

KIRBY PAGE
7:30 O'CLOCK
METHODIST CHURCH

The Daily Tar Heel

SAMUEL SELDEN
8:30 O'CLOCK
PLAYMAKERS THEATRE

VOLUME XLII

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 12, 1933

NUMBER 45

FIVE CANDIDATES FOR SCHOLARSHIP ARE NAMED HERE

Robert Barnett, John O'Neil, Dan Lacy, John K. Barrow, Edward Martin Chosen.

MEN WILL GO TO ATLANTA

Robert W. Barnett, John T. O'Neil, Dan Lacy, John K. Barrow, and Edward W. Martin were selected by the local Rhodes scholarship committee to represent the University in the annual Rhodes scholarship competition, it was announced by Dean A. W. Hobbs, chairman of the judging committee, yesterday.

These men will represent the University in the state-wide selection to be made January 2 or 4. At this state election two candidates from all the colleges and universities represented will be chosen by the state committee to represent North Carolina in the district contest which will probably be held in Atlanta.

The states in this district are North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, Georgia, Florida, and Tennessee.

Chosen for Many Qualities

Candidates for Rhodes scholarships are chosen on the basis of literary and scholastic attainments, qualities of manhood, character, leadership, and physical vigor. In addition they must be between 19 and 25 years of age, unmarried male citizens of the United States, and must have completed at least their sophomore year in college.

Robert Barnett of Shanghai, a graduate student, has been a member of the University Y. M. C. A. for two years, a member

SHURE TO OFFER BIBLICAL NUMBER

Composer-Organist Will Include Composition Inspired by Scripture Wednesday.

Ralph Deane Shure will present an organ recital, including his composition "Through Palestine," in Hill Music hall Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock. Of his works, the number has produced the most profound effect in musical circles.

Shure was inspired to compose the piece by verses of the Scripture, which will possibly be read as the composition is played in the recital here.

He is a musician who has thoroughly established himself as a concert performer and a composer without resorting to sensationalism or bohemianism. Shure, who has been known to members of the music department faculty for 20 years, has led the life of a sound American citizen. He is thoroughly artistic and in some matters is what the hard boiled business man would call, practical, and he is decidedly unsensational.

Graduate of Oberlin

Following his graduation from Oberlin College, Shure taught for several years in a small college in the southwest, after which he spent two years in Germany studying composition, conducting, and organ.

Following that he went to Pennsylvania State College as director of music. After several years there, he wanted more freedom for composing, so he

(Continued on page two)

Moore and Shaffer in Offensive Thrusts

George Moore is following his interference through the line in the top picture. In front of him from left to right are McDonald, Martin, and Joyce. The Deacon forward wall stiffened here and held for downs. Pat Swan (61), the Deacon star tackle, is seen at the left.

Charlie Shaffer takes McDonald's pass in the second quarter and runs to the 25-yard line. Gold (77), Lawhorn (21), Wilson (32), Russell (39), and Barwick (81) are seen running to the scene of the scrimmage.

Mascot Rameses Will Be Brought Here For Sojourn Of One Month

GENERAL ALUMNI MEET DATE IS SET

Officers and Directors Arrange Date for December 15 at Gathering Yesterday.

Officers and directors of the General Alumni association, meeting in the Graham Memorial yesterday at noon, selected December 15 as the date for the annual General Alumni assembly. The assembly which brings together representatives of all the local alumni clubs and the permanent class organizations, will be held in the Graham Memorial and the program will be concentrated into one evening.

Judge John J. Parker, president of the Alumni association, presided at yesterday's meeting. A report of the year's activity was given by J. Maryon Saunders, executive secretary.

George Watts Hill, of Durham, reported as General Treasurer that a fund of six hundred dollars had just been raised and which cleared the Alumni association of debt. This is the first time in ten years that the association has closed its year with no indebtedness. A budget for 1933-34 was approved.

Those attending yesterday's luncheon meeting were, Judge Parker, Dr. Hubert R. Haywood, Raleigh, vice-president; Watts Hill, Durham, treasurer; Ralph A. Spauld, Jr., Winston-Salem, E. Earle Rives, Greensboro, James R. Patton, Jr., Durham, Bowman Gray, Jr., Winston-Salem, Ralph C. Maulsby, Greenville, S. C., Thomas A. DeVane, Fayetteville, directors; and Secretary Saunders.

History Department to Meet

There will be a meeting of the history department Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in room 313 Saunders hall. Professor E. J. Woodhouse will speak to the group.

Big Ram Located by University Club Scouts in Eastern North Carolina.

Through the efforts of the University club and the college administration Carolina is once again to display a mascot on the gridiron. A wild ram, located by the University club in Willard, N. C., will be brought to the campus Wednesday for a month's stay to inspire the team to victory.

In accordance with Carolina custom, the animal will be known as Rameses III. Between 1924 and 1926 two rams served as mascots and were dubbed by Dean Paulsen and Kay Kyser Rameses I, and II, respectively.

One of Two in State

According to Earle H. Hofstetter, professor of animal husbandry at State college, Rameses III is one of the only two rams in the state, the other being at Tarboro. The mascot is at present on the state agricultural farm at Willard.

In describing the ram, the professor reported that he was thoroughbred longhorn ram. He added that the animal would be difficult to handle due to the fact he has been used to roaming wild about the countryside.

The ram was secured by C. T. Woollen, comptroller of the University, who wrote to Hofstetter, asking permission to bring the animal to Chapel Hill. Up to last night no decision had been reached as to where the mascot would be kept.

MacNider to Present Paper

Dr. William deB. MacNider, Kenan research professor in medicine, will leave Chapel Hill Tuesday for Richmond to attend the annual meeting of the Southern Medical association where he will present a paper on "The Resistance of Fixed Tissue Cells to Injury." The meeting is a gathering of physicians from all over the south. Dr. MacNider will return Friday.

SELDEN TO READ ANDERSON'S PLAY

Associate Director of Carolina Playmakers Will Conduct Reading Tonight.

Samuel Selden, associate director of the Carolina Playmakers, will read Maxwell Anderson's "Both Your Houses" tonight at 8:30 o'clock in the Playmaker theatre. This will be the second of the monthly Playmaker readings. The play is a satire on the political system of this country, stressing the time just before the last change of administration.

"Both Your Houses," the author of which was a charter member of Professor Frederick Koch's North Dakota Playmakers was a 1933 Pulitzer prize winner, and opened a long run in New York March 6, 1933 with Sheppard Strudwick, one of Koch's students at the University, in the leading role.

Selden is particularly fitted to read this satire, having acted in, designed and built scenery for, and directed plays since 1922. His first job at the Old Provincetown theatre in New York fulfilled the proverb that a person must begin his stage career by carrying a spear in a play. As stage manager of the Greenwich Village theatre, he aided in casting and staging Anderson's "Outside Looking In."

ENSEMBLE PLAYS PROGRAM TODAY

Stringfield Quintet Will Offer Variety of Numbers in Graham Memorial.

The Stringfield ensemble will give a concert in the lounge of Graham Memorial this afternoon at 5:00 o'clock.

The varied program is expected to furnish a popular diversion. The compositions that will be played are the following: three concert pieces by Rameau, "La Livri," "La Timide," and "Tambourin," with flute, 'cello and piano; melody from "Orpheus," by Gluck with flute and piano; quartet in A Major, by Mozart with flute, violin, viola, and 'cello; "The Ol' Swimmin' Hole," by Stringfield, with flute, viola, and 'cello; "Elegy," by Stringfield, with 'cello and piano; three petit trios, "Badinage," "Nocturne," and "Scherzino," by Cui, with flute, 'cello, and piano.

The members of the ensemble are: Lamar Stringfield, flutist; Jane Ross, violinist; Thor Johnson, violinist; Ralph Weatherford, 'cellist; and Adeline McCall, pianist.

Metzenthin to Talk

In celebration of the 450th birthday of Martin Luther, Dr. Ernst Metzenthin will give a talk on "Luther and Goethe, the two most influential Germans" in Gerrard hall this afternoon at 5:00 o'clock.

This talk will be a survey of the two men from a literary and scientific viewpoint and will coincide with similar celebrations among protestants all over the world.

English Majors

All majors in English will meet with Professor Dougald McMillan Tuesday at 10:30 o'clock in his office in Murphey hall.

Major Armstrong Urges Youth Of America To Plan For Peace

Peace Propagator

Advocate of world peace and editor of the World Tomorrow, Kirby Page will address a public audience tonight in the Methodist church at 7:30.

KIRBY PAGE WILL GIVE TALK TODAY

To Speak on "Dangers to Peace In Present World Situation" In Methodist Church.

Kirby Page, widely known authority on the subject of war and peace, will speak to the public at the Methodist church at 7:30 o'clock tonight on "Dangers to Peace in the Present World Situation."

Page has been brought here under the auspices of the University Y. M. C. A., and his address will be the concluding feature of the Chapel Hill Armistice Day celebration.

Page as one of the nation's best informal speakers on international affairs is editor of The World Tomorrow and author of 14 volumes on international, social, and religious questions.

Having crossed the ocean 18 times to study world conditions, he has visited over 35 countries of the world and has talked on his various journeys with Mahatma Gandhi, Fieldmarshal President Hindenburg, Ramsey MacDonald, Lord Irwin, former Viceroy and governor of India, former Foreign Minister Chicherin of Russia, former President Chiang-Kai-Shek of China, late Prime Minister Hamaguchi of Japan, Bernard Shaw, Rabindranath Tagore, King Faisal of Iraq, President Sun Yat Sen of China, Ex-Chancellor Michaelis of Germany, former Foreign Minister Henderson of England.

Page has spoken before over 250 colleges under the auspices of clubs interested in foreign policies. He will return today from Raleigh where he was one of the chief speakers at a religious conference.

Eleven Indisposed

The following students were confined to the University infirmary yesterday: Dorothy Bowen, Richard Buck, Carter Grant, T. W. Haynes, Edwin Jeffress, Vida Miller, Margaret McDonald, H. A. Payne, Wilson Shelton, J. H. Von Canon, and W. H. Womble.

Philological Club

Richmond P. Bond, president of the Philological club, announced yesterday that the club will meet at 7:30 Monday instead of Tuesday.

Many from Out-of-Town Present At Exercises in Observation Of Armistice Day.

ROLL CALL OF DEAD READ

Durham and Henninger Receive U. D. C. Medal from Mrs. Utley and Mrs. Bernard.

"I expect the students of universities to fight for peace," stated Major Donald Armstrong of Fort Bragg, speaking at the Armistice Day exercises in Gerrard hall yesterday.

"I hope that the young men of today will think with those who fought 15 years ago and realize that they owe a debt to this country to make the future outlook towards peace more a reality," he continued.

Major Armstrong spoke of the discouraging outlook towards world peace and how disarmament ideals have failed. He pointed out the fact that countries that have disarmed still have wars and conflicts. As an example he cited the wars in which China engaged herself while she was one of the most disarmed countries in the world.

Total Disarmament

"To have effective disarmament all nations have to disarm," said Armstrong, "for it is disastrous for one nation to cut down on armaments while others do not."

In describing the nature of modern warfare Armstrong said that the scientific conflicts of today were different from anything the world has ever seen before.

In closing the Major from Fort Bragg repeated that the fu

(Continued on page two)

CASTS SELECTED FOR FOUR PLAYS

Tentative Characters Selected to Play Parts in Production Of Original Plays.

The second public production of the Carolina Playmakers December 7, 8, and 9, will include four original plays, the titles and casts of which follow: "Sing Your Own Song," by Nat Farnworth; Gano Downs, Nat Farnworth; T. T. Archer, Virginia Dean; Mrs. Wallace, Phoebe Barr; directed by Samuel Selden.

"Shadows Of Industry," by Vermont Royster; J. J. Worthington, Ralph Burgin; Otto Krugel, Bob Novins; Robert Weaver, Virgil Lee; Hon. William Gay, Ed Vaughn or Sam Leager; Montgomery Warren, Charles Houk; James Moore, Newbern Piland or Fred Howard; directed by Samuel Selden.

"Everglades and Hickory," by John Alexander; first soldier, Wilbur Dorsett; Sergeant, Philip Kind; second soldier, Beale Fletcher; third soldier, Harry Coble; Andrew Jackson, Foster Fitz-Simmons; Gaines Ed Vaughn or Sam Leager; Priscilla, Ruth Dickson or Margaret Sicheloff; Ambrister, Don Pope; Wade, Vermont Royster; DuBose, Elmer Oettinger; Johnson, Howard Hoyt; Arbuthnot, Paul Livingston; Sam Houston, John Walker; Glenn, Wilson Clayton; directed by Harry Davis.

Jackson Play

"The Head-Axe of Ingfel," by

(Continued on page two)