

Tar Heels And Cavaliers Clash In Tin Can Tonight

Conference Contest Will Start at 8:30

White Phantoms Will Defend Unbeaten Record Against Cavaliers Tonight.

VIRGINIA HAS FINE CLUB SPECIAL

Duke Gym, Jan. 14.—Duke University continued its winning streak on its home court here tonight and trimmed Virginia's strong Cavalier five, 30-20.

Lineup
Carolina	Virginia
Aitken	lf. Rogers
Nelson	r.f. Sturm
Glace	c. Zeisburg
Kaveny or Harris	lg. Gist
McCachren	r.g. Marrett

Carolina's White Phantoms will engage the strong Cavalier club from the University of Virginia in the Tin Can at 8:30 tonight.

Coach Bo Shepard worked his team until late yesterday evening, hoping to iron out numerous wrinkles before tonight's game.

Although the Tar Heels won all their contests during their invasion of Virginia last week, Coach Shepard expressed disappointment in the general play of the team. The White Phantoms had little difficulty in disposing of V.P.I. Saturday night; however, on the two previous nights they had to come from behind in order to win the close games from V.M.I. and W. & L.

Good Virginia Team

The team which takes the floor against the Tar Heels tonight is one of the best Virginia has produced for several years. The Cavaliers have defeated several good teams this season, among which is the powerful South Carolina club.

Paul Kaveny, regular guard, missed practice yesterday due to a slight cold. He is expected to be ready by tonight. Bucky Harris displayed fine form on the Virginia trip and will probably see plenty of service in tonight's game.

WRESTLERS OPEN STRENUOUS WORK FOR INITIAL TILT

Coach Quinlan Pleased by Showing Made in Preliminaries Saturday Afternoon.

VARSITY, FROSH MEET VPI

Coach Chuck Quinlan, varsity wrestling mentor, seemed rather pleased with the work shown by his proteges in the preliminary meet held last Saturday between the "Grunts" and the "Groans" teams which were picked from both varsity and freshman squads.

Particularly pleasing to the mat coach was the work of Ehringhaus, 118; Ford, 135; Gibbons, 145; Love, 175; and Walborn, unlimited, all candidates for the freshman contingent, and Umstead and Efland, varsity members.

Hard Work Ahead

The two mat groups began intensive practice for their opener with the strong V.P.I. aggregation on Saturday. Coach Quinlan continued to stress work from the standing position. Calisthenics and road work completed the program for the day.

Carolina will be out to avenge the 18-10 loss suffered at the hands of the Gobblers in Blacksburg last year. Boasting one of the strongest mat teams in Dixie the Virginians took six of the eight matches.

White Phantoms Lead Conference And State Races

Carolina's White Phantoms, by virtue of their clean sweep through Virginia last week-end, are perched on the top rung of the Southern Conference basketball ladder here in the first few weeks of play.

In making this fine showing the Tar Heels were forced to their limit as they barely subdued the defending conference champ, W. & L. team, and then had to stage a brilliant last period comeback to win over V.M.I.

In the Big Five, Carolina and Duke are leading the race with two victories each, while State boasts a lone win. This week, however, will mark the elimination of either Duke or State as the two meet in Raleigh on Tuesday. The only other inter-Big Five contest is State-Davidson on Wednesday.

The Southern Conference standings are as follows:

Teams	W	L	Pct.
North Carolina	3	0	1.000
Maryland	2	1	.667
Duke	1	1	.500
W. & L.	1	1	.500
Virginia	1	1	.500
South Carolina	1	2	.333
V. P. I.	0	1	.000
V. M. I.	0	2	.000

The Big Five standings are as follows:

Teams	W	L	Pct.
Carolina	2	0	1.000
Duke	2	0	1.000
State	1	0	1.000
Davidson	0	2	.000
Wake Forest	0	3	.000

Sixty Gridders Report At First Drill Session Of Winter Practice

Snaveley Will Have Hard Job of Replacing Men Lost This Year by Graduation.

Carl G. Snaveley began his second year as head coach of the Carolina football team yesterday when he called out his charges for the first drill of winter practice. About 60 players reported for the work in Kenan stadium.

Ex-Captain and All-America George Barclay was on hand, although he has finished his playing days as a Tar Heel. Barclay returned to the University Sunday with a car load of medals, certificates, and fan mail. He will resume his studies and also help with the coaching of the football squad.

Since it was the first day of practice the candidates took things rather easy but the work will be increased with time. Coach Snaveley again began by stressing blocking, which he considers by far the most important element in any eleven's attack.

Long Signal Drill

The squad was divided into five different clubs and then run through a long signal drill. The same plays of last season were generally used but Coach Snaveley will likely introduce many new ones and some variations of his single-wing-back formation.

A large number of lettermen were out plus a strong looking group of freshmen. However, many of the lettermen and freshman stars could not report because of other winter sports.

The general fundamentals of football will be stressed during the next few weeks while the coaches organize the new squad and fit the freshmen into it.

Coach Snaveley will be able to place lettermen at every position if he desires, while nine

Varsity Boxers Show Up Well In Opening Battle

Diehl, O'Flaherty, and Alderman Give Feature Performances In Win over V. P. I.

MEET S. C. THIS SATURDAY

After taking the V.P.I. boxing contingent into camp by a 7-1 margin, the Carolina leather-pushers resumed their workouts in the highest of spirits yesterday afternoon. Although the boys performed very favorably from the looks of the one-sided score, Coach Rowe is still not satisfied with the condition of the squad as a whole. He is optimistic of having them in tip-top shape for the South Carolina meet here this Saturday.

In the bantamweight class last Saturday night, Marion Diehl, fighting his first bout as a varsity man, turned in a beautiful performance when he scored a technical knockout in the third round over Hall of V.P.I. Diehl carried the fight from the sound of the opening gong and had his man wobble as early as the second round.

Only V. P. I. Win

Johnnie Edwards, in the featherweight class, did not fare so well. Edwards lost a close decision to Freddie Hall of V. P. I. However, much credit should go to Edwards, who was bested by the man that lost out only to Rainey of Virginia in the finals of the Southern Conference tournament last year.

Unleashing a powerful two-fisted attack, Tommy O'Flaherty took a little more than a round to flatten Brandon, the V.P.I. entry. O'Flaherty was not even breathing hard at the finish and certainly showed up well in his

Bill Tilden And Company To Play Here On April 4

Vines, Stoefer, Lott To Complete Group

Series of Matches Began in Madison Square Garden Last Wednesday.

TO PERFORM IN 82 CITIES

By LEN RUBIN
"Big Bill" is coming to town! The old maestro of the tennis courts will again invade Chapel Hill, but this time with an unprecedented galaxy of stars to grace the Carolina courts.

Ellsworth Vines, Les Stoefer, and George Lott will accompany Tilden on his tour that will put on exhibitions in 82 cities throughout the country, and which reaches the University on April 4.

Tilden has appeared many times at Carolina but it was thought that this year would witness a break in his annual visits. However, his coming will give the people of this vicinity an opportunity to witness the court game at its peak.

The Four Aces

It will be a quartet of masters, perfect at their art, demonstrating the intricacies of tennis, and when these four come together, there is no limit as to what is bound to happen.

The tour opened last Wednesday at Madison Square Garden in New York, when Tilden and Vines initiated Stoefer and Lott into professional tennis by drubbing them before 15,000 tennis fanatics.

The long discussed meeting of the two combinations in doubles provided the thrills that were awaited when Tilden and Vines downed their opponents, the national amateur doubles champions, in a three hour setto that kept the immense crowd on their toes until the last stroke. The scores were 3-6, 14-16, 13-11, 8-6, 6-4, which shows clearly the intensity of the battle.

K. A.'s and Swain Tally 50 Points in Wins; Alpha Epsilon Is Also Victorious.

EVERETT IS HIGH SCORER

Four intramural basketball games dotted the boards of the Tin Can yesterday afternoon with Lewis' 16-12 win over the Smithsonians the closest of the session.

Kappa Alpha and Swain Hall each scored 50 points in garnering victories, while Alpha Epsilon, making its initial appearance in an intramural contest, defeated Phi Sigma Kappa 42-20.

Individual scoring honors went to Malcolm Everett, K. A.'s "Georgia Peach," who accounted for 29, more than half his team's total. Shalom of Alpha Epsilon came next with 16, and Burton and Little, both of Swain Hall, followed with 13 each.

Lewis and the Smithsonians battled on even terms most of the game, but Hooks' quartet of double-pointers put the lower quadrangle team out in front shortly before the end. Pickler, of the losers, added a brace of field goals to head his team.

CAROLINA FROSH PLAY HOLT FIVE TONIGHT AT 7:15

Moss, Giant Center, Out for Remaining Part of Season; Meroney at Center.

VISITORS STRONG TEAM

The Carolina freshman quintet will take the floor against an unexpected opponent tonight when it clashes with Holt Mills in the Tin Can at 7:15 o'clock before the varsity game.

Formerly scheduled against Oak Ridge, the frosh team was forced suddenly to revise its schedule due to the recent decision of the military academy to discontinue basketball for the present season.

The hurried scheduling of Holt Mills brings the frosh face to face with a strong opponent that threatens to put an end to their winning ways. The visiting team is an independent organization of Burlington composed of former college students now employed in the mill.

Moss Out for Season

The Carolina frosh will be minus the services of "Pee-wee" Moss tonight and "Red" Meroney will again start at center. Moss's playing days for this year are over due to trouble with his back, and his absence will be felt.

The remainder of the squad will be the same that opened against Raleigh High, namely: Pete Mullis, Andy Bershak, Earl Ruth, and Foy Grubb. This quintet showed up remarkably
