

P. U. BOARD MAY CUT UPPER CLASS FEES FOR ANNUAL

Group Will Meet Tomorrow to Take Action on Proposed Class Dues Reduction.

Reduction of Yackety Yack fees of juniors and seniors will be the important topic of discussion and action tomorrow at a meeting of the Publications Union Board in Bingham hall at 2:00 o'clock.

The question was supposed to have been acted upon at the last meeting Friday morning, but in the absence of time the board decided to postpone action until tomorrow.

Presidents Attend

The presidents of the two upper classes will be present to engage in discussion with the board and offer possible suggestions in the matter.

A reduction of $1.00 of the yearbook fee has been offered as a possible and beneficial suggestion. This reduction would be made on the class fees of the two classes for the winter quarter.

Of the $8.50 class fee paid by seniors last year, $5.25 went to Yackety Yack space expense and $1.50 more to Woolton-Moulton, photographers, for pictures. Of the junior fee, $3.25 went to space costs, the picture costs being the same as those of the seniors.

Yearbook Reimburses

The board intends to apply to the budget of the Yackety Yack an amount equivalent to the total reduction in income which would come about by the reduction in the Yackety Yack fee.

The board has endeavored to ascertain methods by which it could reduce the annual surplus of the union and by which it could be of a benefit to the students.

ALUMNI TO MEET ON FOUNDERS' DAY

Organizations All Over State To Convene to Celebrate University Day.

Commemorating the 140th birthday of the University of North Carolina, alumni in a dozen North Carolina cities have completed plans for local meetings in observance of the annual University Day, October 12.

Most of the meetings will be held on the evenings of October 11 and 12, and will join with the celebration in Chapel Hill in focusing public interest upon the birthday of America's oldest state university.

J. Maryon Saunders, secretary of the University Alumni association, reports that the prospects are that many other alumni groups will hold meetings, in addition to those that have already definitely announced programs.

Among alumni groups which have already arranged meetings are: Raleigh, Durham, Oxford, Chapel Hill, Greensboro, High Point, Winston-Salem, Charlotte, Fayetteville, Lincolnton, and Kinston.

Dr. Archibald Henderson has accepted invitations to speak at the Charlotte meeting October 11, and at the Raleigh meeting October 12. Robert B. House will be the speaker at Fayetteville, while Coach C. C. Collins (Continued on page two)

Hickerson Evolves Formula For Stress

Prof. T. F. Hickerson of the school of engineering has completed a study of continuous structures which has resulted in a new method of determining stresses.

Formerly, the computation of individual stresses on a continuous structure, such as a building or a bridge, has been a tedious and laborious task. In fact, many engineers have been discouraged and have disregarded this type of structure altogether. As continuous structures effect a great saving in materials, there has been a huge waste of money in construction, due to the amount of work involved in its designing.

However, Professor Hickerson's method of computation eliminates all tedious work. The simplicity and effectiveness of his formula promises to be the greatest contribution to engineering design yet developed in this country.

WEDNESDAYS SET FOR SECOND YEAR CLASS MEETINGS

Sophomores Will Not Attend Memorial Hall Gatherings; Will Meet Separately.

Assembly for sophomores will be held once a week every Wednesday at 10:30 o'clock in Gerrard hall, it was announced from the office of the dean of students yesterday.

Sophomores will not have to attend the assembly program in Memorial hall tomorrow, but they will be required to attend the meeting of the second-year men Wednesday in Gerrard hall. Dean F. F. Bradshaw will deliver his annual address on "Fraternities" to the freshmen tomorrow.

Seats Assigned

Seats in Gerrard hall will be assigned to the sophomores next week, and they will be required to attend the assembly programs in that building each Wednesday. Second-year men will only be allowed one unexcused absence from assembly a quarter.

Special assembly programs will be called in Memorial hall at times when both the first- and second-year classes will be required to attend. Unexcused absences from these meetings will also count against the students.

Programs for the sophomore assemblies will be planned by the dean of students and the sophomore executive committee to insure meetings of interest to the class.

The sophomore class submitted the plan for holding assemblies separate from the freshmen at the first of the year. Dean Bradshaw met with the sophomore executive committee and discussed the plan last week. After the executive committee met by themselves and ratified the proposed scheme, a faculty committee passed on it.

Condition of Minor and Hoggard Remains Same

Sidney Minor and Maurice Hoggard, University freshmen, injured in an automobile accident on the Hope Valley Country club road last Tuesday, were in about the same condition last night as they were Friday, according to reports received from the Watts hospital.

ADVISORY BOARD TO BE APPOINTED

Nominations Made by Bradshaw And Harper Barnes Being Considered by Graham.

Students have been nominated to serve on the student advisory board this year by Dean Bradshaw, chairman of the faculty administrative board, and Harper Barnes, president of the student body, and the nominations are being considered by President Frank P. Graham, it was announced yesterday from the office of the dean of students.

The faculty administrative board and the student advisory council were appointed last year by President Graham in February to promote the work of the student agencies affecting student life. The administrative board is composed of fifteen University officials and works in co-operation with the nine students on the advisory council. The work of the boards embraces all University student relationships other than formal instruction.

About ten student leaders are nominated by Dean Bradshaw and the president of the student body each year to serve on the student advisory board, and these proposed names are ratified by President Graham. This council works jointly with the faculty administrative board.

The members appointed on the administrative board last February are: A. W. Hobbs, Mrs. M. H. Stacy, D. D. Carroll, C. T. (Continued on page two)

Startling Scientific Exhibitions Astound Visitors At World's Fair

Faculty Members Praise Hall of Science, Time Building and Experimental Projects; Protest Notoriety and Persecution in "Streets of Paris" Case.

Again the scientists win out! Of the myriad innovations and novelties exhibited at the World's Fair, the Hall of Science received the lion's share of attention, praise, and interest from the University faculty members who made the "grand tour" of 1933.

Among the many exhibits in this building picturing the growth of science is a queer butcher shop owned and operated by Loyola university. The display shows choice cuts of cold storage meat.

Boggs Sees Strange Sight

At intervals of one inch, cross-sections of the human body have been naturally colored, enclosed in glass, and hung on the wall much as Aunt Minnie's picture of Sir Galahad was displayed in the living room. In this anatomically conscious room, Dr. Ralph Boggs spent most of his time gazing blood-thirstily at the quarterings which are not plaster of paris casts, but human flesh.

Jumping to the General Electric building, J. M. Lear fairly gaped standing before a photo-electric cell, something new and practical. For example, this cell may be used to throw a beam across the space before a bank window. The interruption of this beam by anything such as a bandit's hand will cause a steel sheet to rise and cover the money vault.

Prof. Frederick H. Koch ran true to type when he was ecstatically enthusiastic about the Time magazine building. Here the Carolina Play Book, the only

TRIALS FOR CAST OF PLAY ARE SET

Tentative Characters for "House Of Connelly" to Be Selected In Try-outs Tomorrow.

Tryouts for the Playmaker's opening production, Paul Green's "House of Connelly," will be held in the Playmaker theatre tomorrow afternoon at 4:00 o'clock and at 7:00 o'clock at night. The final production will be presented on the evening of November 2, 3, and 4.

Copies of the play have been placed on reserve in the library for those students who wish to make some preparation for the tryouts. Professor Koch wishes to make clear that any student is eligible for any part in the play.

All students who are interested in working for the Playmakers as ushers or box-office assistants during the year are asked to meet with the business manager on Tuesday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock in the theatre. Requirements for these jobs will be explained and also the amount of work required of those who wish to win the Playmaker award in that department.

Experience in ushering or house management is not necessary for those who apply. The schedule for the year's programs will be explained, and a time set for a rehearsal of the ushers and house staff, so that they will be able to give expert attention to the Playmaker audiences this season.

Di And Phi Select Topics For Debate

Six important topics, dealing with national as well as campus problems, have been chosen for discussion by the Di Senate and the Phi Assembly at their respective meetings Tuesday night.

The Di Senate will debate the following bills: Resolved: That the fraternity rushing period should be extended; Resolved: That the Book Exchange should be investigated to determine the extent of its profits; Resolved: That the University laundry prices are exorbitant.

The following topics of national interest will be discussed in the Phi Assembly: Resolved: That Henry Ford be condemned for not signing the NRA; Resolved: That the demands for a parity price by tobacco farmers be met; Resolved: That Roosevelt's inflationary measures be condemned.

The Assembly will initiate the forty-eight men who were presented last Tuesday.

CONTRACT BRIDGE TOURNAMENT FOR CAMPUS PLANNED

Stetson "D" Offers $50 in Cash Prizes and Loving Cup for Winning Players.

Dog-eared decks of cards are starting to appear in dorms and fraternity houses, and kibitzers are practicing up to get into form since the news of Stetson "D's" contract bridge tournament has filtered through the campus. Not only are the bridge players to be given a chance to play in public, but they will have a chance to win a cup or cash prizes amounting to $50.

The tournament will be for teams of two at contract bridge, with any fraternity, sorority, or dormitory being invited to enter a team. There is a cash prize of $30 for the winning team, $10 for the team defeated in the finals, and $5 to the two teams defeated in the semi-finals. An engraved silver loving cup will be awarded to the fraternity entering the winning team. The entrance fee will be one dollar per player.

Reputable Teams Separated

The preliminary rubbers will be played at best score out of five rubbers, though the finals, semi-finals, and quarter-finals will be played at duplicate. The pairings will be made by the Stetson "D" contract bridge committee, with Vic Huggins, chairman. He will endeavor to separate the teams with the formidable reputations so that they do not meet in the lower rounds.

The preliminary rounds will be played at Sutton's Drug store, where refreshments will be offered to the players, and a radio will be available to help the dummies while away the time. Teams wishing to enter may call at the Stetson "D" store and register with Vic Huggins, manager and originator of the tournament, before 6:00 o'clock on Friday, October 13. The superstitious players may avoid this date by registering earlier in the week. The tournament will start on Monday afternoon, October 16, at 2:00 o'clock.

According to Huggins, the early enthusiasm the tournament has aroused indicates a field of at least forty teams. All (Continued on page two)

FRATERNITY BIDS TO BE GIVEN OUT ON APPLICATION

Dean Bradshaw and House to Distribute Bids to Frosh at Memorial Hall Tomorrow.

Fraternity bids will be distributed to freshmen in Memorial hall at 2:00 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, by Dean F. F. Bradshaw and R. B. House. Notices to freshmen who are to receive bids will be sent out tomorrow before that time.

Those expecting bids are asked to facilitate the distribution of notices by remaining at their rooms if possible. Any freshman who does not receive a notice but is expecting a bid should be present in Memorial hall tomorrow afternoon.

At the time the bids are distributed, a fee of one dollar which was decided upon by the Interfraternity council last year, will be collected from those who are given invitations.

The second period of silence, which went into effect at 12:00 o'clock last night, will be strictly enforced, and any sort of communication between fraternity and non-fraternity men is prohibited. The period ends at 6:00 o'clock tomorrow night.

Irvin Boyle, president of the Interfraternity council, stated the following rules governing the procedure tomorrow:

Freshmen will go directly to the fraternities whose bids they accepted immediately after they leave Memorial hall. No man is permitted to speak to anyone on the way to the houses until after 6:00 o'clock.

Any freshman who does not accept a bid tomorrow afternoon and who may later desire to join a fraternity to which he is invited may do so under the same conditions as given above. Dean Bradshaw will give the bids.

MAGAZINE STAFF TO MEET TONIGHT

Editor Shoemaker Will State Policies for Year; Asks Frosh to Turn Out.

The Carolina Magazine staff will meet with Don Shoemaker, the new editor, at 7:00 o'clock this evening in room 207 Graham Memorial. It is especially requested that all aspiring "poetasters," particularly freshmen and sophomores, be present.

Plans not yet having been completed for the official ceremony attending the giving back of the Carolina Magazine to the student body, staff members of the publication must be contented at the Sunday night meeting with a mere bromidial delineation of the policies for the coming year as will be set forth by the editor. Such was Shoemaker's statement.

The editor wishes also to state that there is no truth in the statement that the Carolina Magazine will be a hybrid literary zombie sprung illegitimately from The Nation and The New Masses.

Trabue Returns

Dr. M. R. Trabue of the education department has just returned from his leave of absence. He will present a paper to the Psi Delta Psychology club some time during the week.
