

COACH SNAVELY PLANS TO COME HERE TOMORROW

Announces Through Athletic Office Intention to Start Winter Practice Wednesday.

REED WILL BE ASSISTANT

Word was received from Carl Snavely yesterday that the new Carolina football coach expects to report for duty tomorrow and plans to commence winter practice Wednesday afternoon.

"The plan of starting winter practice at once appeals to me," the former Bucknell mentor said in his communication to the athletic office. "I should like to get underway at the earliest possible date."

Snavely not having been appointed until January 16, it was not thought possible at first to begin the off-season practice before next Monday, January 29.

Reed to Come Also

Maxwell Reed, who will be his line coach and first assistant, will accompany Snavely to Chapel Hill tomorrow. Reed served him in the same capacity at Bucknell.

Announcement has been made that equipment will be issued tomorrow and Tuesday afternoons, so that everything will be set for the beginning of the winter drills Wednesday afternoon.

Members of the squad and the student body at large last night were looking forward to the arrival of the new grid chief with much interest.

The DAILY TAR HEEL, assisted by the University club, the Or-

(Continued on last page)

ENSEMBLE PLAYS TODAY ON SERIES

Sextet from North Carolina Symphony Will Feature Stringfield's 'Mountain Episode.'

The Stringfield ensemble of the North Carolina Symphony society will present a concert this afternoon at 5:00 o'clock in the lounge of Graham Memorial, as a part of the regular series of Sunday afternoon recitals sponsored by the student union.

Included on the program will be Stringfield's latest composition, "A Mountain Episode," a suite in three parts for string quartet. The suite is suggestive of the moods through which a moonshiner passes while at work over his still, exercising what he regards as his human rights.

Three Movements

The first movement, "At a Still," reflects the moonshiner's desire for power and quiet satisfaction as a craftsman who loves to turn out a good product. "On the Cliff," the second movement, introduces a note of fear and uneasiness, mingled with his pride as a man, during his constant vigil for revenue officers.

The third movement, "A Moonshiner Laughs," expresses his exultation in his strength and cunning, and his defiance of laws and convention.

A mood of his fundamental religion, as well as his love for gay tunes on his "fiddle," when he plays the old folk tune, "Sourwood Mountain," several times, is brought out in this last movement.

Other numbers included on

(Continued on last page)

Group To Recommend Co-eds Be Allowed To Visit Greeks

Final recommendation on the University regulation prohibiting co-eds from visiting fraternity houses will be made by the Administrative Board of the Division of Student Welfare in a luncheon session at 1:00 o'clock tomorrow in Graham Memorial.

A special committee, including Mrs. Marvin Stacy, Dean F. F. Bradshaw, Irvin Boyle, president of the Interfraternity council, and Janie Jolly, president of the Woman's association, have decided to recommend at the meeting that fraternity houses be allowed to request the privilege of receiving women students from 3:00 o'clock until 10:30 o'clock, the curfew hour for co-eds.

Fraternities applying for this privilege would be required to sign an application containing the following provisions:

"Only the social rooms, halls, porches and dining room, on the first floor, will be open to co-eds. "During the visiting hours there will be no drinking or serving of intoxicating drinks."

Other matters to be considered at the meeting are the use of Graham dormitory for women, CWA work for college students, and recommendations concerning improvement of placement and vocational guidance facilities for University students.

Committee reports will be made on the first three topics.

CONCERT TICKET SALES ARE RAPID

Students Are Urged to Take Advantage of Special Rate for Rachmaninoff Program.

At Saturday noon the ticket sale for the Rachmaninoff piano concert on February 21 was less than 25 short of the 500 mark. Sponsors of the concert feel that this is a remarkable record.

The ticket sale opened last Monday almost six weeks in advance of the concert, and the response has been more rapid than any other musical attraction has ever experienced here.

One thing that the music department calls particular attention to is the fact that there is a limited number of seats at $1.03 being held for students. The University students have been slow to take advantage of this special price which was obtained with difficulty.

Special Student Rate

Students from nearby colleges are clamoring for more and more of these seats, but the music department has stopped the sale in this price range, feeling that the students of this campus are entitled to their share of these tickets. However, since it is impossible to hold these tickets indefinitely, students are urged to make their reservation now.

The sale for higher class tickets is at present about equal to that of the $1.03 tickets.

Present indications are that the entire state will be represented at this program.

Birthday Committee To Meet Tomorrow

The committee in charge of arrangements for the Birthday Party for President Roosevelt will meet in Graham Memorial tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock, according to an announcement Saturday by Felix A. Grisette, chairman.

Final plans for the party to be staged on Tuesday night, January 30, will be completed at the meeting Monday night and Grisette urges everyone who has agreed to assist to attend.

ENGINEERS TO BE SHOT

Members of the American Institute of Civil Engineers and of the American Institute of Mechanical Engineers will meet in front of Phillips hall Wednesday morning at 10:23 o'clock for the purpose of taking the pictures for the 1934 Yackety Yack. It is imperative that all members be prompt.

DI WILL DISCUSS CO-OP CLEANERS

Popular Question of Cultural or Enjoyable Entertainment Programs on Bill.

The Di senate, following its policy of discussing campus problems, has three bills concerning such questions on slate for the meeting to be held Tuesday night.

The first of these bills is one that was left over from the last meeting of the group because of a shortage of time. It is: Resolved: That the student co-operative cleaners constitute a violation of the principles of fair competition and should be placed under the NRA code for cleaners.

Another question to be debated is: Resolved: That the student entertainment programs should have more emphasis placed upon pure entertainment than upon cultural advancement.

Popular Question

This is a question that is discussed frequently by the members of the student body at large. It has recently come into the limelight again because of an interest shown in it by the freshman executive committee. This group has requested all campus organizations to discuss the question and to make suggestions as to the kind of entertainment preferred.

A third bill which will be debated is: Resolved: That the Publications Union board has no authority to create scholarship funds for use by members of the publications' staffs only from money which has been contributed by the student body at large. This bill will complete the pre-planned discussion.

FROSH WILL CONDUCT IMPORTANT BUSINESS

Freshman assembly will be devoted tomorrow to an important business meeting of the class, it was announced yesterday from the office of the dean of students.

Upton Close, noted writer and commentator on international politics, who is being brought here by the University Y. M. C. A., will speak to the first-year class on the subject "How Youth Can Fit in the New Deal," Monday, January 29.

Soph Exec Committee

There will be an important meeting of the sophomore executive committee tomorrow at 7:30 o'clock in Graham Memorial.

BOARD MAY MAKE AWARDS DESPITE ADVERSE OPINION

Scholarships Technically Exist But Board May Drop Matter at Next Meeting.

CONSIDERED POOR POLICY

The scholarships created by the Publications Union board and declared not justified by the student activities committee Friday night are still in existence and action will be taken by the board early next week, it was learned yesterday.

Although they may still be awarded, it is expected that the board will act in accordance with the committee's recommendation and abolish the funds entirely as a poor policy.

The action of the committee in defeating the motion favoring the scholarships caused R. B. House, executive secretary of the University, to declare them abolished as far as the University scholarship committee was concerned. This committee, in whose hands the P. U. board placed the scholarships for administration, had made the four selections for the funds conditionally awaiting the vote of the activities committee as to the justification for the board's action in their creation.

Not Administrated

When the activities group voted against the scholarships as being an unjustified policy, those who had been named for the funds were notified that the scholarships no longer existed in the form of funds administrated through the University.

Technically, the P. U. board can ask for applications and go through with the scholarship program. The advisability of such a procedure will be one of the major questions confronting the board composed of two new faculty members at its first meeting soon.

The feature of the scholarships stipulating that they be limited to members of the staffs of campus publications was the point at issue in the opposing decision. The activities committee felt that the board had no power to use money coming directly or indirectly from student fees for the benefit of a small group of staffmen.

Absurd Yarns Spun By Students To Escape Paying Library Fines

Only Legitimate Excuses Are Accepted by Staff Which Is Subjected to Listening to Fantastic Tales; Fines Collected Are Used for Purchasing Books and Periodicals.

If ever an intangible spirit prompts the formation of a local chapter of Lowell Thomas' bumptious Tall Story club, the University's librarians are determined to submit a roster of members already in good standing. The checkers-in-and-out of the best and "not so best" of the world's literature have in their time heard whoppers which make Thomas' collection sound like most unchallenged reality.

Members of the staff in the reserve room and at the general circulation desk listen daily to elaborate yarns, distractedly devised by students seeking to avoid paying fines for books overdue. Not long ago one sly little chap offered the excuse that the book had been picked up by a professor who had subsequently left town for a week.

Carolina Composer

Lamar Stringfield, whose latest composition, "A Mountain Episode," will be played by the Stringfield ensemble of the North Carolina Symphony society this afternoon.

Cabinets Adopt Plan For Public Meetings

The Y. M. C. A. cabinets have adopted a program of public meetings once a month, at which a prominent visiting speaker will deliver an address on some vital religious topic. The speeches will be followed by general discussion.

Dr. E. McNeill Poteat of Raleigh will speak at the first meeting of the series tomorrow night at 7:15 o'clock in Gerrard hall. His topic is "The Status of Religion Today."

Students are invited to attend these meetings and to present any questions concerning religion for forum discussion after the address.

Pfohl Will Present Concert Wednesday

James C. Pfohl, director of music at Davidson College, will give an organ concert Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock in Hill Music hall.

Pfohl was a student at the University a few years ago. From here he went to the University of Michigan, where he graduated from the school of music, with honors in the field of the organ. He went to Davidson this year as director of music. He is the son of Bishop Pfohl of Winston-Salem.

GRADUATES MUST APPLY PROMPTLY FOR FELLOWSHIPS

Twenty-Six Teaching Fellowships with $500 Value Available in Graduate School.

MARCH 1 SET AS DEADLINE

Applications for graduate fellowships and positions as graduate assistants must be filed with Dr. W. W. Pierson, dean of the graduate school, not later than March 1, it was announced yesterday.

Awards will be made on a competitive basis and will be announced not earlier than April 1.

In awarding teaching fellowships, the applications sent in to the graduate office will be referred to committees in the individual departments, and the departments will make nominations to the administrative board of the graduate school which will elect those to receive awards. All applications for graduate assistantships are referred to the individual departments.

Twenty-Six Fellowships

Twenty-six teaching fellowships are available in the graduate school, having a stipend of $500 each. Each fellow is expected to give a portion of his time to instruction or such other work as may be prescribed.

As for graduate assistantships, a limited number of appointments are open to applicants. Holders are expected to devote one half of their time to

(Continued on last page)

SAINT-GAUDENS TO SPEAK HERE

Son of Great Sculptor Will Be Second Lecturer on Student Entertainment Program.

Homer Schiff Saint-Gaudens, director of fine arts at the Carnegie Institute, will deliver another student entertainment lecture Tuesday night at 8:30 o'clock in Hill music auditorium.

His subject, though the exact title has not yet been announced, will deal with his reminiscences of his father, the famous sculptor, Augustus Saint-Gaudens.

Augustus Saint-Gaudens is considered one of America's greatest sculptors. He was born in France, and from his earliest days worked at sculpturing.

Famous Works

His best known work in the United States is the Abraham Lincoln statue in Chicago. This figure represents Lincoln standing in front of an armchair with one hand on the lapel of his coat in a characteristic pose. It is said to be the greatest portrait statue in America.

Another creation for which the elder Saint-Gaudens is known is the Adams memorial in Washington, by some called "Grief," and by others, "Death." It has as its most striking feature a shrouded bronze figure leaning back against the stone of the memorial. Since no one has yet quite discovered what it is intended to portray, it is the American Mona Lisa.

Feature Board Meeting

The feature board of the DAILY TAR HEEL will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in 205 Graham Memorial.

(Continued on last page)