

FRESHMEN DEFER PROPOSED HONOR COURT QUESTION

If Class Votes for Tribunal, It Will Also Name Method of Selecting Members.

PLAN FAVORED BY COUNCIL

The freshman class voted yesterday to postpone decision on the proposed honor court until it assembles again Monday morning. If the class decides to have such a court, it will then vote on the method for selecting the members.

Nick Read, chairman of the honor court committee, asked the freshmen to consider the following methods of selection and be prepared to discuss and vote on them Monday:

1. That the class delegate to the executive committee the power to elect the members of the council.

2. That the class allow the executive committee to nominate 22 men, from which the 11 men on the court will be elected by the class.

3. That the class elect a nominating committee from the entire class, with the president and chairman of the executive committee acting as ex-officio members, to nominate the 22 men.

Weathers States Approval

Virgil Weathers, president of the student body, speaking for the student council, told the freshmen, "We are heartily in sympathy with the proposed honor court and sincerely hope that it succeeds."

"Pete" Mullis, president of the freshman class, presided and called on Nick Read who presented the report of the honor court committee.

The honor court, as it is proposed, will have 11 men representing the five schools: four from the college of liberal arts, three from the commerce school, two from the engineering school, and one from both the pharmacy school and school of applied science. A member of the student council will act as an adviser.

Freshmen convicted of cheating in their own honor court will then have the opportunity of appealing to the student council.

Law Library Gets Full Data on Gold Cases

Briefs, Majority-Minority Reports, and Comments on Hand.

The law library now has the full reports on the gold clause cases on which the U. S. Supreme Court handed down an opinion this past Monday. These reports include the majority opinion as delivered by Chief Justice Hughes, and the dissenting opinion as delivered by Associate Justice McReynolds.

The library also has the briefs on the respective cases, prepared by Attorney General Cummings and heard by the Supreme Court on January 8 and 9. These reports and briefs, together with newspaper and magazine comment, may be secured at the law library desk. However, they cannot be taken out of the reading room.

Composition Exams

All students who plan to take the examination for the removal of composition conditions are asked to see Dr. H. K. Russell in 203 Murphey Monday from 10 to 11 a. m. or 3 to 4 p. m.

Among prominent alumni expected for the exercises are Judge E. E. Rives of Greensboro, and Judge George W. Connor, associate justice of the N. C. Supreme Court.

'Y' TO SEND NINE TO FAYETTEVILLE

Deputation Team Will Make 15 Appearances in Four-Day Stay; Leaves Thursday.

Nine campus leaders will represent the University Y. M. C. A. when it sends its deputation team to Fayetteville Thursday, according to an announcement from Harry F. Comer yesterday.

The team will make 15 appearances during its four-day stay in the eastern town. Its visit will include talks to clubs, churches, schools, and to a mass meeting Sunday afternoon of the boys of Fayetteville.

Personnel

Included in the team, which will leave Chapel Hill Thursday afternoon, are Lee Grier, Francis Fairley, Don McKee, Bill Yandell, H. F. Comer, and the James Dees quartet composed of Claude Ballard, John Walker, Harold Gavin, and Dees himself.

Comer and the quartet made the recent "Y" deputation trip to Dunn with Jack Pool, chairman of the Y. M. C. A. deputation group. Pool recently announced that a complete program with deputation trips planned for each week-end (excluding the period for examinations) was being drawn up.

Pool, as chairman last year, led his teams over the state contacting more than 25,000 people. He plans to beat his record with the new program outlined for the remainder of this year.

OPERA

A broadcast of two operas, "Don Pasquale" by Donizetti and "La Serva Padrona," by Pergolesi, from the Metropolitan Opera House in New York, will be heard in the choral room of the Hill music hall today at 1:40 p. m.

VANCE INN—ITIATION

White-wigged and black-robed figures presided over the initiation of students to Vance Inn of Phi Delta Phi, international legal fraternity, last night in Graham Memorial.

Those lawyers who were elected to the fraternity are Alex Andrews, Clement Bennett, Mark Dunn, Ralph Gardner, John Higby, Chapin Litten, Nicholas Powell, Virgil Weathers, and John Williams.

F. D. R. PROMISES PERSONNEL MEN

Huey Long Abuses Farley, Violates Press Release; House Pushes Bonus Issue.

Washington, Feb. 22.—(UP)—There was joy in the camp of the Democrats tonight, for they were promised today by President Roosevelt that a personnel man was to be appointed for each government board and agency. These job-finders will not only listen to Democratic Congressmen wanting jobs for their constituents, but they will listen respectfully.

Speaker of the House Joseph T. Byrns said that some 10,000 jobs would be available for superintendents and foremen of CCC camps.

The Senate and the House completed action on the Conally "hot oil" bill and sent it to Roosevelt for his signature.

Amendment Deleted

The House passed a $378,000,000 war department appropriation bill after removing an amendment previously voted which would have increased the army's enlisted strength by 11,000.

More than 100 representatives signed a petition to force a vote in the House on the $2,015,000,000 soldiers' bonus bill. If 217 sign within the next few days, a vote will be forced on March 11.

The Louisiana Loudspeaker, Huey Long, gave tongue tonight in the Senate to some of the most profane and extreme abuse ever recorded from the floor of that assembly. Using everything included in his vocabulary short of repressed profanity, he denounced Postmaster General "Big Jim" Farley as a "cheap . . . crook." He then proceeded to give excerpts from an ill-gotten press release of the speech that Farley is scheduled to make tomorrow.

Newspapers throughout the country refrained from quoting Long, holding that the Delta Dictator had violated an ethical trust.

Fiddlers, Bards to Have Three-Day Festival

Arranged by University Institute; Will Begin Wednesday.

A three-day old-time music convention, arranged by the Institute of Folk Music at the University, will begin Wednesday at Cranberry high school, near Elk Park, N. C., according to an announcement by Richard Chase, associate director of the institute.

String musicians, ballad singers, those who can sing the old time hymns of the "all-day singing with dinner on the grounds" type, and others who just wish to attend and listen-in are invited to the festival.

Fiddlers, banjo-pickers, and string bands will be featured on the opening day. Ballad-singing and old "love songs," traditional children's songs and other secular pieces will characterize the following day's program, and the third day will be given over to sacred music.

Infirmary

The following students were confined in the infirmary yesterday: Nancy Flanders, C. H. Woodburn, Irving Landon, Stewart Parker, W. M. Fletcher, R. F. Blount, J. P. Jenrette, and Ralph Gardner.

Political Union

Definite arrangements for the program of the first meeting of the newly-formed Carolina Political Union are not yet complete, Phil Hammer, temporary chairman, announced yesterday.

The hitch in the program has been the failure of speakers invited to participate to answer invitations. However, it is expected that definite plans will be announced in tomorrow's issue of this newspaper.

Monday night is the tentative date for which the first meeting of the union is to be held. This will be changed, however, if an outside political speaker cannot be obtained for that night.

The rest of the program will be given over to final organization of the new Union, Hammer announced. Proposals will be submitted for organization by the temporary committee appointed by the chairman for that purpose.

"Ancient Heritage" To Add To Author's Drama Achievements

Philip Parker's Play Is Among Three Originals to Be Presented Next Week.

Philip Parker, Carolina junior who came here this fall from Bowdoin, has received frequent recognition in his five months with the Playmakers. His original drama, "Ancient Heritage," will be presented next week on the Playmakers bill of new Carolina plays.

Parker first appeared before Carolina students last fall in the Playmakers' production of Karl Capek's "R. U. R." After having several of his originals produced experimentally by the Playmakers, Parker again came to the front with his portrayal of George Brent in the latest Playmakers production, Noel Coward's "The Young Idea."

Three-Play Program

His latest recognition with the Koch outfit was the announcement recently that his "Ancient Heritage" would be produced, along with two other outstanding originals: Patsy McMullan's "Cottie Mourns" and Ella Mae Daniels' "Yours and Mine," on the bill of new Carolina plays, scheduled to be presented Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week.

His play concerns his native New England and New English aristocracy. The author's love for his own locale and its traditions led him to write a story depicting two members of his own family. These two women, Carrie and Sarah Bancroft in the drama, have carried on the traditions which have lasted through New England history since its beginning in 1620.

DR. GEORGE ADDRESSES STATE COLLEGE BODY

Dr. W. C. George of the University medical school addressed the faculty and graduate students in the biological departments of State College yesterday afternoon.

His paper was a discussion of some of the problems involved in contemporary investigations of the structure and function of the blood cells.

TAX SUBSTITUTE IS NOT APPROVED

Senate Committee Chairman Finds No Merit in Plan.

Raleigh, Feb. 22.—(UP)—At the conclusion of the hearings by a joint finance committee on the McDonald-Lumpkin sales tax substitute, indications were that none of its sections would be adopted.

Chairman Harris Newman of the Senate Finance Committee told the United Press, "Hearings have convinced me that there is no merit whatsoever in the plan."

The House in a lively session today debated the Senate resolution to invite former Governor Cameron Morrison to address a joint session. They finally passed the resolution, bearing an amendment changing the time to Wednesday at 8 p. m.

GRAIL GIVES HOP AT NINE TONIGHT

Freshmen May Attend Third Winter Dance; Wardlaw, Ex-Campus Boy, Will Play.

With another of a long line of distinguished orchestras that have originated at the University furnishing the music, the third Grail dance of the winter quarter will begin tonight at 9 o'clock in Bynum gym.

According to Simmons Patterson, treasurer of the Grail, freshmen will be admitted.

Since Jack Wardlaw left the University with his band they have toured Europe and have established themselves as one of the most popular bands on the eastern seaboard. At present they are on an extensive tour of southern colleges and universities from their winter location at the Hotel Patrick Henry in Roanoke, Va.

Vocalists Rate

Featured vocalists with the band are Lucile Gregory, Bob Bland and Roland McKellar. Bland was given an excellent rating by the Columbia Broadcasting system in an audition last summer over their network. Miss Gregory is one of the most outstanding feminine singers appearing with a southern orchestra.

The dance will last from 9 until 12 o'clock. Tickets are priced at $1 and are now on sale at Pritchard-Lloyd's, or they may be bought at the door tonight.

Knight Leaves Today To Meet Educators

Will Speak at Atlantic City Education Conference.

Dr. Edgar W. Knight, director of the summer session, leaves today for Atlantic City, N. J., where he will attend the winter meeting of the National Education Association, which begins Sunday.

Dr. Knight will speak to the executive committee of the National Society of College Teachers of Education.

He will also attend the meeting of the National Council of Education, prominent body to which he was elected last summer. He will return Wednesday or Thursday.

B. Y. P. U. Program

A group of W. C. U. N. C. students will conduct the weekly program of the B. Y. P. U. tomorrow night at 7 o'clock in the Baptist church.

NYE TO DISCUSS WAR PROFITTEERS TOMORROW NIGHT

Prober of Munitions Companies Appears Here under Auspices of University Y. M. C. A.

SPEAKS FIRST IN RALEIGH

United States Senator Gerald P. Nye will address the Carolina student body tomorrow night in Memorial hall at 8 o'clock on the subject of "Munitions Profiteering, etc."

Nye's appearance at the University is being sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. The North Dakota senator will address a peace group in Raleigh tomorrow afternoon and will come to Chapel Hill for dinner tomorrow night in the Carolina Inn.

Was Chief Prober

"Munitions Profiteering, etc." will deal with the Senate investigation of the munitions industry in this country. The Senate investigation committee, which group Nye headed last summer, recently revealed startling facts concerning DuPont and other munitions manufacturers.

The Senator's lecture will give Carolina students a chance to hear from the "investigator" himself many of his findings. Nye, a leader of the minority in Congress, is an advocate of disarmament steps are taken by loyal citizens not biased by stock-contact with the munitions industry.

Glass Houses . . .

Nye opposed the recent bill that was defeated by Congress that the United States should join the World Court. He believes that America should clean up her own back yard before forcing herself and her plans for international peace on the rest of the world.

The North Dakota Congressman has become known as the "Progressive Republican." He has had an outstanding career as a journalist and entered national politics only during the last ten years.

BOOKSHOP HEARS RUSSELL TUESDAY

Writer-Teacher Will Give Regular Bull's Head Lecture.

According to an announcement from Elizabeth Johnson, director of the Bull's Head Bookshop in the Y. M. C. A., Professor Phillip Russell will appear on the regular Tuesday afternoon lecture program in the Bookshop next week.

Russell, author of several books and outstanding as a writer, will address the Bull's Head audience on "Preventive Writing."

The speaker is the teacher of the creative writing course. The class meets for two hours each Thursday night in the Bull's Head where the Tuesday lecture will take place.

FOREIGN BULLETIN

London, Feb. 22.—(UP)—Sir John Simon, English foreign secretary, planned tonight to hurry to Berlin, and possibly to Moscow, to act as a peace-maker between Russia and Germany.

The British government expressed alarm at the blunt charges of official organs in Moscow that Germany was hungry for war and that Hitler was preparing to seize territory in eastern and central Europe.
