Campus Championship

Sigma Nu, fraternity table tennis champion, will meet BVP, dormitory table tennis champion, Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, to determine the campus championship.

Fraternity Bowling

In the fraternity bowling tournament two matches were held yesterday afternoon. Sigma Chi No. 4 nosed out Phi Kappa Sigma No. 2, the score being 322 to 305. In the other match ATO crushed Zeta Psi No. 1, this score read 365 to 306. One other match was scheduled but it was postponed.

Tar Heels and Gobblers earlier in the season by TKO-ing the Tech boxer in 1:08 of the third. Moore landed a pretty left jab and then two hard rights that sent Oliver to the canvas with a thud, thus finishing the incomplete job he started when he had dropped his opponent early in the first round.

Bryant

Catching Jim Bryant of North Carolina with a flush left hook late in the initial round, Jack Lyons of The Citadel scored a technical knockout over the Chapel Hill fighter to eliminate the 175-lb. Carolina entry. Lyons rushed the bewildered Tar Heel right from the start and hardly gave Bryant a chance.

The Rogers brothers from The Citadel evidently have a jinx on Carolina's Ed Hubbard for brother John Made it two in a row for the Rogers clan by decisioning Hubbard in the heavy-weight bout tonight.

History Of CPU Given

Flooded With Inquiries

As a result of the CPU's sudden rise to prominence Chairman Alex Heard's mailbox has been flooded, of late, with inquiries and comments about the organization. These letters come not only from other college campuses, but also from interested persons in all parts of the country.

So many requests have been made for copies of the speeches that the union has drawn up a definite mailing list and it attempts, when possible, to send copies of the speeches to all of the persons whose names are included on it.

Queer Messages

Following Ambassador Troyanovsky's speech Heard received a circular from California which warned of the "international despoilers who gave us modern communism."

Soon after steel leader Tom Girdler's speech a post card, written in pencil, and addressed to Tom Girdler, Chapel Hill, was turned over to the union. Written on the back was, "Ten murdered men speak louder than all the words you can say." The card, which was signed, "Not a CIO member," was forwarded to Girdler in Cleveland.

Many Outsiders Attend

Requests for reserved seats have increased from program to program this year, and it was estimated that over 300 out of town persons were present at each of the last two speeches. A group of businessmen headed by Lawrence H. Wallace came all the way from Smithfield to hear both Troyanovsky and Dieckhoff. John G. Dawson, former head of the Democratic party in this state, and former speaker of the North Carolina house of representatives, has attended the last two speeches. Both times he has been accompanied by several of his guests from Kinston, which is 80 miles from Chapel Hill.

The International Relations club of State college has written on occasion for 25 reserved seats, and the union has been keeping in touch with many other individuals in the state about its programs.

A great change, this, from the organization which two years ago was scoffed at and ridiculed, and which found it impossible at that time to locate 25 persons interested enough to join.

Lutheran Tells Purposes Of Meets

A dinner at 6 o'clock in Graham Memorial will come between the afternoon and night programs, it was announced. Tickets, at 50 cents per plate, may be secured from M. L. Aderholt, 203 Grimes, A. N. Costner, 211 Old West, and Roger Schulken, 311 Manly, or at the time of the conference.

Alumni Heads Will Meet

(Continued from first page) eon at the Carolina inn. Their session will be a part of the program of the annual assembly of the General Alumni association as well as the dedication of the new building.

At the time of the dedication in the evening, donors of funds used in construction of the new physical education buildings will be announced, Mr. Saunders said. The ceremony will take place at a banquet.

Expected here for the event are officers of more than 50 local alumni clubs and some six permanent class organizations have been invited to send representatives.
