past year, its present standing, and then gave suggestions for improvements.

"The way the campus as a whole has rallied around the honor system this year is one of the most significant occurrences in the Carolina student body in many years.

"More students have been reported for cheating by other students in the past year than in the last five years," said Barnes.

For improvements in student government, the out-going president advocated more closely integrated student activities, more student representation on the Athletic council, and a more flexible system of student fees.

Barnes pointed out the unique distinction the student governing system has here with the right recently given the Student council to over rule disputed actions of the governing board of any student activity, subject to the final decision of the student body.

Barnes officially turned his position over to Virgil Weathers, incoming president of the student body, who spoke and then introduced the incoming Student council and campus administrative officers.

"Whatever I do as president of the student body," stated Weathers, "I will do sincerely and to the best of my ability."

Thanking those who had supported him in the recent elections, Weathers asked all the campus to back him and his administration during the year.

J. Maryon Saunders, secretary of the University Alumni association, will attend the meeting in Washington. He is scheduled to discuss the activities of a local alumni club.

President Graham and Mr. Saunders will go to Washington tonight, and will return to Chapel Hill Saturday.

Degree Receivers to Apply

All students who may receive degrees at the approaching commencement in June must make application in the office of their deans or the registrar's office before May 10.

Cards for registering may be obtained from the registrar's office. All applicants must have their names in by May 10, so that the names may go to the engravers.

WHAT, NO DRESSIN'?

When they are creating the nation's new song hits, Mack Gordon and Harry Revel, stay close to their work. They have just completed the score for Paramount's "We're Not Dressing," showing today and tomorrow at the Carolina theatre, featuring Bing Crosby, whom they call "the song-writer's dream."

DEADLINE SET FOR INVITATION ORDERS

Samples of the senior commencement invitations will be placed on exhibition for the last times today and tomorrow in the Y. M. C. A. lobby during the hours of 9:30 to 12:00 o'clock in the mornings and 2:00 to 4:00 o'clock in the afternoons. The deadline for placing orders has been set for tomorrow afternoon at 4:00 o'clock. All seniors are urged to order their bids before that time.

SENIOR CLASS ELECTS GRADUATION OFFICIALS

The senior class elected commencement officers at a meeting held in Gerrard hall last night. About 20 seniors attended the meeting.

Robert Leeper was elected class poet; John Alexander, historian; Forney A. Rankin, prophet; and Elmer Oettinger, testator. Two men were nominated for each office by the commencement committee, and a few were nominated from the floor.

RIGGS WILL HEAD SOCIAL WORKERS

Is Elected President of Student Division of State Conference.

Harry Riggs, of Lenoir, was elected president of the student division of the North Carolina conference for Social Service at its last meeting held in Raleigh the past week-end, Harry F. Comer, adviser to the conference, announced yesterday.

Other officers elected at the meeting were William Finlator of Wake Forest as vice-president and Ruth Phillips of Duke as secretary-treasurer.

A definite policy has been adopted by the student division of the conference to form clubs on campuses of every institution taking part in the conference. The clubs will have a definite relation to the State Conference on Social Service. On the local campus the combined Y. M. C. A. cabinets will serve as this body.

"Y" DEPUTATION GOES TO EASTERN CAROLINA

Jack Pool is leader of a deputation team to Rocky Mount composed of a trio and four speakers leaving tonight and spending the week-end presenting programs in that city.

Programs will be given in five churches, six schools, a dinner meeting of the Rocky Mount Rotary club, a joint meeting of four Hi-Y clubs, the Eastern North Carolina Training School, and at a mass meeting and free show to the school children of that city.

Works Honored

Francis Speight is a native North Carolinian. In the 10 years just passed, his works of art have received prizes and awards in most of the leading art exhibitions. "Spring in Manayunk," one of his pictures, has been purchased by the Metropolitan Museum of Art; another is owned by the Canadian government.

Speight won the Crasson Travelling scholarship in 1923, and again in 1925; the Gold Medal award of the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts in 1930; and the same year, the Fellowship prize of the National Academy of Design in New York, and the M. V. Kohnstaam prize of the Art Institute of Chicago; in 1929 he won the Landscape medal of the Society of Washington Artists; and in 1932, the Landscape prize of the Connecticut Academy of Fine Arts.

Watch out for the signs of jangled nerves

You've noticed other people's nervous habits—and wondered probably why such people didn't learn to control themselves.

But have you ever stopped to think that you, too, may have habits just as irritating to other people as those of the key juggler or coin jingler are to you? And more important than that, those habits are a sign of jangled nerves. And jangled nerves are the signal to stop and check up on yourself.

Get enough sleep—fresh air—recreation—and watch your smoking. Remember, you can smoke as many Camels as you want. Their costlier tobaccos never jangle the nerves.

COSTLIER TOBACCOS

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS than any other popular brand of cigarettes!

TEST YOUR NERVES FREE!

Shows 20 ways to test nerves—all illustrated. Instructive and amusing! Try them on your friends—see if you have healthy nerves yourself... Mail order-blank below with fronts from 2 packs of Camels. Free book comes postpaid.
