

LANIER SUPPORTS 'C' REQUIREMENT FOR AID IN FERA

State FERA Authorities Instruct Benefitted Colleges to Re-quire Good Scholarship.

TO SETTLE GRADE SOON

Edwin S. Lanier, Y. M. C. A. self-help secretary and head of the FERA student aid committee at the University, announced yesterday that he considered a "C" average necessary for students receiving federal aid in the University.

The N. C. Federal Emergency Relief Administration this week instructed all presidents of colleges and universities in the state which are receiving federal aid, "that no FERA students who fall below good scholastic attainment may be continued as a beneficiary of federal funds."

Many "C" Applicants

Lanier's statement followed: "I feel that, in view of the large number of students now here and wanting to enter here after Christmas who have academic averages of 'C' or better, all our quota of federal aid for students should go to students who have made at least a 'C' average by the end of the present quarter."

President Frank Graham and Dean R. B. House have entrusted the University self-help committee with the responsibility of administering the University's quota of federal funds to aid self-help students, amounting to $4,335.

To Interpret Standing

This committee functions through the self-help office. Within the next few days, according to Lanier, the committee will make a definite announcement concerning its interpretation of what constitutes good scholastic standing for FERA students.

Lanier stated further, "It is past time for the application of the same rule by the self-help committee in awarding all self-help jobs within the control of the University. The University scholarship committee is already observing this standard."

Brilliant Steam Heating Plan Fails When Tar Turns Tables

"Best Laid Plans of Mice and Men Oft Will Gang Awry"; in This Case, Because a Good Rule Works Both Ways.

The boys in Swain hall worked under "forced draft" yesterday, and the boarders ate emergency rations as a result of what has been called "one of the most brilliant experiments in contemporary steam heating."

The unknown person, or persons, who instigated the experiment conceived the idea of running an inch-and-a-half pipe from Swain's heating and cooking steam line into the inky, oily midst of the hundreds of gallons of Tarvia road-surfacing fluid stored in the old water tank near the rear entrance to Swain.

Aim: To Un-goo Tar

The object was to force steam through the Tarvia and thus reduce it to a lower viscosity so that it might be tapped and used to surface the by-ways of Chapel Hill.

All went well as long as the steam pressure remained high. The Tarvia became fluid, and a quantity was drawn off. But the pipe to the steam system remained connected.

F. D. R. REASSURES ORGANIZED LABOR

Legislation Succeeding NRA to Retain Labor Safeguards, Promises President.

Washington, Dec. 14.—(UP)—Roosevelt tonight assured organized labor that the administration would retain certain safeguards for workers in the legislation which will replace the NRA.

He announced plans to retain these features in a new set-up at a press conference shortly after he had conferred with President William Green of the American Federation of Labor.

Green Offers Program

Green, apprehensive over the plans of industry and business to present a united front on New Deal legislation at the coming session of Congress, laid before Roosevelt a program which labor regards as essential to the future economic welfare of the nation's workers.

The six-point program includes a request that Section 7-A be made a basic law. It asks continuation of the child labor ban, continuation of the maximum hour and minimum wage provisions among other things.
