STATE DUMPS DUKE, 6-2

Devils Lose First Game Of Year

(Special to the Daily Tar Heel) Raleigh, April 16.—Pitcher Vic Holschouser, State's unpublicized wonder boy, mowed down Duke's heavy-hitting batsmen here this afternoon and paced the Terrors to a surprise 6-2 win.

In the second half of the first inning, Bob Wicker found an offering of the opening Duke pitcher—the first of four of 'em—very much to his liking and batted out a ball that must have caught a hitch with one of State's guiding spirits.

Two More In Third Again in the third the Terrors showed power at bat and tallied two more runs for a 5-0 lead that lasted until the first half of the eighth.

AT LAST! The most anticipated show event in years! ... It took three years to make it! ... Runs for one full, solid hour and a half! ... The most astonishing new thing in entertainment since movies were born!

Henderson Downs Strain In Finals

Fuller-Foreman Capture Doubles Championship

(Special to the Daily Tar Heel) Pinehurst, April 15.—The sensational play of Archie Henderson, Eddie Fuller and Johnny Foreman won for them and Carolina the singles and doubles crowns in the annual North-South tennis tournament here today. Henderson's power completely swept over Bob Strain, 6-1, 6-2, 6-2, and Fuller and Foreman surprised the gallery with a 6-2, 3-6, 6-2, 6-0 victory over Gil Hall and Merrimon Cunningham.

The steady forcing shots that made Archie Henderson such a high ranking star for Carolina last year again flashed to his advantage, and in spite of Strain's characteristically steady game, Henderson had no difficulty in disposing of his opponent in three straight sets.

The upset of Gil Hall, defending titlist, Eastern intercollegiate champion, and Merrimon Cunningham was, to say the least, unexpected, when Fuller and Foreman's opponents' rankings in their home towns are considered. But this afternoon Fuller and Foreman flashed the brilliant form they have shown while playing under Coach Kenfield.

Fuller's all-around steadiness and Foreman's blistering service and deep forehand drives kept Dunn and Cunningham near their baseline, the final 6-0 set showing the everlasting stamina of the Tar Heel duo.

Big Mural Week Ahead

This week intramural teams will again enjoy a heavy activity schedule. Playground ball and the tennis tournament will be the only sports of the week. Eight playground ball games will probably take place on every day, while two tennis matches will also take place every day.

During the past week the bowling tournament was brought to a close and playground ball and tennis got well under way by having four days of play.

BVP Won

In the bowling tournament AE Pi defeated Sigma Nu to win the fraternity title, while BVP won the dormitory championship. On Wednesday the campus finals were played with BVP winning that title.

Old man weather helped the tennis and playground intramural teams by allowing them to have four days of activity. This activity put them well under way in their respective tournament and league.

Clark "Old Fox" Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators, once received Heinie Manush and Alvin Crowder in trade for Goose Goslin.

Co-ed Fencing

Tomorrow afternoon at 3:45, Carolina's intramural history will add another chapter to its colorful record when intramural coed fencing gets started in Memorial hall.

The preliminary will be run off at this time and any coed in the University is eligible—and is urged to come out. The winner will be awarded a monogram. The finals are slated for Wednesday night, and will be open to the public.

Mural Schedule

Tomorrow: 4:00—All fields available for practice. 5:00—Diamond No. 2: Zeta Psi vs. Phi Alpha; Diamond No. 3: Sigma Chi vs. Chi Psi; Co-Ed No. 1: Alpha Chi Sigma vs. Lambda Chi Alpha; Co-Ed No. 2: Graham vs. Old West.

Drop One Doubles Match To Win

The loss of one doubles match held the Carolina freshman tennis team to an 8-1 victory over Duke, as the Tar Heels won their third straight match here yesterday.

In preparation for the match with the N. C. State freshmen next Saturday, the Carolina freshmen will have challenge matches this week in order to determine who will play.
