also to listen to the lectures and readings which are a part of the season's program. Dr. Spann of the German department will be one of the speakers. These lectures will cover poetry, new plays, etc., and will include the latest in their lines.

The shop has just been remodeled, and several new shelves have been installed on which the exhibit of new books from the Carolina Press are placed. A complete series of Modern Library books at the shop are available at all times. There will also be an exhibit of pictures some time in the near future. Some of the pictures dis-

SIXTY-SIX BAND MEMBERS REPORT

Sixty-six men reported for the initial rehearsal of the University band Monday evening, according to the report of Professor Earl Slocum, recently appointed director of that organization.

The band will begin rehearsing tomorrow night in the Tin Can in preparation for its marching formations to be used in the Davidson game Saturday and throughout the season.

In the winter quarter a group of about 40 will be selected from the marching band to form the organization which will present a series of concerts during the remainder of the year.

PLAYMAKERS GET PLAY ROYALTIES

Plays by 12 Authors Receive Impressive Popularity in All Sections of Country.

Royalty reports on productions of "The Carolina Playmakers" during the past six months have just been received by Professor Frederick H. Koch. Authors' royalties for more than 30 performances of Carolina plays in almost as many different cities have been received.

Professor Koch acts as agent for the Playmaker authors, and checks have just been passed on from his office to 12 former Carolina Playmakers.

Productions are widespread. "In Dixon's Kitchen," a comedy written by Wilbur Stout of Burlington, and one of the Playmakers most successful touring shows, continues to be a very popular one of the published plays. "Job's Kinsfolks," by Loretto Bailey, of Chapel Hill, has been seen in New York City, and Santa Barbara, Sierra Madre, and Los Angeles, California. "Caius and Caius, Jr.," written by Miss Lucy Cobb of Raleigh, is very popular in the

Complexities Of Foreign Travel Braved By Youthful Musicians

Group of Carolina Students Who Made Musical Tour of Europe During Summer Months Relates Many Amusing and Interesting Anecdotes of Experiences With Foreigners.

Two Carolina gentlemen rapidly approached the desk of a hotel in Brussels, Belgium. They were late; their train was due to leave for Paris in 30 minutes. As they received the receipted bill from the clerk, a petite, young maid came rushing down the steps, gesticulating and jabbering in a tongue wholly unknown to the two. Reaching them she pantingly began her tale of woe.

"Monsieur, monsieur, you have a coat-hanger!"

Since the boys' French had been woefully neglected, they did not understand; signs were made, and, when they finally realized what the excitement was about, an offer to buy the hanger was made, which necessitated calling in the entire office force to determine the price of one plain wooden coat-hanger.

Boys Check Out

There was much haggling on both sides, the Americans trying to convince the Belgians that the dollar was all-powerful, and the Belgians trying to convince the Americans that the only powerful thing in the argument was the aforesaid coat-

ALUMNI TO MEET HERE SATURDAY

Presidents and secretaries of 50 University alumni clubs will attend a conference here Saturday, it was announced yesterday by J. Maryon Saunders, secretary of the University Alumni association.

The officials will lay plans for the observation of the University's 140th birthday which will be celebrated October 12 by alumni groups throughout the state and at many outside points.

The conference will meet at noon in Graham Memorial where alumni officers will lunch together and later will attend the Carolina-Davidson football game in Kenan stadium.

DI AND PHI MEET AT 1933 OPENERS

Two Campus Literary Societies Hear Respective Leaders in Inaugural Addresses.

The two campus literary and forensic societies held their initial 1933 meetings last night.

At the Dialectic senate gathering, President Bill Eddleman made his inaugural address following the installation of all the new officers by F. C. Howard. Other business included the appointment of a committee to sponsor the meeting next week at which time freshmen candidates will be admitted.

Senators Crowell, chairman, Oettinger, and Howard were appointed to the committee.

Fountain Speaks

Speaker L. H. Fountain delivered his inaugural at the Philanthropic assembly's first meeting in New East and later inducted the new officers.

Fountain also appointed a committee to bring delegated freshmen to the next meeting. Representatives Temple, Rankin, Durfee, Griffin, and Greer were selected.

Plans for a membership drive were discussed.

MUSIC INSTITUTE GETS NEW HEAD

Russell M. Grumman, Extension Division Director, Chosen to Lead State Organizations.

Russell M. Grumman, director of the University extension division, has been appointed chairman of the state Institute of Folk Music, succeeding Harold S. Dyer, who recently resigned as head of the University music department.

Lamar Stringfield, who has served as research associate of the institute for the last two years, has been appointed director.

The primary purpose of the institute is to collect and make available folk-lore of all kinds relating to this section of the country. That native folk-lore is to be found in abundance in North Carolina is evidenced by the numerous surveys, compilations, and collections of manuscript which have been made during the past.

The emphasis this year will be on state work which will be done in cooperation with the extension division. Plans include eight laboratory concerts to be given here during the year, several chamber music concerts to be given in various towns, and the continued collection of folk music.

Named on the executive committee of the institute with the chairman and director were Robert B. House, Felix A. Grissette, R. W. Linker, and T. Smith McCorkle.

Members of the advisory council are President Frank P. Graham, A. P. Hudson, Ralph S. Boggs, Mrs. John P. Buchanan, Mrs. Eugene Davis, Paul Green, I. G. Greer, Guy B. Johnson, John Powell, Phillips Russell, Miss Josephine Sharkey, Colonel J. H. Pratt, Mayne Albright, and Thor Johnson.

HUDSON EXPLAINS ENGLISH CLASSES

Freshmen Divided Into 21 Ranked Sections Based on Results of Placement Test.

Classifications of the freshman English classes and an explanation of the selections were announced late yesterday by Dr. A. P. Hudson.

"The classifications of freshman English," said Dr. Hudson, "were based solely on the results of the placement test given to the new students on Monday of Freshman Orientation Week. We of the English department realize that some of the freshmen may not have been on their best at the time that they took the placement test. But we are sure that the part that were unable to do their best was a very small part of the large number of freshmen."

21 English Classes

"On the basis of this test, we have divided the freshman class into 21 sections. Of these 21 sections, four are taking advanced freshman English; 14 are taking the regular freshman English, and three sections are taking class "A" English. Class "A" English does not carry college credit.

"These sections are tentative. Should a freshman show that he is prepared to take work of a more advanced nature than

Y FROSH COUNCIL TO HAVE HOT DOG ROAST AT COMER'S

Freshman Friendship Group to Meet in Front of Y Next Monday at 6:00 O'clock.

Election of officers for the coming year and a hot dog roast at H. F. Comer's home will feature the next meeting of the Freshman Friendship Council next Monday, October 2, it was announced yesterday at a meeting in Gerrard hall of first year men interested in freshman Y. M. C. A. work.

All former Hi-Y club members and other freshmen who wish to become members of the council this year are to meet at the Y. M. C. A. building at 6:00 p. m. Monday, October 2. From there the group will proceed to Westwood where they will be the guests of Mr. Comer at a camp fire supper. The meeting will be over by 7:30 p. m. in order that there will be no conflict with the rushing season.

The first meeting of the council last Monday in Gerrard hall was poorly attended by the freshmen. Bill T. Minor, vice-president of the Y. M. C. A. and chairman of freshman work, presided. Tom Nesbit led a short devotional service, which was followed by a short talk by Jack Poole on the program of the freshman "Y" cabinet. After a short speech by Mr. Comer, general secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., Lee Grier gave a talk about Carolina and the Y. M. C. A. The session was closed with a prayer.

CERNEY, BRANDT ASK COOPERATION FROM FRESHMEN

University Sponsors Program of Cheering and Pep Talks At Assembly.

The University club, an association for promoting better Carolina spirit, was in charge of the chapel program yesterday morning, at which time short pep talks were given by members of the student body and the faculty for the benefit of the new men. Devotionals were conducted by the Reverend A. S. Lawrence of the Chapel of the Cross.

Agnew Bahnsen, president of the club, opened the program with an explanation of the society, its purpose and organization, and urged freshmen to back it up, to know its members, especially the secretary and the treasurer, Jack Poole and Ralph Gardner. Besides sponsoring good sportsmanship and student backing in athletics, this organization intends to promote clean politics at the University, beginning by helping conduct the freshman elections.

Coach Bill Cerney was presented to say a few words to the assembly. He urged his hearers to show real sportsmanship—win or lose. "No matter what you enter," he continued, "give it your whole-hearted support, and you can do this only by giving all you've got. Then when you leave Carolina, you'll have something that will stick."

At the conclusion of this talk Bahnsen introduced George Brandt, the only three-letter man at the University this year,
