Roosevelt Defends Policy Of Liberalism

PRESIDENT HEARD OVER WORLD-WIDE RADIO NETWORK

225 U. S. Stations Carry Broadcast Throughout Nation

By WALTER KLEEMAN
Through 15 microphones, over 225 radio stations, from eight newsreel cameras, and over 20 telegraph wires representing nearly one hundred members of the press, President Roosevelt's speech yesterday was relayed in six languages from Woollen gymnasium to America and the world.

The NBC Blue network, comprising over 100 stations, and the entire CBS network of 116 stations carried the broadcast in addition to various independent stations, among them the facilities which all through tonight and tomorrow will be busy sending translations of the chief executive's speech to the principal countries of the world over short waves. Spanish, French, German, Italian, and Russian translations will be sent out from both NBC and CBS short wave stations.

MUTUAL ABSENT
In Radio Guide this week there was a write-up mentioning the fact that the Mutual Broadcasting system would also carry the talk, but there were no representatives of that company in the gymnasium. When the NBC engineers were asked whether Mutual was broadcasting the speech they immediately called New York over the special telegraph wire installed in the gym for their use, and found the two national networks were the only ones carrying the broadcast.

In order to make sure that no interruption was likely to occur in transmission if a defect in equipment forced it, both CBS and NBC had two identical sets of transmission equipment in the gymnasium. Extra microphones lay on the tables before

12,000 Pack Gym To Hear President

Governor Hoey Delivers Address Of Welcome As Chief Executive Receives Honorary Degree; F. D. R. Lauds Progressiveness Of University

By JIM McADEN

Sanctioning the progressiveness of the University as well as defending his own liberalism, President Franklin Delano Roosevelt yesterday spoke to an audience of over 12,000 students and visitors in Woollen gymnasium, delivering his address under sponsorship of the Carolina Political union.

A spasmodic drizzle which began late Sunday night drove the crowd indoors to the gymnasium, which was filled to capacity one hour before the chief executive arrived in Chapel Hill. Part of the overflow crowd found seats in Memorial hall, to which the presidential speech was relayed.

GILMORE LEAVES FOR WASHINGTON WITH PRESIDENT

CPU Chairman Interviews Chief Executive On Train

The DAILY TAR HEEL received the following telegram late last night:

Aboard President's Special—President Roosevelt told me as we sat alone in his special train en route to Washington from Durham tonight that he has rarely spoken to a group he enjoyed any more than the students of North Carolina who heard him in Woollen gymnasium at Chapel Hill this afternoon.

The President said "it was a grand gathering," and said he hoped some day he could come back to the Carolina Political Union platform and participate in a typical CPU open forum.

He said he was impressed by the large number of students from not only Chapel Hill, but every North Carolina high school and college as well. He particularly noticed the spirit of the occasion as manifested by the Duke flag hung high in the gymnasium.

The President told me that he heartily approves the work of the CPU in letting America's young people hear every viewpoint on current social and political issues.

Voit Gilmore.

Carolina Political Union Chairman Voit Gilmore left Chapel Hill yesterday evening as a special guest aboard the President's special train en route to Washington.

Gilmore was extended the invitation three days ago by Marvin H. McIntyre, acting in the name of the President.

On the trip, the political union head is expected to converse with President Roosevelt, Harry L. Hopkins, Marvin McIntyre and other officials, concerning the CPU and its activities and to obtain the views of these men toward the union and any ideas they might have in connection with future activities of the group.

In Washington, where he plans to remain for about three days, Gilmore will re-establish contacts with Miss Frances Perkins and Robert S. Allen, who are scheduled to appear here as CPU speakers during the next quarter. He also plans to form new contacts with various people and groups in the capitol and attempt to line up future guests for the union. It was not known last night whether or not Gilmore will be a White House guest during his Washington visit.

Phi Holds Regular Elections Tonight

Election of officers for the spring quarter will be held by the Phi assembly tonight at 7:15 in New East. All officers will be elected except the secretary-treasurer. These include the speaker, who must be a senior or graduate student and an active member; the speaker pro tem, a junior or senior; a sergeant-at-arms, sophomore or junior; and a reading clerk, sophomore or coed. A Ways and Means committee of three members will also be elected.

The President claimed that "It is only the unthinking liberals in this world who see nothing but tragedy in the slowing up or temporary stopping of liberal progress."

"It is only the unthinking conservatives who rejoice when a social or economic reform fails to be 100 per cent successful," he continued. Roosevelt claimed that only persons of

"headline" mentality fail to realize the true purposes of those who try to carry out their liberal beliefs.

CHALLENGE TO YOUTH
The address, which lasted approximately 25 minutes, was taken by many of those present as a challenge to the youth of the country to take up the cause of liberalism since "liberal forces in the United States have often been killed and buried—with the inevitable result that in short order they have come to life again with more strength than they had before." Roosevelt traced the development of liberalism from the time of George Washington, bringing out that the cause had been rejuvenated each time that the nation had reached a critical stage in its development brought on by lack of tolerance and a national point of view.

Claiming that opportunity to find economic security is open to youth, he said that this same youth believes that better days are ahead for the United States than ever before.

DEMOCRACY BEST FOR U. S.
In his only reference to the foreign situation, the chief executive admitted that regimented people may find happiness at the will of one man, but it is his strong conviction that the democratic processes upon which this country was founded and has thrived can best serve the well-being of United States citizens.

A major part of the CPU's third anniversary celebration program was taken up with the citation of President Roosevelt for a Doctor of Laws degree by University President Frank Porter Graham, which followed Dean R. B. House's presentation of the President as a candidate for the honor.

GRAHAM PRAISES PRESIDENT
Dr. Graham praised Roosevelt's leadership in establishing agencies which have given the American people more educational opportunities; the right to work in private industry of public works; progressive labor

Frosh Will Meet Advisers At 10:30

Freshmen will meet with their advisers today at 10:30 in the following places:

- Mr. Armstrong in New East 203; Dr. Edmister in Venable 305; Mr. Emory in Venable 304; Mr. Hill in Phillips 206; Dr. Huddle in New East 112; Mr. Husbands in Bingham 103; Dr. Johnson in Saunders 213; Dr. Perry in Peabody 201; Mr. Phillips in Peabody 123; Mr. Sanders in Murphy 111; Mr. Spruill in Bingham 208; and Dr. Wells in New West 101.

This meeting is for the purpose of explaining the registration procedure for next quarter, and it is very important that every one be present and on time.

SOPHS TO HAVE PICTURES TAKEN

Yeates Asks For Large Attendance

The last four sophomore pictures for the Yackety-Yack will be taken tonight beginning at 7:30 in Memorial hall. Four alphabetical groups, with the hours that they are to report, follows:

At 7:30, group starting with B. C. Hicks.

At 8 o'clock, group starting with R. O. Linker.

At 8:30, group starting with L. C. Payne.

At 9 o'clock, group starting with H. C. Smith and including all the remainder of the alphabet.

Regarding these pictures, Rutherford Yeates, editor of the Yackety-Yack, made the following statement to the press:

"Sophomores, you're paying $35 per page for these pictures. In the pictures which were taken last week only 35 out of 100 of you reported for these pictures—a great loss to you individually and to your class. Those who failed to show up last week will neither have their picture nor their name listed on the class roll in the new yearbook."

Di To Install New Officers Tonight

Officers for the winter quarter will be installed at the regular meeting of the Di senate tonight at 7:15. Walter Kleeman, newly elected president, will deliver his inaugural address according to custom.

There are two bills on the calendar for discussion: Resolved, That the Dialectic senate go on record as approving President Roosevelt's stand condemning the German action against Jews in Germany, and, Resolved, That the method of electing members to the student legislature be opposed by the membership of the Dialectic senate.

All members are requested to be present at the meeting as it is the last of the quarter. Any visitors are

CLOTHES BUNDLES TO BE COLLECTED

Phi Gams Prepare For Bundle Day

Tonight at 7 o'clock Phi Gamma Delta will collect all the clothes which have been discarded by the students for Bundle day. Members of the fraternity and their pledges will cover every room in the dormitories and fraternities to collect the bundles, which the students are requested to have ready.

UNIVERSITY GIVES AID

To aid in the collection of the bundles, the University will supply a pick-up truck in which the bundles will be deposited. The truck with the bundles will be taken to the distributing point of the King's Daughters, Chapel Hill charity organization, at the home of Mrs. R. B. Lawson on East Franklin street, and will be distributed from there.

The object of the drive is to help the underprivileged residents of Chapel Hill, to enable fraternities, sororities, and dormitories to get rid of some of the clothing they no longer are using, and to help spread a little Christmas cheer in advance.

Chapel Hill May Be Location Of Four-Year Medical School

Meyer To Address Club Tonight At 7

Dr. Harold D. Meyer will address the Education club at its bi-monthly meeting this evening at 7 o'clock in Peabody hall. At this meeting officers for the new year will be elected, and other business matters will be presented. Shelby Horton, president of the club, will preside.

This club, which is composed of all undergraduate and graduate students in education, has been in existence two years and has brought to the campus leading school men who have presented interesting topics to prospective teachers.

Dr. Meyer has been away for the past year observing problems of youth in Europe and is well qualified to speak to prospective teachers. He is the author of a number of books and articles dealing with the problem of extra-curricular activities in the schools.

Special invitations are extended to all students of education and to faculty members of the department.

Chapel Hill last night seemed the most likely location for a state-supported four-year medical school, meeting every requirement of a Grade A institution, following the approval of such a unit by a special study commission authorized by the 1937 general assembly.

Although the four-year school was okayed by the six-member group, there was a division as to the location. Four members of the body—Dr. W. De B. McNider, dean of the University's present two-year medical school, T. W. M. Long of Roanoke Rapids, chairman, Dr. W. M. Copperidge of Durham, and Dr. C. C. Carpenter of Wake Forest—said in a majority report they believed the school should be established on the University campus.

O. M. Mull of Shelby and Dr. B. J. Lawrence of Raleigh, the other two, attached dissenting statements, explaining that "responsible parties" had promised a large donation from private funds to supplement a state appropriation to build and endow a four-year medical school, "provided the school was built at a designated city in the state.
