

Coach Hearn Has Seven Veterans Out For Nine

Rookies Will Play At First and Third

Jim Tatum Shifted to Backstop; Irwin and Rand Will Form Keystone Combination.

Carolina's 1935 baseball squad got down to hard work again yesterday after a two-day layoff as a result of rain. The club took three whole days of work during the holiday period and is now rounding into some sort of form.

Coach Bunn Hearn has shifted his veterans about and now has old men at every position but two. It is these two spots, first base and third base, that the Southern Conference and Big Five champs are having the most difficulty filling.

Tatum to Catch

With four lettermen back for the outfield, Coach Hearn has shifted Big Jim Tatum to the catcher position left open by Norman McCaskill. The long-distance hitting Tatum will be assisted by Strayhorn and Cook, two likely looking prospects.

The first string outfield of veterans is lining up with Captain Thurman Vick in center-field, Eddie Shapiro in right-field, and Gus McIver in left-field. Starke and Volivia, two sophomores, and Lefty Groome, a great fielder, have also shown promise in the outfield.

Good Keystoners

Moving Trip Rand over from third to second, Coach Hearn has a keystone combination which has already demonstrated ability both on defense and offense. The return of Tommy Irwin, last year's star shortstop, greatly strengthens the team.

Buck McCarn, big sophomore, seems to have the edge on the open first base job because of his stick work. Morris Rhodes is also making a strong bid for the position.

FIRST YEAR NINE CARDS 11 GAMES

Practice for First Year Nine to Begin This Week; Rookie Wright Likely to Coach.

Coach Bunn Hearn announced yesterday that the initial frosh baseball practice will take place at the close of this week thus giving the yearling candidates a chance to get settled to their classes prior to a long campaign.

Hearn believes that James Wright, coach of last season's freshmen nine, will take over the duties he held in 1934. Wright formerly starred on the Carolina varsity and is at present a resident of Chapel Hill.

G. E. Shepard, assistant athletic director, gave out the frosh schedule yesterday which lists 11 games for the 1935 Tar Babies. Seven of the contests are to be played at home. There is but one game scheduled with an out of state opponent, and that is against the Augusta Military Academy nine on the opening day, April 15.

The schedule is as follows:

- April 15—Augusta Military Academy here.
- April 16—Wake Forest here.
- April 18—Mars Hill Junior College here.
- April 20—Oak Ridge here.
- April 22—N. C. State here.

Diamond Managers

All freshmen who wish to try out for baseball managerships are to report at Emerson field this afternoon during baseball practice.

TRACKSTERS WILL REPORT FOR DUTY OUTDOORS TODAY

Tom Hawthorne, Charlie Hubbard Lead Cindermen; Hope to Retain Conference Title.

W. AND M. TO BE FIRST FOE

With the Southern Conference indoor crown resting comfortably on their heads, the Carolina tracksters will now devote their time to outdoor activities. The Blue and White aggregation will have no easy assignment in retaining the outdoor crown they won so handily last year, but on the contrary they will be meeting some stiff opposition.

All candidates for the varsity and freshman teams are to report at Emerson stadium this afternoon for their first organized workout on the dusty path.

The first meet of the current outdoor season is scheduled for April 6 against the strong William and Mary squad. It will be remembered that this same contingent carried off first place honors in the non-conference division of the recent indoor meet. They boast of one of the best dash men in the south in the person of Monk Little. Little is also an excellent broad jumper and javelin thrower. Last summer he captured one of the places in the national intercollegiate meet.

Carolina has a well-balanced squad that is captained by Tom Hawthorne and Charlie Hubbard. Both of these boys are consistent point winners and will be relied on to further the Tar Heels' chances for victory. Hubbard injured his leg in the indoor games here a few weeks ago but expects to be in shape for the initial meet.

GOLFERS BATTLE STATE THURSDAY IN OPENING MEET

Laxton, Harris, Coffin, Bridgers Will Likely Start; Long Tentative Card Announced.

FULENWIDER IS NOT BACK

The varsity golf team will swing into competition tomorrow when it meets State's team at the Hope Valley course. The initial match will be followed by one with Wake Forest two days later on the same course.

Captain Lane Fulenwider, who dropped out of school last quarter, did not return. According to an incomplete schedule released by Playing Manager Henry Bridgers, almost a dozen dual matches have already been arranged for, and the prospects of a trip in May with matches with other schools is probable.

For the opening match Coach Kenfield will probably use as his starters, Laxton, Harris, Coffin, and Bridgers. The outcome of the opening match is a toss-up.

Tentative schedule:

- March 28—N. C. State here (Hope Valley).
- March 30—Wake Forest here.
- April 3—Hampton-Sydney here.
- April 6—N. C. State there.
- April 15, 16—Duke here.
- April 18—Richmond here.
- April 19—Furman here.
- April 20—Boston College here.
- May 3—Davidson here.
- May 4—State Big Five tournament at Hope Valley.
- May 6, 7—Duke here.
- May 8—W. and L., Sedgefield (Greensboro).
- May 9—Southern intercollegiate tournament.

Netsters To Open Season Against Deacons Friday

Bill Tilden And Pro Net Troupe Will Play Here

Tennis Master, Vines, Nusslein, and Lott Will Put on Show In Chapel Hill, April 4.

The return of tennis to the foreground in the Carolina athletic whirl, brings to mind that the greatest combination of tennis stars today are due in Chapel Hill in a very short time.

Thursday, April 4, is the date that Bill Tilden leads his history-making troupe into the University. Almost the entire surface of the United States has been touched by the racket-swinging exhibitors.

Opening in New York they have penetrated into the west and south and will stop at Chapel Hill as they return home at the conclusion of a very successful attempt to put professional tennis before the eyes of the public.

The original four that started the ball rolling will not be on hand to sway the students to the rhythm of their almost perfect tempo. Lester Stoefer, gigantic slugger from the Pacific Coast, has been replaced by the German star, Hans Nusslein.

Stoefer was recently taken ill and Nusslein slipped into his place without the slightest hitch in the activity of the tour. This has not taken any of the allure from the exhibition but has added a foreign touch, which will tend to better the event.

Carolina to Defend Great Past Record

First Meet Is at Wake Forest; Tar Heels Have Won 79 Out of 80 Encounters.

TO TAKE NORTHERN TRIP

The nationally famed Tar Heel tennis team returns to the wars this Friday with the opening of the 1935 season at Wake Forest.

Defending a past record that surpasses all performances made by other universities, Carolina opens the present season with a background of 79 victories in their last 80 contests.

Princeton an Obstacle

Princeton has been the only flaw in an otherwise perfect dual competitive play. After losing to the Tiger netmen in the spring of 1929, the Tar Heels were victorious in 74 consecutive meets before again bowing to the Princeton aggregation.

With another strong squad, Coach Kenfield predicts a continuance of this fine play. The schedule of 20 clashes looms as a difficult proposition with Princeton, Duke and Yale again providing the true competition.

Northern Trip

The northern trip finds the netters battling Princeton, Yale, Army, Amherst and Williams within six days and this trip has always proven to be the test of (Continued on last page)

Tennis Meeting

All players out for the varsity tennis team will have an important meeting at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at Emerson field.

Mangum Leads In Race For Intramural Honors

By virtue of its highly successful basketball season, Mangum dormitory overcame an 89-point lead held by Ruffin for the first quarter and stepped out to head the intramural race with 556 points.

The first two positions were just the reverse of the fall quarter and Ruffin is firmly lodged in second place with 532.5, far ahead of Sigma Nu's 404. Lewis still holds fourth position with 365.
