Andrew G. Lang First Individual

ordinated Plan of Study.

EVENT HAILED BY PIERSON

Graham Says Plan Shows Potentials
of Graduate Work
Under Consolidation.

The first individual to take advantage of a coordinated plan of study made possible by the consolidation of three institutions of higher learning into the Greater University of North Carolina is Andrew G. Lang, who has just been admitted to the graduate school of the University as a candidate for the doctor's degree in botany.

Mr. Lang, who has an A.B. degree from Miami University and M.S. from Cornell, has been assigned a program of studies calling for work at both State College and Chapel Hill. His residence will be in Raleigh during the fall and winter quarters and in Chapel Hill during the spring.

Historical Event

"The admission of Mr. Lang may well mark an important historical event—namely, the beginning under happy auspices of cooperation of the member-institutions of the University in graduate instruction," Dean W. W. Pierson of the graduate school said in announcing the beginning of operation of the new plan of study.

"The program for Mr. Lang will, we are sure, demonstrate the potentialities of graduate work under consolidation. In the field of botany there is a certain distribution of energy and interest between the two units of the University. At State College work in plant pathology, ecology, and plant physiology is strongly developed; whereas at Chapel Hill plant classification, morphology, and mycology have received

Coleman's Condition Reported Unchanged

This subject will be the central theme of the club for the current year.

A. A. F. Seawell, at present assistant attorney general of North Carolina, graduated from the University in 1899. He has served several terms in the General Assembly, and is considered one of the leading lawyers in the state. He was selected as the man best qualified in the state to discuss the chief governmental changes that have occurred in North Carolina during the last decade.

The North Carolina club is beginning its twentieth year on this campus, having been organized September 25, 1914, by the late E. C. Branson. It is an organization composed of students, faculty members, and all others interested, who desire accurate, intimate acquaintance with the state and its economic, social, and civic problems.

The club meets for one hour every two weeks in the library room of the department of social economics. Membership is open to all interested persons. The program this year should especially appeal to students who are interested in better government. All meetings are open to the public.

PLAY COLLECTION GIVEN TO LIBRARY

12,000 Dramas Make Up Unique
Collection That Is Expected
To Aid Research Work.

A collection of 12,000 Spanish plays has been purchased by the Spanish department with its allotment from the grant by the General Education Board, and has been donated to the library.

These plays were bought this summer from a Madrid bookseller, and cover a period from 1800 to 1932. All the playwrights of any importance who wrote during these years are represented, as well as many who are yet unrecognized. Many of the copies are autographed, some very amusingly.

When the plays were set up they required 125 feet of space. When bound, they will make 600 volumes and require several thousands of reference cards. The cataloguer for the library was about to take a much needed vacation when the collection arrived, so, in order to keep her from nervous prostration, the news was withheld until a later date, since it is expected that a year will be required to finish the task of cataloguing.

The library now has a collection of Spanish plays which cannot be duplicated in any other library in this country, and should be of great value to students for research.

NO HOLT AWARDS TO BE ADVANCED IN FALL QUARTER

Non-Payment of Interest from Fund
Causes Drastic Step to Be Taken by Committee.

The four scholarships maintained by the interest from the Holt loan fund will not be awarded this fall as is the usual practice because the interest from the fund has not been paid, it was announced yesterday.

Since 1920, when the loan fund was established by Lawrence S. Holt, the scholarships from the interest of the fund, have been awarded each fall by the committee on the Holt fund. The interest lent out to students from the Holt loan fund last year has not yet been collected, and therefore there are no funds this fall for the scholarships usually provided by the interest from the fund.

Lawrence S. Holt bequeathed to the University $10,000, and a stipend of $125 is usually given to each of four students, one from each class of the University who excel in scholarship.
