invading swordsmen. The Carolina team will be out for its second successive victory in as many starts while the Wildcats, having dropped their opener to the University of Illinois, will bounce to the Hill on a rebound, seeking to chalk up its initial score in the win column.

The Kentuckians, with no epee team, will bring a six man squad to the hill, three each for foil and sabre, thus nine bouts will be fought in each weapon. The nine epee events automatically will be forfeited to Carolina giving the Tar Heels a 9-0 start, needing only five additional wins necessary for a victory tonight.

FIVE TUMBLERS NAMED TO ENTER DURHAM TOURNEY

Lawson Sends Team To Carolina's First Big-Time Competition Since 1922

Working on the final details of the first Carolina AAU gymnastic tournament, Dr. R. B. Lawson yesterday announced the team he would enter in the meet, which is to be held March 12 at Duke university.

Representing Carolina will be Edwin Winstead, Frank Trotman, J. M. Verner, Lunsford Long, and James Kirkpatrick. The men will work in combinations of two on the five pieces of apparatus used in the contest, which include parallel and horizontal bars, the horse, mats, and flying rings.

The meet will be the first multi-competition gathering since the North Carolina Olympic games in 1922, which were incidentally won by Dr. Lawson's teams.

Tar Heel Runners In Baltimore AAU Meeting Tonight

Ranson Unable To Accompany Hendrix, White, Corpening, Wakely, Jennings, March

Baltimore, March 4.—A half-dozen trackmen from the University of North Carolina arrived here tonight and prepared to converge with others of the fleet-footed clan in the annual Fifth Regiment Armory indoor games tomorrow night. The meet, AAU sanctioned, is being sponsored by the University of Maryland.

Outstanding amateurs and many college runners are expected to compete for the honors. Kansas Glenn Cunningham, "old man" of track and world's fastest miler, will run in a feature event of the program, the Governor's mile.

Without Coach

The Tar Heel team—for the first time without their coach, Dale Ranson, who is ill—is composed of Bill Hendrix, Carleton White, Bill Corpening, Frank Wakeley, Royce Jennings, and Harry March.

Royce Jennings and Harry March will run the 440, and Frank Wakely will mate with Carleton White in the intercollegiate mile. Johnny Morriss, assistant Tar Heel coach, has not definitely decided on the combination he will use in the mile relay. However, it is likely to be made up of Hendrix, White, Jennings, and March.

This is the third trip north for the North Carolinians. They have appeared twice this year at Madison Square Garden, making a good showing each time.

LACROSSE COACH CALLING RECESS FOR HOLIDAYS

Team Will Be Built On Experienced Men From North

There will be no further lacrosse meetings before the spring holidays but intensive spring practice will begin on March 22 on intramural field No. 6.

This first practice will begin the training for the opening league contest with Duke on April 9. Football helmets, jerseys, and shoes, and lacrosse sticks and balls will be available.

Cornsweet

Coach Cornsweet is exceedingly optimistic about lacrosse prospects on this campus. With a fine nucleus of experienced players hailing from Maryland, New York, Navy, and Exeter Prep, the coach sees a great opportunity for capturing the Dixie league championship this very first year of competition.

As yet, no University sanction (Continued on last page)

DUKE, 35-32; CLEMSON, 38 W AND L, 33

Devils, Tigers To Play Off Finals Tonight At 8 O'clock

(Special to the Daily Tar Heel) Memorial Stadium, Raleigh, March 4.—Favored teams were relegated to the ash heap in the 17th annual Southern Conference basketball tournament as the close-score semi-finals ended here tonight with Clemson and Duke victorious. The largest crowd ever to witness the games went wild when Clemson toppled a tired outfit from Washington and Lee 38-33 in the first part of the program. Unpredictable Duke then commanded the courts to turn back the University of Maryland 35-32. The two winning teams will fight for the title tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

One Banks McFadden and Clemson, Inc., tripped the light fantastic here tonight while the Generals of Washington and Lee moved out of the conference tournament to the tune of a funeral march in 38-33 time. Gaining an early lead, the Tigers from South Carolina took the favored Virginians for a joy-ride, using the defensive services of McFadden to de-emphasize Spessard's scoring ability.

In the first half it was Clemson all the way, and goal after goal rang true for them as the Generals tried vainly to recover the poise and teamwork used so successfully against the University of North Carolina yesterday. Spessard, the lad who uses a basket rim for a halo, found himself completely surrounded by the shorter but everywhere-at-once McFadden. The Clemson center clung as close to Spessard as did the latter's uniform, and still found time to sink one-handed shots with accurate frequency.

Second Period

At the half the Tigers stood aloof by the amazing tally of 22-9, but a miraculous rally in
