

DR. ISAAC H. MANNING RESIGNS MANGUM NAMED SUCCESSOR

Mangum Accepts Dean's Office To Fill Vacancy

Has Been on the University Faculty for 33 Years.

The appointment of Dr. Charles S. Mangum, member of the University faculty for 37 years and professor of anatomy here since 1905, as head of the University medical school became official with President Graham's announcement of his appointment yesterday afternoon.

Prior to his appointment, Dr. Mangum was endorsed as successor to Dr. I. H. Manning by members of the faculty of the medical school. In 1929-30, while Dr. Manning was on leave from his duties here, Dr. Mangum acted as dean.

Although Dr. Mangum was offered the position Saturday, he asked for time to consider its acceptance. In the meantime, President Graham left the University for Washington, and announcement of Dr. Mangum's acceptance could not be made until yesterday.

The new dean, who is in his 63rd year was born in Greensboro, the son of Adolphus W. Mangum, who was a member of the University faculty from 1875-90, and Laura Overman of Salisbury.

He graduated from the University with an A. B. degree in 1891, and received his medical degree the following year. In his junior year he was awarded a trophy as best all-around athlete at the University that year. He was a member of the track

INCREASE SHOWN IN MUSIC SCHOOL

A check up reveals that a large increase in the enrollment of the Music Department has been made this year.

The University offers an A. B. degree in music, also various courses which may be taken by the students as an elective. In addition there are private lessons given in applied music. These however, are considered as non-credit courses. The enrollment in each of these phases of the Music department has shown a decided increase.

At the present there are twenty-two students majoring in music, this is more than twice the number of last year.

DOCTOR TELLS OF INFIRMARY WORK

University Physician Speaks at Assembly; Says Preventing Illness Purpose of Service.

Dr. W. R. Berryhill, University physician, spoke to the freshman assembly yesterday morning on his conception of the function of the University health service, the purposes of the infirmary, and the students' relations to it. The devotionals were conducted by the Reverend C. T. Binkley of the Baptist church, after which Dean Bradshaw presented the speaker.

"The two primary functions of the health service and infirmary are the care of the sick and the prevention of illness," stated Dr. Berryhill. He cited examples of the latter, such as the tubercular tests, correction of bad health habits, and the typhoid serum which will be given all students when possible.

"There is the honor system at the infirmary as well as anywhere else at the University. As we can't tell in the absence of symptoms whether or not one is sick except by his own statements, we give a usually effective rule; 'If you can't go to class you should be in bed at the infirmary.'

"If you are sick" he concluded, "don't feel that you have to wait until the regular office hours; 8:30 to 11 o'clock a. m. I am always ready to come to sick students at any place on the Hill."

Check Names At "Y"

All students are requested to check their names and addresses in the proofs of the new student directory which will be posted Monday at the information desk of the Y. M. C. A. This is necessary if accuracy is to be insured.

Appointments to Be Made

Appointments of new members to the Student Advisory Board to fill vacancies left by graduation will be made sometime this week, Dean F. F. Bradshaw has announced. Of the nine original members, six have returned to the University.

Regarding Manning's Resignation

—AN EDITORIAL—

The reason accompanying Dr. Manning's resignation as Dean of the medical school has already caused no little comment and since the facts have been published still more comment will be forthcoming.

Racial discrimination and other charges will be hurled against the administration and against Dr. Manning himself by those who are narrow-minded enough to overlook the true and underlying facts of the case.

It is a national situation and not a local one. Universities all over the country refuse to take Jewish medical students beyond a certain number. The University officials have been able to transfer a certain number of these boys each year and rather than take a student for two years and leave him unable to continue his work if he cannot be placed for the completion of his medical course, Dean Manning had established the precedent of limiting the number of first year Jewish students to that number which he can definitely transfer. The inability of the Medical school to place all its students, would probably cause it to lose its class "A" rating.

In the present situation Dean Manning simply followed the policy he has adhered to unswervingly for the past 28 years. The four applicants that could be transferred were taken care of. Another student applied and was refused admittance. He appealed to President Graham and the University head admitted him.

President Graham's code has been to allow any qualified student to enter the University unless restricted by law. The President and Dr. Manning stood on opposite sides of the fence. Dr. Graham true to his policy and Dean Manning determined to stand or fall with his established rule. No ill-feeling existed between the two, President Graham had the final say and Dr. Manning resigned.

The resignation of Dr. Manning is simply an example of a man's devotion to his principles and ideals. Nothing personal caused him to reject any student, simply his love for the medical school and his desire to maintain its high standing.

Furious Demonstration Staged As Campus Goes Wild At Rally

LOCAL NRA MAKES DRASTIC CHANGES

Secret Committee Appointed to Investigate Establishments Who Sign With Group.

A secret investigating committee was appointed at a reorganization meeting of the local NRA last night whose duty will be to investigate all members who have signed the code. Those who sign and live up to their code will be placed on the honor roll which is to be posted in a conspicuous place in the town.

There was a complete reorganization of the NRA here and E. C. Smith was appointed chairman of the local executive committee. This group is to consist of two business men, two consumers and a member of the student council of the University.

"Goat" Randolph, local merchant, was appointed chairman of a publicity committee which is to handle the favorable publicity to be given to those concerns which conform with the code. These new steps are all important and new to this community.

All boarding houses and other establishments which have not joined the local NRA should do so to avoid any complications which might result from non-membership.

Infirmary List

The following students were confined to the infirmary yesterday: Carl Francis, C. W. Collins, Dan Lacy, J. D. Winslow, Simpson Parker, T. W. Hicks, William Dalton, W. L. McKeithan, and Miss Jane Weaver.

Norm Quarles Leads Shirt-Tail Parade Over Campus Preparing for Davidson Game.

Some 1,500 enthusiastic students joined the members of the University club last night in putting over the most successful pep rally staged in Chapel Hill in the past five years. For about 45 minutes last night the cheering and pep rivaled any exhibition of its sort ever staged here.

Officials of the newly formed spirit club left nothing undone in the way of attracting the crowd. The city of Chapel Hill loaned its speedy fire truck which roared up and down the streets attracting attention. Loudspeakers and electric lights were furnished by the Consolidated Service Plants and Montrose Tull, local aviator, flew over the gathering in front of the South building in the clear moonlight.

In short, everyone did his best to help the University club get off on the right foot, and their efforts bore fruit as the yelling and enthusiasm evidenced. Those students who remained at home for one reason or other were sorry they had not joined the shirt-tail parade.

No More Murads

Colonel Bob House, Captain Bill Croom, and Coach Chuck Collins all addressed the crowd. Each in his turn echoed the necessity for the spirit revival and each expressed confidence that at last the tide had turned and the Carolina students were ready to stop being "non-chalant."

Medical Head Tendered His Resignation Monday

Resigned Dean

Dr. Isaac Manning, who recently resigned as Dean of the School of Medicine at the University after holding that position for 28 years. He is succeeded by Dr. Mangum.

Has Been Acting-Dean Of Medical School For Past Week.

Dr. Isaac Hall Manning's resignation as Dean of the University medical school, which had been tendered the administration last Saturday, was officially announced yesterday afternoon by President Frank Graham.

Dr. Manning has been a member of the medical faculty for 33 years and has served as Dean of the school for the past 28 years. He is at present president of the North Carolina Medical Society.

The former Dean's resignation came as a result of a controversy which arose between the policies of the medical school and those of the University administration.

Under Dr. Manning it has been the policy of the medical school to admit that number of Jewish students which the school authorities could place in other medical colleges in the country. This number has usually been four, or approximately a tenth of the class.

The number of Jewish boys to be allowed for this year had been filled when another application was received by Dr. Manning early in the summer. The applicant, who had also applied last year when the number had been set, was informed of the situation and told to return later in the summer so that he might take advantage of any opening that could possibly have appeared. When he returned, Manning informed him that none of the original applicants had dropped out and that it would (Continued on last page)

SPECIAL SECTION FOR N.C. STUDENTS

Holdings of Passbooks to Have Choice Seats at Davidson Game This Afternoon.

A solid block of the best seats available has been reserved for students for the Davidson game. Students will be admitted on presentation of their pass books. They need not exchange these for reserved seats.

The band will have a section reserved next to the field, and the freshman cheering section will occupy a roped off section surrounding the band on three sides. The student body will have their seats in back of this section, running from sections 17 to 20 and from rows A to Z.

Students are warned that if they are detected permitting their pass books to be used by anyone besides themselves, they forfeit them. These are not transferable, and strong efforts will be made to enforce this rule. They are also asked to go to the game about twenty minutes before time, if possible, so that visitors who arrive late may be more efficiently handled.

Reserve seats for visitors will cost $1.65. There has been a fair amount of advance sale for the game.

GRAHAM RETURNS FROM MEETING OF ADVISORY BOARD

University President Returns From Duties on National Consumers Advisory Board.

President Frank P. Graham returned early yesterday morning from Washington, D. C., where he attended a three day meeting of the National Consumers' Advisory board, called to decide upon policies of the National Recovery administration.

President Graham was called to attend the meeting of the board to which he was appointed last summer during the first part of this week. He had attended the two opening sessions of the board before he underwent an operation which necessitated his absence from several later meetings.

Among members of the board who presented views for consideration during the session was Dr. Dexter M. Keizer, who was formerly a member of the faculty of the University and who is now on the editorial staff of the Baltimore Sun. Stuart Chase, widely known author, Huston Thompson, who was appointed to the federal trade commission by former President Woodrow Wilson, and Dr. Frederick C. Howe also stated views.
