Virginia Tech Invades Chapel Hill Today

Woodhouse Dares Committee To Come Out In Open

HARTSELL FAVORS CHOICE MADE BY DISTRICT GROUP

Politics Professor Launches Campaign To Elect Barker

By LAFFITTE HOWARD

Idealism will face realism and a man who has taught politics for years will face men who have played it for years if Dr. E. J. Woodhouse's challenge to a Carolina Political union-sponsored debate here Monday morning is accepted by any member of the sixth district Democratic committee.

Proclaiming "I do hereby challenge any man of the committee to tell how he voted in any of the formal counts of the committee and to tell why he disregarded the 15,700 votes cast for Oscar Barker," Dr. Woodhouse asked O. M. Bundy of Guilford county, Cooper Hall of Alamance, Oscar J. Coffin of the University journalism department, and Sidney High of Durham county to explain the recent action in naming Carl Durham of Chapel Hill to take the place of the late Judge Teague.

Here're The Boys Who Will Greet High Schoolers

Jim Joyner Releases Long List Of Welcomers Who Are On Duty Today

When the crowd of over 12,000 high school boys and girls flock to Chapel Hill today to gather for the North Carolina High School Day, students of the University will welcome representatives from their respective high schools and towns. Jim Joyner sent out notes asking certain boys from every county in North Carolina to extend greetings to incoming students from their districts.

The following is a list of students and the counties from which they will welcome the delegates: John Webster McAdams, M. Rankin Caruther, and William H. Rascöe, Alamance; Gail Anderson White, Alexander; Robert Amos Wagoner, Allegheny; William Louis McKinnon and Samuel H. Clark, Anson; Howard S. Sexton, Ashe; Tommy Sparrow and Alex Bonner, Beaufort; Cary Moore Early and Stanley Atkinson, Bertie; Richard S. White and Alonzo Garrison Squires, Bladen; Cornelius D. Thomas, Brunswick.

GETTING UNDER WAY

Swain Sells Box Lunches Today

To cope with the food problem for the incoming high school students, the managers of Swain Hall, the Carolina Inn Cafeteria, and the Book Exchange have co-operated to make up box lunches.

These meals will be sold at various points on the campus for the nominal fee of twenty-five cents. The lunches will consist of three sandwiches, cake, an apple, and a bottle of milk. Also, Swain Hall and the Carolina Inn Cafeteria will open their doors at ten in the morning to meet the rush.

GRAIL DANCE TO BE HELD TONIGHT AT 9 IN TIN CAN

Glee Club Will Be Presented During Intermission

North Carolina high school day will be brought to close with the informal dance presented by the Order of the Grail in the tin can tonight from 9 to 12 o'clock.

An unusual event will be the presentation of the Glee club concert at intermission. The group will appear under the direction of John E. Toms.

Furnishing music for the dance will be "Jeep" Bennett, his clarinet and his orchestra. Bennett promises a varied program of swing and convention music, with several novelty numbers.

TICKETS ONLY AT DOOR
Tickets for the dance, which will be held after the Carolina-Virginia Tech game, will be sold at the door only. There will be no advance sale of bids.

All visitors and students may attend the dance. During the evening Grail no-break and escort no-break affairs will be presented. Admission will be one dollar per couple and per stag.

HOST COMMITTEES TO AID GUESTS

All Coeds Asked To Be Hostesses

Besides a representative University student from each of the 79 counties to be present at today's high school celebration who will greet his respective district, many other organizations have volunteered to be either hosts or hostesses for the day.

Mrs. M. H. Stacey, advisor to Women and in charge of ladies' hospitality for the affair, announced yesterday that invitations had been sent out to every girl in the three co-ed dormitories and in the two sorority houses to act as hostesses. An official estimate was lacking at press time yesterday, but it is expected that at least two hun- (Continued on last page)

University To Play Host To Over 12,800 Secondary School Students For Day

SHORE ANSWERS ACCUSATION OF "SPOILS SYSTEM"

Freshman President Refutes Charges In Recent Editorial

Freshman politicians are still at it. Yesterday's paper carried a statement by a Ward supporter. Today's DAILY TAR HEEL carries one by the opposition's number one man, Shore.

In answer to the editorial "Spoils System" which appeared in the DAILY TAR HEEL, Bill Shore, Freshman class president, made the following statement:

"I wish to say, in regard to the editorial "Spoils System," that there are certain fundamental things which the writer seems to have overlooked.

When a freshman is elected president of his class at a university such as this, he knows perhaps fifteen per cent of his classmates. When the time comes for appointments to committees, he has no past university record to look at, on which to base his choice. He has only the face value of the individual to guide him. In order to choose an efficient group of committees, he must, of necessity, choose the majority from those who have been associated with him in his campaign; those whose work he has observed, whose ability he knows, and whose cooperation he is sure of.

I could just as well have omitted the phrase "valuable campaign aid" in my previous statement, but I have nothing to hide. I refuse to be a hypocrit and say that campaign aid did not (Continued on last page)

Campus Tour And VPI Game To Be Program Highlights

By LOUIS HARRIS

Over 12,800 secondary school students will be welcomed at the Old Well this morning from 9-12, as the first North Carolina High School Day gets underway. After a tour of the campus in the morning, the students will be the guests of the VPI and University Athletic Associations at the game in the afternoon.

As the students arrive this morning, Pete Ivey, prominent figure on the campus last year, will act as master of ceremonies in conducting a man-on-the-street broadcast. The public address system will be set up about the old well, and will be used continuously throughout the course of the morning.

Copies of the program for the day are to be distributed among the delegates upon their arrival. The program is a four page folder including, besides the day's schedule, a picture of the old well, an aerial view of Chapel Hill, some interesting facts about the campus and the University, and the line-up for the game in the afternoon.

BIG WELCOME

Besides those University students who will greet the visitors, the Monogram Club will act as host at the Woolen gymnasium and the Bowman-Gray Memorial pool. Each dormitory will have two model rooms open to inspection. E. Carrington Smith, chairman of the town committee, announced yesterday that big welcome banners would be strung at both ends of the main business block, and that each store would have individual signs of greeting.

In the afternoon, the boys and (Continued on last page)

15 High School Bands Here Today

Fifteen high school bands will be present at the game today as the guest of Earl Slocum, director of the University band. VPI, represented by seventy five pieces, the Women's College in Greensboro, and the Drum and Bugle Corps from Durham will also play.

Before the game from one to two, and between the halves, the bands will perform both separately and in unison. The schools who will be represented with bands are: Rocky Mount, Greensboro, Chapel Hill, Burlington, Durham, Edenton, Roanoke Rapids, Wendell, Wilmington, Asheboro, Winston-Salem and Fayetteville.

LOCAL DOCTORS DENY MEREDITH'S EPIDEMIC CHARGES

Girls School Calls Off All Dates With Carolina Boys

"There is not a single active case of diphtheria in Chapel Hill at present," Dr. W. P. Richardson, county health officer, said today when informed that Meredith college girls had been asked to call off dates with Carolina boys because of reports of diphtheria here.

Dr. W. R. Berryhill, University physician, added, "We have had only three serious cases of diphtheria in the student body since September 1, which is not above normal for the State as a whole, and there is not a single active case at present."

Both statements were concurred in Dr. M. R. Rosenau, director of the University School (Continued on last page)

TAR HEELS ARE FAVORITES TO TAKE GOBBLERS

New Face Appears In Carolina's Starting Lineup

By SHELLEY ROLFE

Virginia Tech's football Gobblers strut into Kenan stadium at 2 o'clock this afternoon to battle the University in the outstanding Southern conference battle of the day. The Tar Heels, seeking some sort of retribution following the defeat by Duke last week in the deciding game of the '38 Southern conference flag chase, are odds on favorites to whip the Techs by two or three touchdowns.

The game will be the seventh of the season for Carolina, and the Wolfmen go into it with a record of four wins and two defeats. Duke and Tulane administered the black-eyes while the wins came over NYU, State, before the Wolfpack had disintegrated into a dissension-racked outfit, Wake Forest, and Davidson.

TECH HAS 3 FOR 7

Virginia Tech on the upbeat since the start of the season has won three out of seven contests. The biggest Gobbler achievement was crowning State 7-0 last week in one of the South's major upsets. The men of Puss Redd also boast wins over William and Mary, and Emory and Henry. Army, Duke, Washington and Lee, and Virginia have beaten the Gobblers.

Coach Ray Wolf of the Carolina forces had nothing to say about the game yesterday. "The schedule calls for a game at 2 o'clock with Virginia Tech, we'll have a team on the field," was as far as he would commit himself.

Freshmen Of Pharmacy School Elect Officers

Thursday's Election Proves Another Landslide For Mortar And Pestle Party

Pharmacy school first year class officers were elected Thursday morning at 10:30 in Howell hall with another landslide victory for the Mortar and Pestle party.

Officers elected were: president, David F. McGowan of Swan Quarter; vice-president, John W. McAdams of Burlington; secretary, S. T. Sain of near Shelby; treasurer, L. E. McKnight of Fayetteville and honor council representative, J. C. Fox of Asheboro.

Conducting the elections were Jimmy Fox, president of the pharmacy student body, and Grey Kornegay, student council representative.

CPU Head Protests Action Of Campus 'Reds' At Speech

Voit Gilmore's Letter To Council

The following is a direct copy of CPU Chairman Voit Gilmore's letter to the Student Council concerning the attack made Thursday night on Dr. George H. Derry, union speaker: "To the Student Council of the University:

"Just as the speech of Dr. George H. Derry was beginning in Hill hall Thursday night, November 3, a group of students entered the hall and distributed to each member of the audience mimeographed leaflets criticizing and ridiculing the speaker of the evening.

Degrading Pamphlets Distributed Before Derry's Address

By JIM McADEN

In a letter yesterday to the Student Council, Chairman Voit Gilmore of the Carolina Political union protested against the distribution Thursday night of "derogatory" pamphlets concerning the CPU speaker of the evening, anti-Communist George H. Derry, and asked for some kind of protection for speakers in the future.

Three-page pamphlets were handed out in Hill hall, after Derry had ascended the speaking platform, by a small group of students who opposed the views of the speaker. As noth- (Continued on last page)

Anti-Derry-men Say They Did It Alone

The following is a direct copy of a statement issued yesterday by the Anti-Derry student group:

"Some confusion has arisen about the leaflet distributed at the speech given by Dr. Derry Thursday night. In order to clear this matter up, we want to explain that the undersigned students were entirely responsible for the leaflet. The Carolina Political union had absolutely no connection with the publication or distribution of the leaflet, nor did any other official organization on the campus, and we apologize deeply if such an impression was received by any (Continued on page two)
